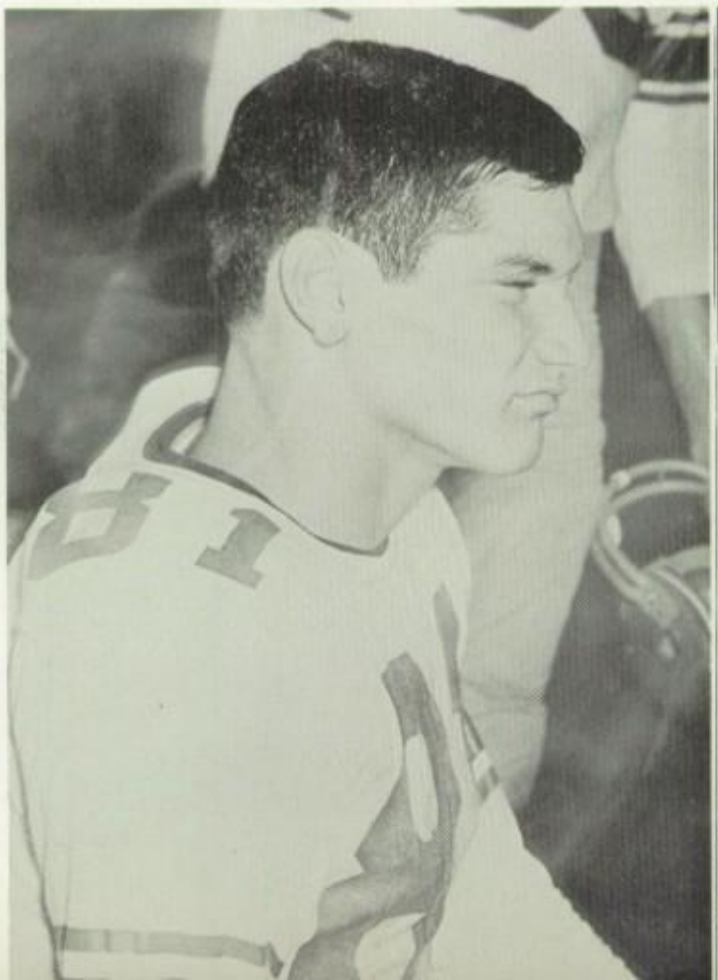
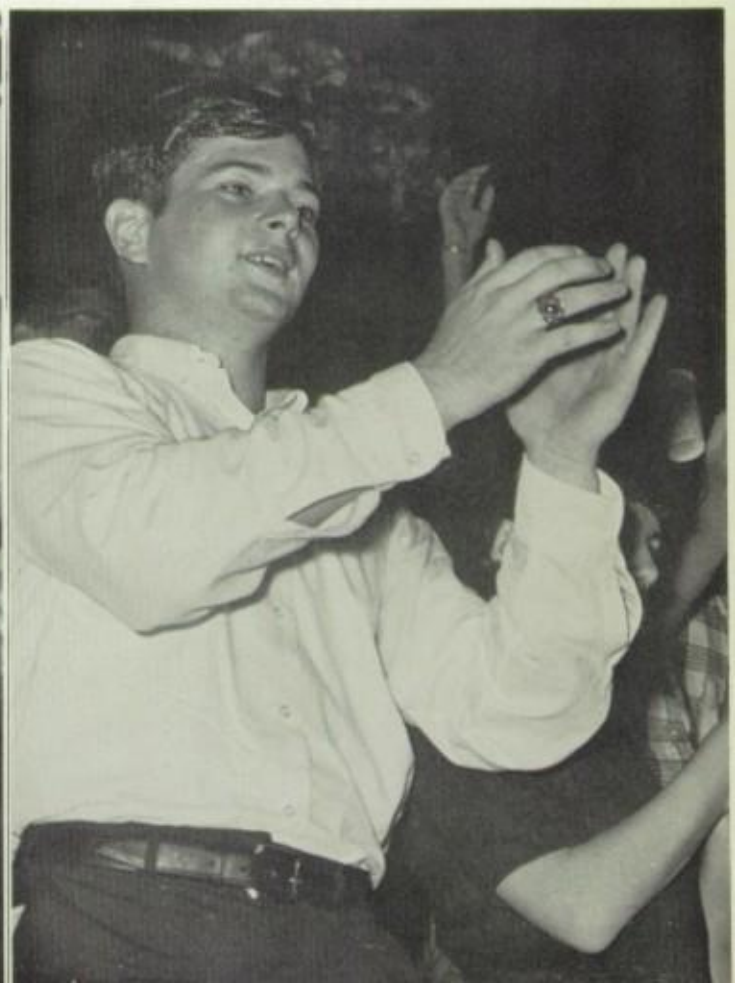
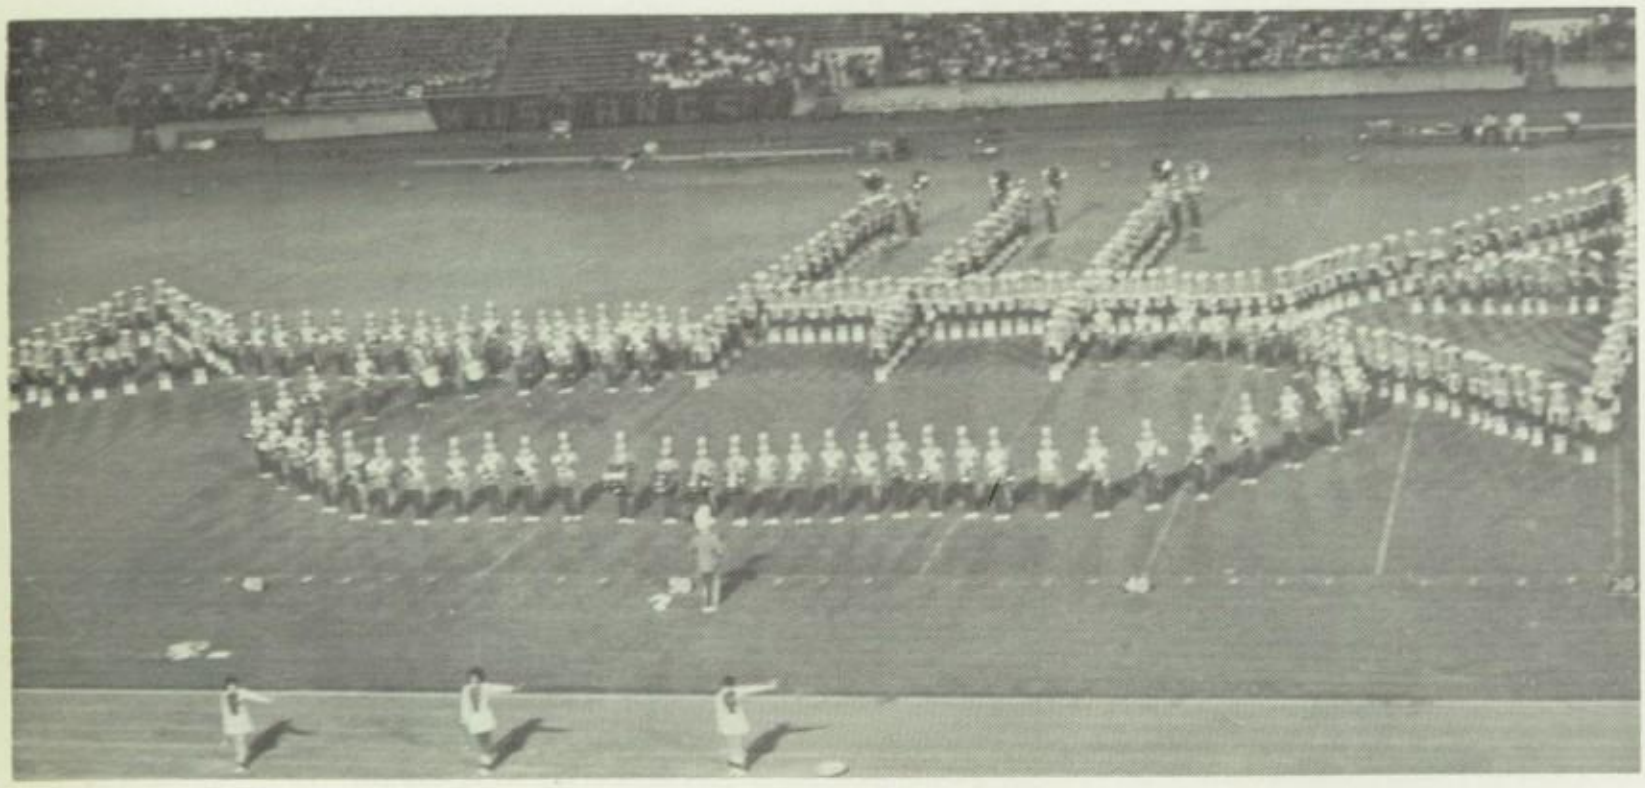
Practicing yells before the pep rally, cheerleaders and the color groups, the center of spirit, wait for the crowd to descend upon the gym.

Spirit on the bench and in the stands is displayed in the frown of concentration on the face of Larry Gallego and in the cheers of John Secrest.

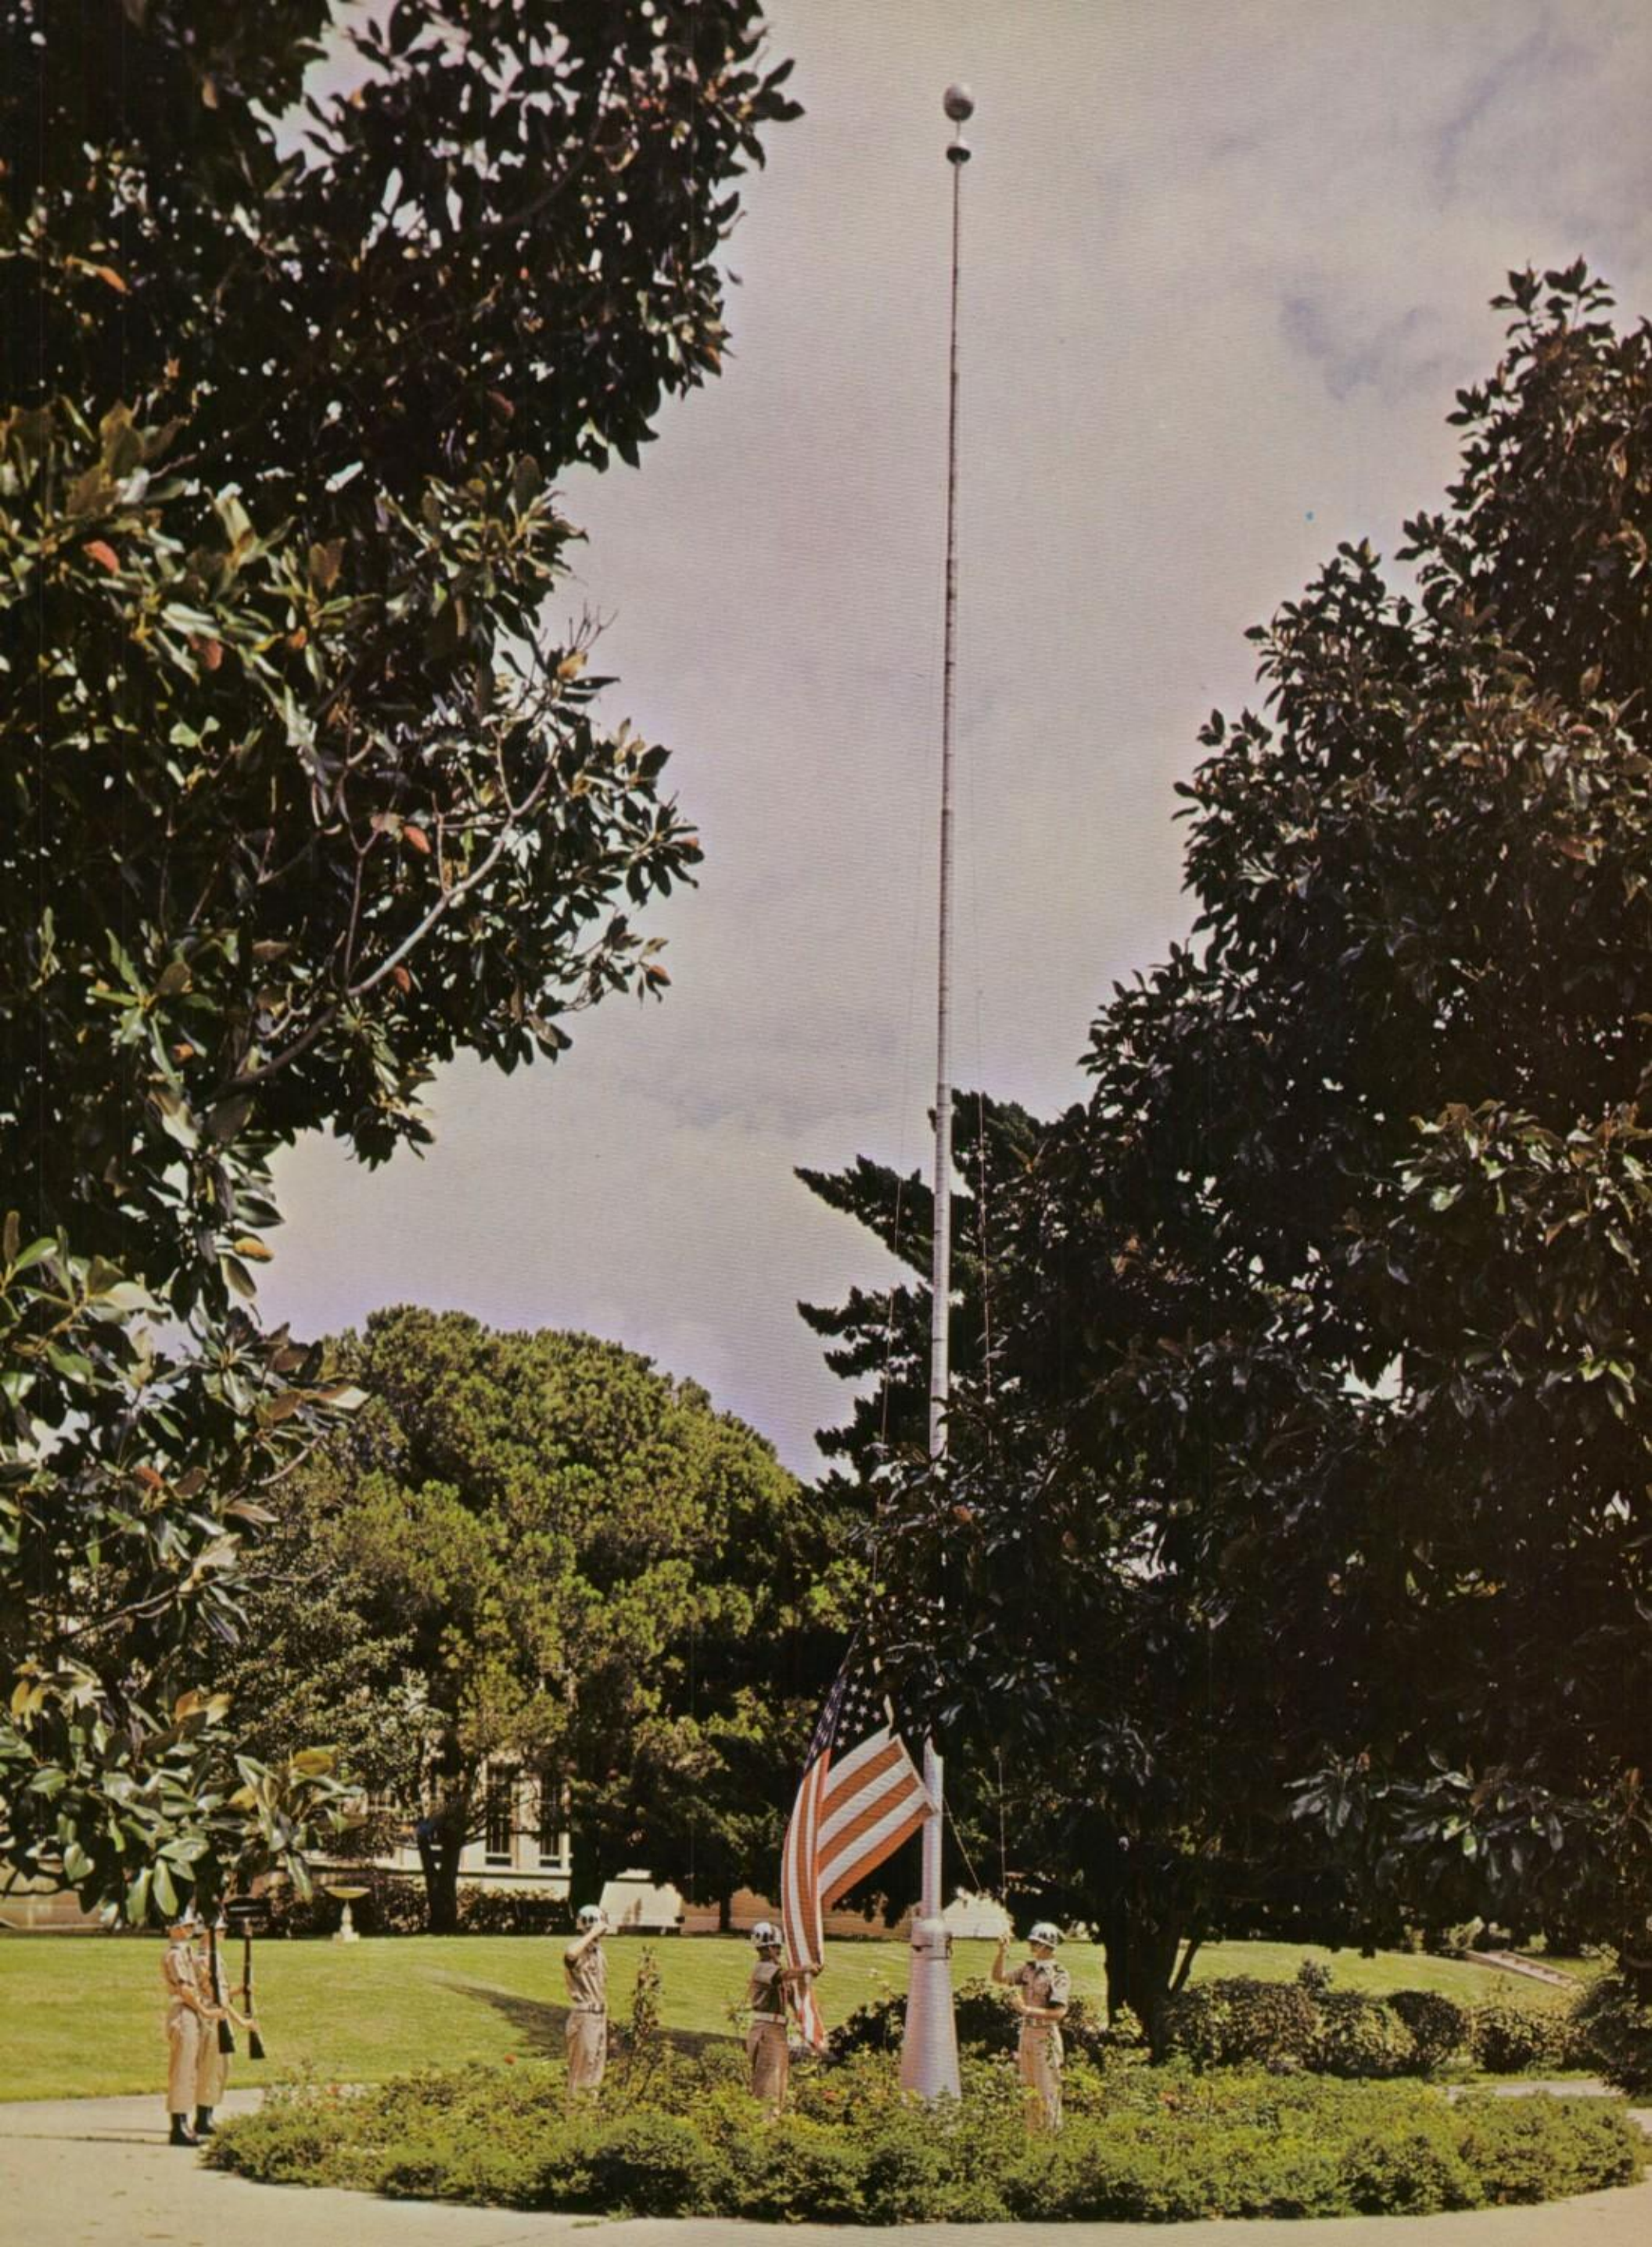




Spirit in the Shadow of the Dome



In one of their halftimes, the Band and Lassos form a Tijuana brass trumpet, blowing spirit all over the stadium.



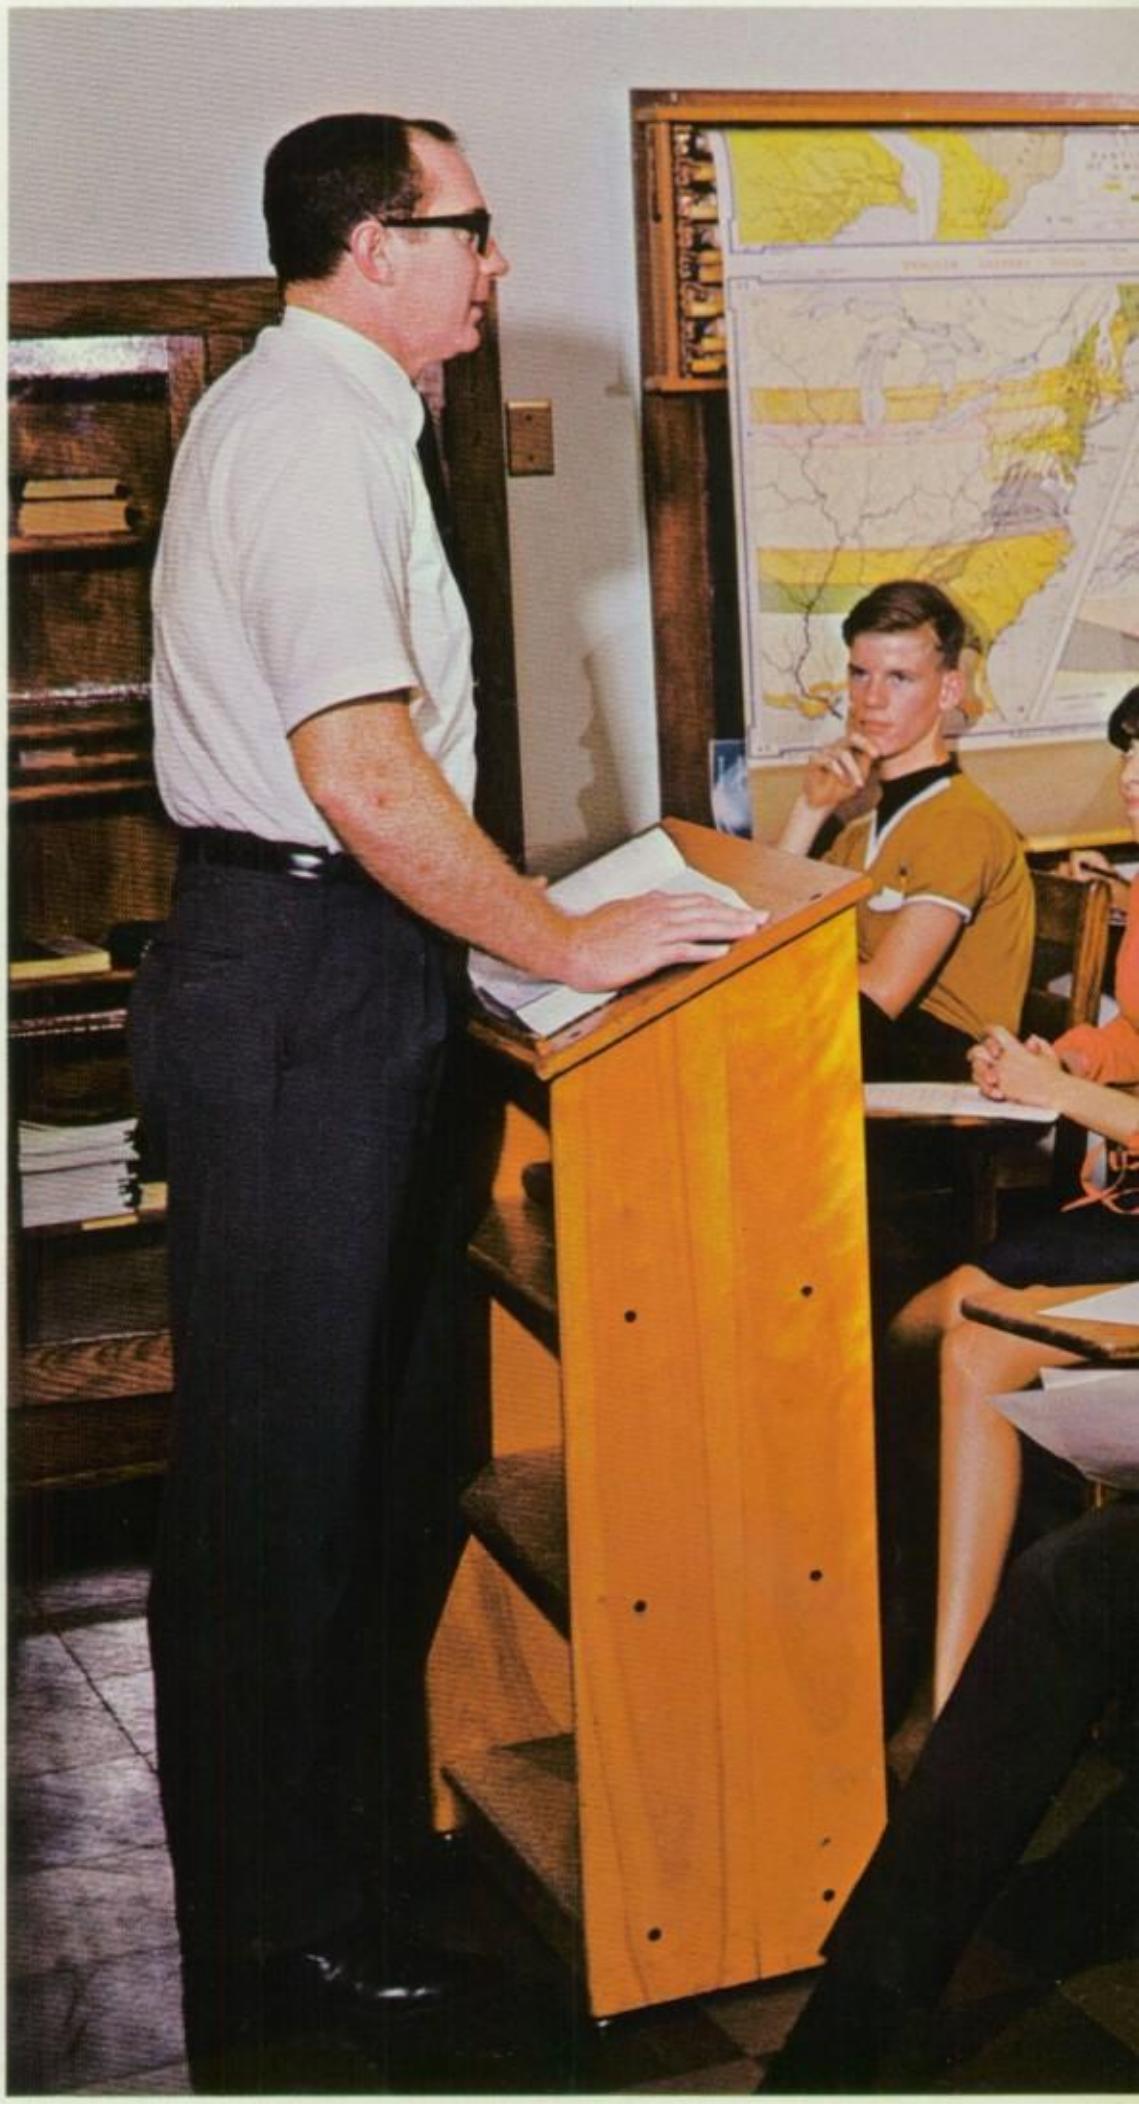
Leads to Loyalty . . .

School spirit consists of more than just yelling at games. It is the deep sense of loyalty the Lassos show when they stand during a pep rally in a salute to their school.

As an early-morning ROTC detail raises the flag, students show loyalty to their country by reciting the pledge of allegiance in each classroom.

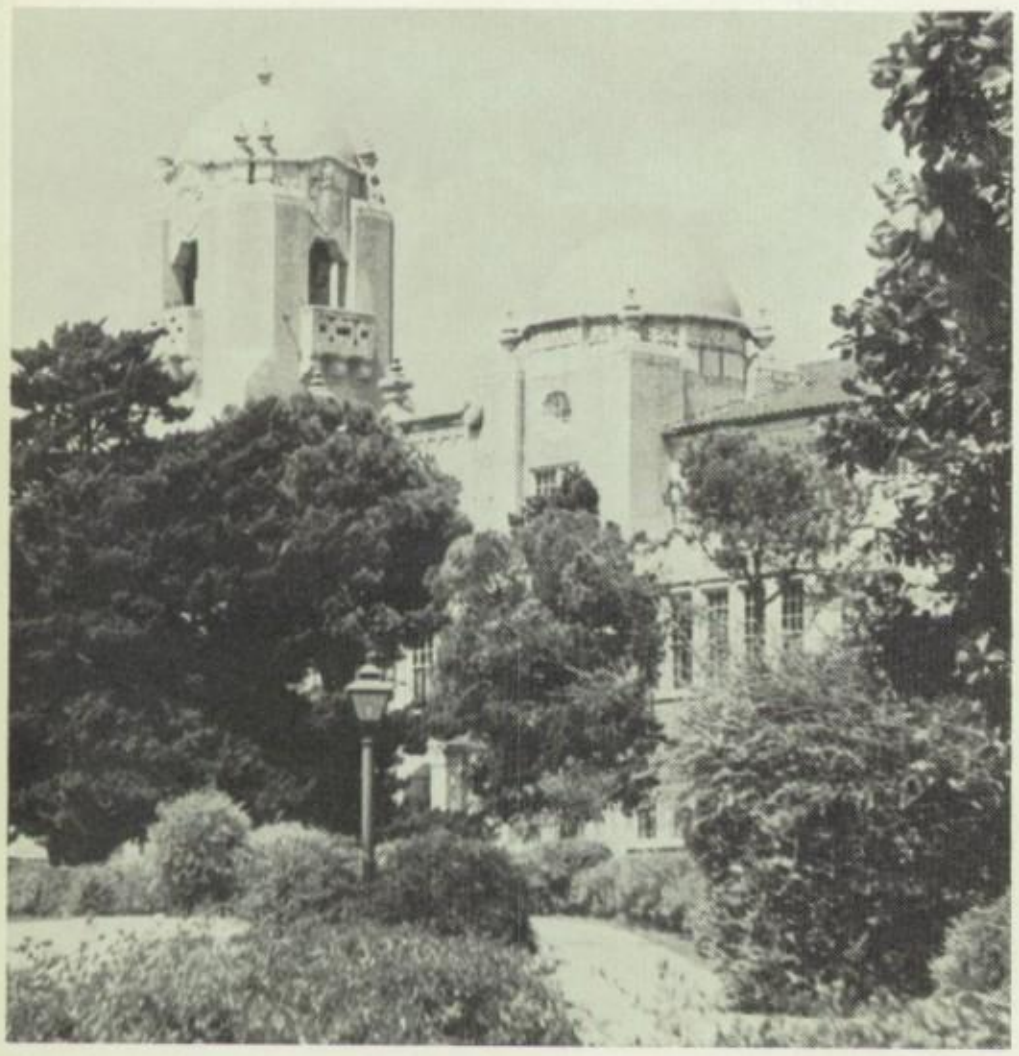
Grading papers can be a tedious task, but Mrs. Josephine Lindsey accepts it as part of her profession and works late to complete the job.

Devotion to the art of teaching is illustrated by Mrs. Evelyn Hanson, government teacher, as she assists senior Sharon Gross in a student problem.



And Inspires Devotion . . .

Devotion to profession and purpose is shown as Mr. Robert Henderson lectures his World History class, and is shown in the faces of his students.



From the Rolling Green Campus . . .

To the Stately

Building Itself

Student Leaders Stimulate Spirit, Loyalty, and Devotion

From the armory...Dec room...S. C. room...gym...come the ten-point officers for a rare moment together to discuss the problems and rewards of leadership.

In the shadow of the dome, service and leadership become realities to student leaders. A ten-point office, the highest student honor bestowed, carries with it responsibility to encourage faithfulness and enthusiasm, and gives the opportunity to render a year of service to the respective organization.

Diligence and determination marked Tommy Graves' term as Student Council president. Tommy showed how hard work keeps an organization running smoothly.

Denis Galindo served his Sophomore as well as his Senior Class as president. A junior year basketball letterman with an A average, he has the rare talent of finding time to do everything well.

Bobby Emery, one of the few juniors ever to serve as drum major, spent many hours drilling the Mustang Band to perfection for half times, parades, and marching competition.

Precision drilling is also important to the Reserve Officers Training Corps, led by Cadet Colonel Ronald Forester. His duties included responsibility for the status of training, morale, discipline, and promoting spirit within the corps.

Lasso Major Linda Hall and her organization were dedicated to promoting school spirit among the student body and supporting all sports events.

The Declaration's hard-working editor, Steve Dial, also served the paper as sports writer and cartoonist. Under his leadership the staff achieved a year of quality reporting and editing.

Monticello editor, Barbara Dietzmann, a short girl, but long on ability, displayed imagination and organizational talent throughout a hectic year of meeting deadlines.

History was made when Sue Doerr became the first girl editor of Each Has Spoken. She encouraged all students to exercise and share their creativity through this unique literary magazine.

THOMAS JEFFERSON HIGH SCHOOL
SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS

May, 1967

Dear Jeffites,

As we come to the end of another school year, we are filled with mixed emotions. We are relieved because school work slackens for three months, but we are saddened because we are leaving friends and familiar experiences behind. Another phase of our life has passed, and we realize that this phase has been a preparation for the future when we will be aiming for higher and harder-to-achieve goals.

Looking back, we see that three qualities contributed to the success of the year. First, the student body not only had the spirit essential in sports, elections, and classrooms, but also demonstrated their enthusiasm during pep rallies, campaign drives, and service projects.

Our spirit fostered loyalty. Each morning we showed respect to the country as the ROTC raised the American flag. We also experienced a sense of loyalty when we stood at attention for the school song. By simply being faithful, academically, socially, and athletically, we revealed our loyalty.

In turn, our loyalty inspired devotion. Most of us were devoted to our clubs and organizations just as our teachers were dedicated to us. Through their devotion, we have grown wiser. Each of us realized that the education we received through our teachers and the training we acquired through our high school experiences helped to prepare and mold us for our future positions.

As we look back over the year, our minds are filled with remembrances. Most vivid in our minds are the gayly-decorated victory dances, the prom, the Snowman's Ball, the banquets, the numerous club gatherings, the spirit we had at athletic events, the colorful half times, and the bus trip to Corpus. Highlighting the spring events was Chuckwagon Day when new school leaders were announced.

We could list hundreds of other events that made this year unique, but first we must stop and realize that our achievements were made possible from what we acquired from the school as we studied and socialized in the Shadow of the Dome.

During the past year, the Monticello staff and I have strived, with the help and assistance of Mr. Bob Chambers, principal, Mrs. Jane Folbre, sponsor, and Mr. Ray Armstrong, our representative from the publisher, to reveal to you and to capture for you many of the unforgettable experiences of the 1966-'67 school year. Now the book is completed and is in your hands. The staff and I sincerely hope that we have thoroughly recorded this year's events for you as they happened in the Shadow of the Dome.

Sincerely,

Barbara Dietzmann

Action Takes Place Behind

Getting his blood pressure taken by Nurse Dorothy Juried is one of the minor requirements Mr. Don Freiling must pass before becoming a Mustang coach.

Being distracted by the students in the back of the room, Mrs. Mary Jo Smith loses track of class discussion.

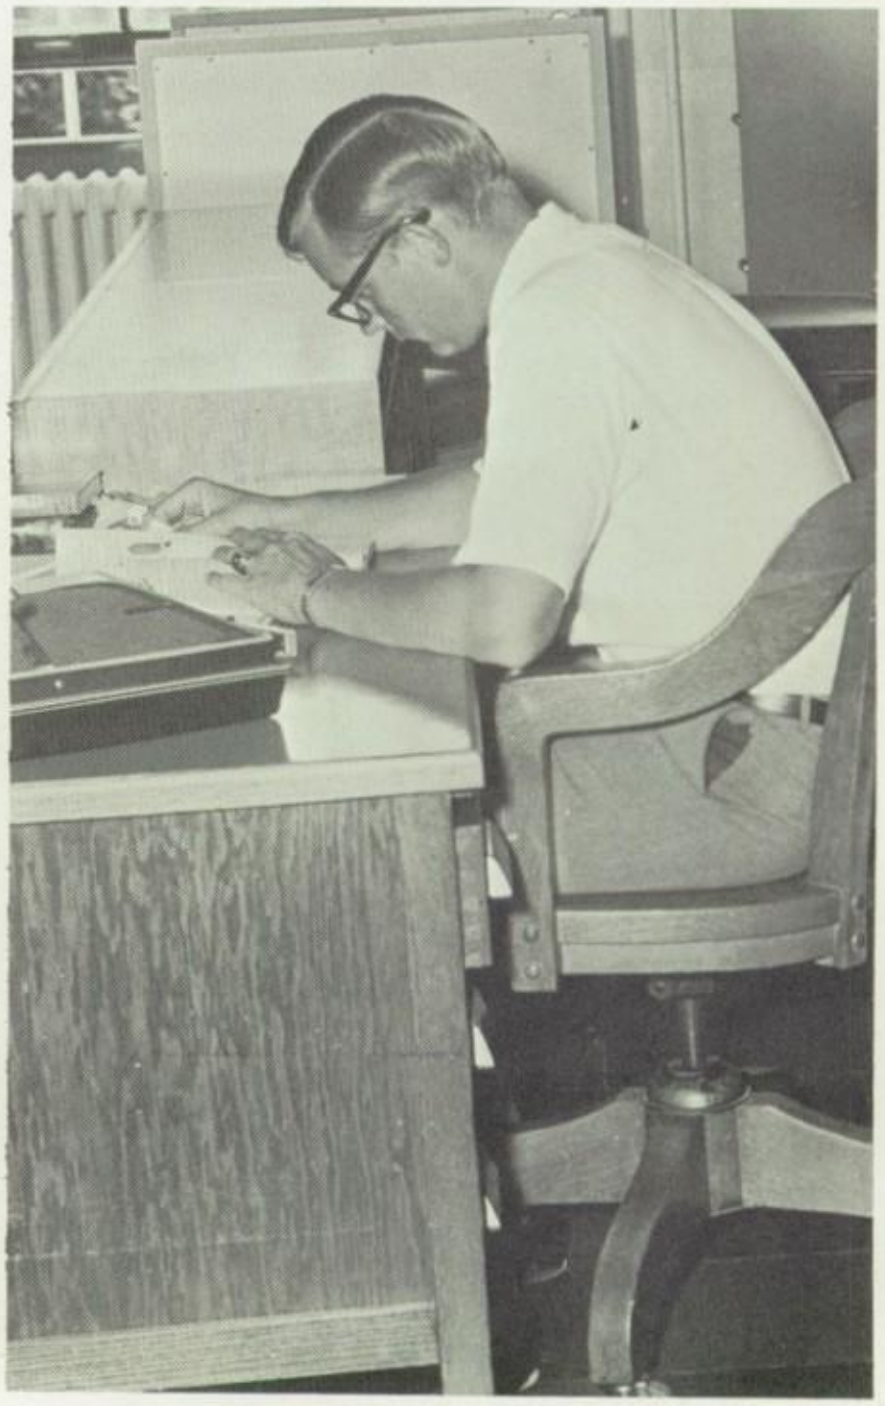
Trying to make a mental tally of the number of times his signature is required each day, Principal Bob Chambers gives up with a baffled smile.

Desks of Authority

During the first sophomore meeting of the year, Mrs. Lorena Davis explains testing and curriculum to the new sophs.

Stopping to muse over the excuse of some sly student, Mrs. Hal Atkins goes through the mountains of attendance slips recorded here each day.

Absorbed in studying a new textbook under consideration for his German I and II classes, Mr. Carl North is oblivious to the photographer.

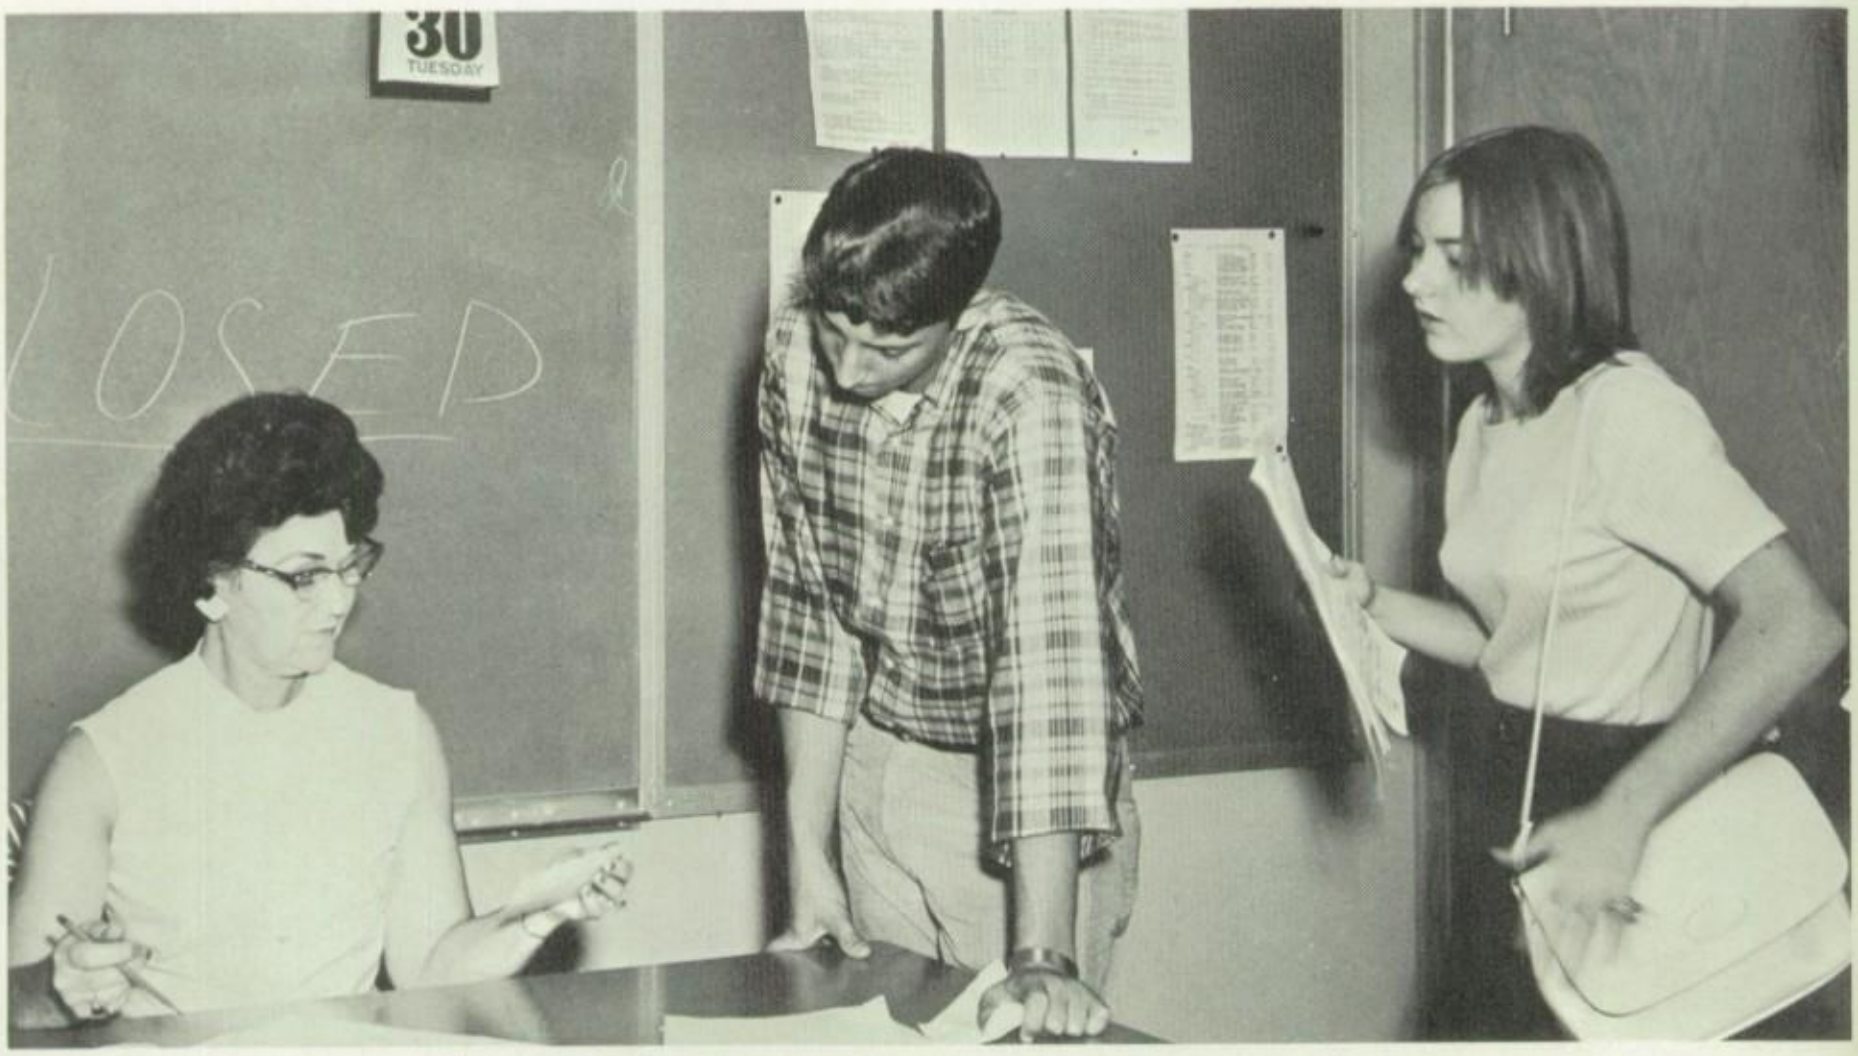


Books, Create

After finally finding a cool place during the heat of registration, Robert Rees sits alone with his bookcovers somewhere in the school halls.

Some of the confusion of registration clears as the last sophomores pay their locker fees to Betty Yellen.

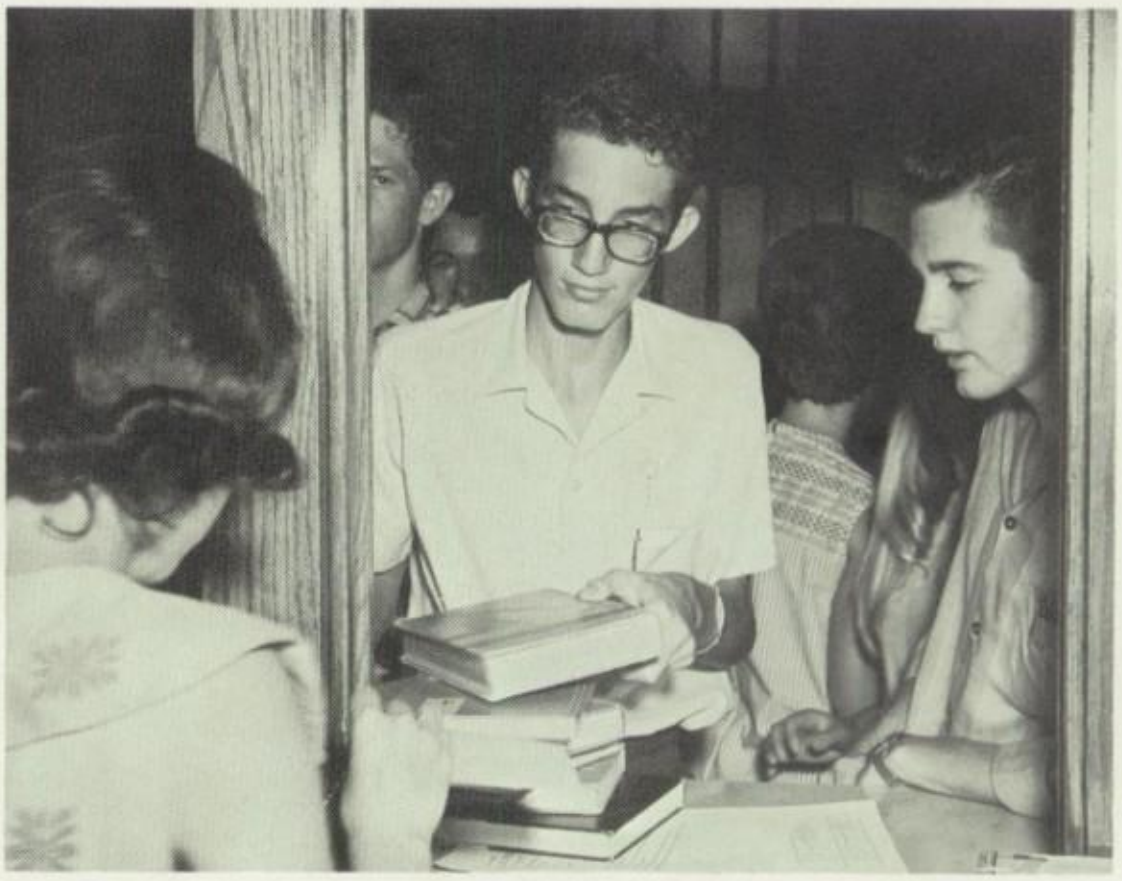
Closed classes become a problem for many students, as they attempt to take English under Mrs. Betty Mann.



Lockers, Schedules Confusion

During the exhausting job of registering, tired teachers will welcome the cup of coffee being prepared by Student Council member Mindy Koen.

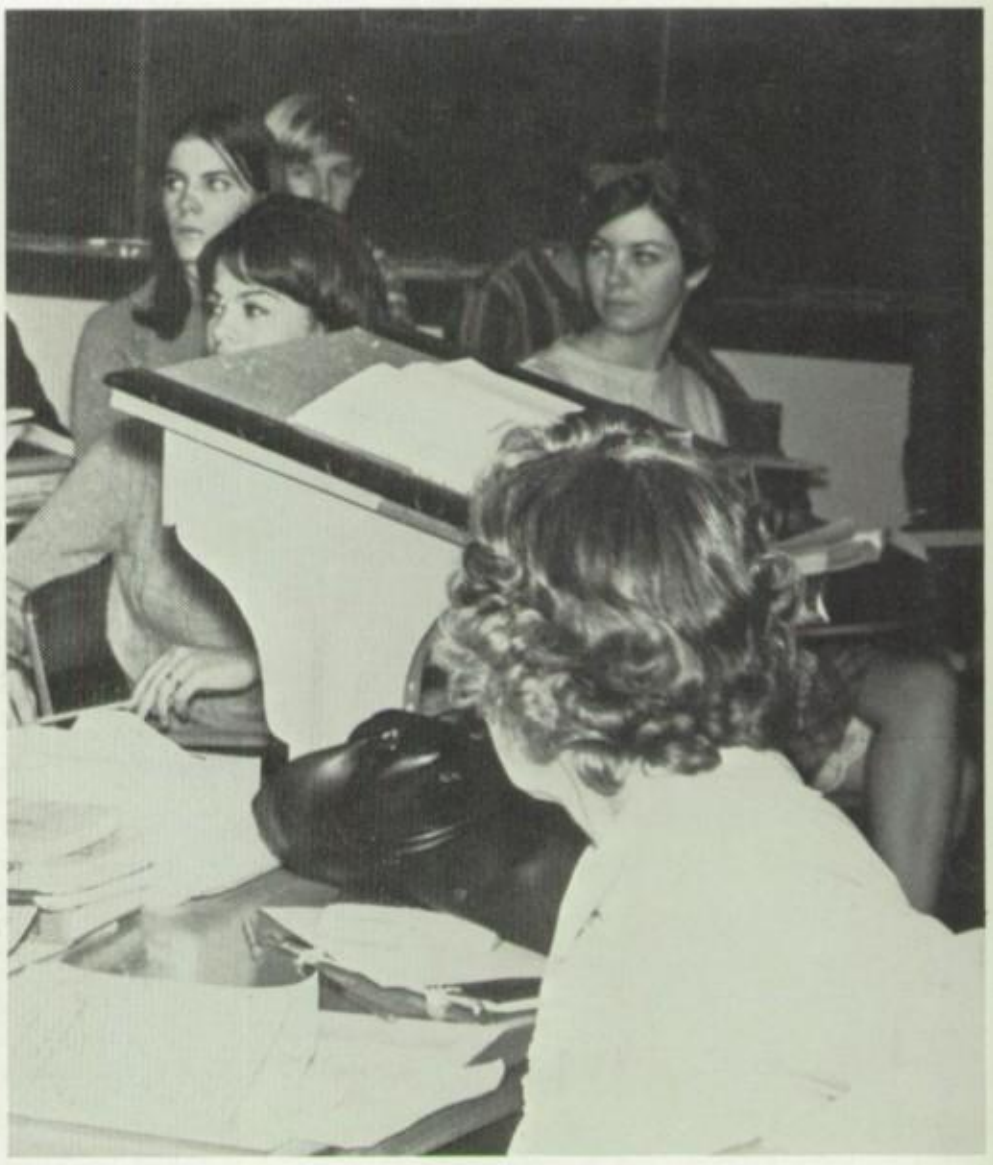
With the help of Tommy Graves, Bobby Cave discovers that bookroom duty during registration can be a nosy problem.



Completing one of the last chores of registration, Gregory Yamin receives his books from Loretta Anderson.

Equations Plus Experiments

In desperation, Miss Florence Langford asks Algebra II students, Suzanne Gaskin, Cindy Center, and Marlyne Riley to look at the board and find their own mistakes.



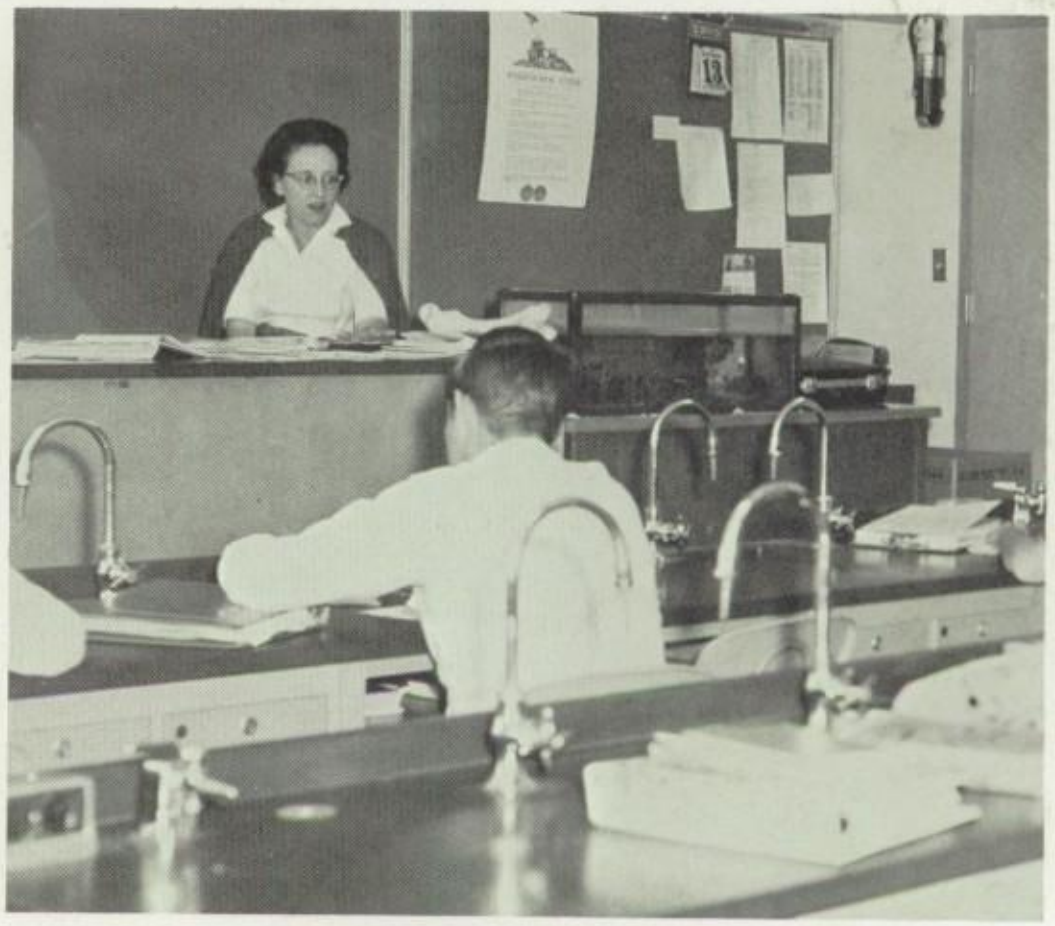
Perplexed and dazed, Nancy Carpenter returns to her seat after trying to untangle an algebra problem.

Equal Discovery

Lab assistants, Beth Mitchell, Joyce Gensberg, and Dee Dee Carroll work hard setting up experiments and cleaning up and occasionally they find time to study.

During their study of basic phylum, this group of biology students look closely at a specimen of bracket fungi.

As Mrs. Mary Inman explains fundamental biological principles to her classes, she pauses to discuss an interesting sideline.



Historical Facts Sought, Social

Problems of the city are many, but Sociology students Gary Scheer, Gayna Prero, Laurie McGill, Kathy Jones, and Rudy Almaraz, find possible solutions in their discussion with the Community Relations Board.

Looking to fellow Sociology students for reassurance, Lee Jennings works to help the children of Cassiano Homes perfect their knowledge of arithmetic.

Insight Won

When test day comes around, Charlotte Forrest wonders if she shouldn't have crammed a little longer for that American History quiz.

Humor is an enjoyable quality in a teacher and Mrs. Mary Jo Smith finds that laughter is sometimes a good teaching aid.

History students in Mrs. Mary Jo Smith's class learn that deep concentration is esstential in retaining facts and dates of centuries past.

Helping others gain understanding gives Sociology student, Betty Crawshaw a feeling of satisfaction and pride.

Plays, Panels,

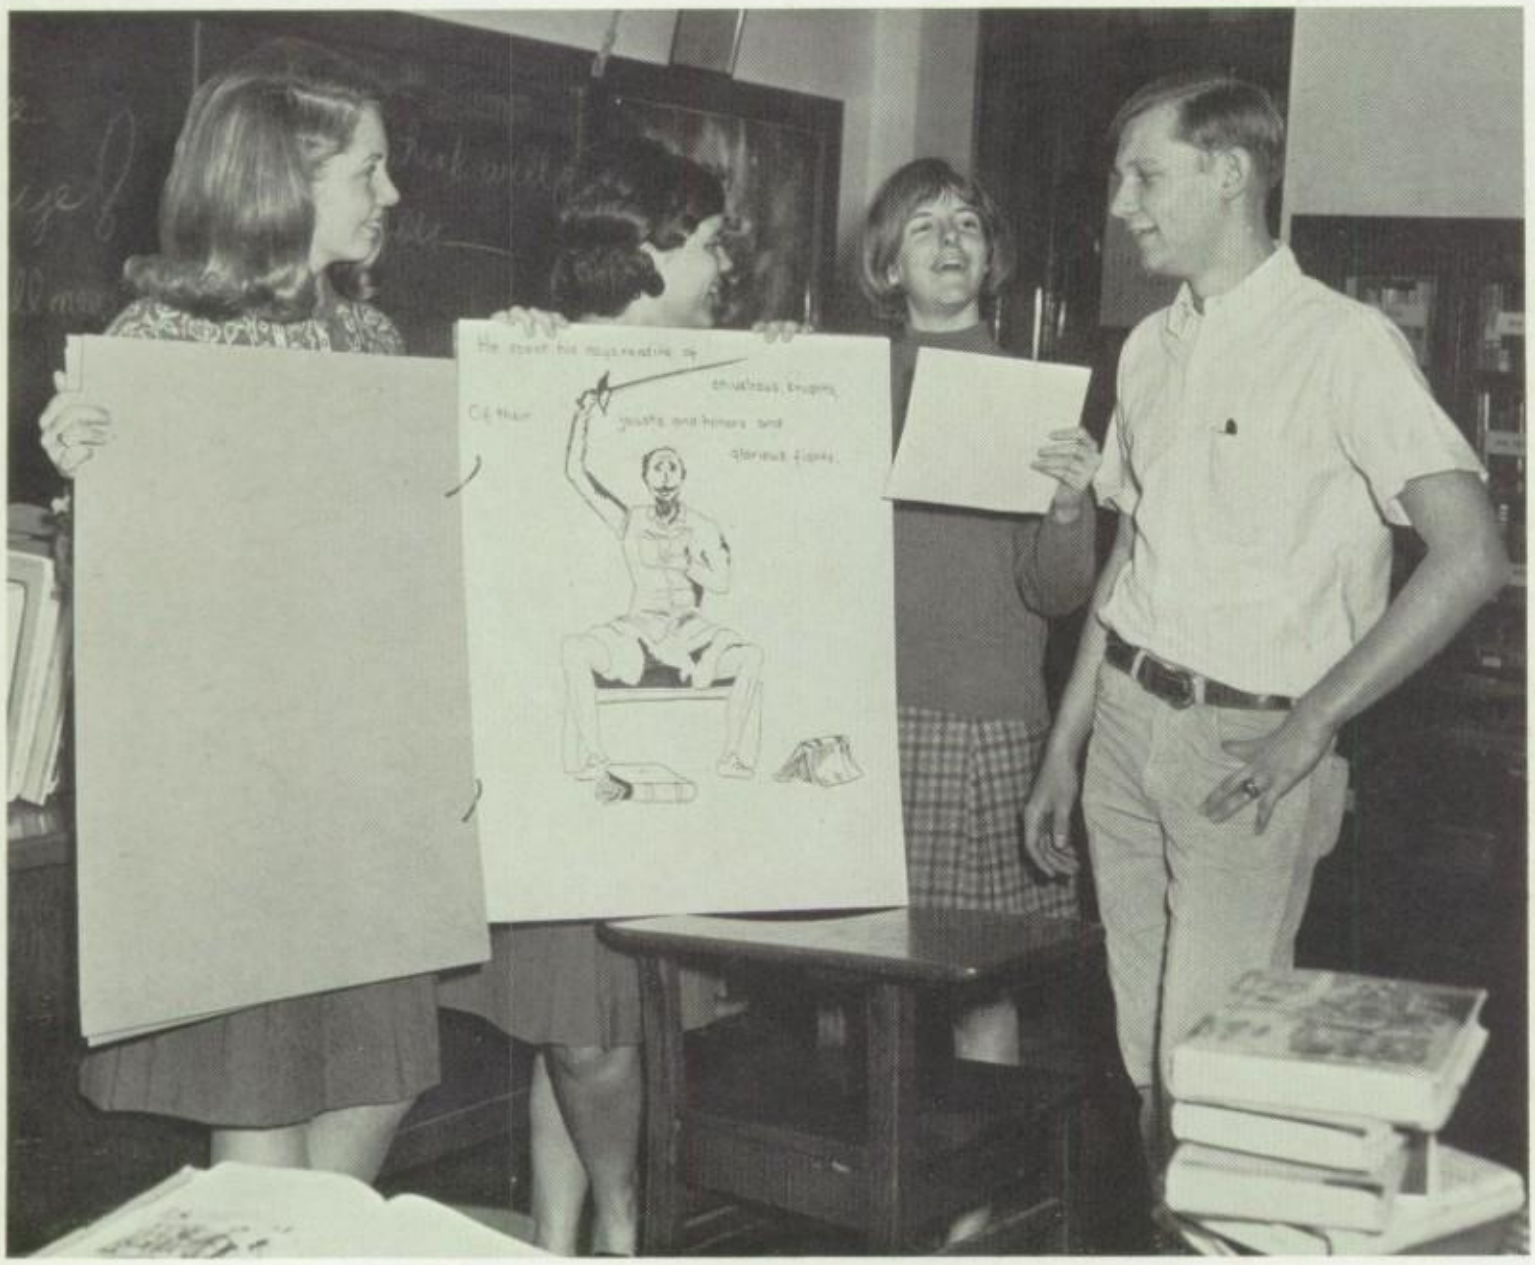
Helping keep the English Department running smoothly, Kathy Rotondi and Tonia Wallis prove to be valuable aids as they supply teachers with books and equipment.

Silently trying to improve their reading skill, Celeste Flores, Edward Villarreal, George Rodriguez each use a pacer which sets a certain speed for reading.

Sly remarks from the audience bring a sudden break in the play of Don Quixote, but Clara Thompson, Inkie Uhlmann, and Dale Stewart keep their poise and find it amusing, too.

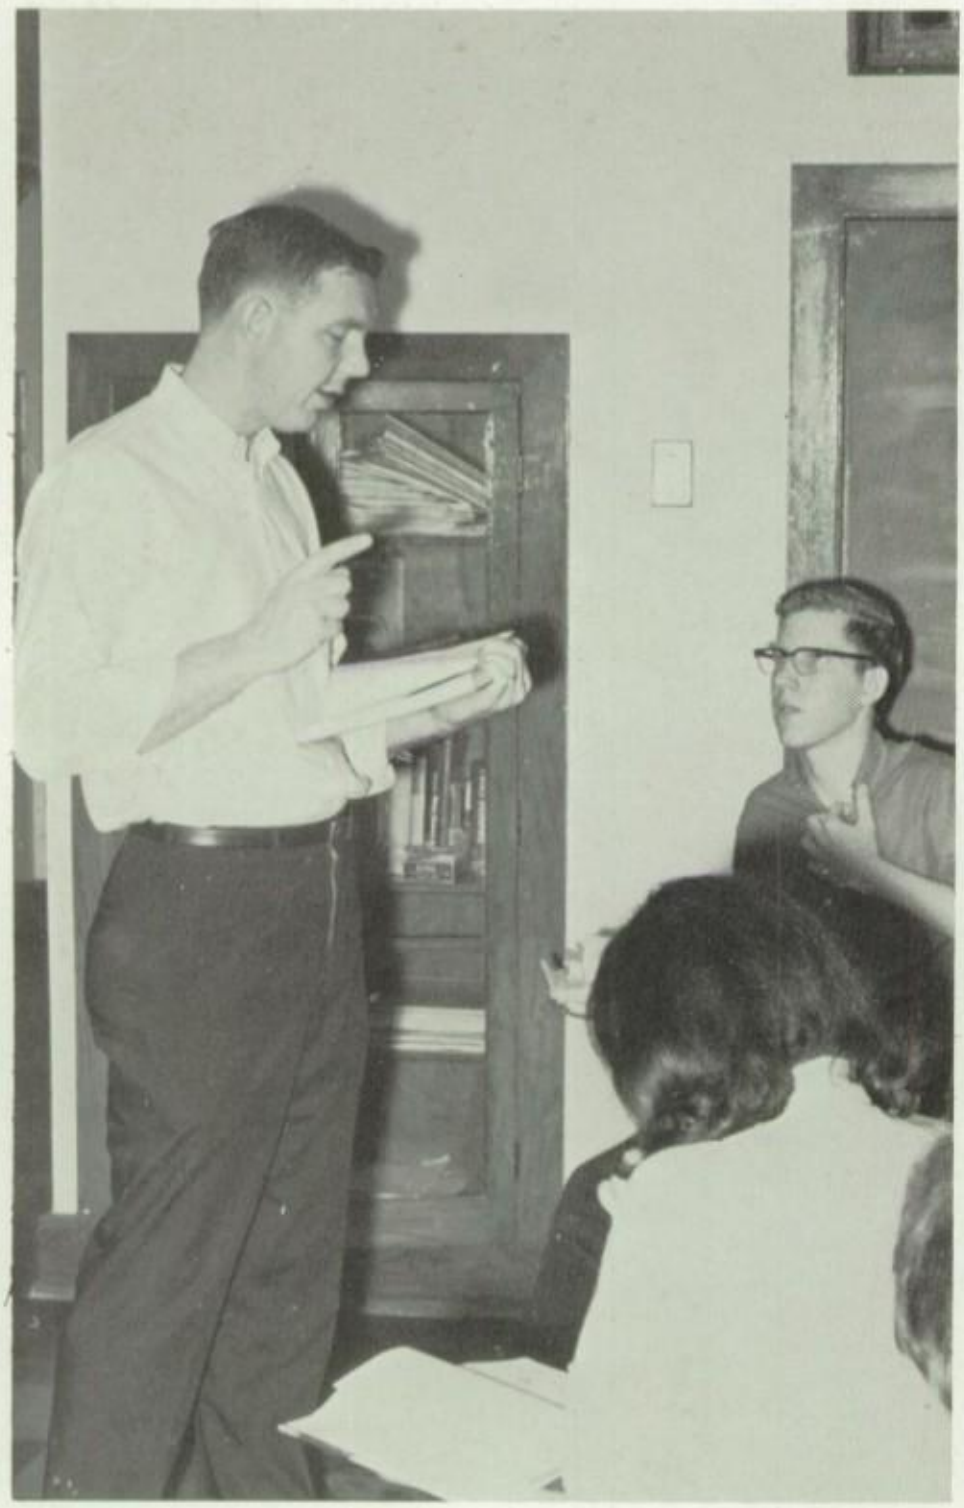
Pacers Enliven English

Intensely devoted to Macbeth, Kathy Kelsmark, Angie Morgan, and Lynn Shelander dress to fit the parts of three witches during a study of the Shakespearian play.



Age-old stories presented in a scrapbook assembled by Dixie Cody, Dana Hooper, and Gail Arbetter win laughs and praise from Richard Turner.

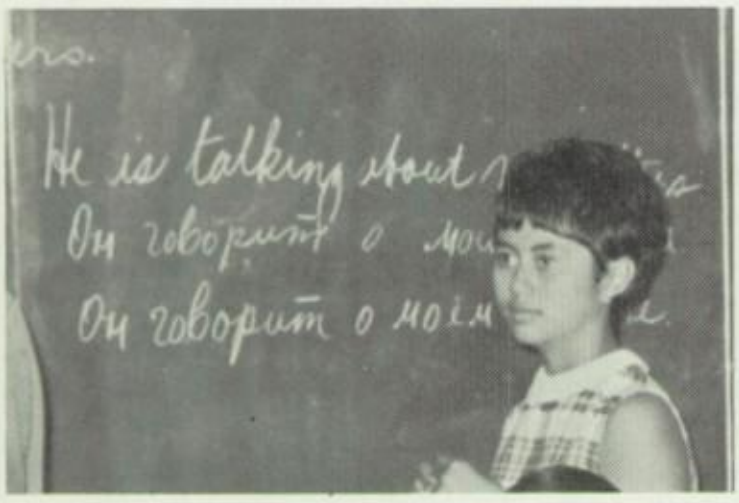
As they listen to Mr. Carl North's directions, students hurriedly take down notes about their upcoming German test.



Reviewing his class for a test, Mr. Richard Kirkpatrick helps confused Eldon Saathoff by giving another explanation of the locative case.

Associating the object with its Spanish name, Lindy Birnbaum and Buddy Bright often find that mispronunciation can produce hilarious results.

Languages Combine Cultures



Having difficulty translating an English sentence into Russian, Lidia Hernandez stops for a brief moment of concentration.

Discovering that the answer was easier than she thought, Lindy Birnbaum smiles at her mistake.

Because of their excitement over the upcoming Snowman's Ball, Marilyn Lange and Twila Keefer find it difficult to concentrate on their French lesson.

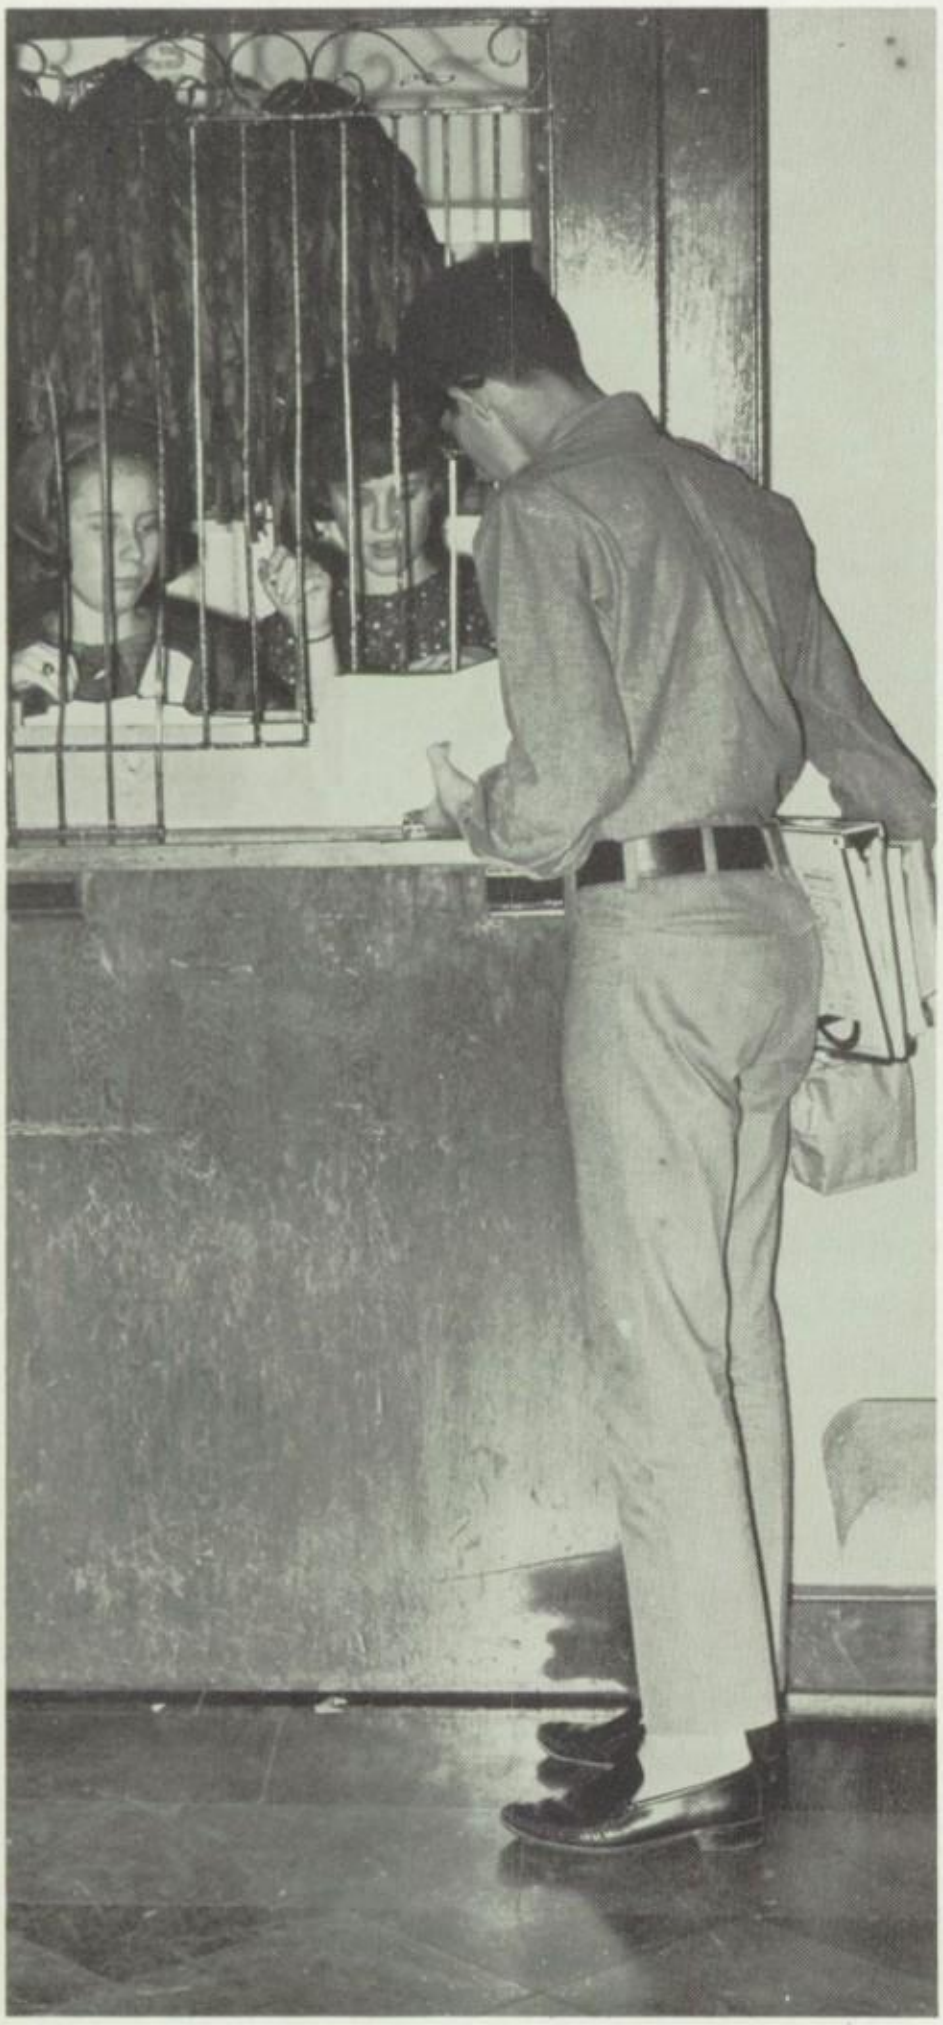
Giant Campaign

Mrs. Louise Fake from Joske's organizes class pictures during student's non-credit or library period for the Monticello.

Monticello staffers Barbara Dietzmann and Charlotte Goldberg sacrifice their lunch period to collect money for subscription sales.

At the Corpus Christi pep rally, publication leaders Barbara Dietzmann, Steve Dial, and Charlotte Goldberg kick off Monticello-Declaration sales drive.

Yields Giant Sale

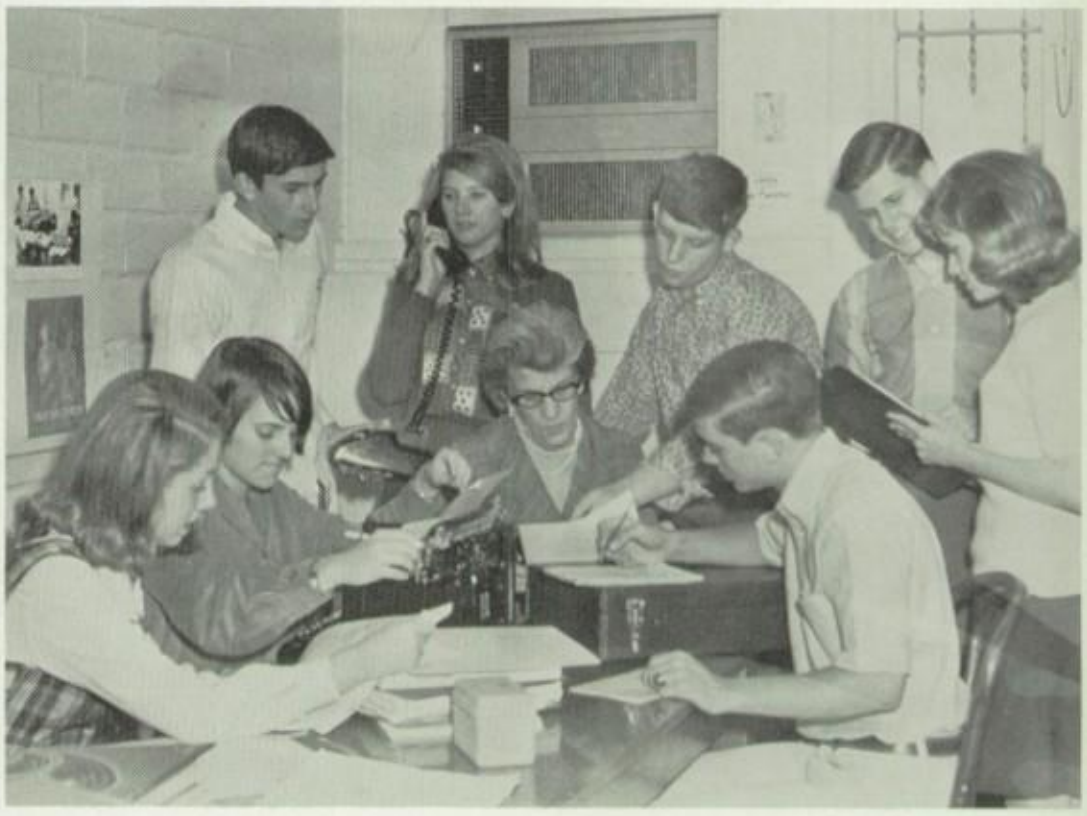


After school, Barbara Dietzmann enlists the aid of Albert Davis and Danny Alpern to put up the publication sales banner.

On his way to lunch, Gregory Yamin stops to pick up his Monticello and Declaration advisory envelope.

Review board member, Wanda Herndon, is blooming with ideas.

Industriously working, the Each Has Spoken staff, Dixie Cody, Sue Doerr, Pat Barker, Pam Robinson, Mrs. Josephine Lindsey, sponsor, Joel Lee, Joe Hammer, Dale Stewart, and Wanda Herndon put in a hard day.



Students Strive for

President of the English Honor Society, Dale Stewart, addresses the new members at the initiation at Manor Baptist Church.

Mrs. Elizabeth Younger, stopping to help stenography student Sharon Ableman, explains her mistake.

Stumped for a moment over a steno sentence Ronnie Mendez pauses to think.

Perfection in Class, Magazine

In their free time at the end of the period, these typing students try to complete their budgets.

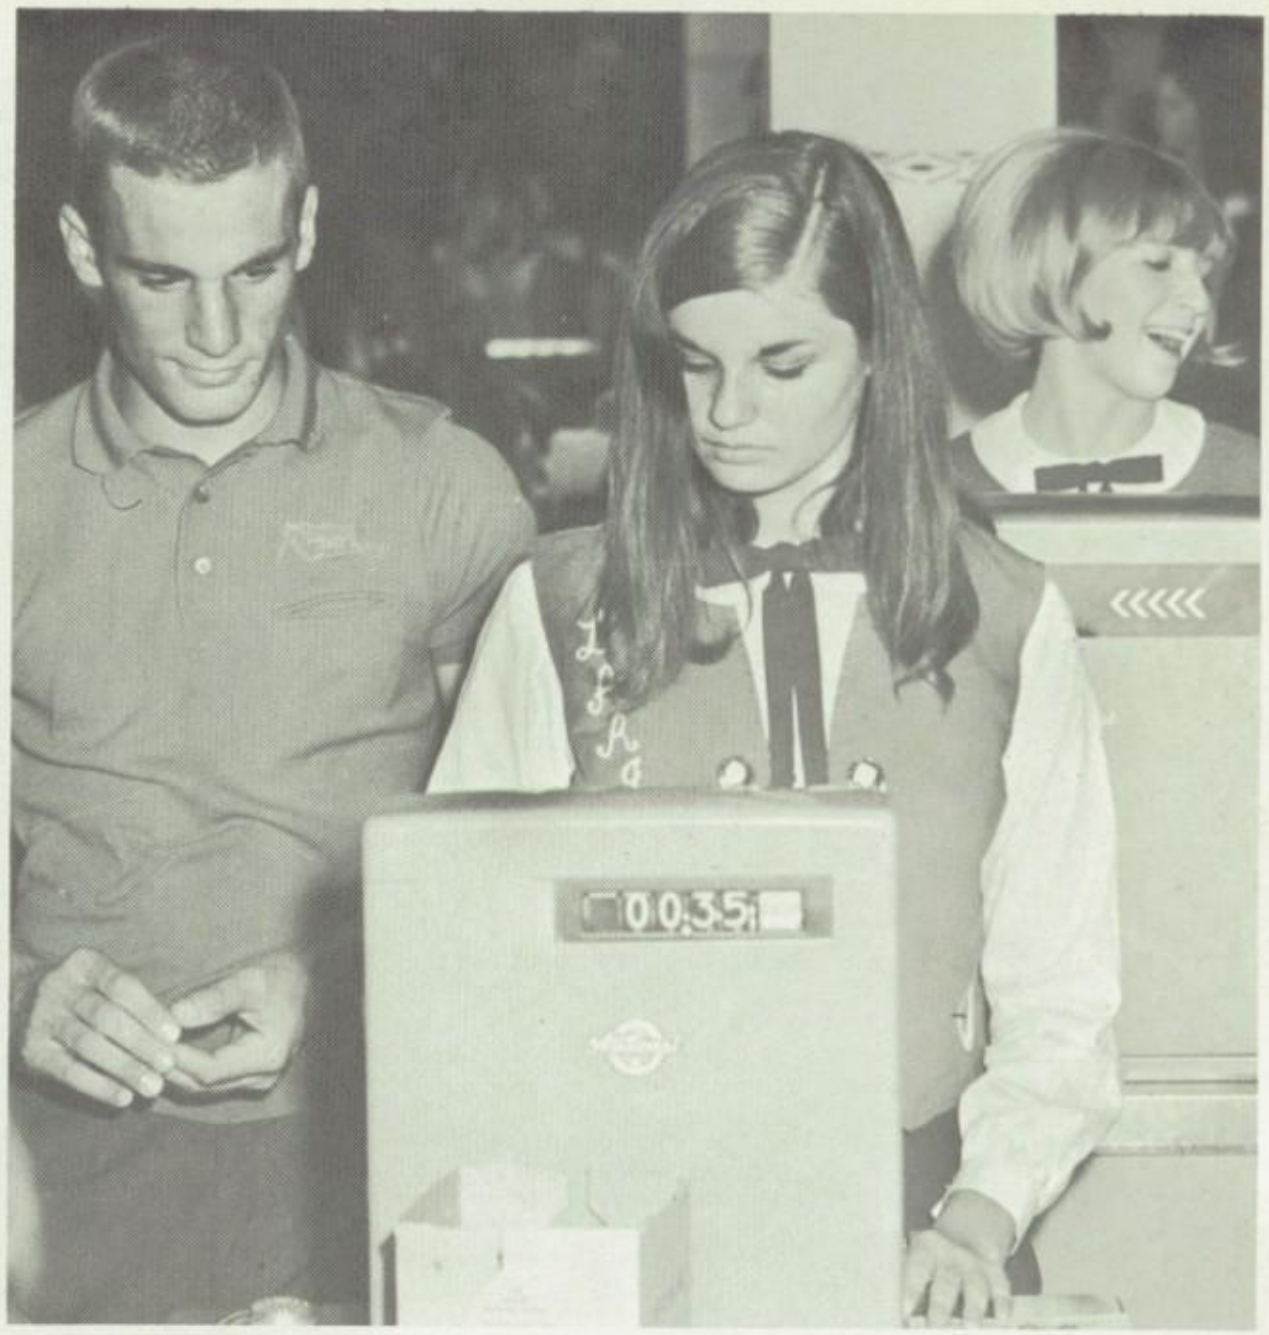
Eat
Drink
Be Merry

Lunch tables crowded with trays, drinks, and books don't prevent Mary Kahn and Dora Morales from catching up on the latest news of teachers, boys, and clothes.

Space at lunch tables is at a premium sometime resulting in precarious stacks of books.

Savoring the last few moments before fourth period, these girls squeeze as much talk as possible into the brief lunch period.

Wednesday's noon bell means not just food, but Mexican food for Larry Schmidt.



Giving up their advisory periods to be cafeteria cashiers, Stuart Smith and Darla Cotton use their mathematics ability to tally the cost of student lunches.

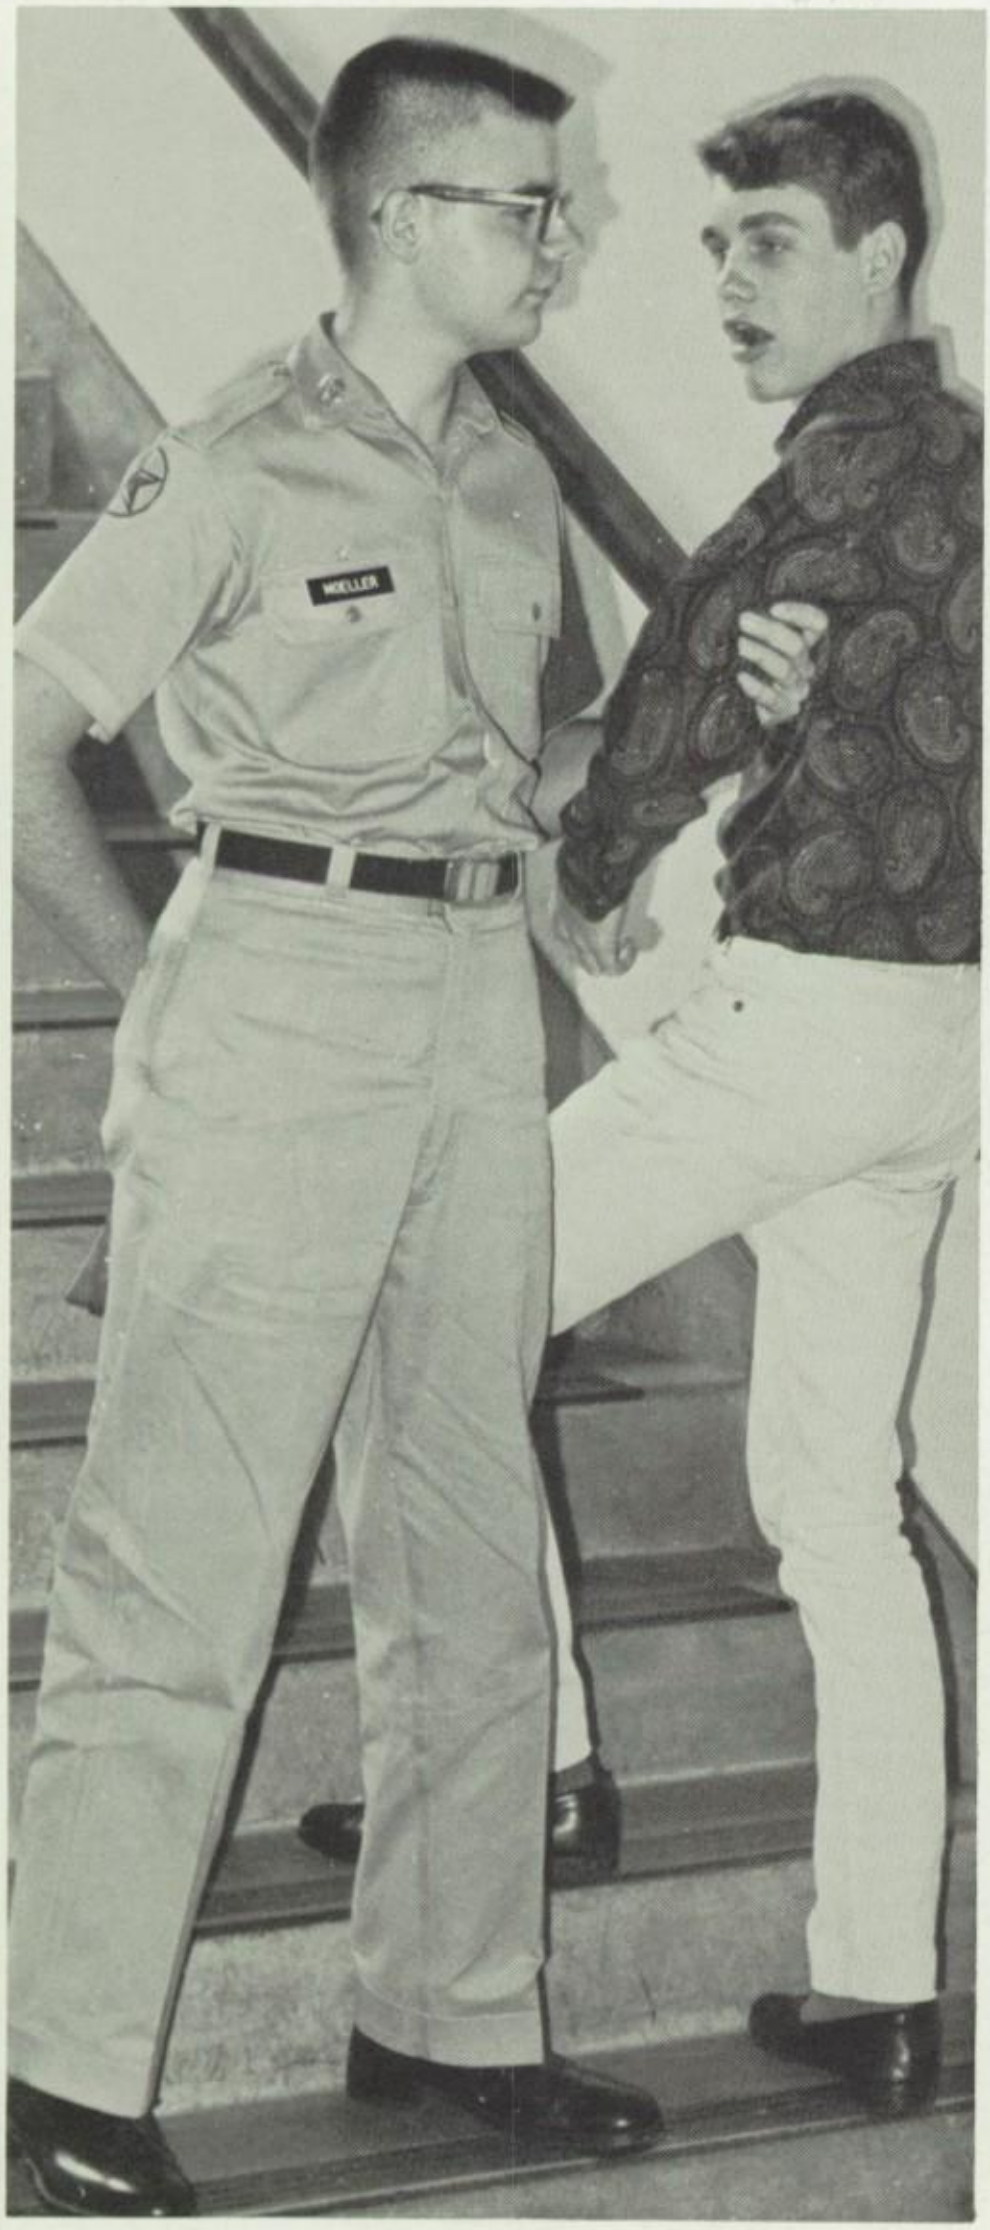
After finishing the morning job of preparing lunch for students, cafeteria workers take time to relax in the afternoon.

At the close of the noon hour, sophomore Bobby Jones demands the return of his trained "pet flea."

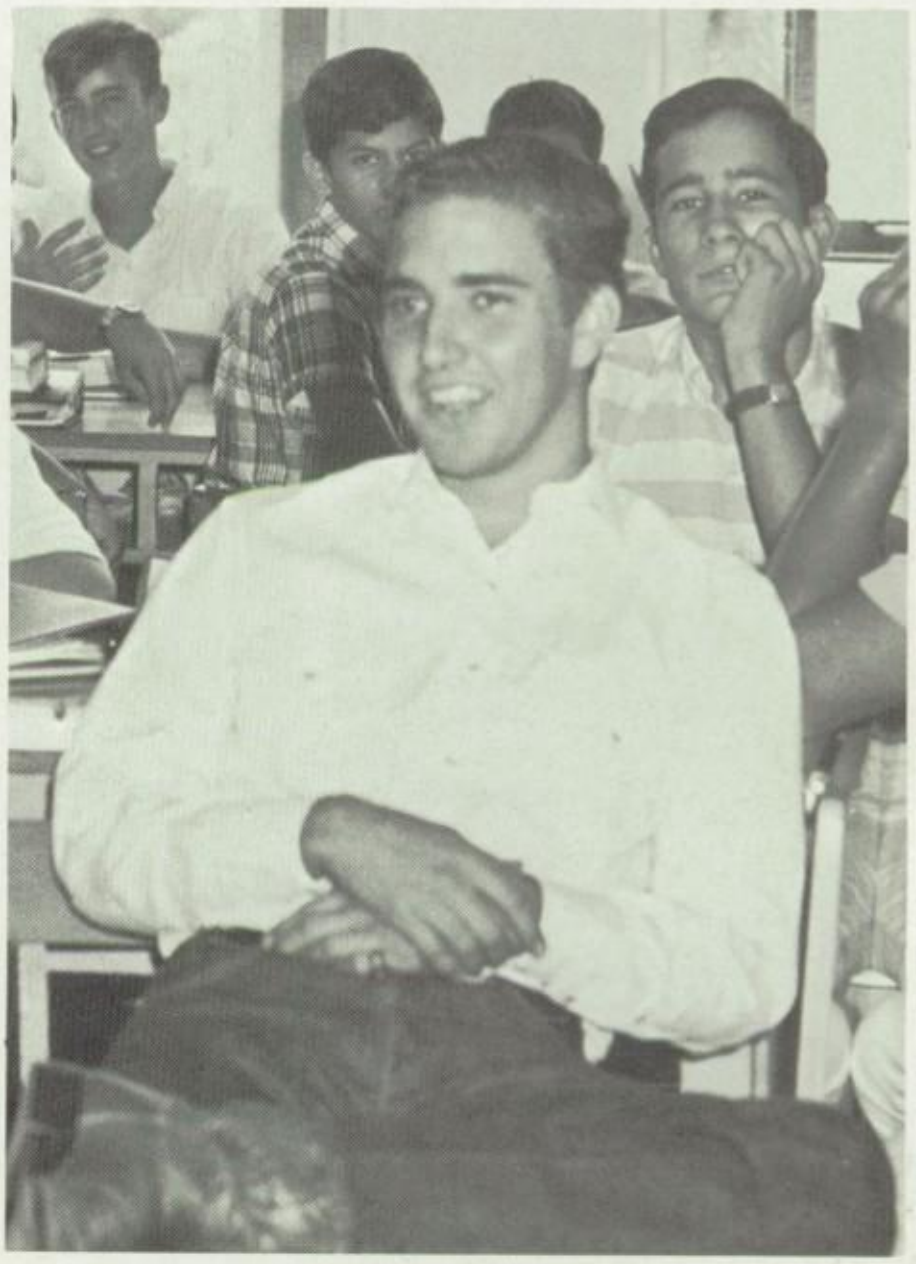
One of the main attractions during the noon hour is buying paperback books from Pat Barker at the English Honor Society book store.

Getting in the mood of football season Joe Nobis and Terry Eggleston try out a gag play during the noon hour.

Noon Hour Hustles And Bustles



No excuse is good enough to convince an R.O.T.C. cadet to let students up the stairs during lunch as Randy Murdock unhappily discovers.



While listening to the daily bulletin in advisory, senior Dan Blass happily anticipates what he will eat for lunch.

Supervising student conduct, Mr. David Rusmisel, vice principal, and Mr. Gerald Evetts, dean of boys, find a "comfortable" bench in the main hall.

Students Portray Individuality

Putting much expression into cast try-outs, Wayne Bennett and Cricket Hughes demonstrate the fact that stars can be born in Junior Play.

Casting for the Junior Play means important decisions for Mrs. Peggy East, as she comments on the performance of aspiring actors and actresses.

Contemplating the acting ability of fellow Junior Play cast members, June Elkins must decide whom she would like to play the lead.

Debating can be enjoyable, but opponents of Kathy Flores despair of winning now as she offers new proof for her side.

Sticky problems arise for Larry Brown as he tries to make a self-portrait come out exactly right.

Gratefully accepting advice from Miss Ruby Dugosh, Pat McCollough and Linda Katz are well on their way to becoming capable artists.

Physical Fitness and Fine

A leap and a punch sends the ball over for a point to put the team of P.E. girls ahead.

Successfully chinning himself, Fred Mery discovers that physical fitness is easier than he thought.

Classes of boys' P.E. learn cooperation and sportsmanship, as well as how to keep the ball out of that basket.

Girls in the fifth period P.E. rush to take showers, change clothes, and comb hair in the five short minutes they have before their next class.

Quality Symbolize P.E. and Music

Joys of band director are evident in the face of Mr. Moddie Smith as he directs the Mustang Band in the Fight Song.

Problems in drum strokes come up for Dickie Pratt as John Kollias wonders whether he should use paradiddle or ratamacue.

Out of the mouths of the A Capella choir come "dos," "res," and "mis" that combine in beautiful harmony.

Perfecting their musical talents, sixth period band ensemble practices anything from marches to concerts.

Hostesses

Cooking up a storm, these homemaking students learn early that the way to a man's heart is through his stomach.

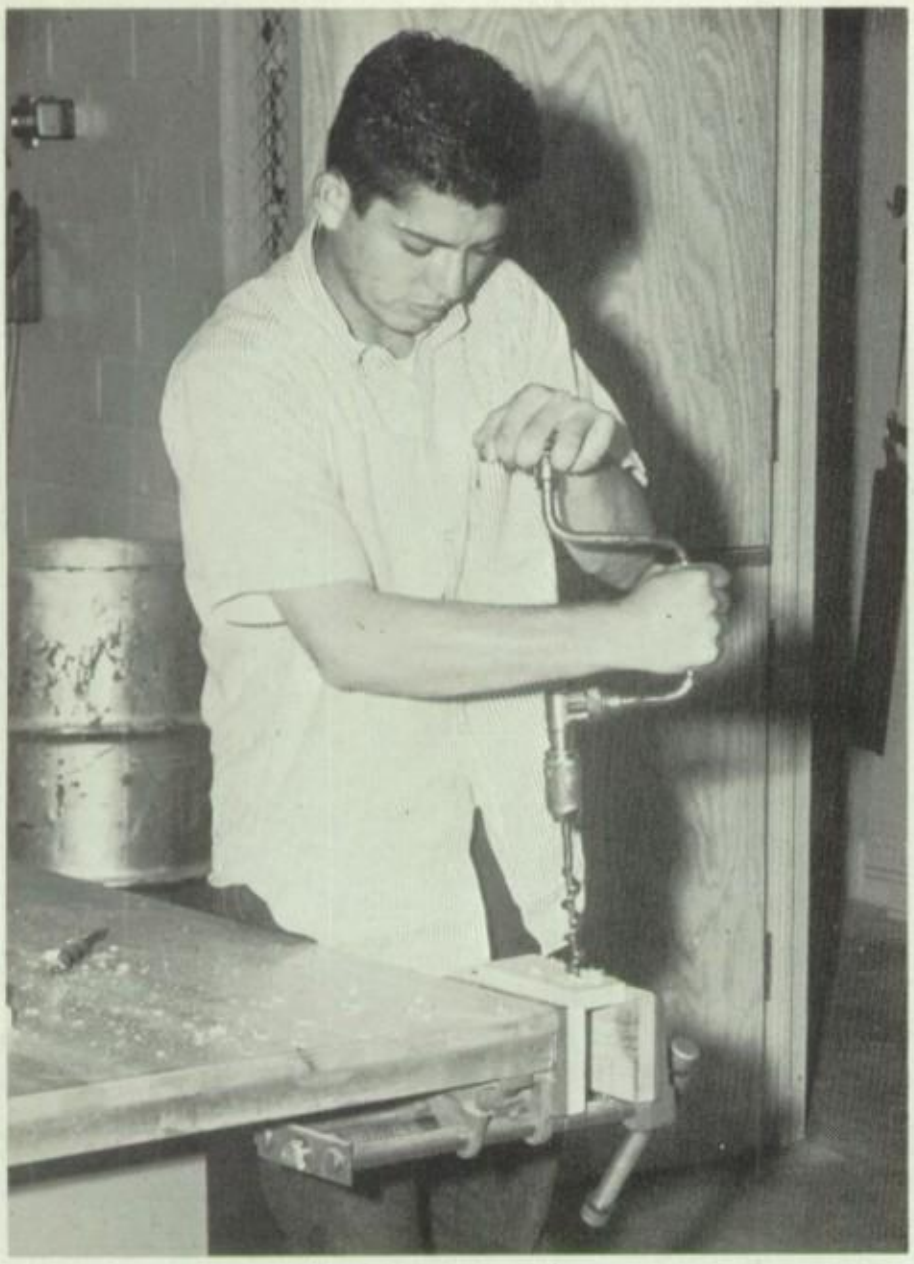
For the reception following the National Honor Society initiation, members of the homemaking class prepare a special treat.

Roll In Dough

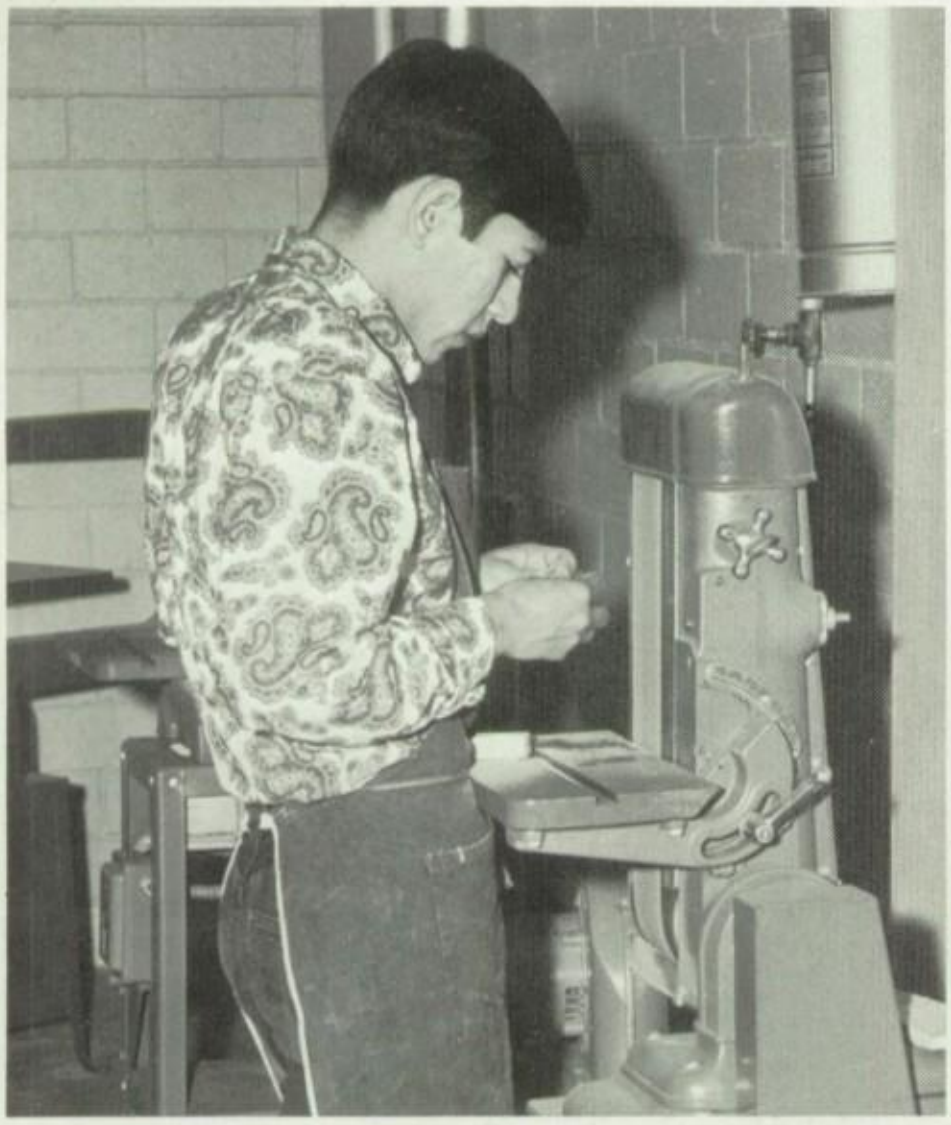
Learning the proper way to set a table is an essential requirement of Hilary Lyman and Jackie Shelander to pass their homecoming course.

Hardworking students, Yee Ng, Zane Goerges, and Luanne Schuehart, begin work on their fashions for the up-coming style show.

Shop, Drafting, Teach Skills

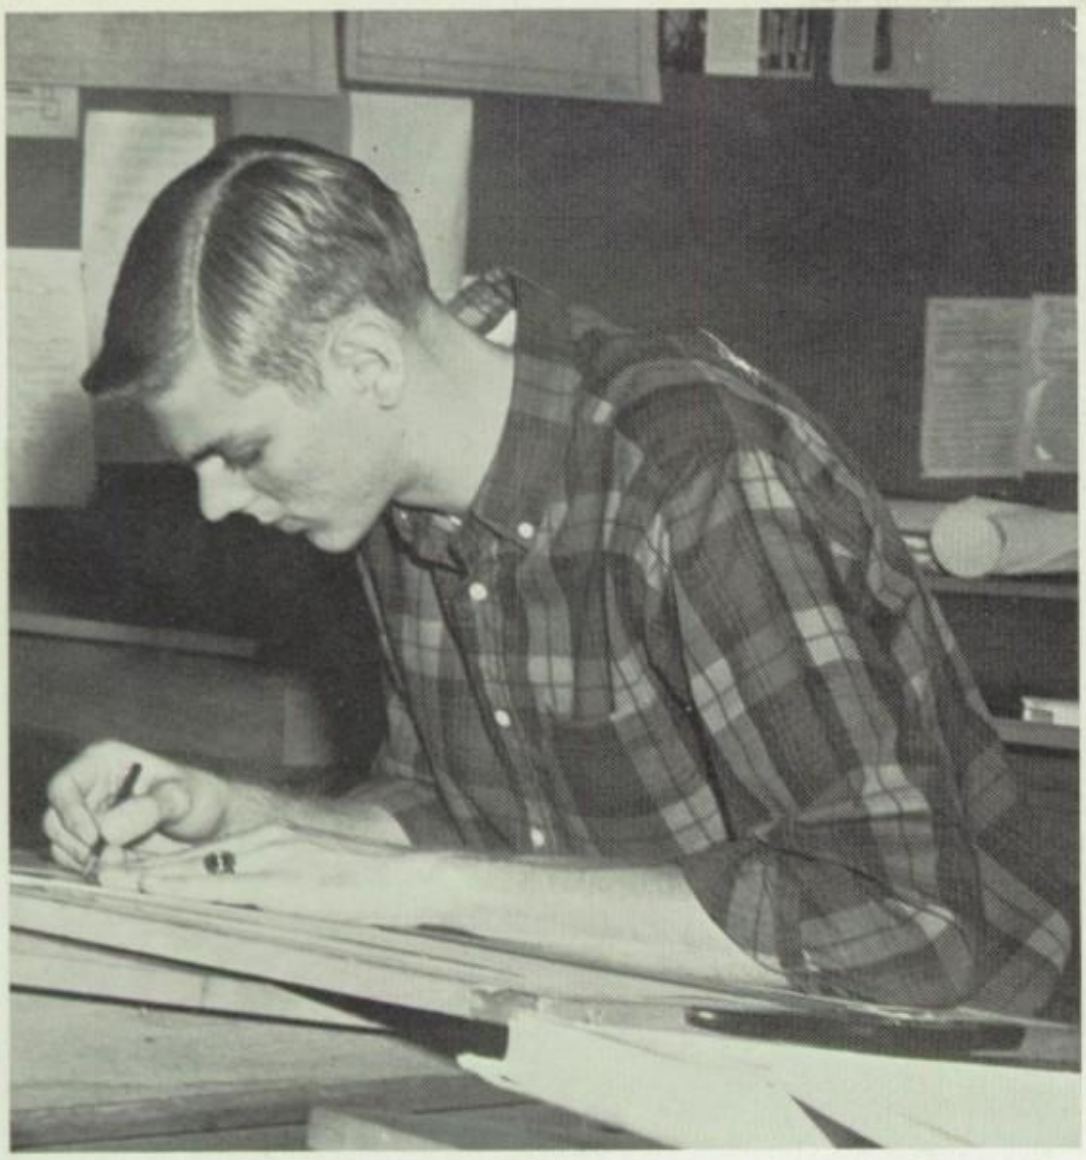


Many skills are learned in the woodworking shop as proven by Edward Weilbacher as he drills a ring.



As he sands a ring, Joe M. Garcia works toward a polished final product.

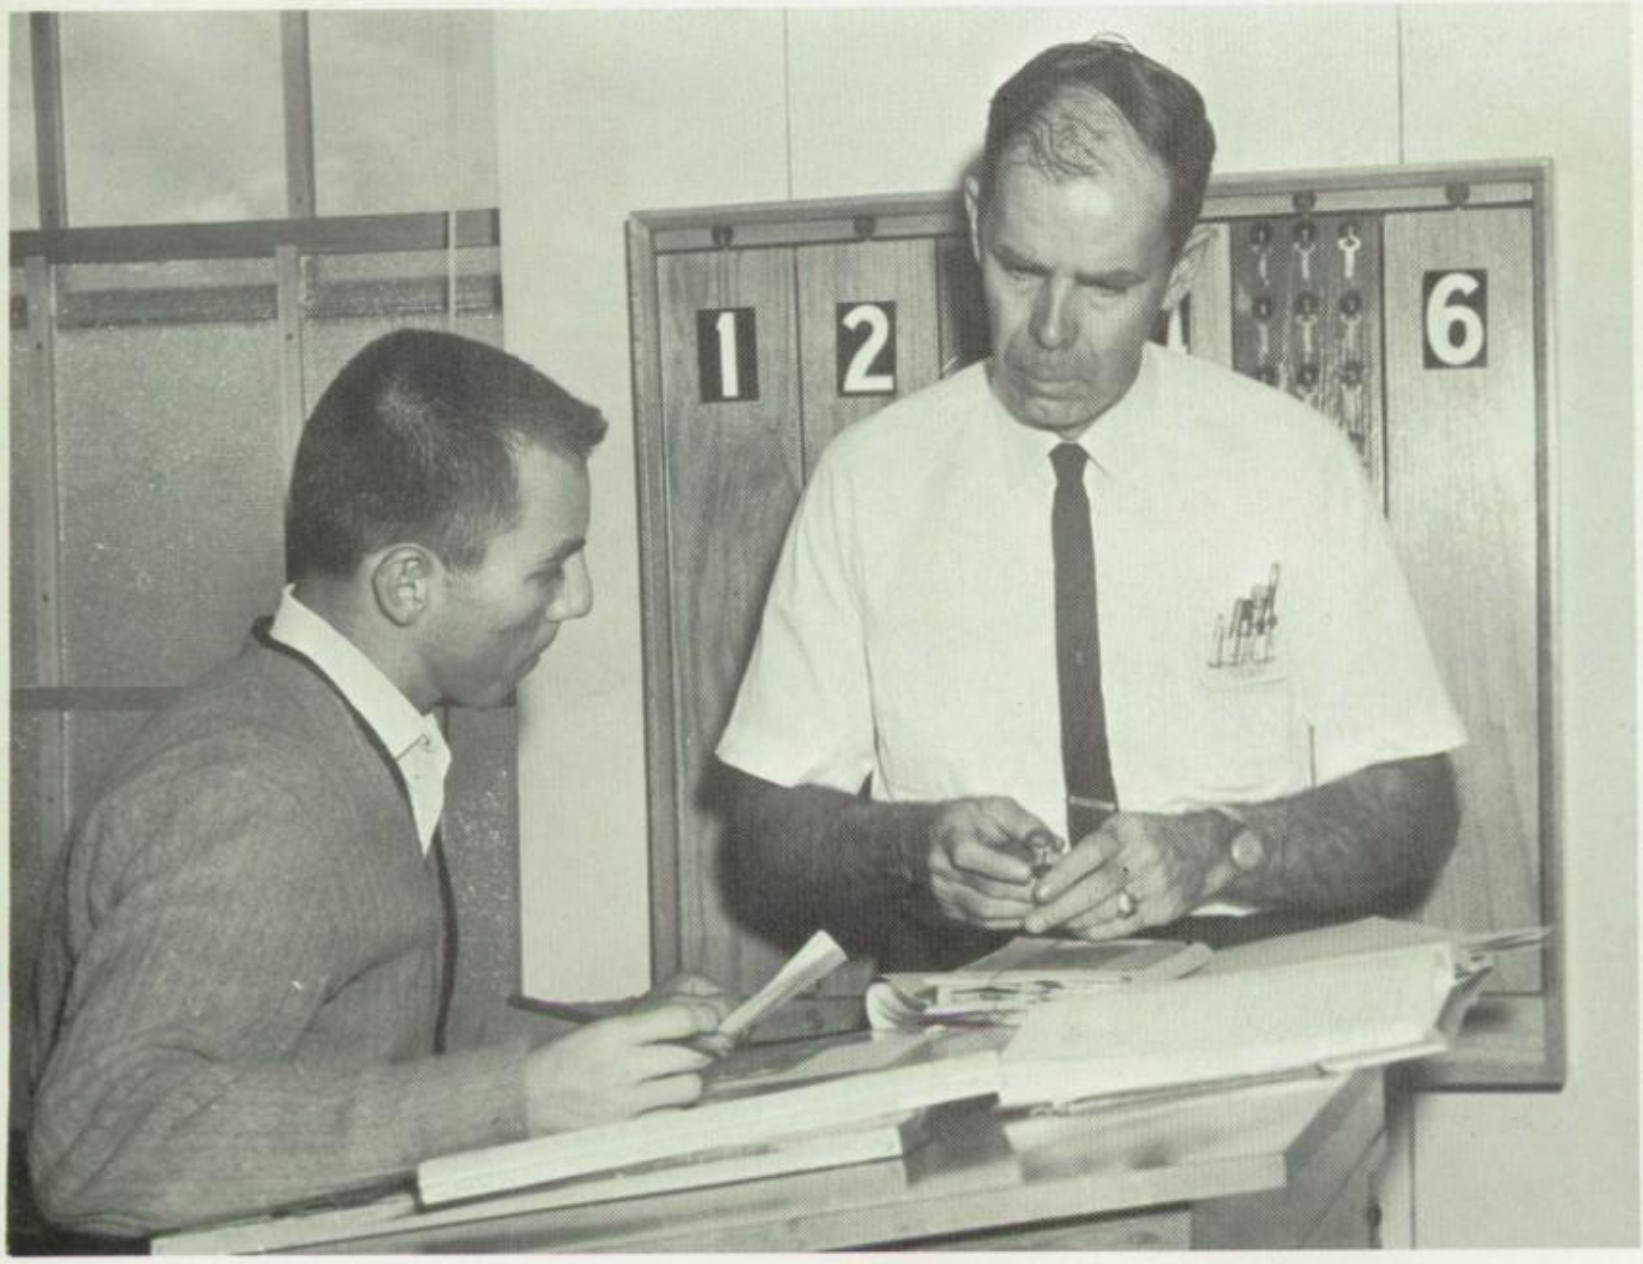
Planing down a block of wood, Tommy Torres strives to maintain perfection in his work.



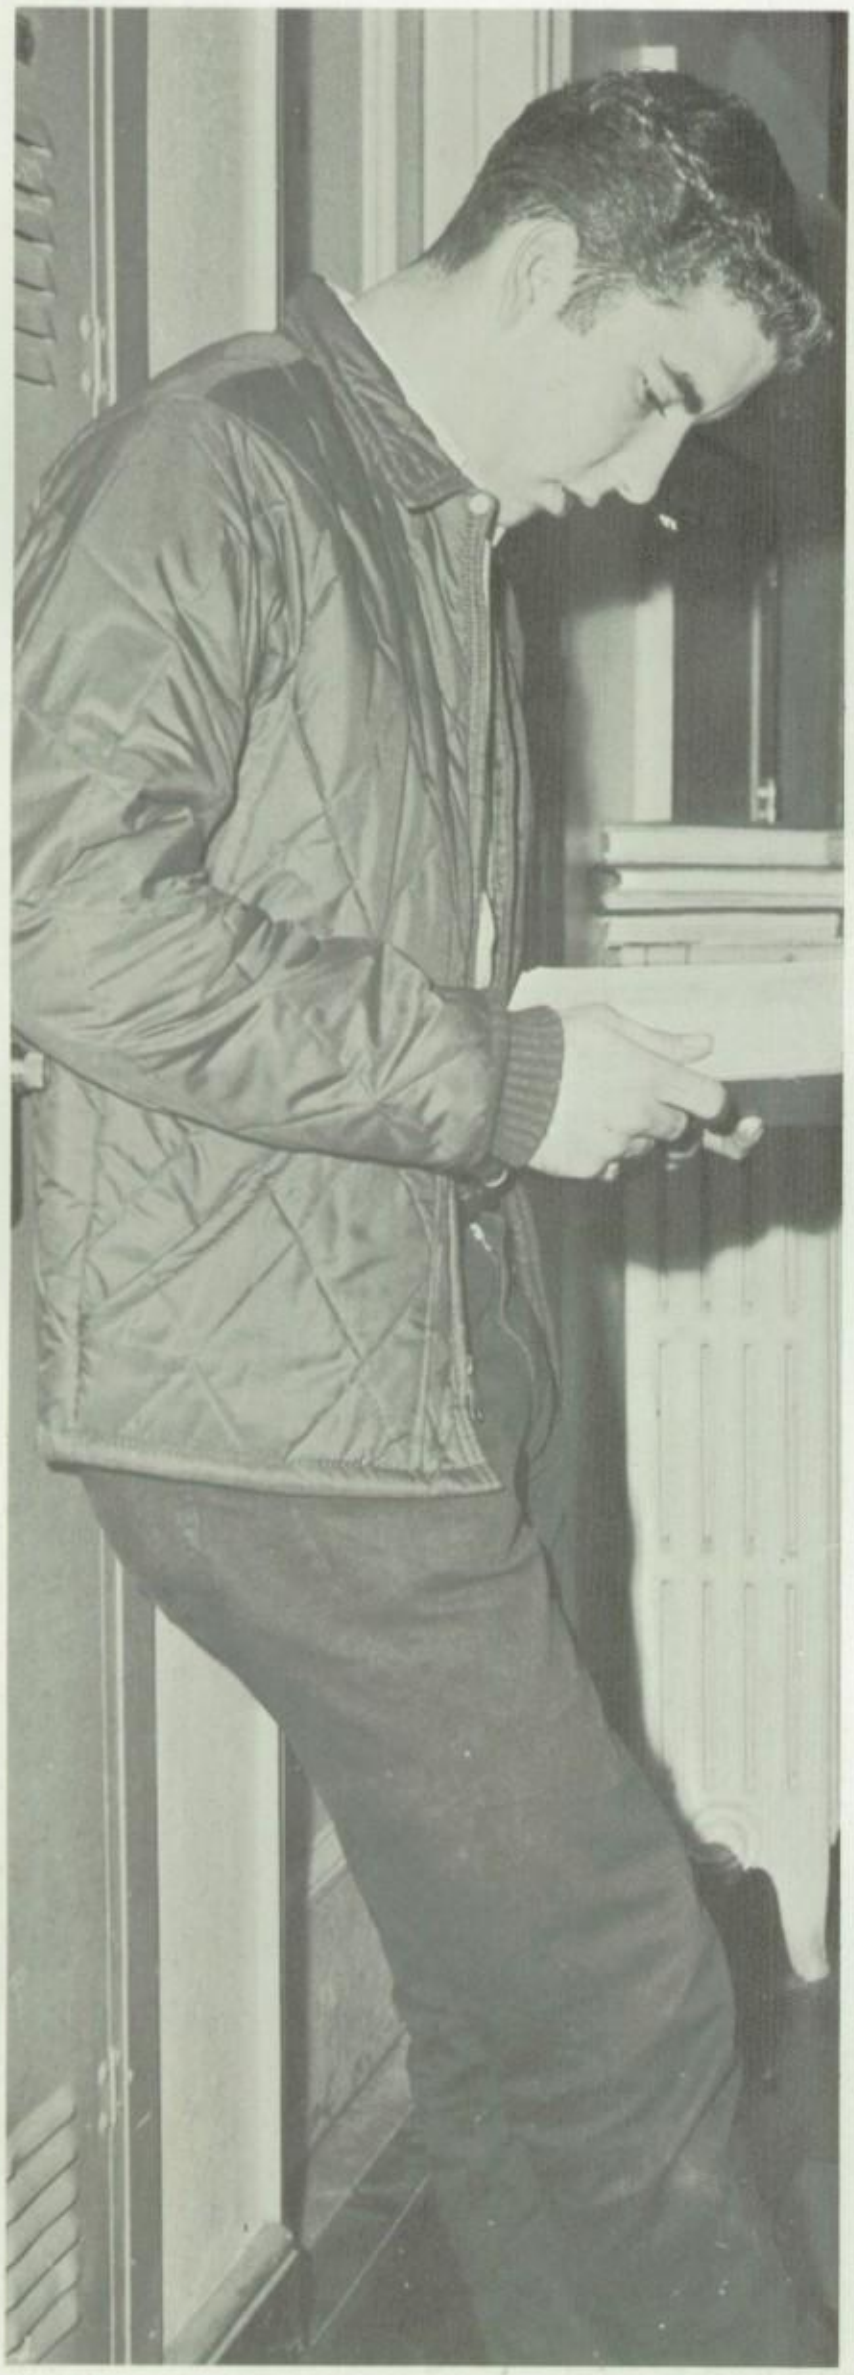
Larry Eckhardt discovers that extra hours and original ideas all go into making a good architectural design.

Concentration is the word for Robbie Harris as he carefully puts the last few guidelines on a drawing.

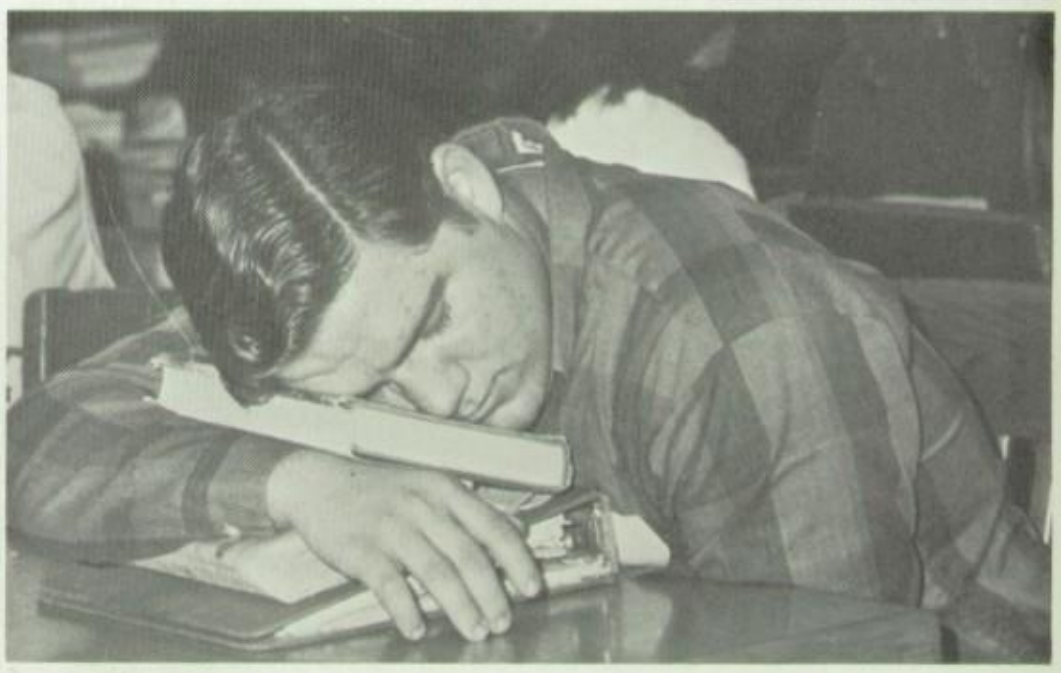
Drafting instructor Mr. R. T. Jones gives David Lopez a few fine points for machine drafting.



Sleeping, Cramming, Concentration

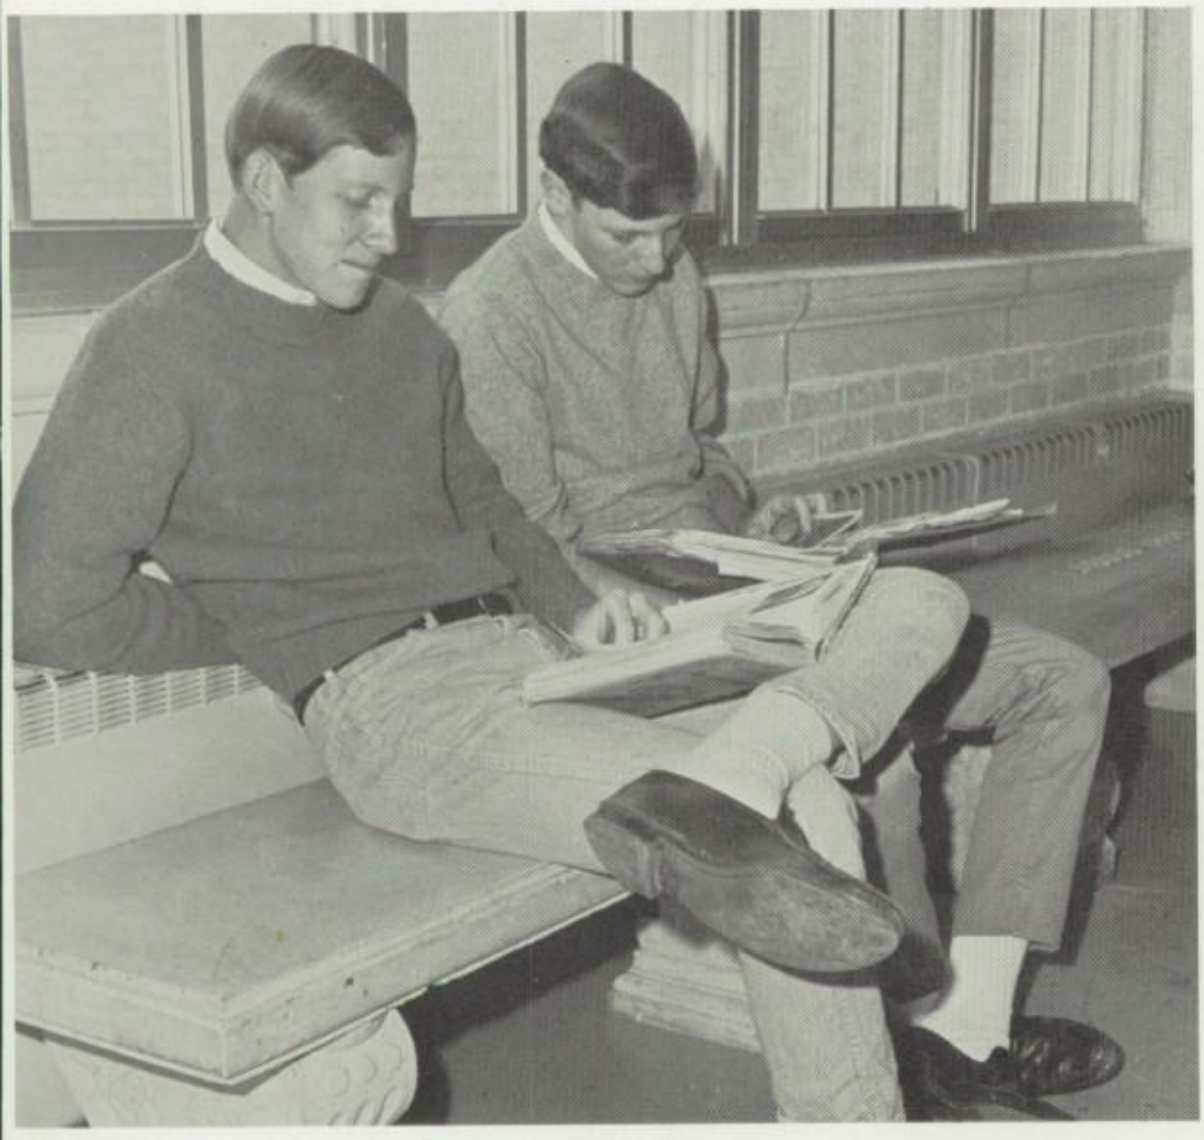


Between classes, Dan Blass struggles desperately to cram in a few extra minutes of study for his afternoon final.

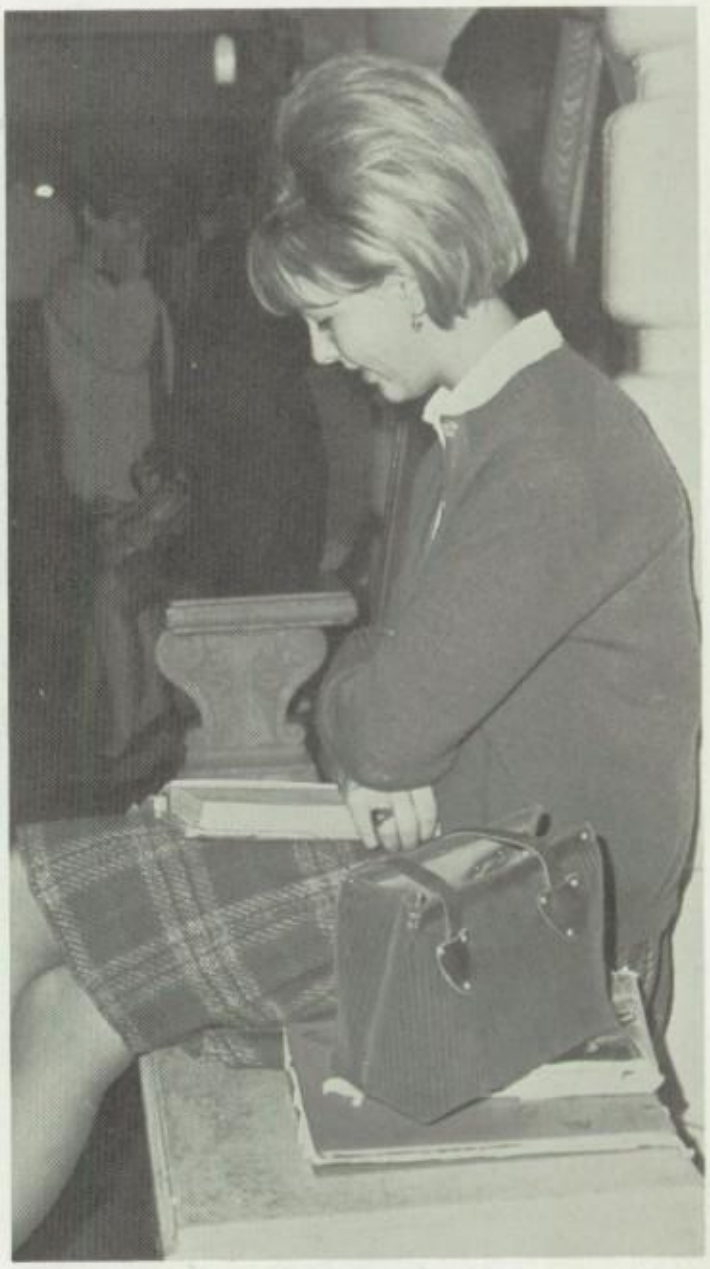


Finding no better solution than studying in order to pass their finals, students Molly Davis and Kathleen Ferguson begin earnestly working while Ronnie Harroll takes a quick snooze rather than doing the usual last minute cramming.

Crowd Deadweek Calendar



As dead week quickly approaches, Charles Heard and Ricky Kopff find themselves using every available minute for their studies.

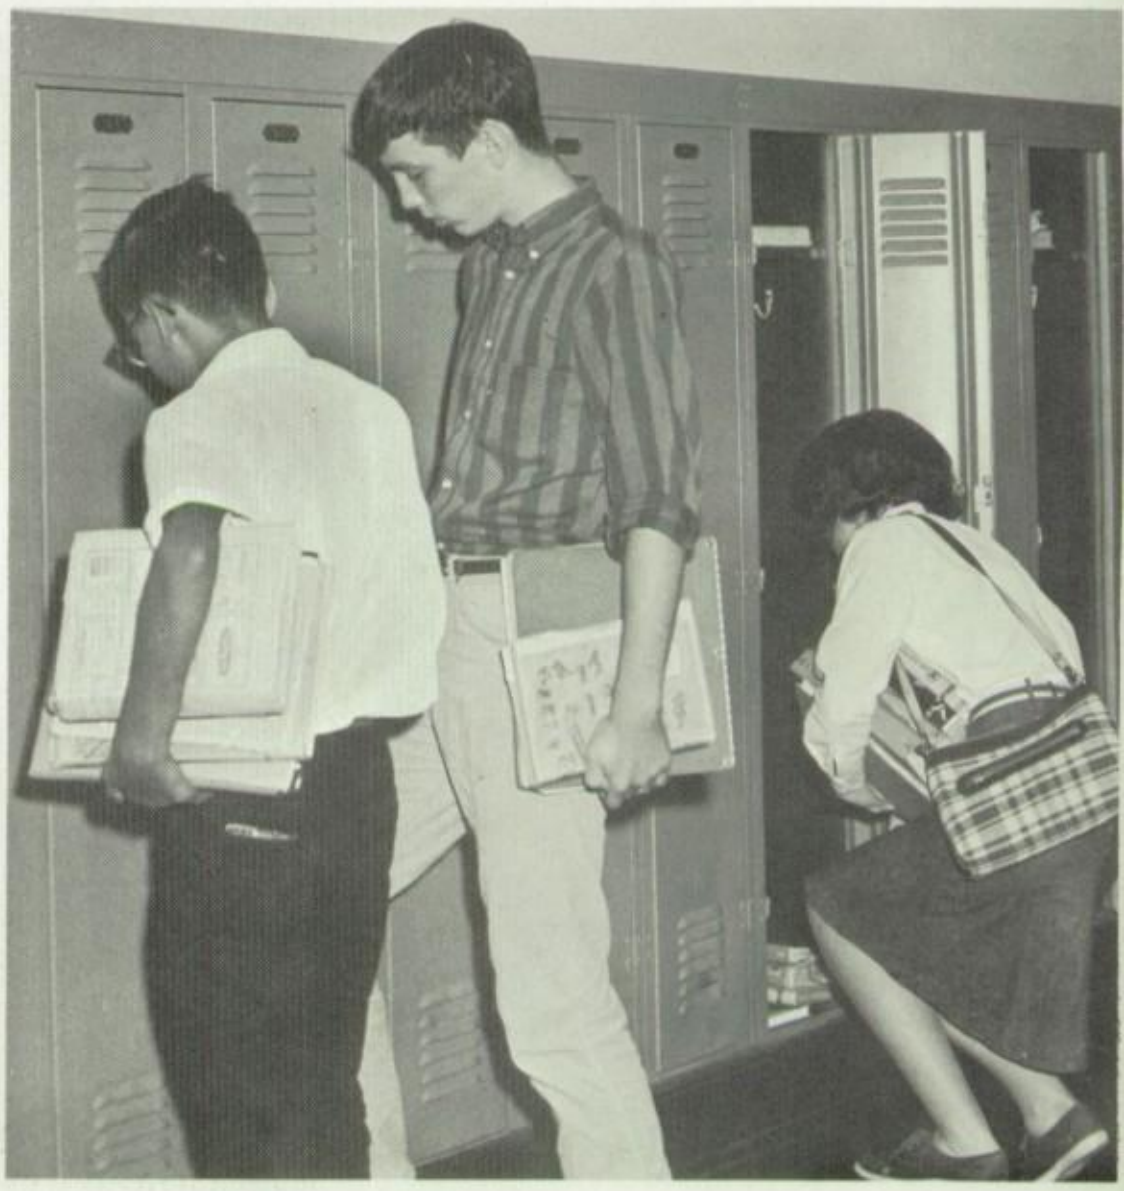


While other students socialize during the noon hour, Patricia Thrasher industriously reads over her fourth period assignment.

Mrs. Betty Crain remains indifferent to the pleas of library students, Alan Schwartz and Bobby Bovello as they desperately try to persuade her to let them out of class early for a break from their studies during dead week.

Emptying Halls Tell the Tale

Hundreds of students, eager to get home, crowd into waiting buses across from the school each afternoon.



After lectures and lessons end, students make the final trip to lockers.

of the 3:30 Bell

While most students hurry home after school, others linger behind for club meetings, conferences, or just to catch their breath after a hectic day.

Worries of tests are over as happy students pour into the halls at the end of a typical day.

After the 3:30 bell rings, the halls take on a tranquil air rarely seen by students.

After Hours, Students

First in line at a Shakespeare cake sale are Beverly Bain and Kerrie Kealhofer.

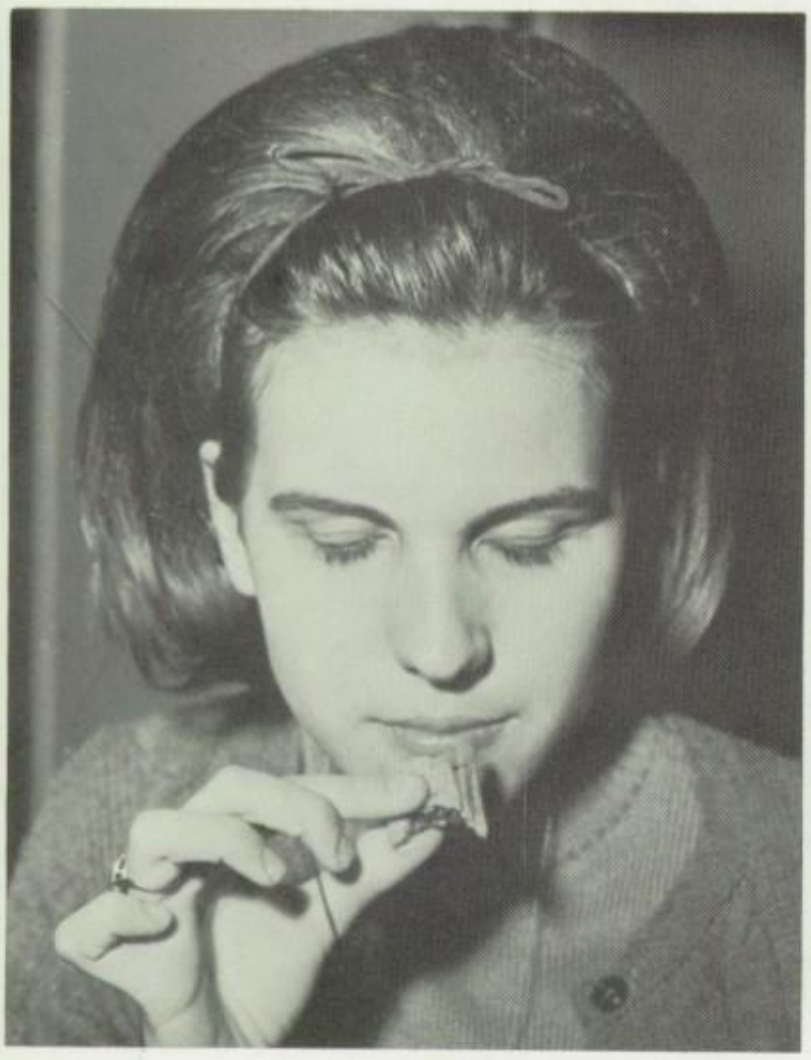
To liven afternoon hours, these girls turn to the pop music of a juke box.

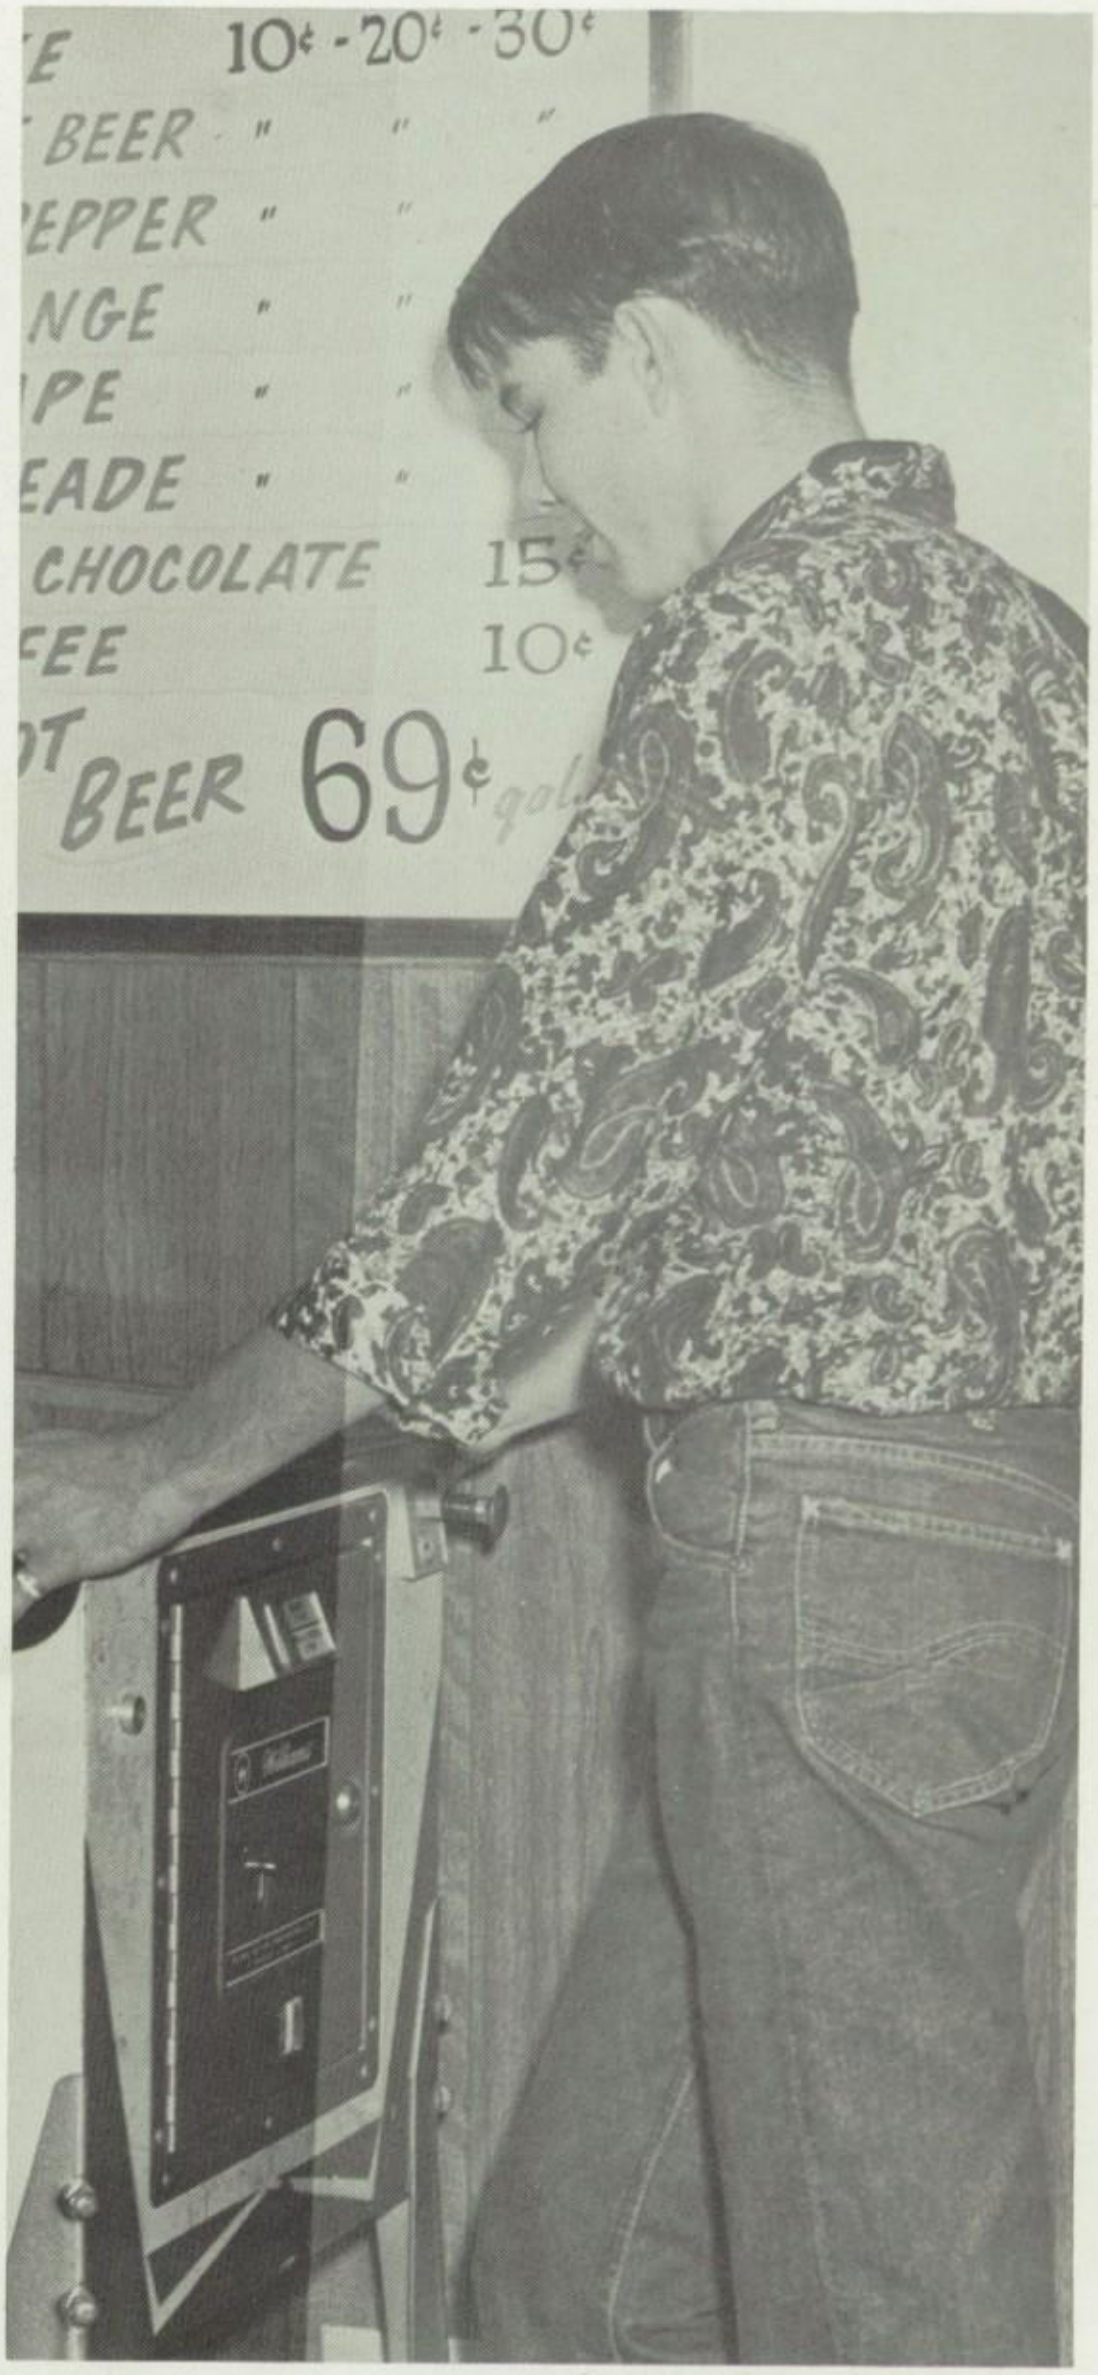
Juniors enjoy cold refreshments at one of their favorite after school spots.

Eat, Rest and Play

In her extra hours, Lilyan Wong finds a quiet spot to sketch for the art club.

At the MJR tamalada, Cathy Carvel anticipates with pleasure her last bite.





To pass away leisure time, Charlie Nichols tries his luck at the pinball machine at one of his favorite after-school stops.

Chuckwagon Reveals New

Chuckwagon ends on an exciting note for Wanda Herndon as she accepts the responsibility of Roping Team Captain from Mary McBride.

A tearful squeal of delight comes from Linda Guzzardo as she discovers she is a new cheerleader.

Happiness is shown on the face of Dixie Cody as Dianne Daugherty pins her as a new Lasso Captain.

Leaders

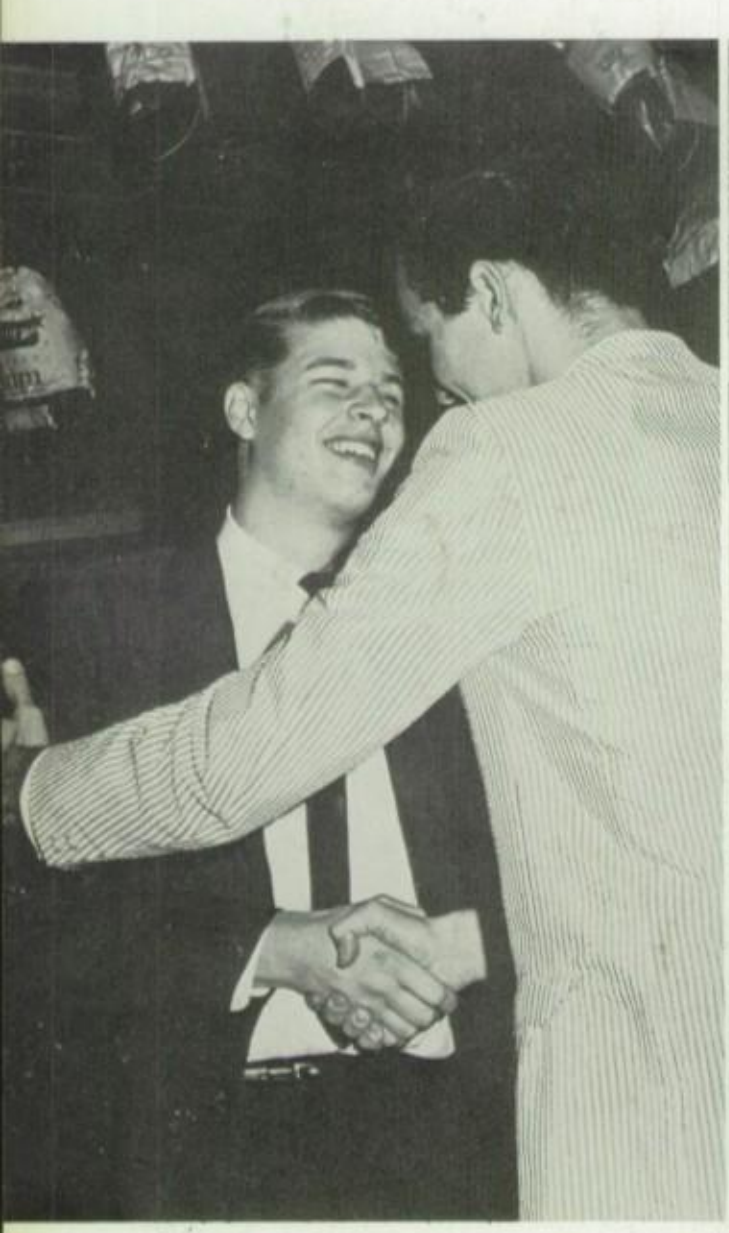
In tense anticipation, Valorie Smith, Carolyn Schneider, and Ella Lou Butler wait after the Lasso play for the announcement that makes Carolyn a Lasso Captain.

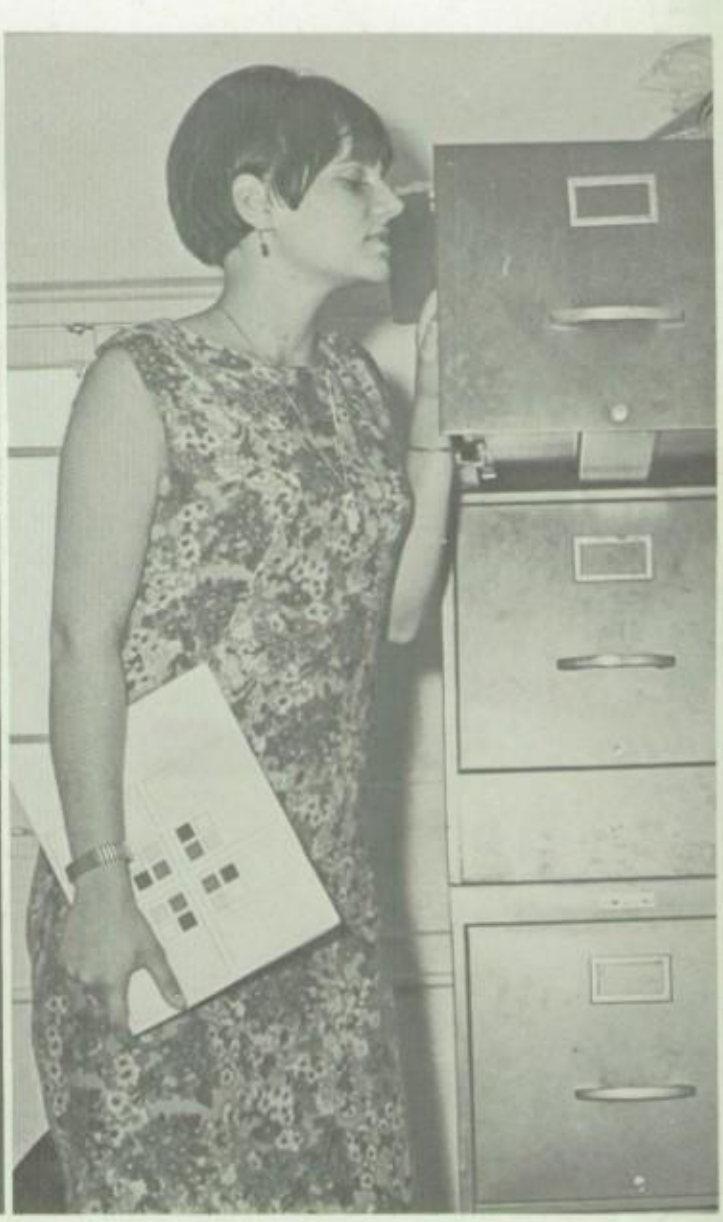
Hugs of congratulations go to Kathy Jones and Sharon Endicott as they are announced Majorettes.

As Chuckwagon ceremony comes to a close, Lassos and cheerleaders stand at attention to sing the school song.

Relief floods the face of Linda Hall as her election to Lasso Major is announced.

Work becomes a pleasure to Senior Class President, Denis Galindo, as he collects dues, one of the many duties of his office.





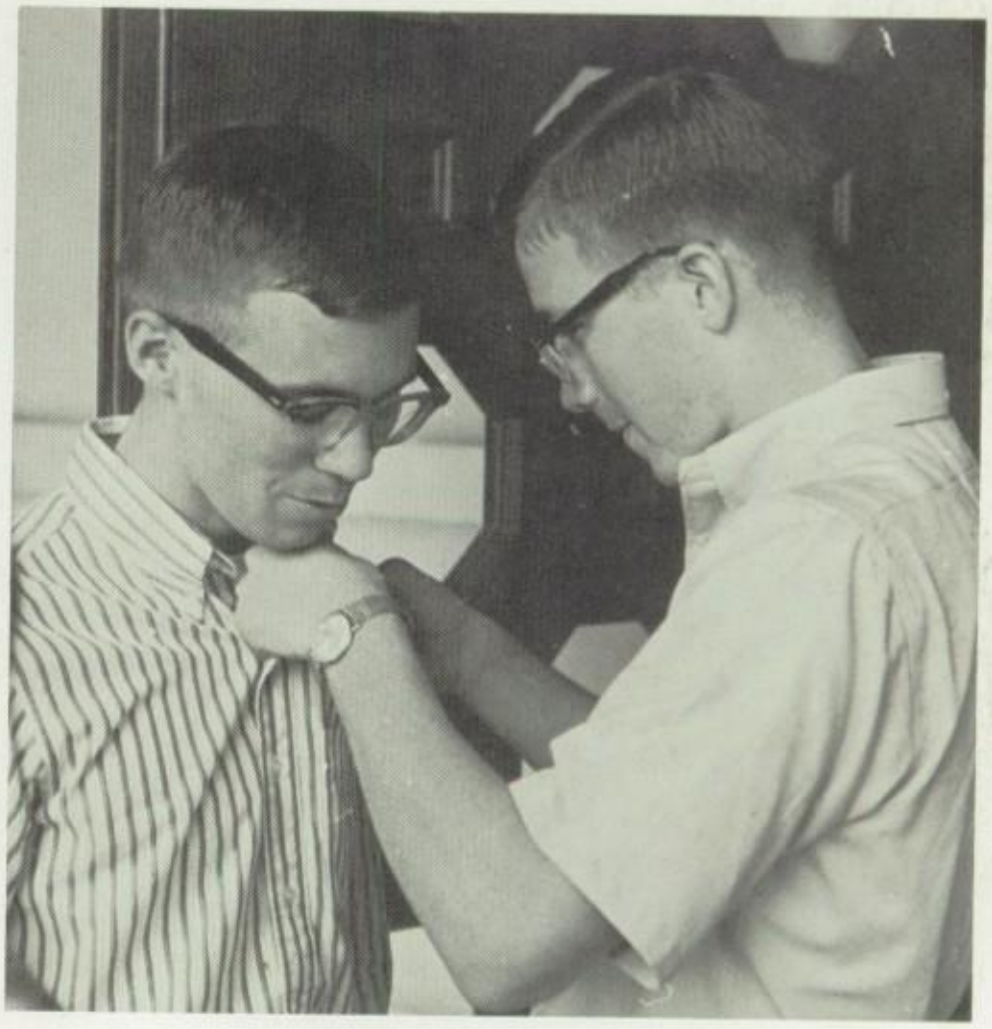
From the first moment of victory to the last moment before deadlines, the three D's of the Publications Department, Steve Dial, Barbara Dietzmann, and Sue Doerr, work diligently in their respective jobs as editors of the Declaration, Monticello, and Each Has Spoken.

10 Pointer's Accept, Fulfill Responsibilities

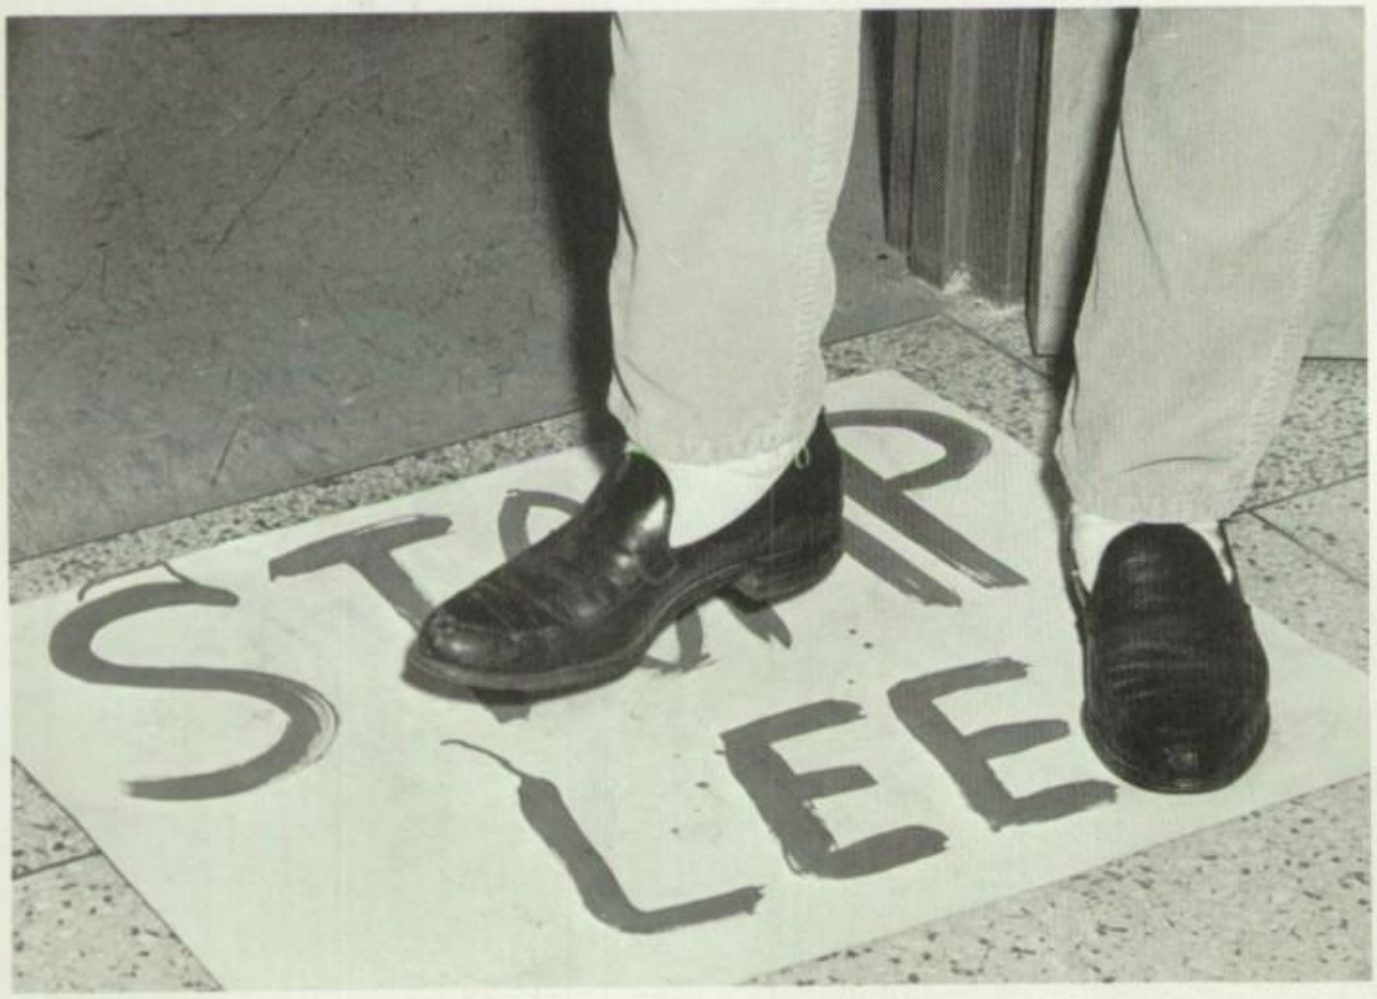
High hopes and a high hat are transferred from Bob Biggs to 1966-67 Mustang Band Drum Major Bobby Emery.

Briskly saluting Phil Frye, Ronald Forester displays pride in his new office as Cadet Colonel of the ROTC.

Campaigns and speeches come to an end as Tommy Graves accepts Jim Billings' Student Council pin and gavel guard.



Contagious Spirit Inspires



Classroom entrances were colorfully decorated with "Stomp Lee" posters, and students took time to give the Volunteers an occasional stomp.

Portraying a press agent, Linda Hall silently watches an exhibition of the powerful Mustangs in a pep rally skit.

Victory

Boosting the spirit for the game, cheerleader Marcia McClain encourages everyone to come out and watch the Mustangs "stomp 'em".

Braving wind and cold, cheerleader Beverly Bain anxiously watches for the referee's decision.

Looks of fear and joy cross the faces of excited Lariats as they cheer the Mustangs.

Cheering and boosting spirit ends as Miss Bess Richards, Diana McGinty, Linda Guardia, Julia Bottenberg, Jackie Sauer, Sandy Sauer, and Mindy Koen sing the Lasso's Prayer Song with sincerity and pride at a pep rally.

Student-Filled Buses

Along with the first football game came the annual school bus trip, this year to Corpus Christi to play the Carroll Tigers. As the fifteen buses pulled into the parking lot, anxious students and faculty, with their dinners packed, scrambled aboard to grab the best seats. After fifteen minutes of checking names, bus numbers, and food, the buses began the long trip to Corpus through rain and storms. The trip was a moment of relaxation, a break from the daily routine of classes and hall crowds, and a chance to tell friends of the latest gossip and romances. Every song was sung, every cheer was cheered.

Upon the arrival of the buses, the stadium quickly filled with the Red and Blue. The spirit that had been bottled up, burst forth and resulted in a 7-0 victory for the Mustangs. Exhausted and tired, students climbed back aboard for a long trip home, arriving at 12:30 in the parking lot with sleepy, happy Jeffites.

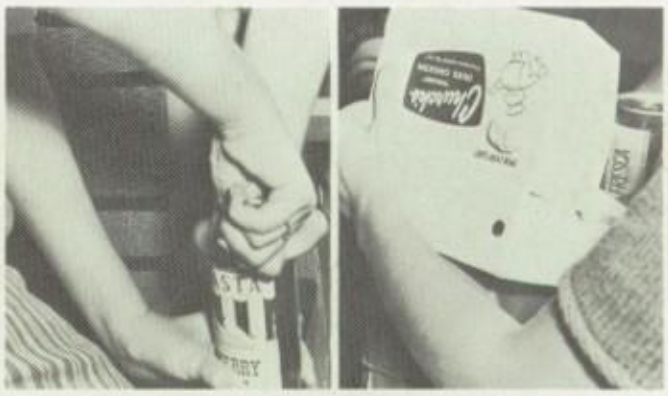
A plum is food for thought as Sherry Allen contemplates victory or defeat for the Mustangs in their first pre-district game.

Packed conditions on the bus, and rain outside don't dampen the excitement of the pre-game ride.

Happy, exhausted people, like Mr. Carl North and Chris Guzzardo, wearily climbed back in the bus to sleep away the victorious trip home.

Invade Corpus

With dinners packed and ready for consumption, Larry Dydek, Roy Lodada, David de los Santos and Gene Wright climb aboard for the school bus trip to Corpus.



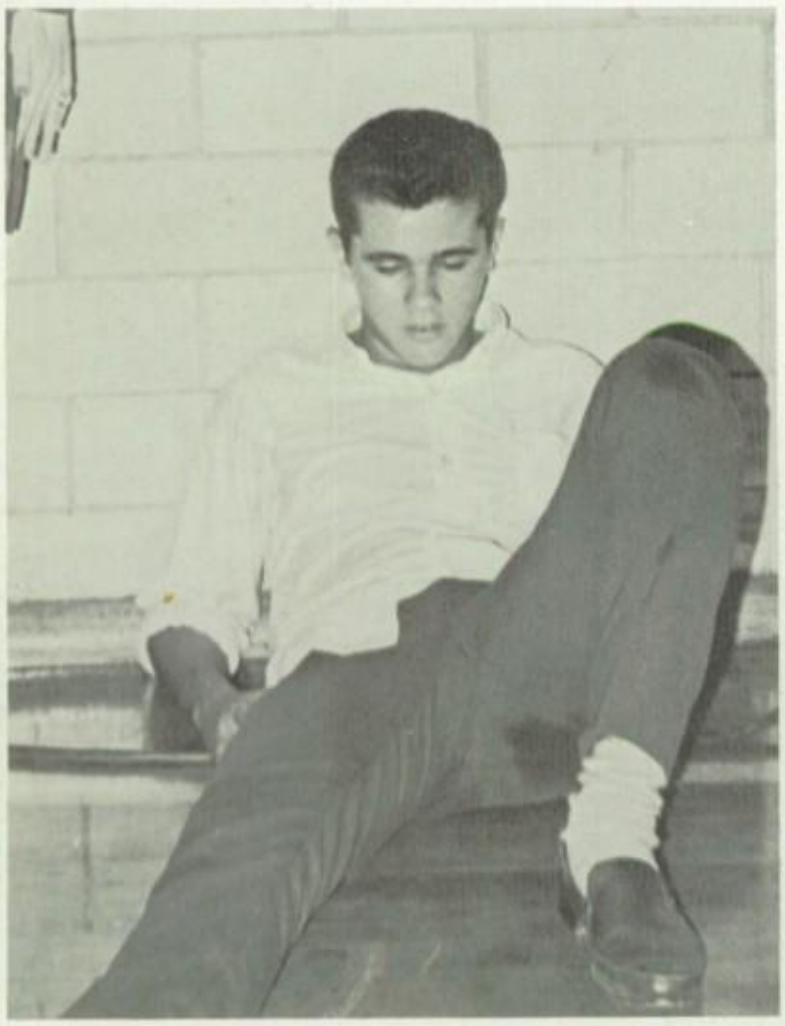
Then there was food.

The parking lot begins to resemble a bus depot as fifteen buses await the flood of students and faculty.

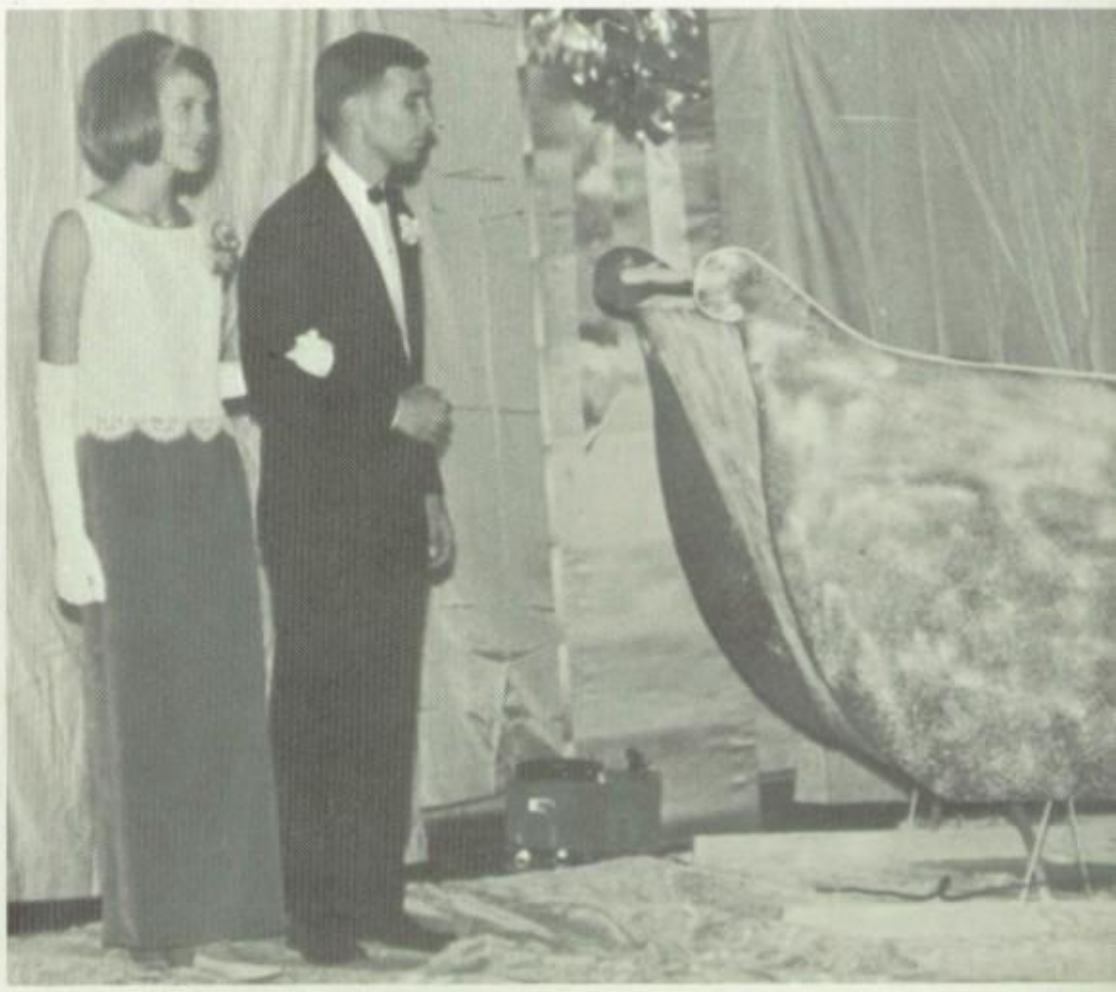
Victory Dances, Formal Balls

The Five Canadians provide a swinging beat for Charles Byrom and his date.

Cool drinks coupled with crisp autumn air, refreshes Kathy Allwardt and her date during a dance break.



Cheering for the Mustangs combined with wild dancing creates a state of exhaustion for Steve Dalmolin common at victory dances.



Provide Fast Beats, Smooth Waltzes

Taking advantage of an empty dance floor before the rush of fellow students Leon Brimhall and Tish Smith start the dancing that Janice Braulick and Ed Cuevas will soon join.

Playfully eyeing the traditional sleigh, Tommy Graves, Student Council president, and his date, Judi Martin, wait to be introduced by Elliot Novy at the Snowman's Ball.

Madly whirling dances, beautiful gowns, and a gym transformed into a wonderland all combined to make the Snowman's Ball a huge success.

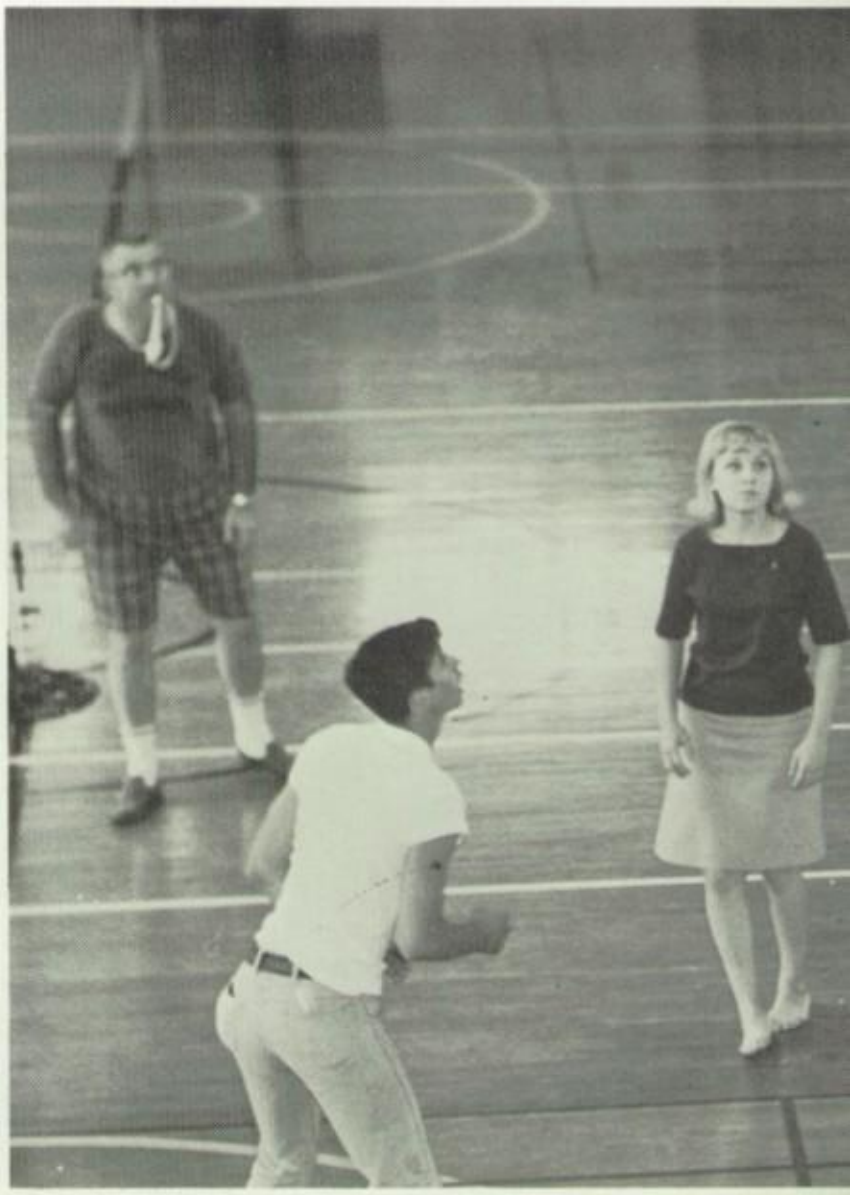
Holiday Season Sparks Spirit,

Enthusiasm, and Good Will

With Santa Claus landing on roof tops and calendars being turned to 1967, students ushered in the holiday season with spirit, good will, and enthusiasm. Doors popped out in bows, tinsel, and greetings of "Merry Christmas." Senior hostess classes contributed beautiful packages and mistletoe balls, while the choir added Christmas carols and the traditional Christmas assembly. The anticipation of receiving greeting cards from mail boxes provided by the Student Council added excitement to advisory parties. Remembering the true spirit of the season, students provided money and clothes to make Christmas for underprivileged families a little happier.

Sporting Activities

Slamming the ping pong ball back across the net proved to be good offense for intramural mixed double participants Terry Leonard and Harold Novy.



Frank Walsh and Barbara Boldt watch hopefully as David Frost reaches high to get the volleyball back over the net for that extra point.

Trying a fancy backhand Ricky Stapp and Frances Miesse make the game point to win a round of mixed doubles for Inman advisory.

Trying to help her advisory advance in the ping pong intramurals, Diane Bellinger takes careful aim in driving the ball back across the net.

Brighten Advisory Hours

Checking the time clock, Coach James Heiser prepares to call the exciting game of volleyball to an end.

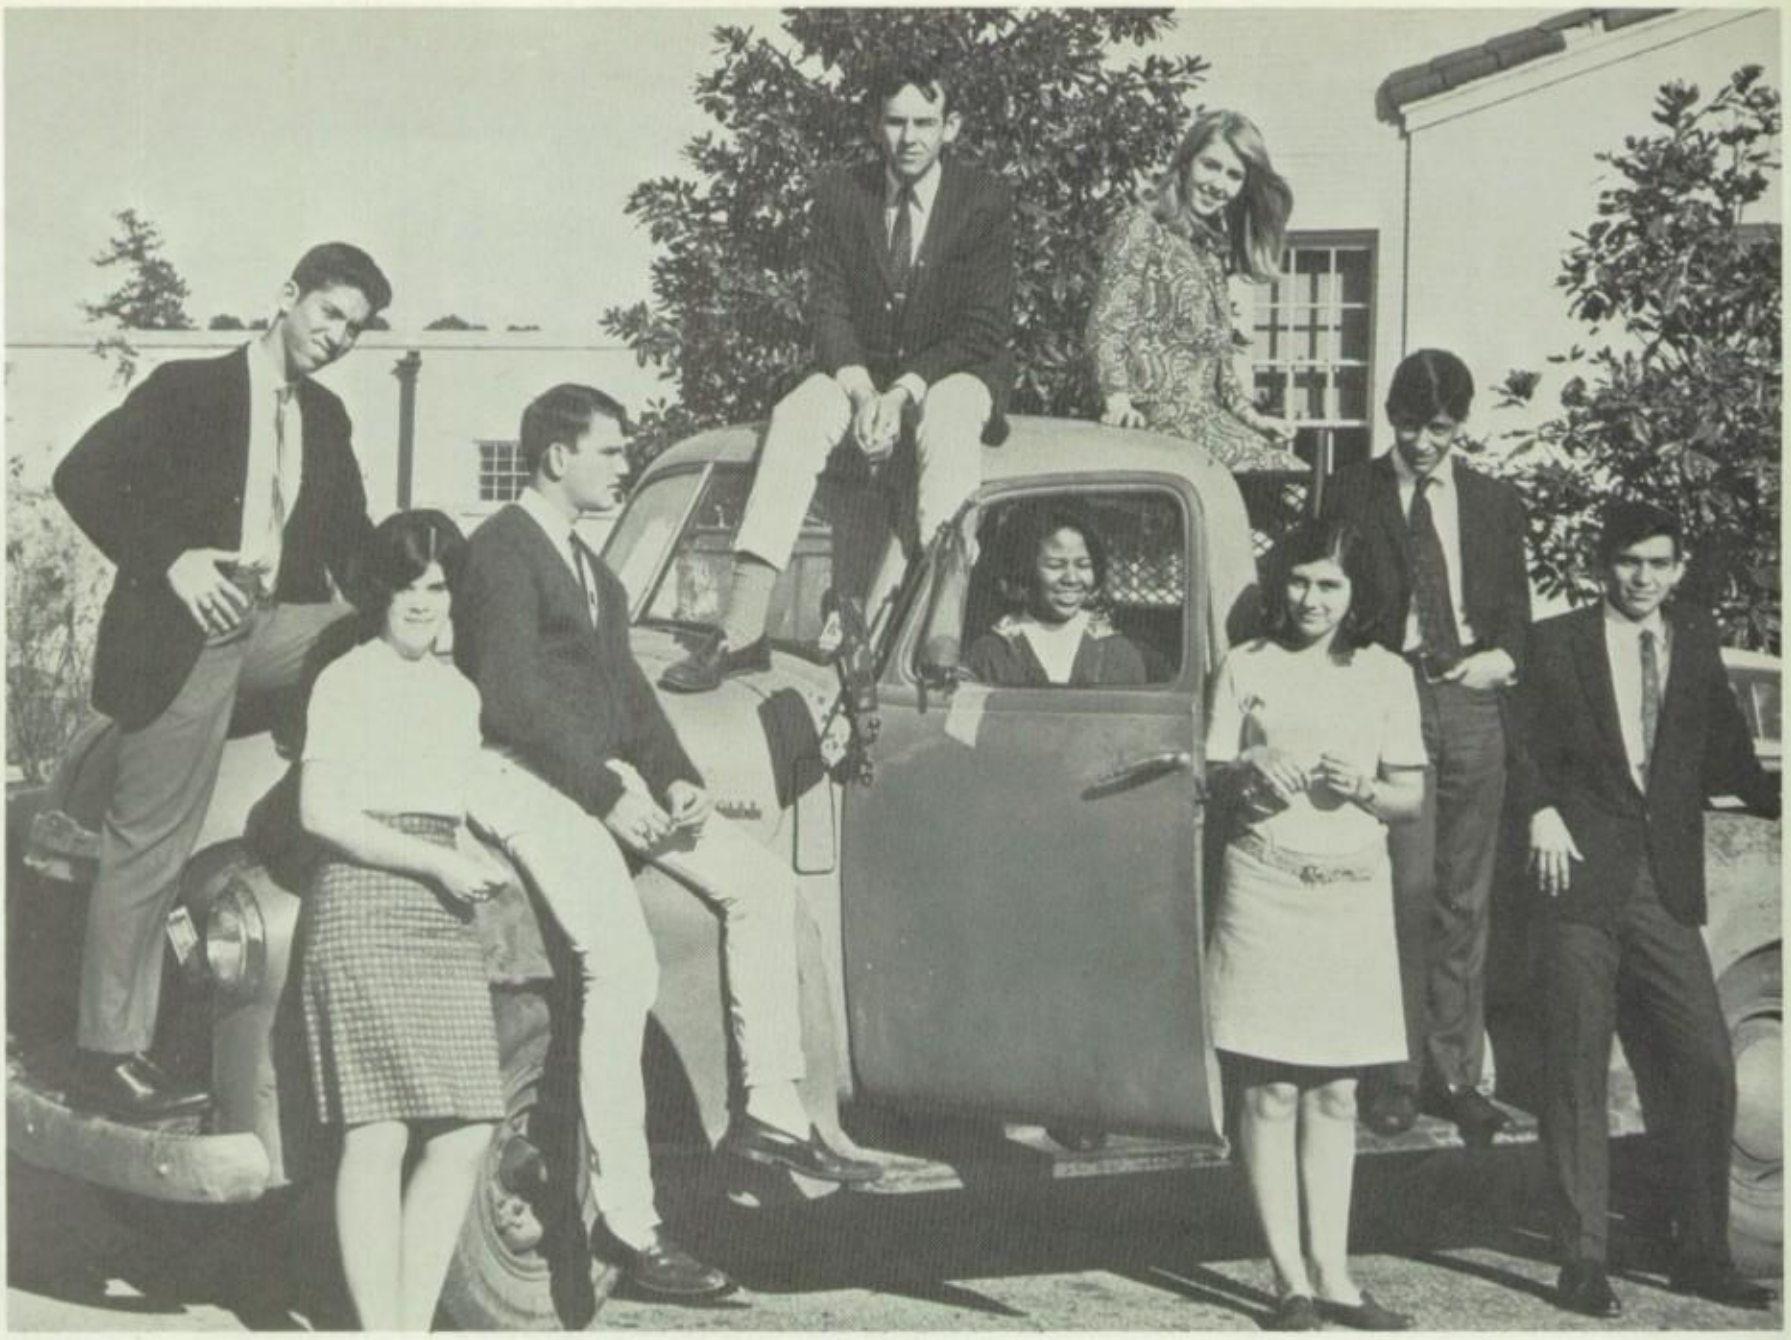
Intramural participants, the Publication's Packers from the Monticello and Declaration Staffs and The Stallions from Miss Gloria Sain's advisory clash in a hard fought game of flag football to see who will win the game. The score ended 16-0 in favor of the Publication Packers.

Waiting attentively while Coach Heiser explains the rules of the game, intramural teams prepare for an afternoon of competitive football.

Assemblies Provide Education,

Entertainment, Enrichment

In the hectic rush and tight schedule of the school week, there is an occasional break. Whether in the form of a movie, play, concert, or the display of talent, each student anticipates the rising curtain with relaxed enjoyment. Regardless of whether the auditorium is filled with the loud beat of a professional group, or the serene melody of the San Antonio Symphony, it becomes, a most effective schoolroom. Containing a sample of every type of speech, film, music, and entertainment, each assembly is an education in itself. Through the many assemblies the student and faculty are exposed to the creativity and talents of others. The product of these talents, teamed with the planning of the stage crew and drama teachers, may leave with each student a feeling of inspiration, determination, humbleness, elation, gratitude, or regret.

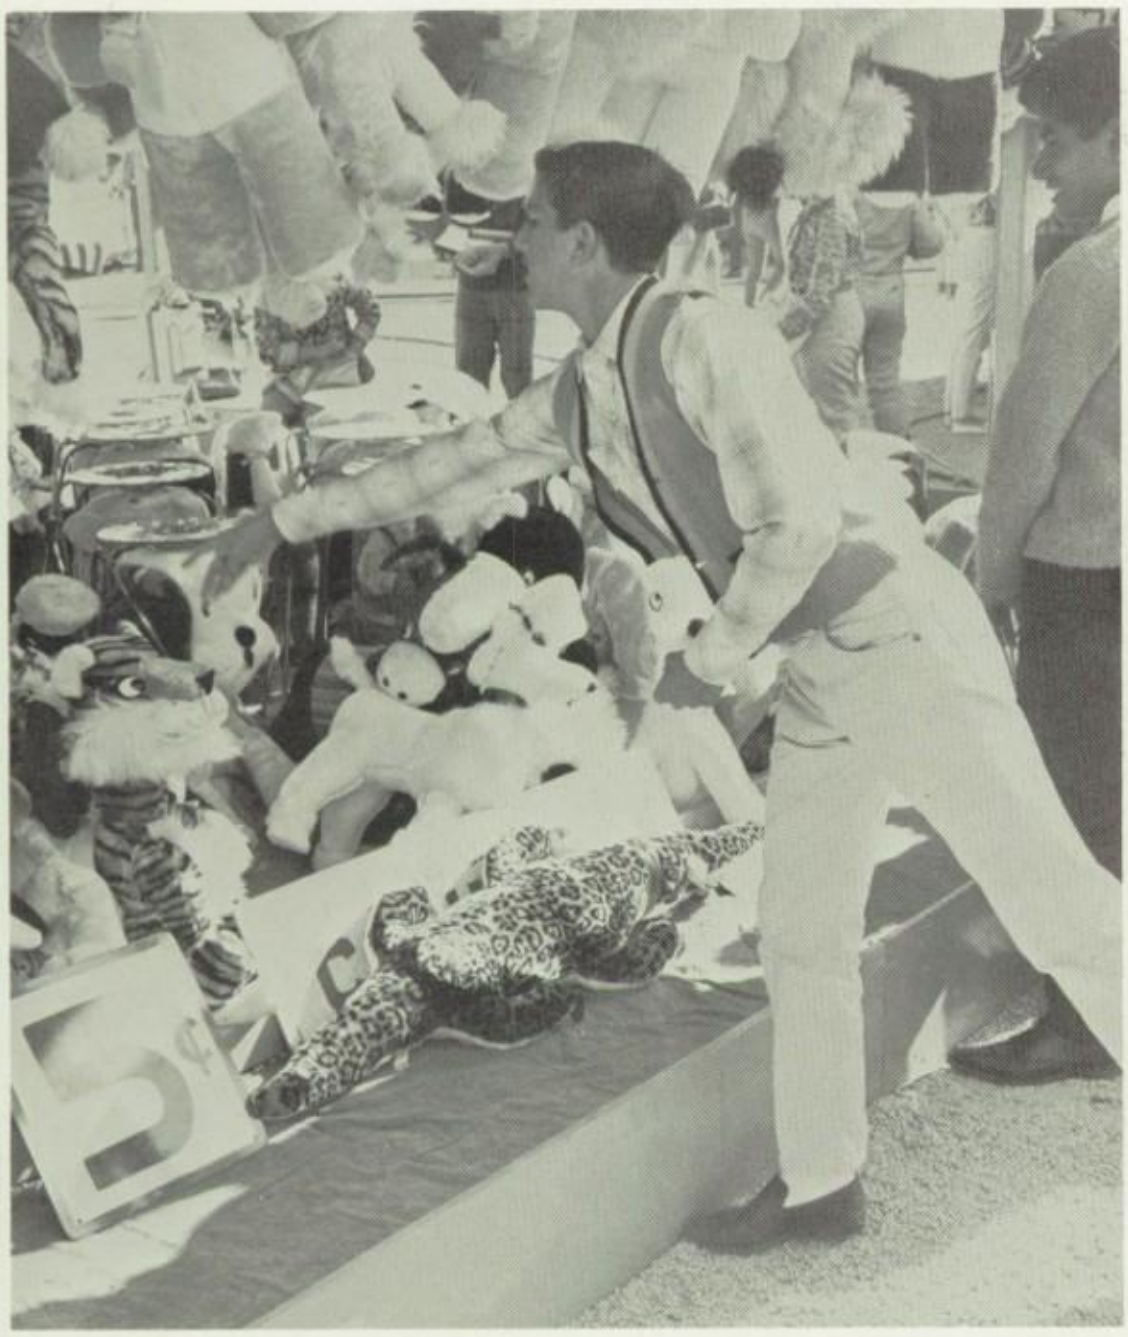


Provided with such unique transportation as a 1953 Chevrolet, debate team motors to and from tournaments in style.

Presenting Dixie Cody with first place in the National Council of Teachers of English essay contest, Mrs. Julia Goerner smiles with pride at the achievement of her former student.

As a participant in the Teena Texas contest, Clementine Pryor and her escort, Alfred Mitchell, give the judge an example of their dancing ability.

People Pause to Pose



Trying to win his weight in stuffed animals, Nathan Kerman pitches nickels at the annual rodeo.

As a reward for hard work throughout school, Jeri Hill and Ruth Sorrell receive certificates from Mr. Bob Chambers naming them as finalists of the National Scholarship and Service Fund for Negro students under the NMSQT.

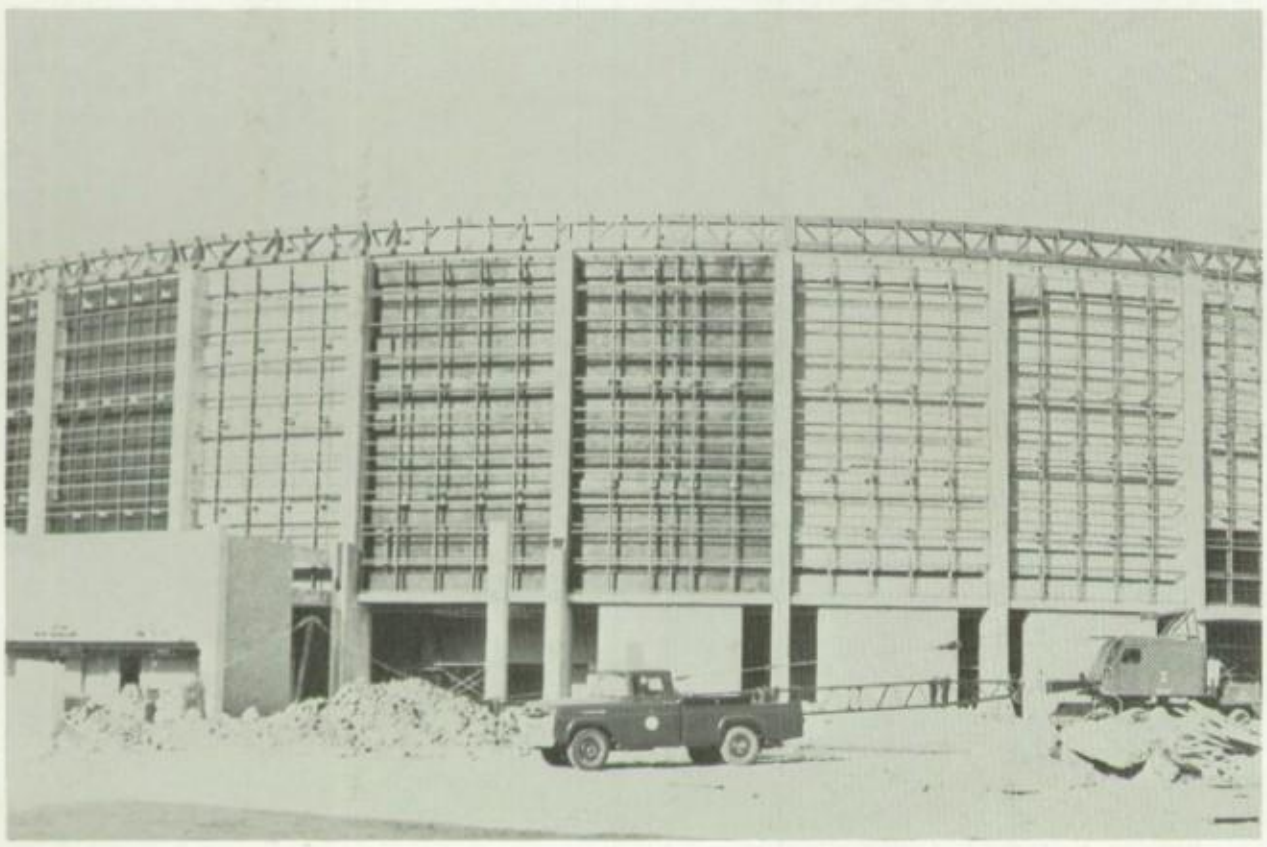
Cafeteria workers take time out from their lunchroom duties to do a little posing for the staff photographer.

Entertaining while others eat tamales, Bobby Emery, Tom Chance, and Roland Rodriguez add their own touch of Mexico to the Band Mexican supper.

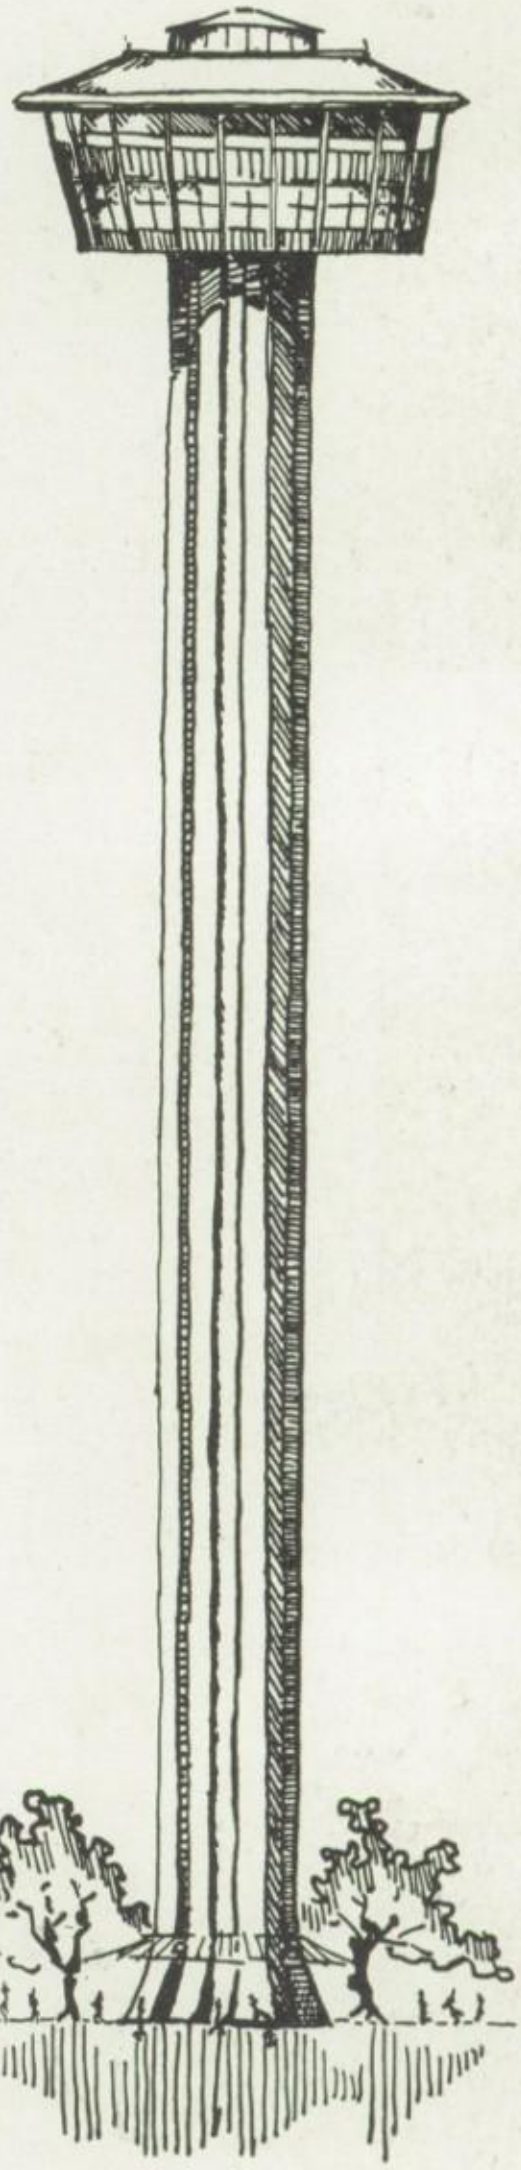
HemisFair Helps S.A. Celebrate

"Begin with the world. Move to the Western Hemisphere. Explore paths from the Old World to the New. A new way of life is established by the meeting and merging of the old and the new. The process is continuing—A Confluence of Civilization in the Americas."

When the controversial HemisFair opens on April 6, 1968, the first visitors will step into the Western Hemisphere as it was 450 years ago and as imagination sees it in the distant future. The 92-acre downtown site will soon boast the first world's fair ever held in the southern part of the United States. The fair itself will be a six-month celebration of the 250th birthday of San Antonio. HemisFair '68 combines the old and the new to bring progress to the Americas.



It's 250th Anniversary



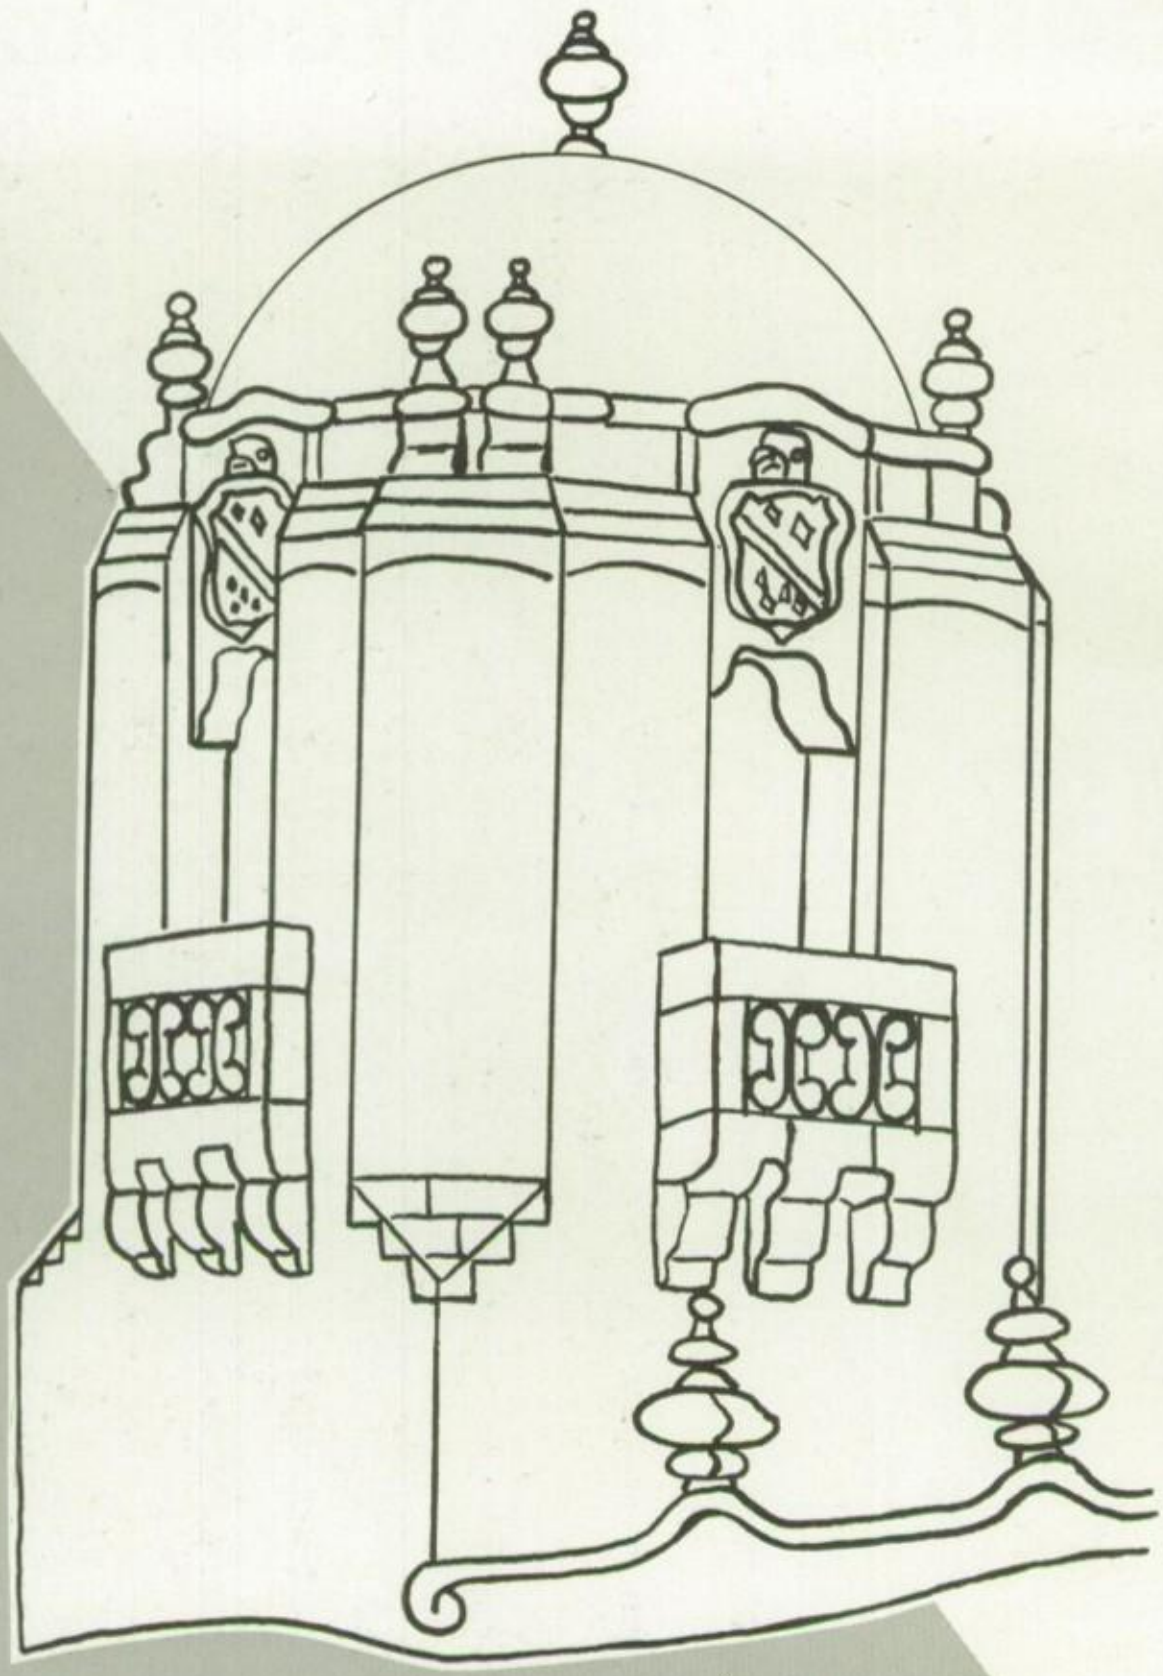
Standing in the Skelton patio during a tree-planting ceremony held in his honor, retiring head gardener "Shorty" Metzger receives a picture of the school from SC President Tommy Graves.

The lunch hour finds Pam Pevoto and Nomo Leeper discussing the mornings happenings and making plans for the coming weekend.

Warm weather and a comfortable tree branch are unusual study conditions for some people, but John Yansky, junior, thinks it's the best way to study English.

Outdoor Enthusiasts Make Most of Fair Weather

Three heads are better than one, as Janet Thorne and Debra Hartsfield compare notes and solve problems with Robert McCoulskey in the Shakespeare rose garden.



In the Shadow of the Dome

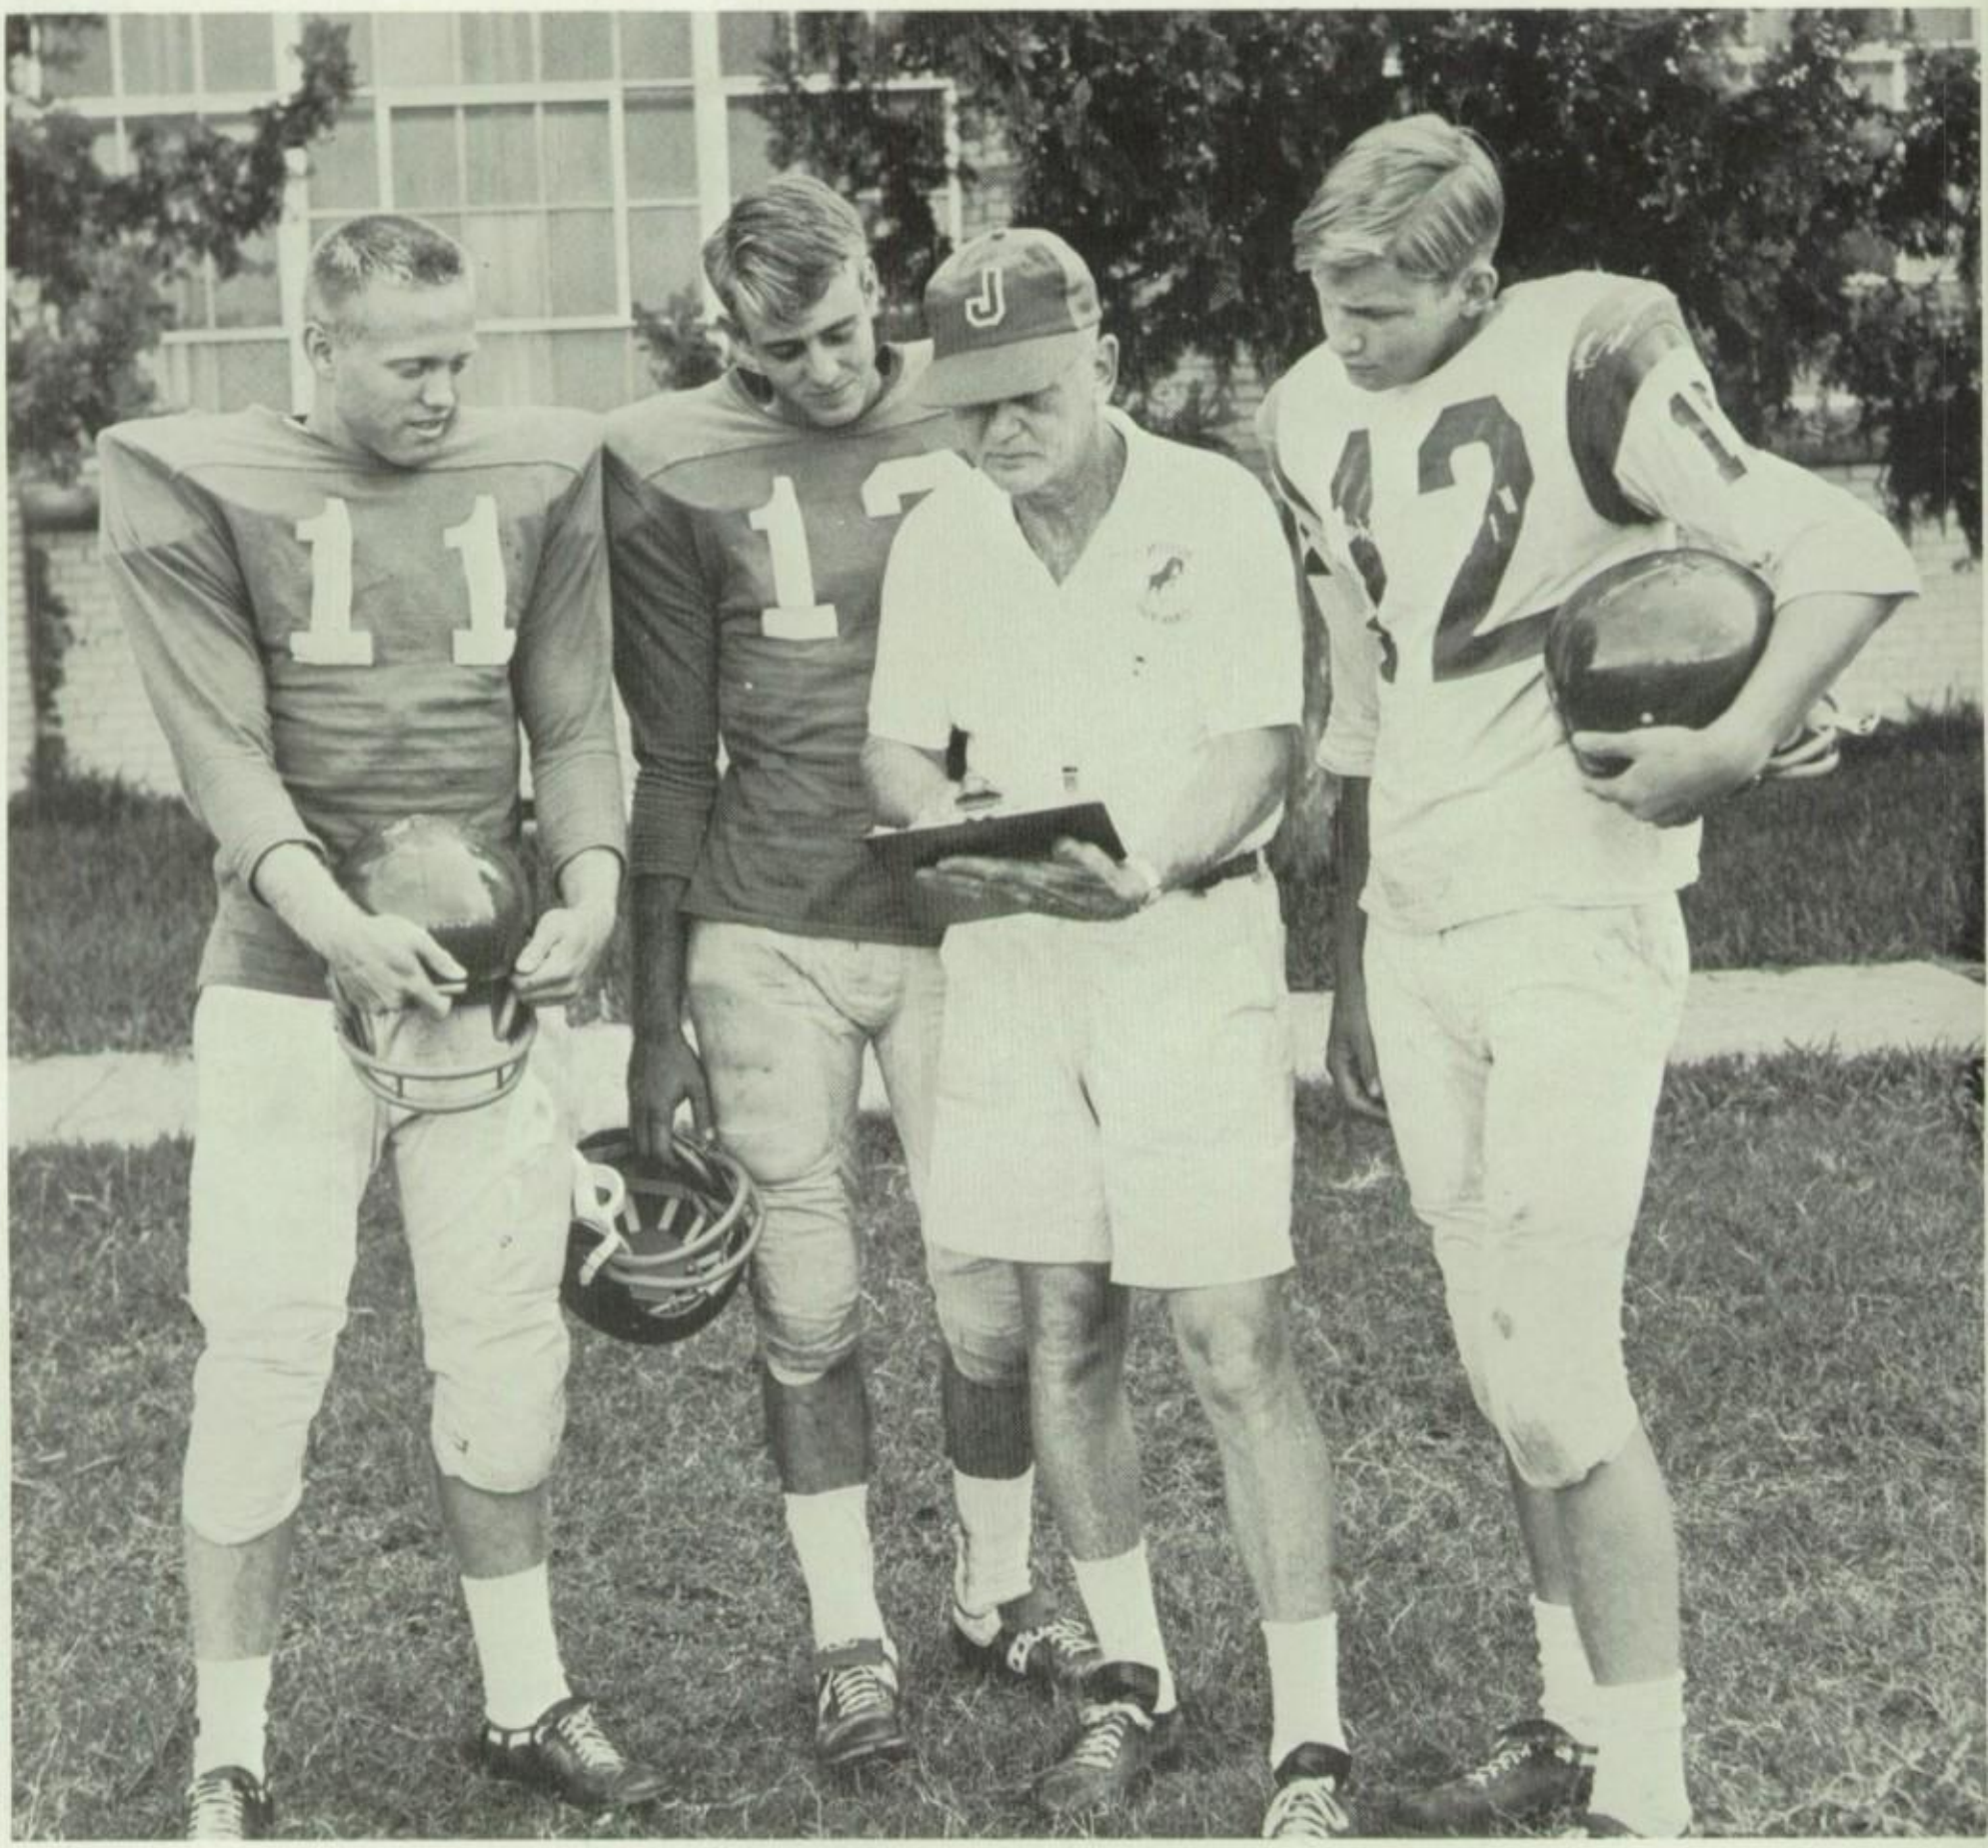
Hosses Drill for Season Start

Coach George "Red" Forehand, a 35-year veteran of coaching, began preparing his Mustangs in the spring of 1966. Assisted by coaches Bob Burk and Don Freiling, Coach Forehand ran the Hosses through a spring training program that was climaxed by a 7-7 tie in the Red-Blue intra-squad game. During the summer, Coach James Shuler joined the Mustangs' coaching staff.

Discussing strategy for the first game, Coach George Forehand confers with his three quarterbacks—Sandy Guerard, Danny Schooley, and Doug Lansing.



Preparation for the Red-Blue game requires practicing of plays.

To build up their neck muscles, the Hosses do bridge exercises during spring training.

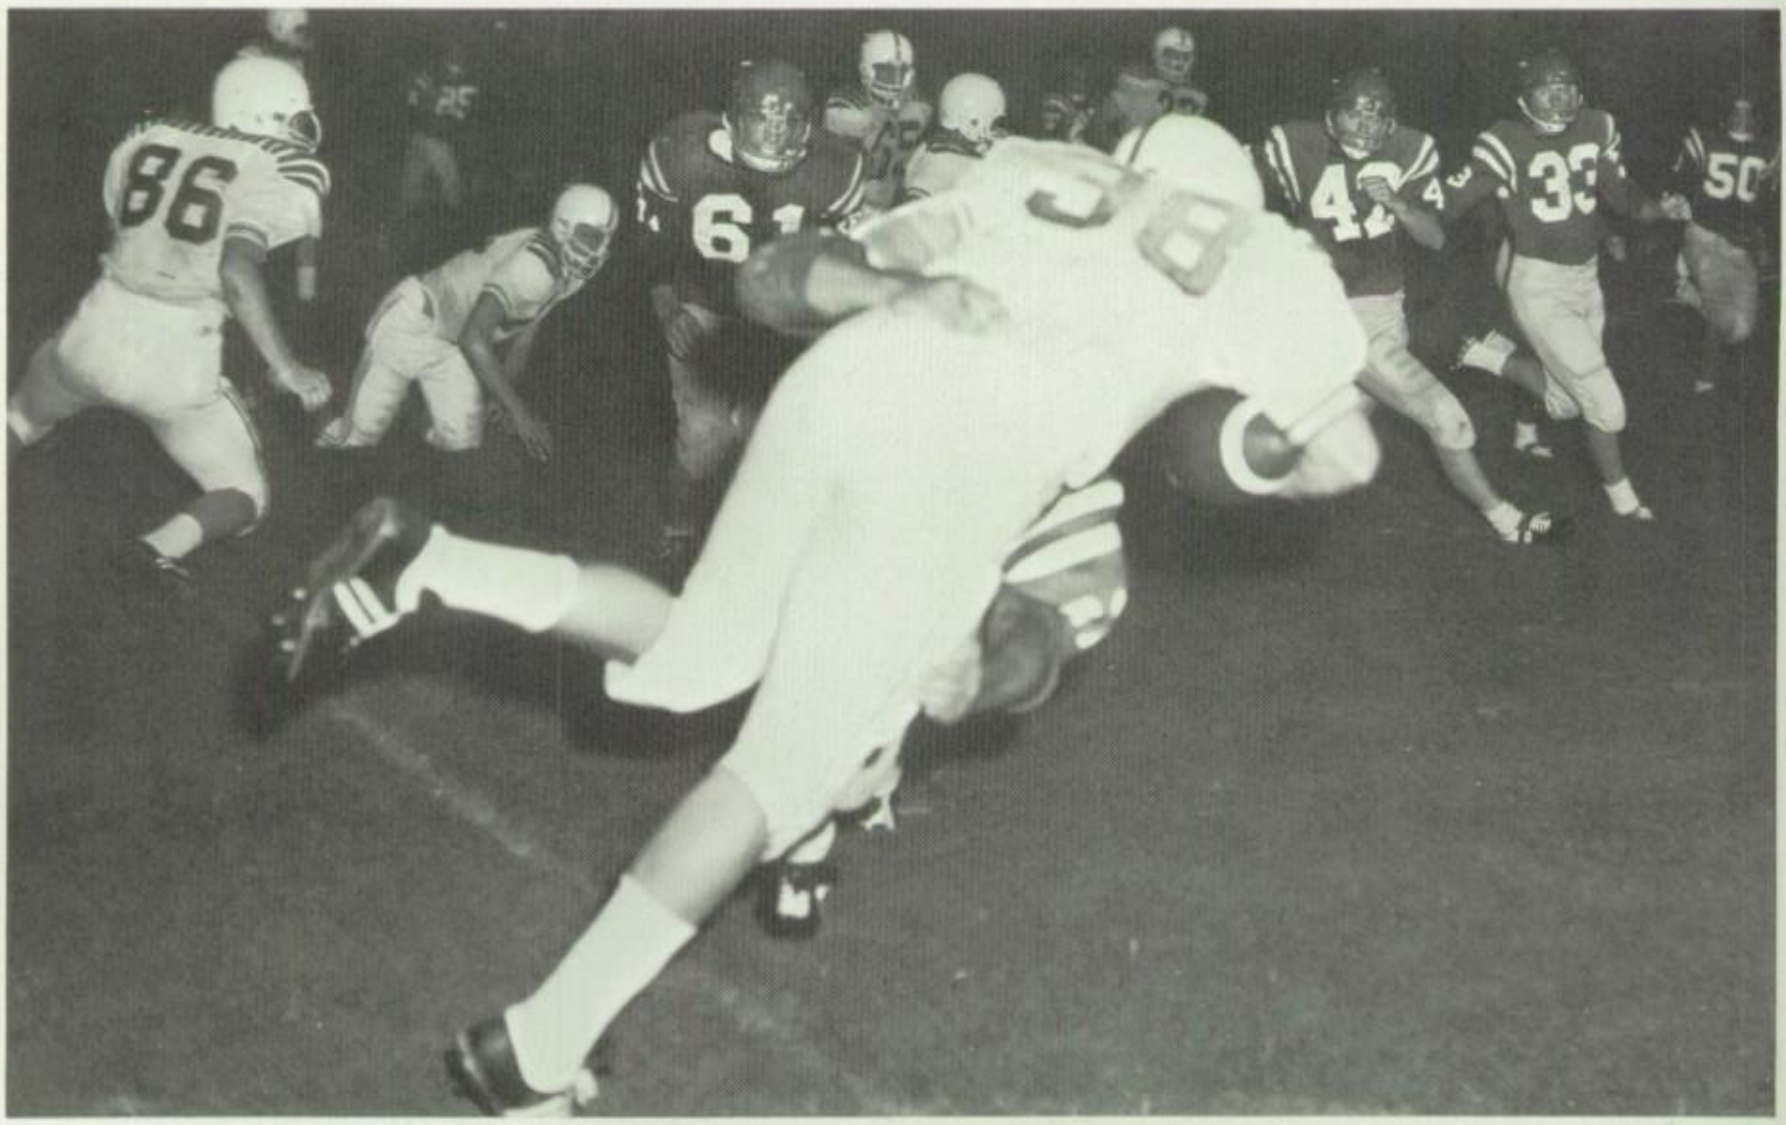
Practicing their blocking techniques, the Mustangs work under the eye of Coach Bob Burk.

Mustangs Win Opening Two

Corpus Christi Buccaneer Stadium; September 9: Recovering from the shock of having three touchdowns called back, the Mustangs defeated the Carroll Tigers 15-0. David Barrow scored both touchdowns, one on a one-yard plunge and the other on a five-yard run following a blocked punt. Bobby Bovello kicked one extra point, and Doug Lansing passed to George Whitlow for a two point conversion.

Alamo Stadium; September 16: Jefferson racked up its second victory over a Corpus Christi team as the Ray Texans went down to a 12-0 defeat. Terry Eggleston slipped in from one yard out for one score and David Fluitt raced nine yards for the other. George Whitlow paced the Mustangs with his running.

Pulling his man down from behind, Bobby Bovello stops a Carroll receiver after a short pass.

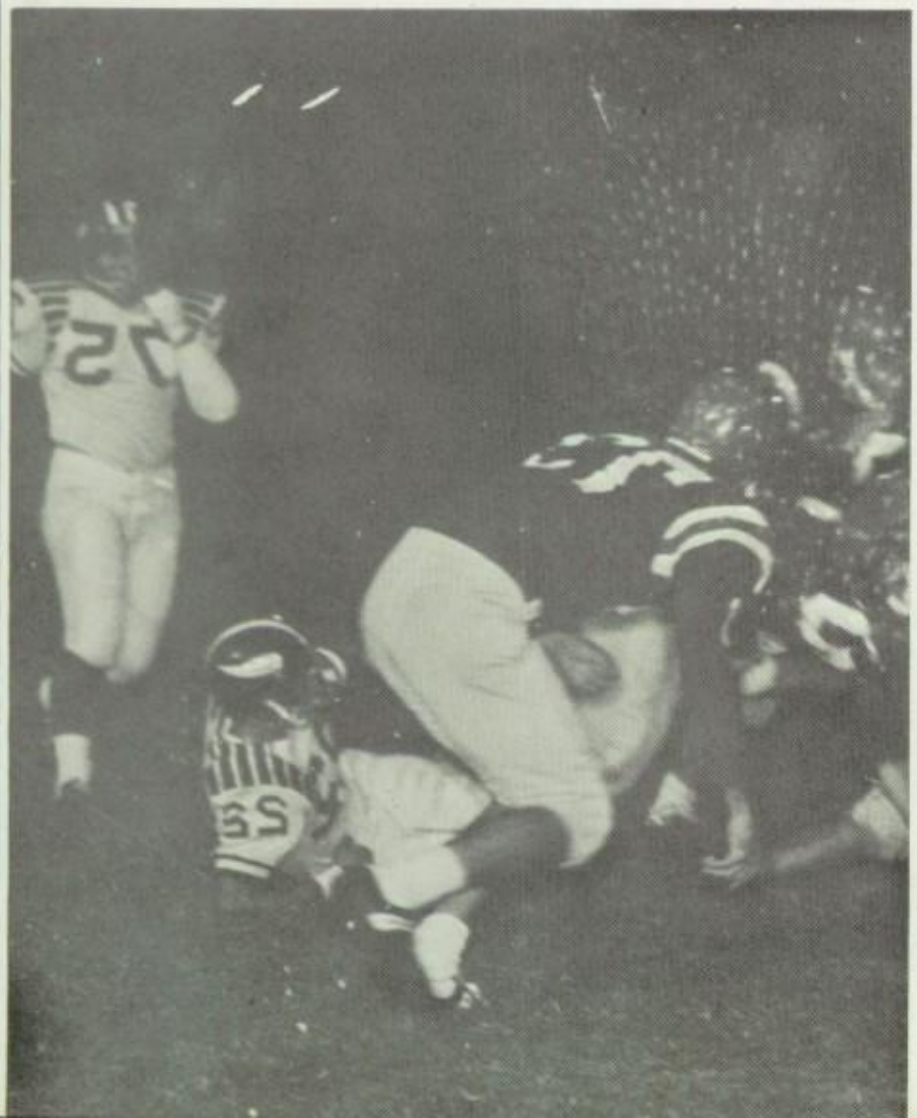


Surrounded by Jefferson defenders, a Ray back goes down as he attempts an end run.

Blocking by Mike Lehman springs Joe Nobis for an extra yard after a pass reception against Brownsville.

Jeff Loses Two Squeakers

George Whitlow closes in on a St. Thomas back as the Eagle tries a run through the middle of the line.



Brownsville Stadium; September 23: A Mustang gamble for victory failed as the Brownsville Eagles edged Jeff 7-6. Down 7-0, the Hosses drove downfield in the waning moments of the game. A payoff pitch from Danny Schooley to Joe Nobis put Jefferson within a point of the Eagles, but when the Mustangs tried for a two point conversion rather than a game tying kick, David Fluitt was stopped short of the goal.

Alamo Stadium; September 30: Once again the Mustangs saw a last minute rally fall short as they lost to powerful Houston St. Thomas 14-12. Trailing 7-0, Danny Schooley put Jeff on the scoreboard with a long pass to Mike Lehman. St. Thomas scored again on an intercepted pass runback, but on the last play of the game Joe Nobis cracked over the goal line to make it 14-12. However, the attempt at a two-point conversion missed as the Eagles held for the victory.

Watching anxiously from the sidelines, Bobby Bovello, Terry Eggleston, and coaches George Forehand and Bob Burk observe the action on the field of Northeast Stadium.

Hosses Go Down to Rival Lee

Northeast Stadium; October 7: Taking on the arch-rival Lee Volunteers, the Hosses came out on the short end of a 22-0 score. Both teams played on even terms in the first quarter, but in the second quarter the Vols exploded for three touchdowns to account for all their scoring.

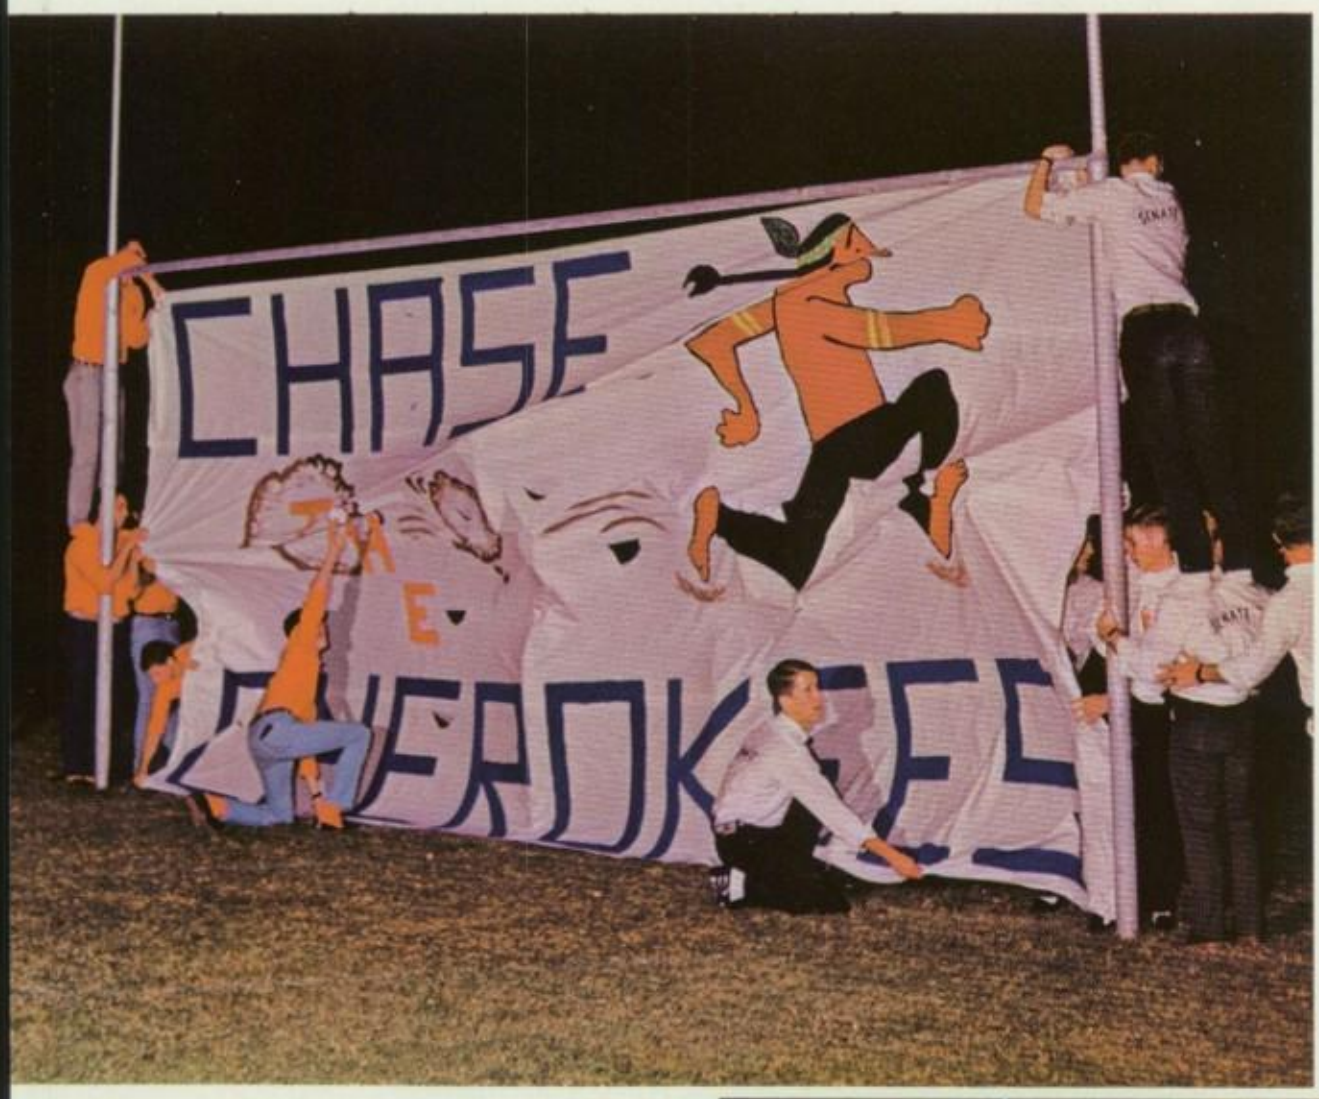
The only bright moment of the game for Jefferson came when safetyman David Fluitt grabbed a Lee punt and raced 74 yards to the Vol's three-yard line. But even then the Mustangs couldn't get on the scoreboard and had to give up the ball on downs.

Utilizing the jersey of Wesley Bonecutter, Mike Lehman pulls the Vol back down.

Cradling the ball in his arms, Bobby Bovello races past a Cherokee defender for a touchdown.

Alamo Stadium: October 13: The Mustangs came from behind to edge the Sam Houston Cherokees 16-13. Down 13-7 with five minutes left in the game Joe Nobis and Lawrence Tatsch blocked a Cherokee punt that rolled out of the end zone for a safety to make the score 13-9.

Following the Sam Houston free kick the Mustangs marched down the field to score the winning touchdown. Terry Eggleston cracked over from the one on the fourth down with two minutes left to put Jeff ahead. Bobby Bovello, who had scored the first touchdown and extra point, kicked another extra point to make the final score 16-13.



Jeff Edges Cherokees

Traditional beginning of a football game comes when the varsity crashes through the banner put up by the Hayne and Senate.

Mac Wins Defensive Battle

Despite the presence of two onrushing Brahmas, quarterback Danny Schooley gets his pass away.

Alamo Stadium; October 23: A rugged defensive battle saw the MacArthur Brahmas defeat the Mustangs 16-6. Mac scored first but David Fluitt returned the ensuing kickoff to the Brahmas' 45-yard line. At that point, Sandy Guerard, usually a reserve quarterback, came in at the wingback slot, took a handoff, and passed to Mike Lehman who carried the ball to the one yard line.

A penalty moved the ball back to the six but quarterback Danny Schooley fired a jump pass to Joe Nobis, who made a leaping catch in the endzone, amidst Mac defenders for the touchdown.

A later score by the Brahmas put them ahead 14-6 but the Mustangs were never out of the game until the final seconds when Schooley was dumped in his own endzone for a safety.

Leading the blocking interference, George Whitlow cuts down a Mac defender as Terry Eggleston carries the ball for a first down.

Vainly trying to gain yardage, the Heights quarterback is trapped by Terry Eggleston, Larry Gallego, Lawrence Tatsch, Jeff Harrison, and Roland Edwards.

Mustang Revenge Routs Mules

Darting by Mule Jack Grieder, Phil Barnett picks up another first down for the Mustangs.

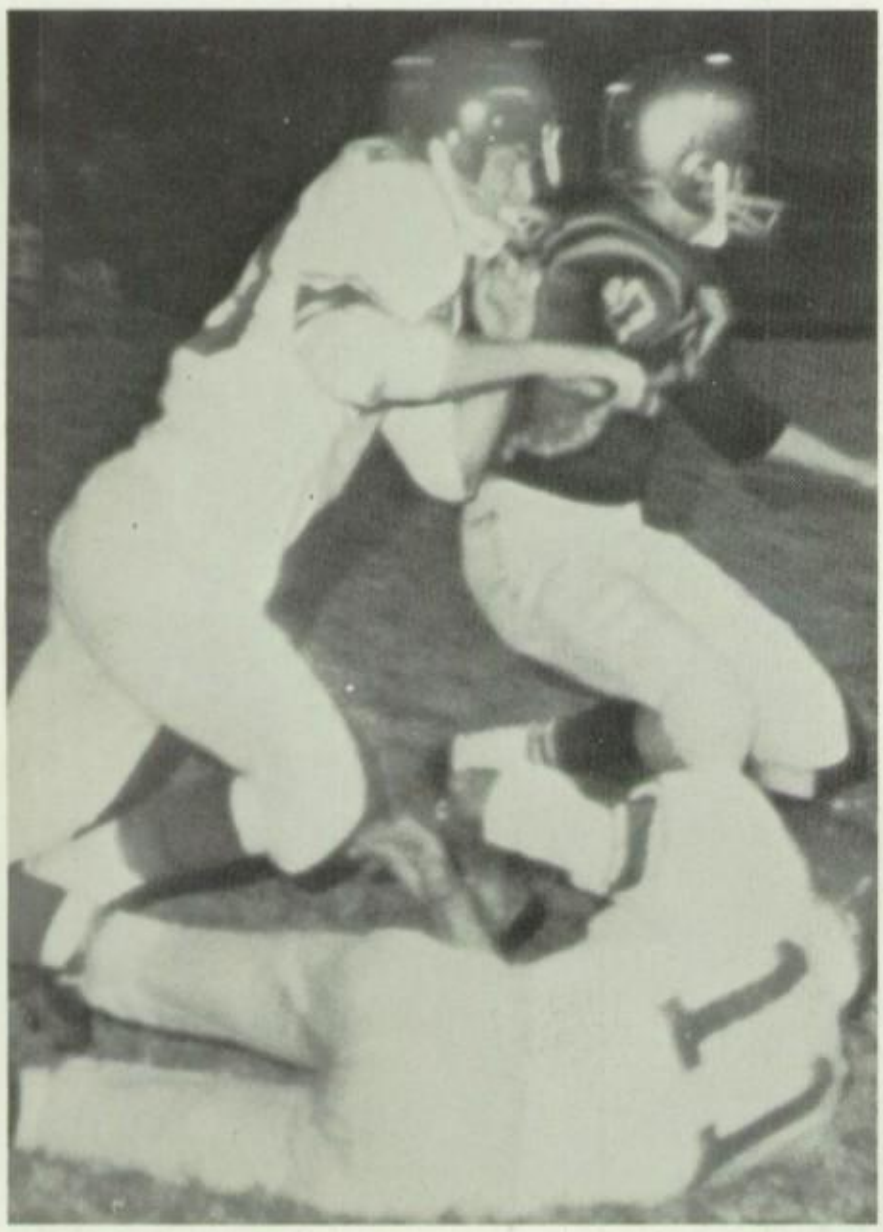
Alamo Heights Stadium; November 4: Frustrated by two years of defeat to the Alamo Heights Mules, the Mustangs got their revenge as they romped to a 40-0 victory.

The first time the Hosses got the ball they drove 61 yards for a touchdown with Terry Eggleston racing 13 yards to climax the drive. Just before the end of the first half a bit of Heights razzle-dazzle backfired as a pass from Mule halfback James Riley, intended for the quarterback, was intercepted by David Fruitt and returned for a touchdown. The Mustangs didn't let up in the second quarter as wingback George Whitlow faked a run and passed to Mike Lehman in the endzone for another score. In the final quarter, Danny Schooley, David Fluitt, and Phil Barnett ran for touchdowns to complete the rout. Bobby Bovello added four extra points to the Mustang scoring.

The airtight Jeff pass defense that picked off four Heights aerials was led by Fluitt, Sandy Guerard, Joe Nobis, and Stuart Smith, who also blocked a Mule punt.

Although the referee seems to be blocking for David Fluitt, he's actually trying to keep up with the fleet tailback on a 17-yard touchdown run.

Hosses' Running Pummels Edison



Carrying out their blocking assignments, Phil Barnett and Doug Lansing move an Edison lineman out of the action.

Alamo Stadium; November 10: Scoring the first three times they had the ball, the Mustangs romped to an easy 36-0 victory over the Edison Bears. On the fifth play of the game, David Barrow slashed over right guard for a 13-yard touchdown run to put the Hosses ahead. Minutes later, quarterback Danny Schooley darted 25 yards for the second score. The first play of the second quarter saw George Whitlow scamper eight yards for another TD.

In the second half, Jeff again scored on their first possession of the ball. David Fluitt carried the ball in from 17 yards out. The final touchdown of the night came when Raymond Turner tallied on a 12-yard run through the middle of the line. Doug Lansing passed to Joe Nobis for a two point conversion and Bobby Bovello kicked four extra points.

Caught up in a Mustang blitz, an Edison back is dropped by David Fluitt and Joe Nobis.

Early Scoring Halts Jeff Drive

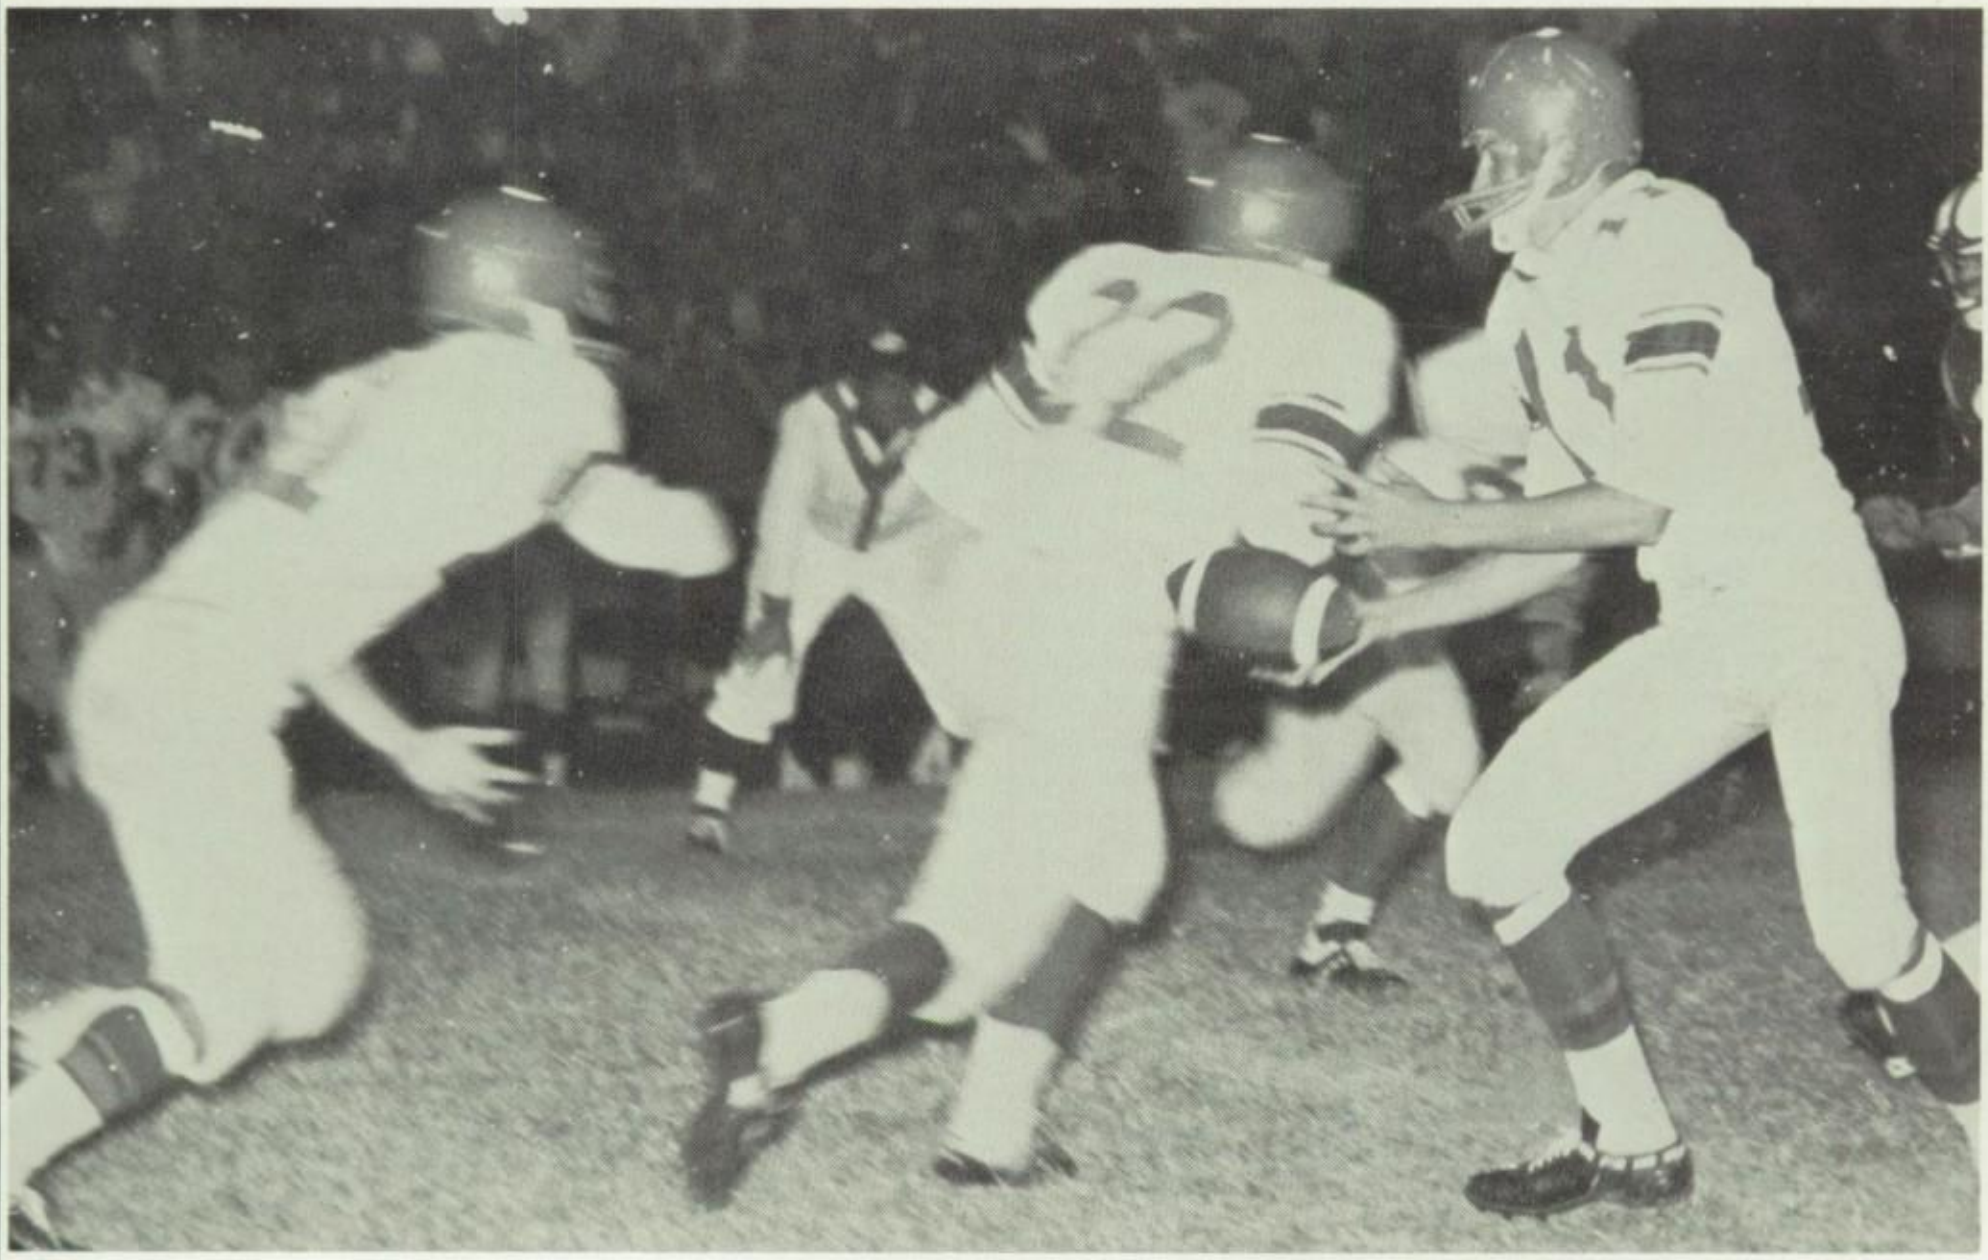
Alamo Stadium; November 18: The Mustangs saw their hopes for a third place district finish ruined as the Highlands Owls scored four times in the first half and staved off a second-half rally for a 28-15 victory.

The Hosses were shocked in the early stages of the game when Charles Barnes returned the opening kick-off 93 yards and Danny Merton dashed 75 yards on Highlands' first play from scrimmage to give the Owls a 14-0 lead after only three minutes of play. Two more touchdowns by the southsiders sent Jeff in at halftime with a 28-0 deficit but the second half was a different story.

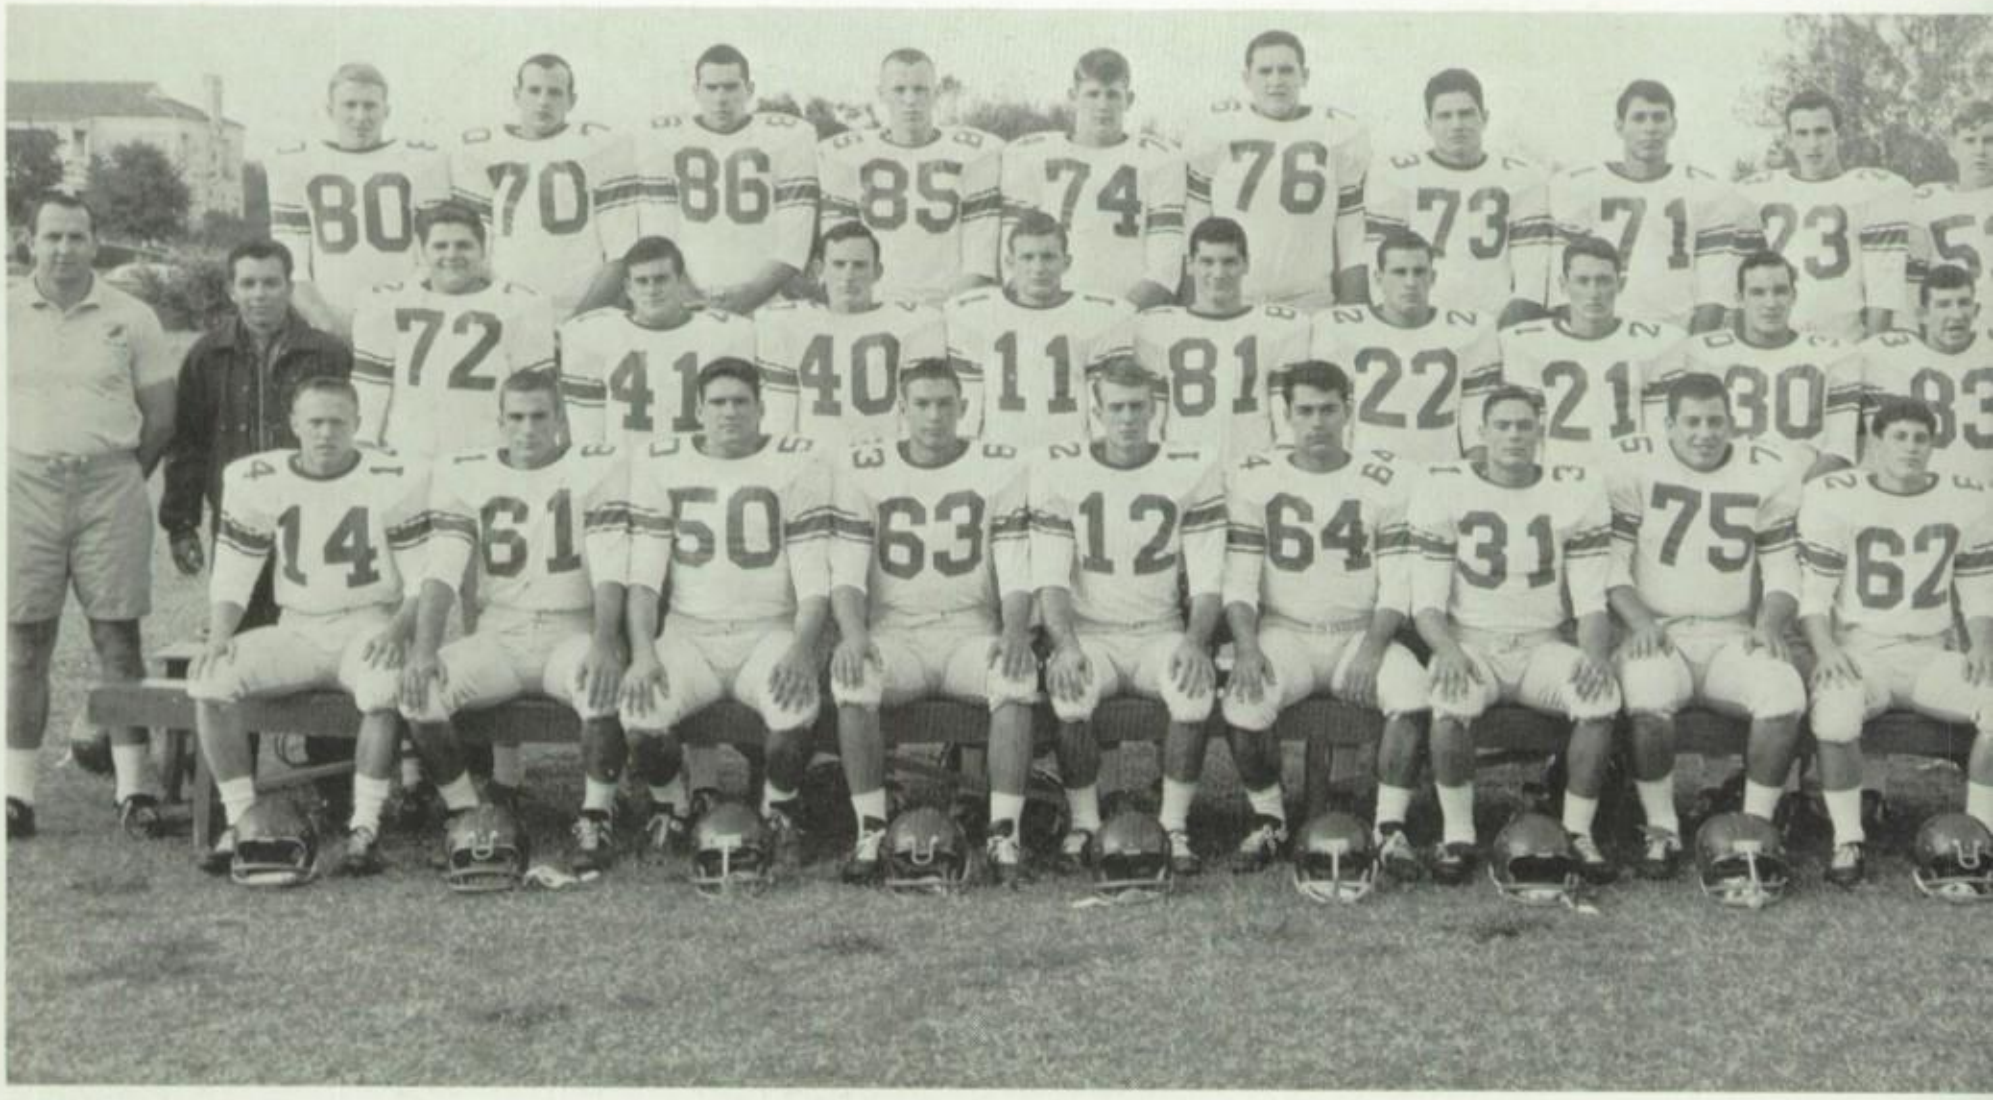
In the third quarter, Lawrence Tatsch blocked a Highlands punt and Stuart Smith grabbed the ball and ran 24 yards to the one-yard line. David Fluitt cracked over for the touchdown and Bobby Bovello kicked the extra point. A long pass from quarterback Danny Schooley to Mike Lehman moved the ball deep into Highlands territory in the fourth quarter.

Schooley faked a run and passed to Fluitt who was wide open in the endzone for another score. Kneeling as though to hold for a Bovello kick, Schooley took the ball and ran around right end for a two point conversion. The Owl defense managed to contain the Mustang comeback for the remainder of the game.

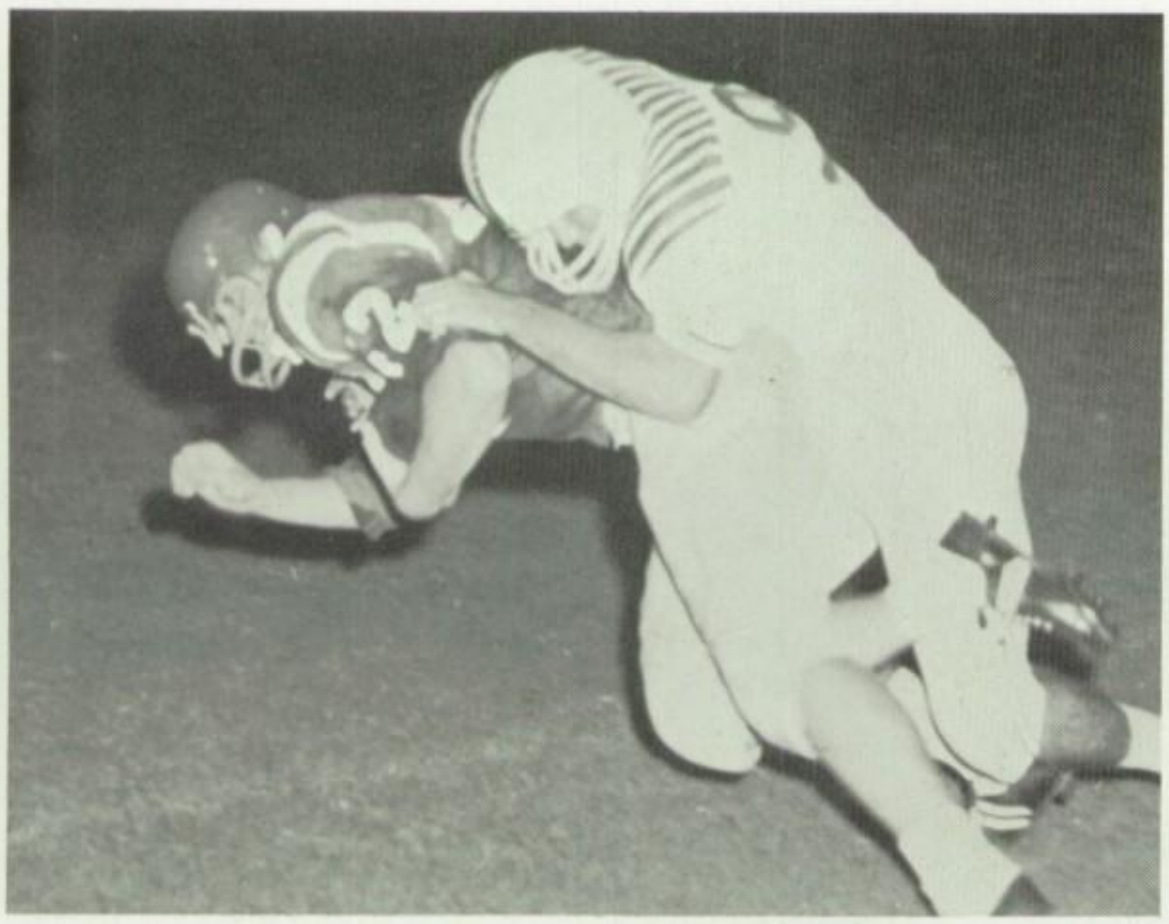
Sharing the Mustang quarterbacking chores are Danny Schooley (above) giving the ball to David Barrow in the second quarter and Doug Lansing (below) handing off to Terry Eggleston in the third period.



Senior Mustangs Gain



The 1966 Mustangs are as follows: Front Row (l-r); S. Guerard, S. Smith, G. Rogers, B. G. Horner, D. Schooley, D. LaBadie, T. Eggleston, E. Cuevas, P. Claypool, G. Whitlow. Second Row; Coach B. Burk, J. Cisneros, D. Harrell, B. Bovello, P. Barnett, D. Lansing, L. Gallego, D. Barrow, D. Fluitt, R. Turner, R. Fuentes, T. Bing You, Coach G. Forehand. Third Row; M. Lehman, J. Harrison, N. Leeper, J. Nobis, L. Tatsch, R. Edwards, R. Buenrostro, G. Bueno, P. Walker, D. Applewhite, F. Mazuca.



Carrying a Texan defender inside the 10-yard line with him, wingback George Whitlow's brilliant running performance against Corpus Christi Ray earned him the KONO Player of the Week Award, which was presented at a pep rally.

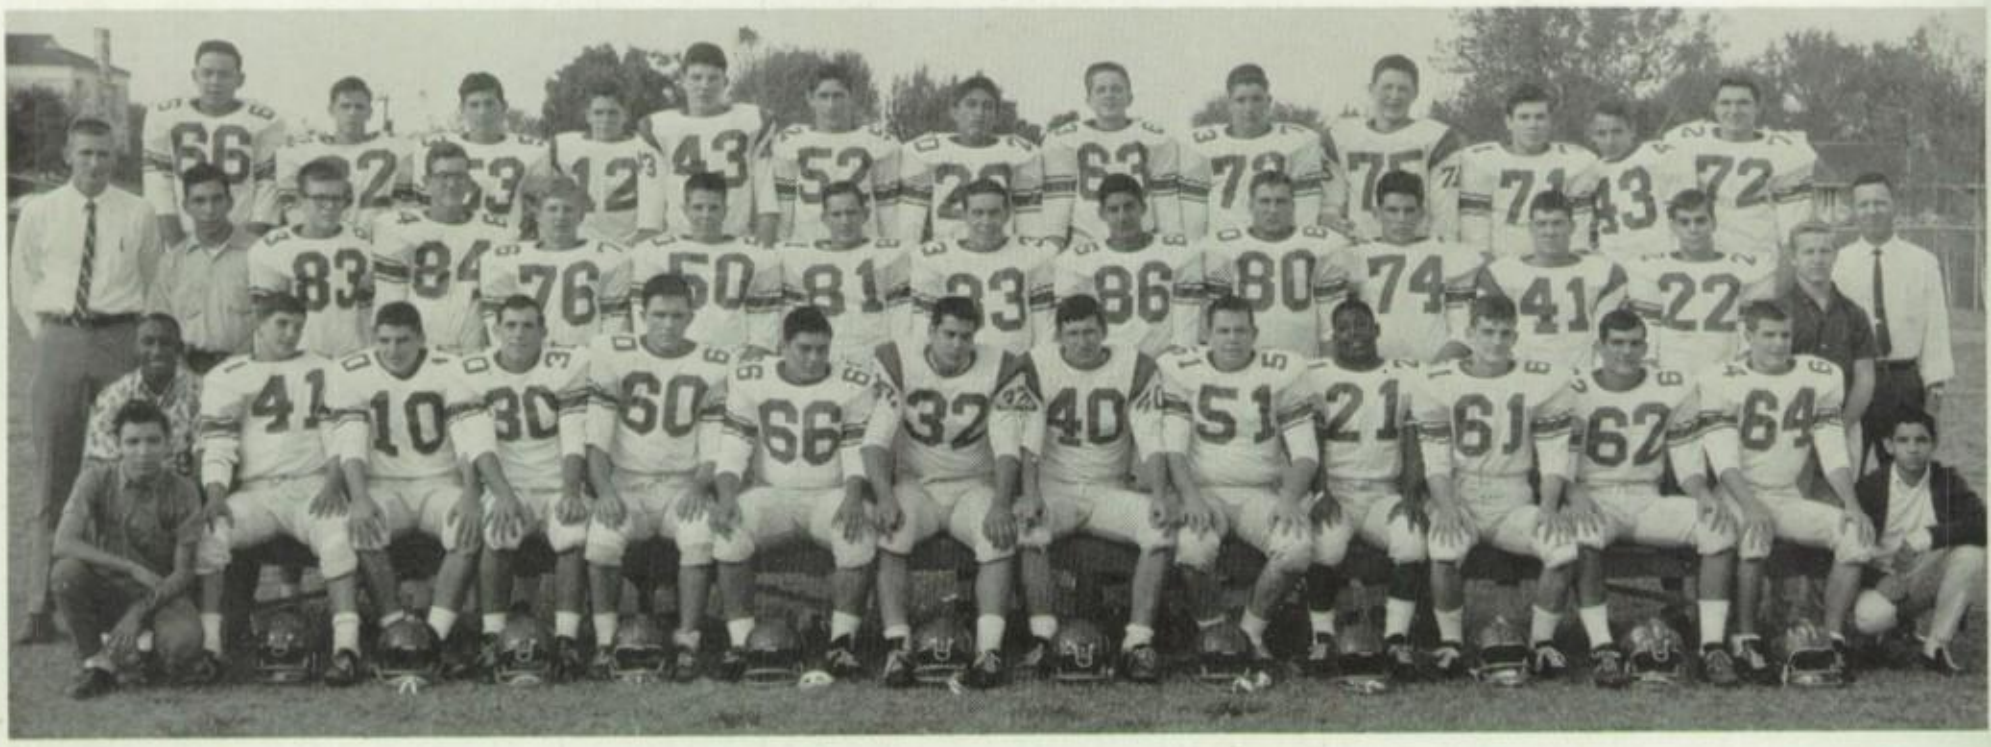
Garner, Coach D. Freiling; Third row—R. Huerta, J. Nickel, E. Black, R. Keller, S. DeSha, R. Achilles, W. Canella, B. Bright, K. Creed, G. Smith, R. Carter, T. Blankenship, W. Mabry.



Coach Shuler Takes

A quick opener through the middle of the line picks up five yards for Richard Mussey against Alamo Heights.

The beginning of the 1966 season saw a new member of the coaching staff, Coach James Shuler, take over the job of Pony football coach. Coach Shuler is a graduate of Carson-Newman College where he was an All-American Basketball star. Assisting him was Coach Don Freiling, the former Pony coach who is now head baseball coach.

Led by such outstanding players as backs Charles Ruffo, Tyrone Byrd, Rust Harrison, and Richard Mussey and linemen Warren O'Connell, Billy Centeno, Scott DeSha, George Short, and John Mercado, the Ponies finished the season with a 5-5 record.

The season began as the Ponies gave Churchill a rude introduction to junior varsity competition, blasting the Chargers 20-6. South San then fell by a 32-0 margin. The Little Hosses absorbed their first loss as they traveled to Carrizo Springs for a 20-6 setback. Lee whipped the Ponies 24-6 but Jeff got back in the win column with a 29-22 victory over Sam Houston and a 30-0 drubbing of Central Catholic. Two losses followed as MacArthur rolled to a 33-12 win and Alamo Heights slipped by 7-0. The Ponies split their last two games as they crushed Edison 24-0 and dropped a 32-0 decision to Highlands.

Over Ponies' Reins

Taking to the air, quarterback Charles Ruffo lobs a pass to a Pony receiver as a wall of blockers protect him.

Taking over the job of Pony football coach this year was Mr. James Shuler.

After faking a handoff, Charles Ruffo pitches the ball back to his tailback as the Ponies move against Heights.

A smashing tackle pops the ball out of a Sam Houston back's hands into the hands of Pony Richard Mussey.

Quick plunging through the middle of the line by Richard Mussey picks up another first down.

Pony teamwork is evident as one little Hoss blocks to spring his teammate loose for good yardage.

Powerful Ponies

Caught in a crowd of defenders, a Pony back goes down against Churchill.

A run through the middle of the line did Sam Houston no good as an alert Pony defense stops the ballcarrier.

Prove Potential

Piled under by Churchill defenders, a determined Pony still managed to pick up a first down.

Nothing but green grass stands between Pony Rusty Harrison and the goal line as two Churchill defenders pursue in vain.

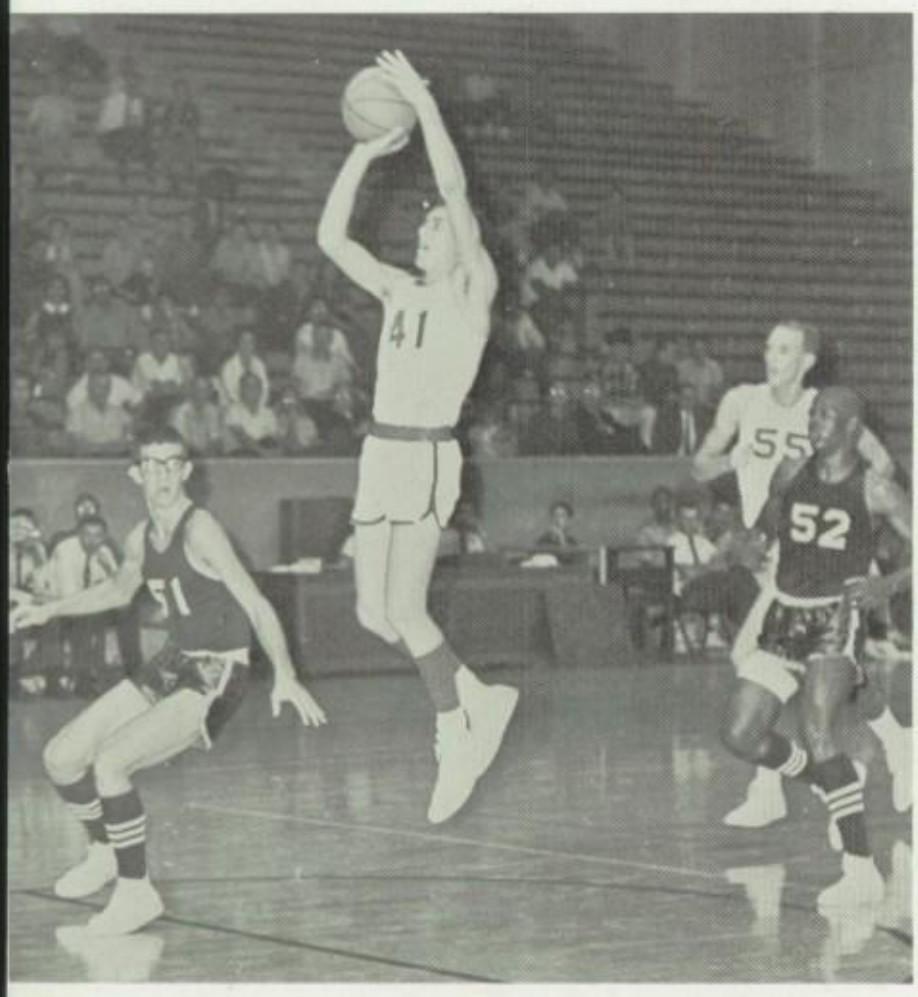
Cagers Work To Net Title

Although Lee was considered the winner in the district 15-AAAA race, basketball coach James Heiser definitely noted Jefferson as a strong contender. Returning letterman from last year included Billy Hudgins and Denis Galindo, both members of the first string. Rounding out the starters were Bill Beeson, David Barnes, and B. J. Russell. With their fine starting team and a strong reserve team, Coach Heiser hoped to improve upon last year's 19-8 season record and third place finish in the district.

Coach Heiser headed an excellent coaching staff consisting of offensive coach, Richard Kirkpatrick and defensive coach James Shuler. Coach Shuler, new to the staff this year, was an All-American at Carson-Newman. His presence added depth to our already talented and experienced staff.

Showing Greg Hess, Tim Johnson, and Bill Rambo how to handle a ball is all in a day's work for Coach Jim Heiser.

Owls Edge Mustangs Twice

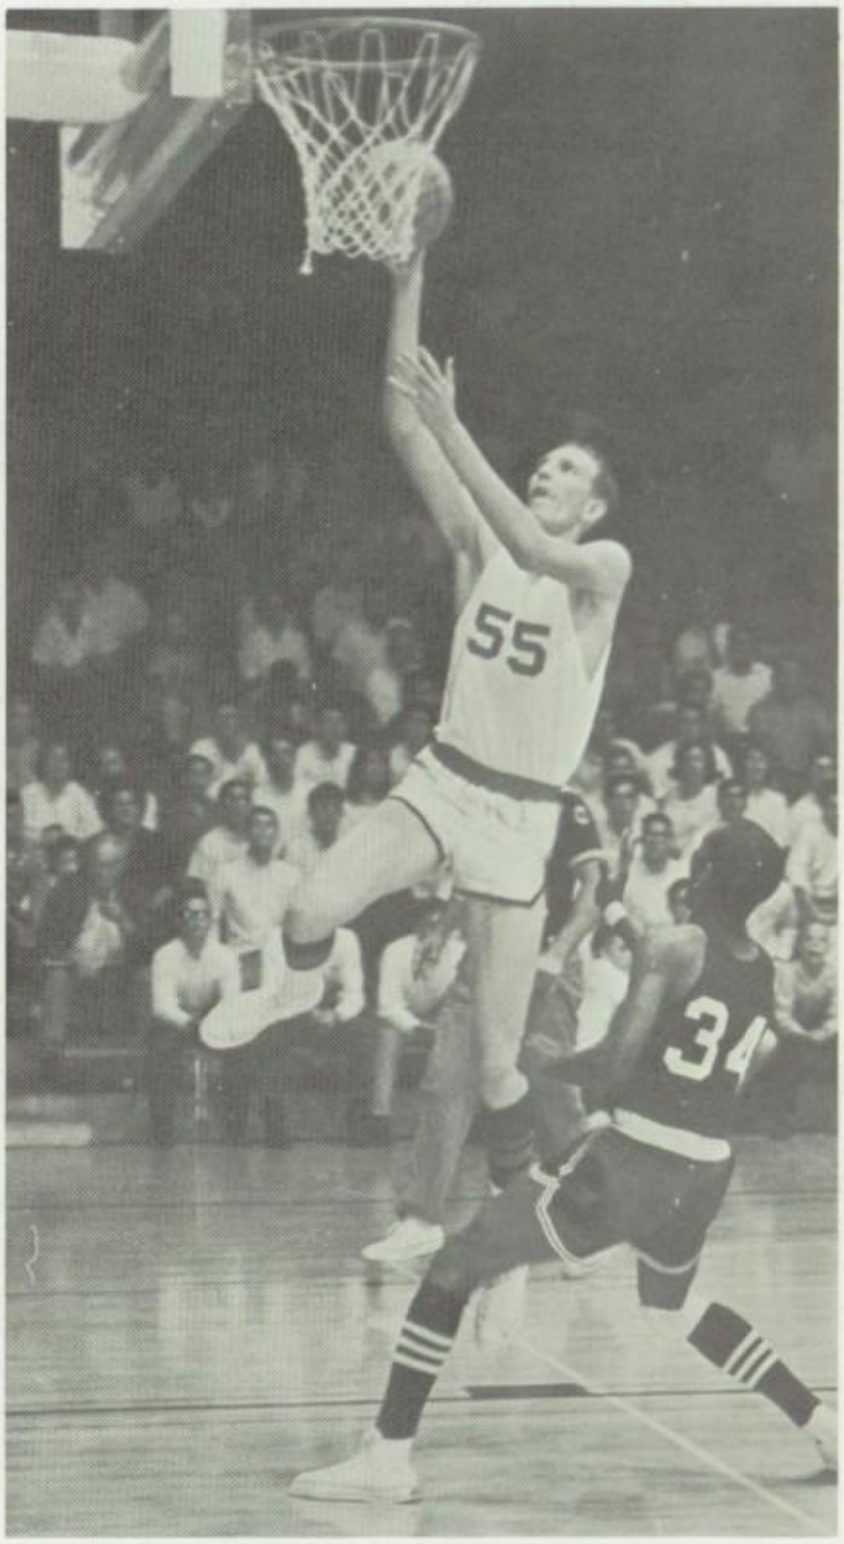


Firing from the top of the key, Jerry Merck sinks a jump shot against the Owls.

Alamo Stadium Gym; December 6: Highly regarded in District 15-AAAA circles, the Highlands Owls survived a stiff Mustang challenge and emerged with a hardfought 71-66 victory. Despite a fourth quarter rally by the Hosses, the Owls, led by the hot-shooting Donnie Voight, prevailed. The Mustangs were led by 6'9" junior Bill Beeson who poured in 26 points from his post position. Following him in the scoring column were Billy Hudgins and Tim Johnson with 14 and 10 points respectively.

Alamo Stadium Gym; January 13: Stalling tactics by the Highlands Owls prevented them from becoming upset victims as they edged the Mustangs 70-64. After a see-saw battle, Highlands moved ahead 64-62 with four minutes left and put on the stall to hold the Hosses. Billy Hudgins won his scoring battle with the Owls' Donnie Voight, hitting 28 points, and Bill Beeson added 17.

Never losing her spirit, Beverly Bain futilely urges the Mustangs to beat the Owls.



Leaving Highlands' Ed Hardeman earth-bound, Bill Beeson goes high into the air for a two-pointer.

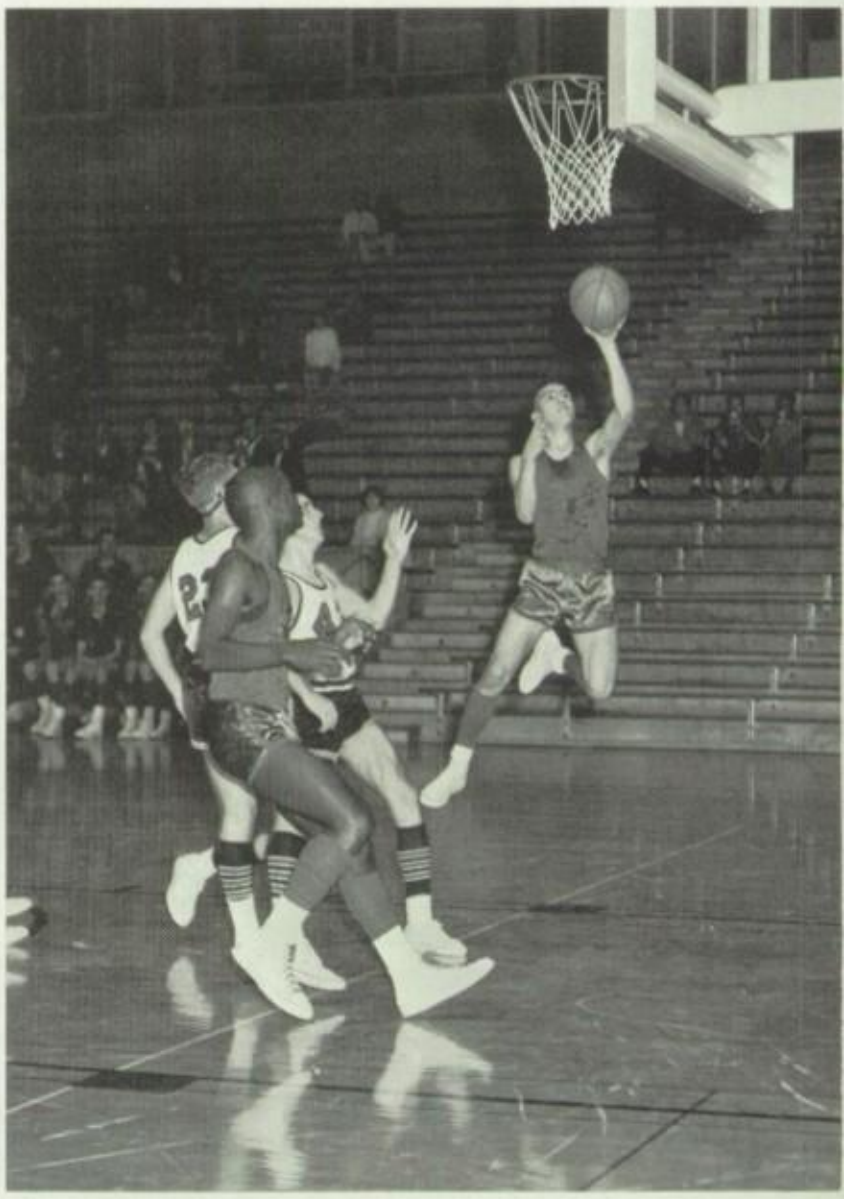
Bringing the ball downcourt, B. J. Russell sets to dribble past a Churchill defender.

As the Mustangs roll to victory over Churchill, Linda Guzzardo cheers them on.

Hosses Chain Up Chargers

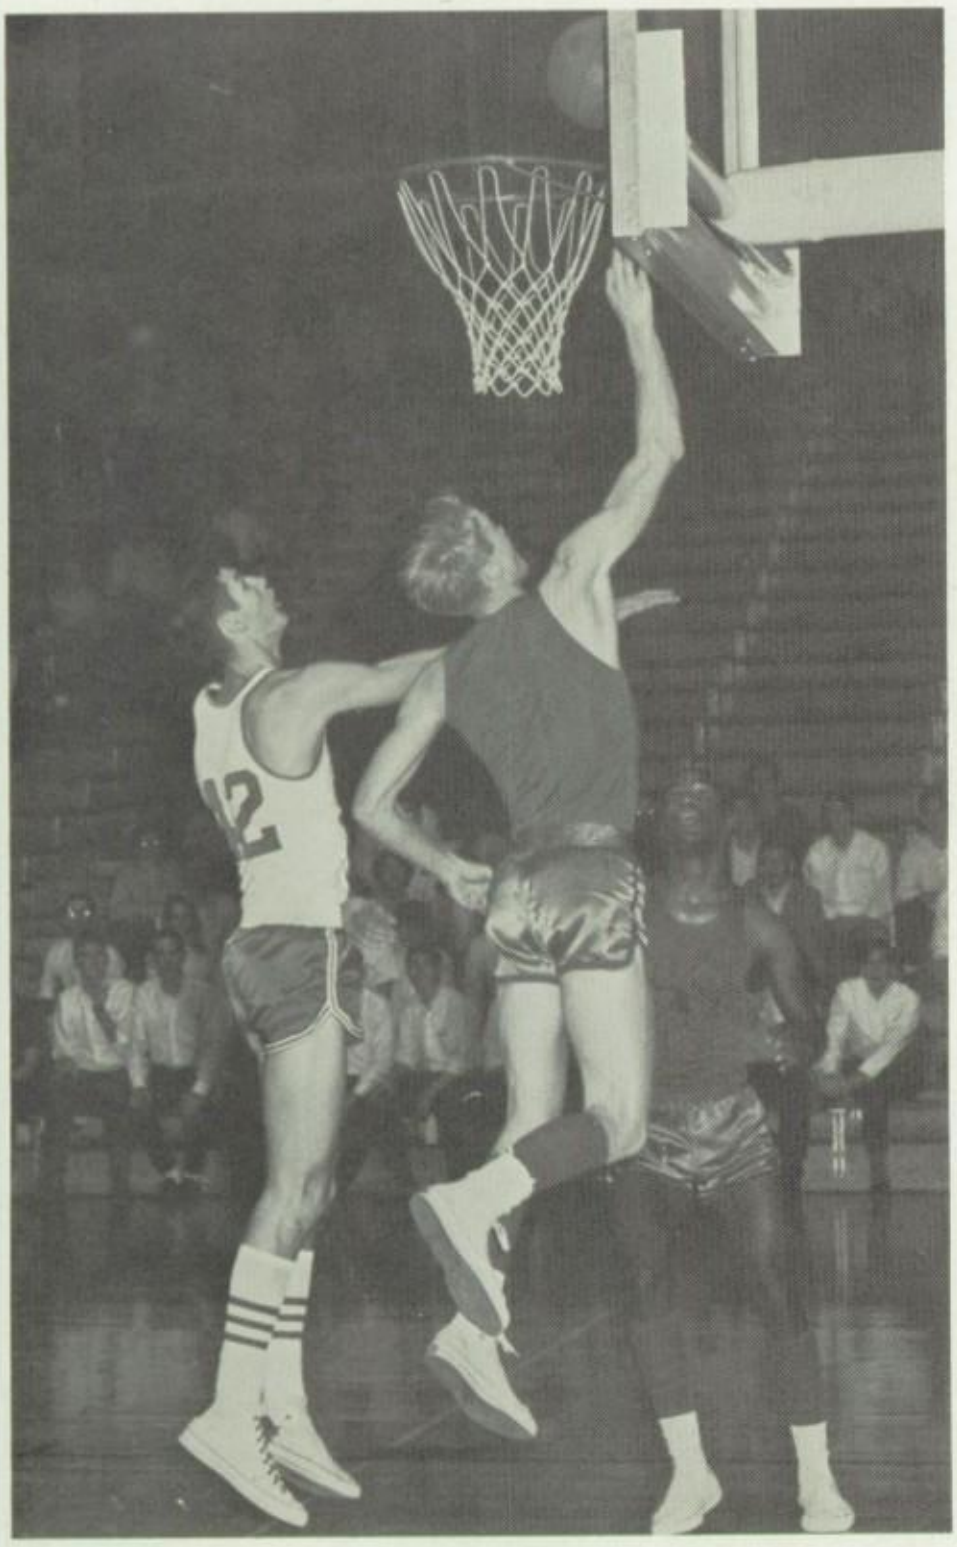
Alamo Stadium Gym; December 8: The Mustangs jumped off to a big lead early in the game and were never threatened as they rolled to a 76-52 victory over the Churchill Chargers. Billy Hudgins punctured the Charger defense for 25 points and Tim Johnson contributed 11 as Coach James Heiser made liberal use of his reserves after the Mustangs built up a 30 point lead.

Northeast Field House; January 17: A 33-point shooting performance by Billy Hudgins sparked the Mustangs to an 88-67 victory over the Churchill Chargers. Utilizing set shots, driving layups, and dunk shots, the senior guard wrecked the Churchill defense and relegated the Chargers' vaunted Terry Hendricks to a poor second as the Hosses raced to an early lead and never looked back. Two juniors joined Hudgins in the double figure column as Bill Beeson hit 17 points and Jerry Merck 16.



Driving by a pair of Chargers, Denis Galindo goes under the basket to sink a layup.

Powerful Vols Brand Mustang



Mustang sharpshooter Tim Johnson makes his layup good for two points as Vol Bob Peek's efforts to block the shot are in vain.

Lee Gym; December 13: The infamous Lee Gym jinx hit again as the Mustangs lost to Lee in the Vols' home gym for the fifth straight year, falling 72-43. The Hosses played it close in the early stages of the game and trailed only 14-10 at the end of the first quarter before the Vols exploded. Bill Beeson starred for the Mustangs, scoring 15 points and did a good job of containing Lee's All-State center Steve Niles, while Billy Hudgins added 12.

Alamo Stadium Gym; January 20: Jumping off to an early 12 point lead, the Lee Volunteers, ranked number one in the city, had to survive a brilliant Mustang comeback to emerge with a 59-49 victory. The Hosses pulled within six points of Lee in the final quarter before the Vols finally iced the game with stalling tactics and foul shots. Billy Hudgins' 14 points led the Mustangs while Tim Johnson and Bill Beeson scored 10 each. Johnson's and Beeson's great defensive work on Lee's Steve Niles sparked the rally as they held the All-State center to only six points in the second half to curtail the Vol offense.

Spirited leaps by Marcia McClain demonstrate her rousing enthusiasm for the Mustangs as they fight to catch up with the Vols.

Taking careful aim at the basket, Billy Hudgins sinks his shot despite the outstretched arms of Lee's Steve Niles.

Hosses Fall to Bears; Get Revenge

Alamo Stadium Gym; December 20: The Edison Bears came on strong in the fourth quarter to defeat the Mustangs 84-65. The game stayed close in the first three quarters but the Bears pulled away in the last quarter and padded their lead in the final minutes against the Jefferson reserves. Billy Hudgins paced the Mustangs with 18 points while Denis Galindo and David Barnes had 11 each.

Alamo Stadium Gym; January 27: Avenging a loss earlier in the season, the Mustangs ripped the Edison Bears 80-73. The Hosses jumped off to a commanding lead early in the game and were never behind as four Mustangs hit in double figures. Billy Hudgins led the pack with 26 points, B. J. Russell, who was appointed special captain for this game, hit 18 and was the chief factor in the Hosses' fast start, Bill Beeson sank 14, and Tim Johnson added 12. Beeson played the big defensive role, holding the Bears' high scoring Bobby Eckermann to 12 points.

An attempt by Edison's Leonard Voges to block a shot comes too late as B. J. Russell pops another two-pointer through the basket.

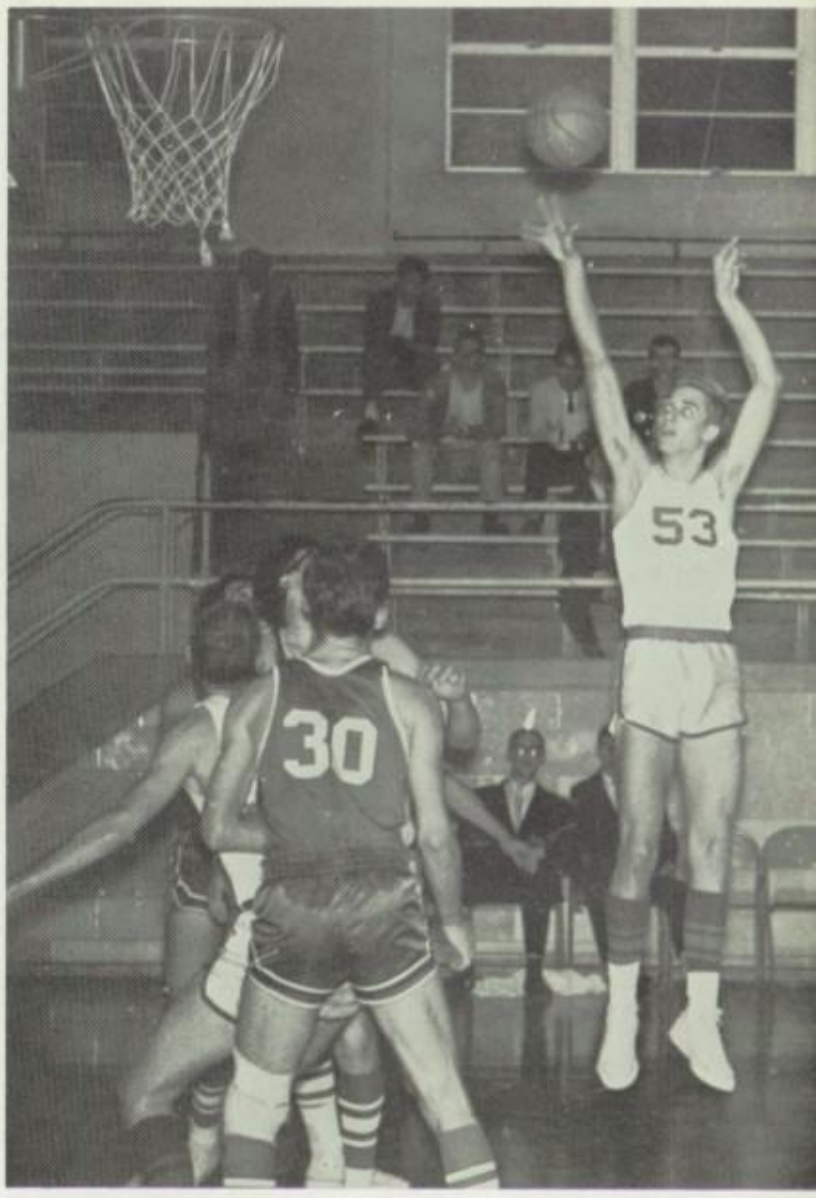
Anxiously awaiting the result of a Mustang foul shot, Sandy Sauer watches breathlessly from the sidelines.

Leaping into the air, Billy Hudgins launches a one-handed push shot to tally another two points against the Bears.

"Let's go Mustangs," shouts Mindy Koen as the Hosses pull out in front of the Bears in the closing minutes of the game.

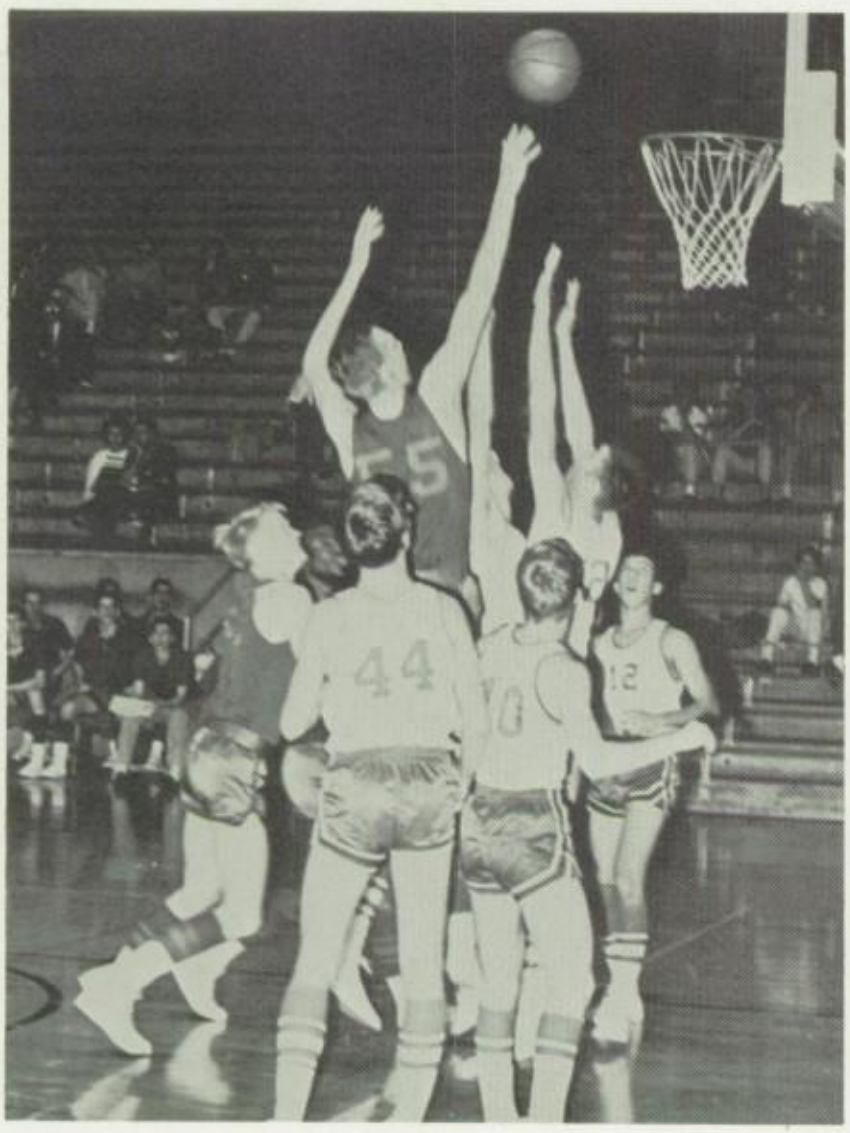
"Hudgins, Hudgins, he's our man!" shout the Lassos as Susan Mangum leads them in their traditional cheer.

"Make that basket!" yells Jackie Sauer as the Hosses bring the ball down-court.



Finding himself in the open, Bill Rambo fires a jump shot into the basket as the helpless Rough-riders look on.

Mustangs Roll Over Roughriders



Lee Gym; December 22: Five Mustangs hit in double figures as the Hosses crushed the Roosevelt Roughriders 92-37. Billy Hudgins was the high point man with 18; Bill Beeson followed him with 16; David Barnes pitched in 12; and Denis Galindo and Jerry Merck had 10 each. The game was never in doubt as the Mustangs jumped off to a 23-7 first quarter lead and played the reserves for much of the remaining time.

Alamo Stadium Gym; January 31: After a slow start, the Mustangs came to life and routed the Roosevelt Roughriders 67-43. The Riders, upsetters of the powerful Highlands Owls, came into Alamo Stadium Gym with hopes of pulling another upset and kept the game close in the first quarter. The Hosses, however, put their offense together in the second quarter and raced past the faltering Roughriders. Leading the Mustang scoring attack were Billy Hudgins with 20 points and Jerry Merck with 18.

Despite being surrounded by the entire Roosevelt team, towering Bill Beeson puts the ball through the hoop for another two points.

A long pass from Billy Hudgins to Tim Johnson finds Johnson in the open driving in for an easy layup as Brahma Roger Crozier desperately tries to catch up.

Following a basket by Denis Galindo, Julia Bottenberg holds up the name of the scorer.

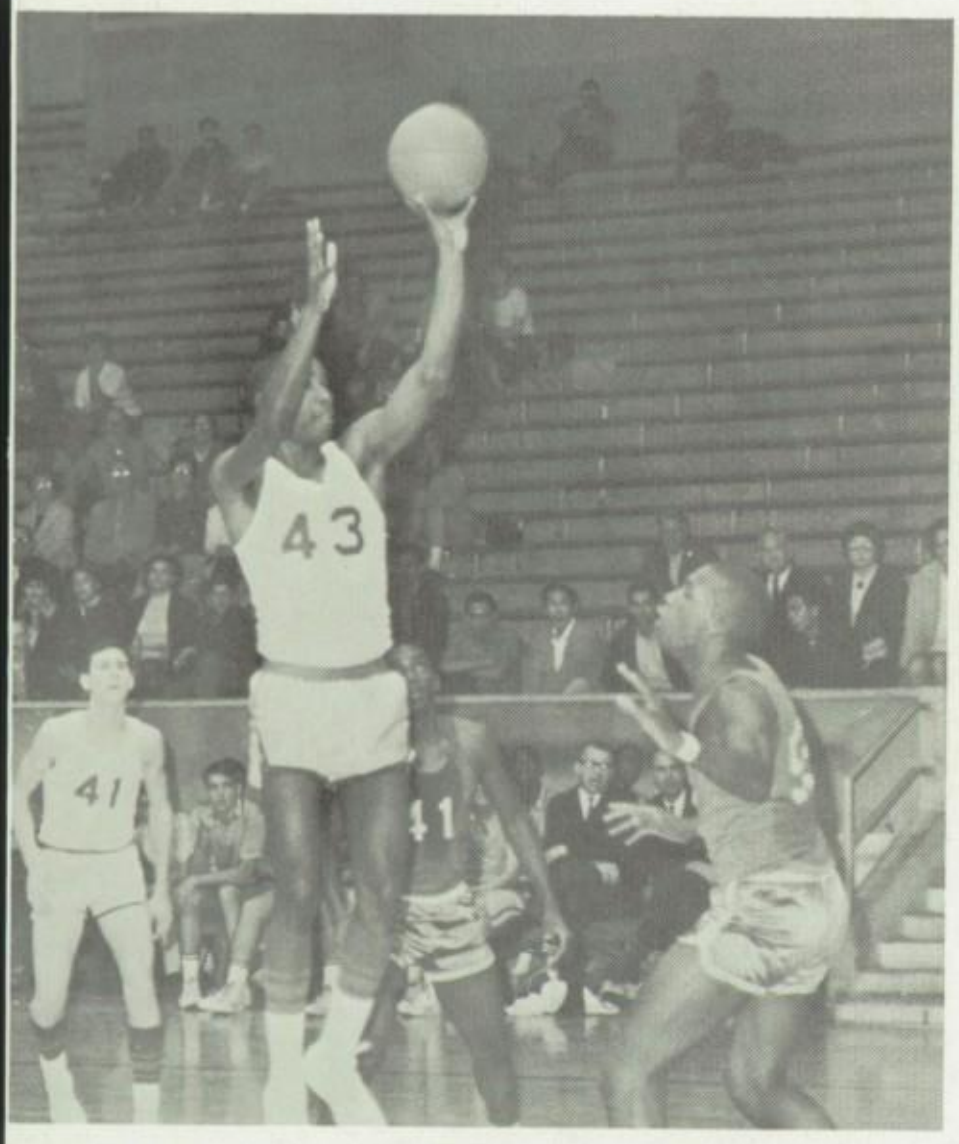
Mustangs Split Mac Series

Alamo Stadium Gym; January 2: Hot shooting by Billy Hudgins and stout defensive play gave the Mustangs an easy 66-39 victory over the Mac Arthur Brahmas. Hudgins pitched in 29 points and Tim Johnson added 10 as the Hosses built up a 30 point second half lead before Coach James Heiser called out the reserves. The Mustangs' defense limited Mac to an 18 per cent first half shooting average and held Brahma star Rocky Self to one point.

Northeast Field House; February 3: With only 11 seconds left in the game, Mike Stephens hit a foul shot to give the MacArthur Brahmas a 61-60 victory over the Mustangs. Prior to the foul, the Hosses had tied the game up on a basket by B. J. Russell with 56 seconds remaining. Jeff still had a chance to pull out a victory after the free throw, but Billy Hudgins' shot was wide, and the buzzer sounded as the ball bounced off the backboard. Hudgins had 22 points to lead the scoring, while Denis Galindo put in 14 for the Mustangs.

Mac's Roger Crozier reaches high, but Bill Beeson reaches higher as the 6'9" junior tips the ball in for a score.

Sam Houston Upsets Mustangs



Alamo Stadium Gym; January 6: A last quarter spurt by Sam Houston Cherokees propelled them to a 58-54 victory over the Mustangs. The Hosses had overcome a five point halftime deficit to move ahead of Sam Houston before the Cherokees pulled it out in the final minutes. Billy Hudgins took scoring honors with 24 points while junior cornerman, David Barnes, contributed 11.

Alamo Stadium Gym; February 7: A second half comeback fell short as the Mustangs were edged by Sam Houston 52-48. The Hosses went into the dressing room at halftime trailing 33-18, but a brilliant second half effort pulled them within two points of the Cherokees before bowing out. Billy Hudgins was the game's high scorer with 23 points. Denis Galindo also turned in a fine performance, scoring eight points and constantly harassing the Cherokee ballhandlers with his pressing defense.

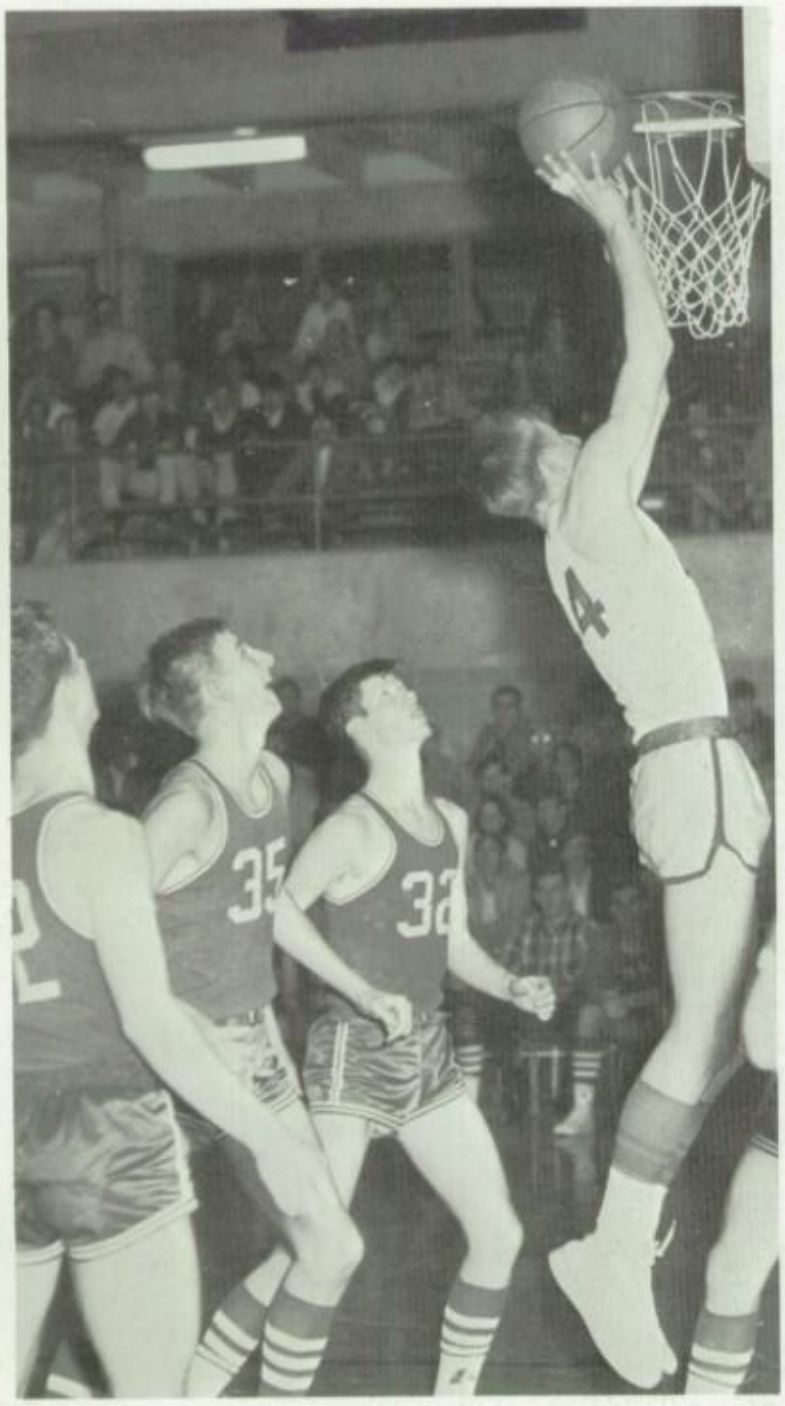
Cherokee Ronald Robinson arrives too late to stop Billy Hudgins from sinking a jump shot.

"Score!" shouts Diana McGinty as the Hosses rally against Sam Houston.

A baseline jump shot by David Barnes picks up two points against the Cherokees.

The outstretched arm of a Houston defender does not deter Larry Eckhardt from firing the ball into the basket.

Hosses Fall Prey To Mules



Alamo Stadium Gym; January 10: A Last minute rally by the Mustangs fell short as the Alamo Heights Mules squeaked by the Hosses, 54-51. The Mustangs lost a chance to tie the game in the final minute when a free throw was missed with the score 52-51. A pair of free shots by Bill Swann iced it for the Mules in the last seconds. Bill Beeson led the Mustangs with 21 points while Billy Hudgins tossed in 16.

Alamo Heights Gym; February 10: The Mustangs never could get their offense off the ground as they fell to District 15-AAAA runner-up Alamo Heights 56-36. The Mules, rated second in the city behind only 15-AAAA champion Lee, jumped off to a 16-4 lead in the first quarter when Jefferson went for seven minutes without a field goal. The Hosses never could catch up after that. Playing his last game as a Mustang, Billy Hudgins hit a game high total of 18 points to place him third in the district scoring race with a season total of 340 points. Larry Eckhardt and David Barnes chipped in six each.

Although surrounded by Mule defenders, David Barnes still manages to make his shot good for two points.

"Take the ball away," urges Linda Guardia as the Mustangs fight to come from behind against the Mules.

Driving through a crowd of Heights defenders, Jerry Merck puts his layup into the basket.

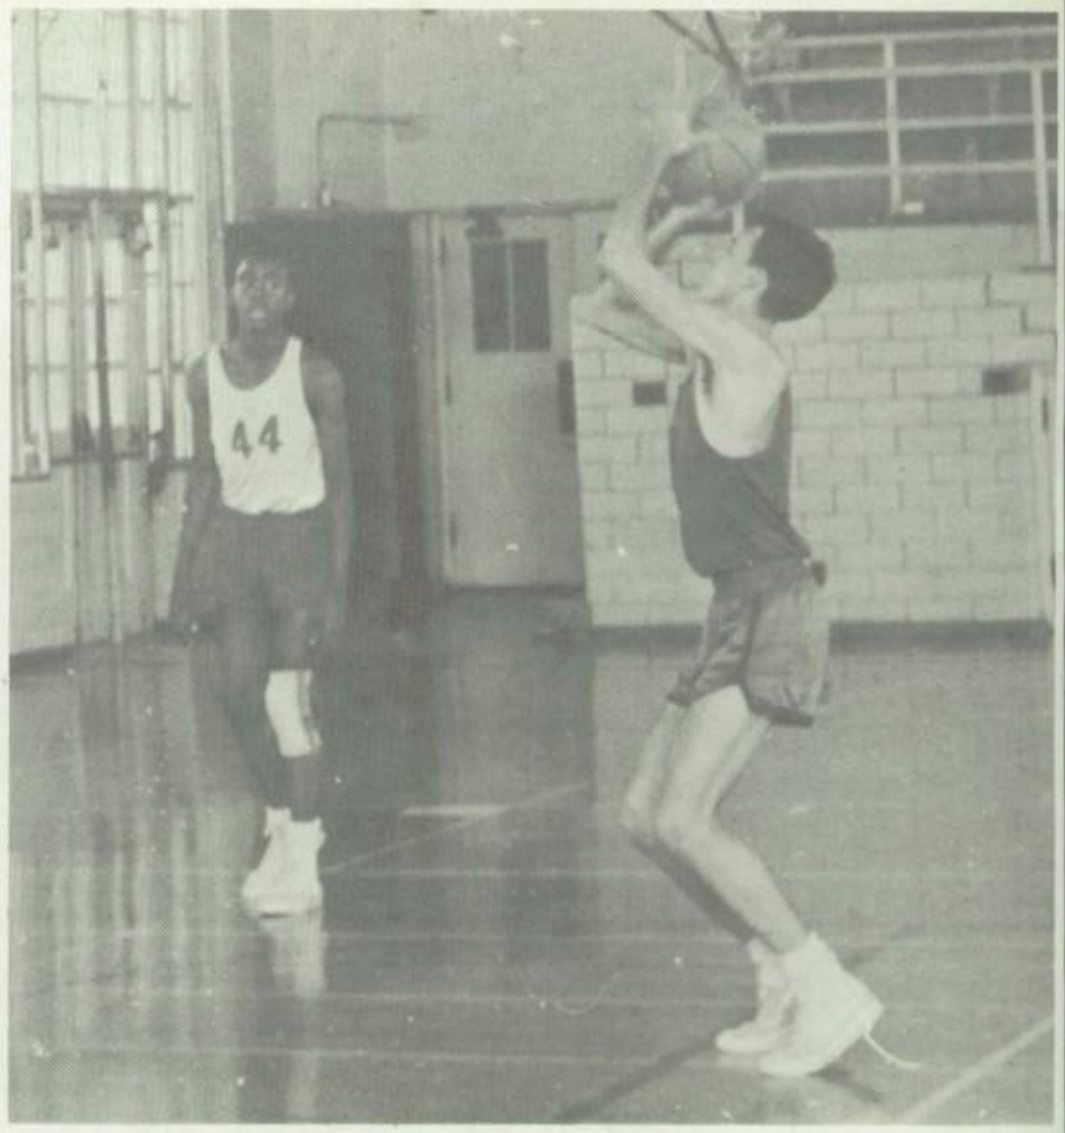
The 1967 Ponies are as follows: Front row—G. Junot, R. Gomez, J. Morrison, J. Robison, T. Craig; Second row—D. Wideman, M. Allen, L. Cardenas, R. Walker, R. Saenz, M. Gummer.

Ponies Grab District Crown

Pony postman Robert Saenz leaps high to sink his shot against Alamo Heights.

Firing a jump shot, Martin Gummer picks up two points against Heights.

Fouling the Ponies can be a costly mistake as the Sam Houston JV learns as they watch Martin Gummer line up to sink a foul shot. . .



. . .and Mike Allen add another free throw in the Little Hosses' 52-42 victory.

Little Hosses Post 19-3 Record

Taking over the Pony coaching job, former All-American basketball star Mr. James Shuler led the Little Hosses to a 19-3 season and a divisional championship. The Ponies' only losses came at the hands of the Highlands and Lee junior varsity and the Brackenridge varsity.

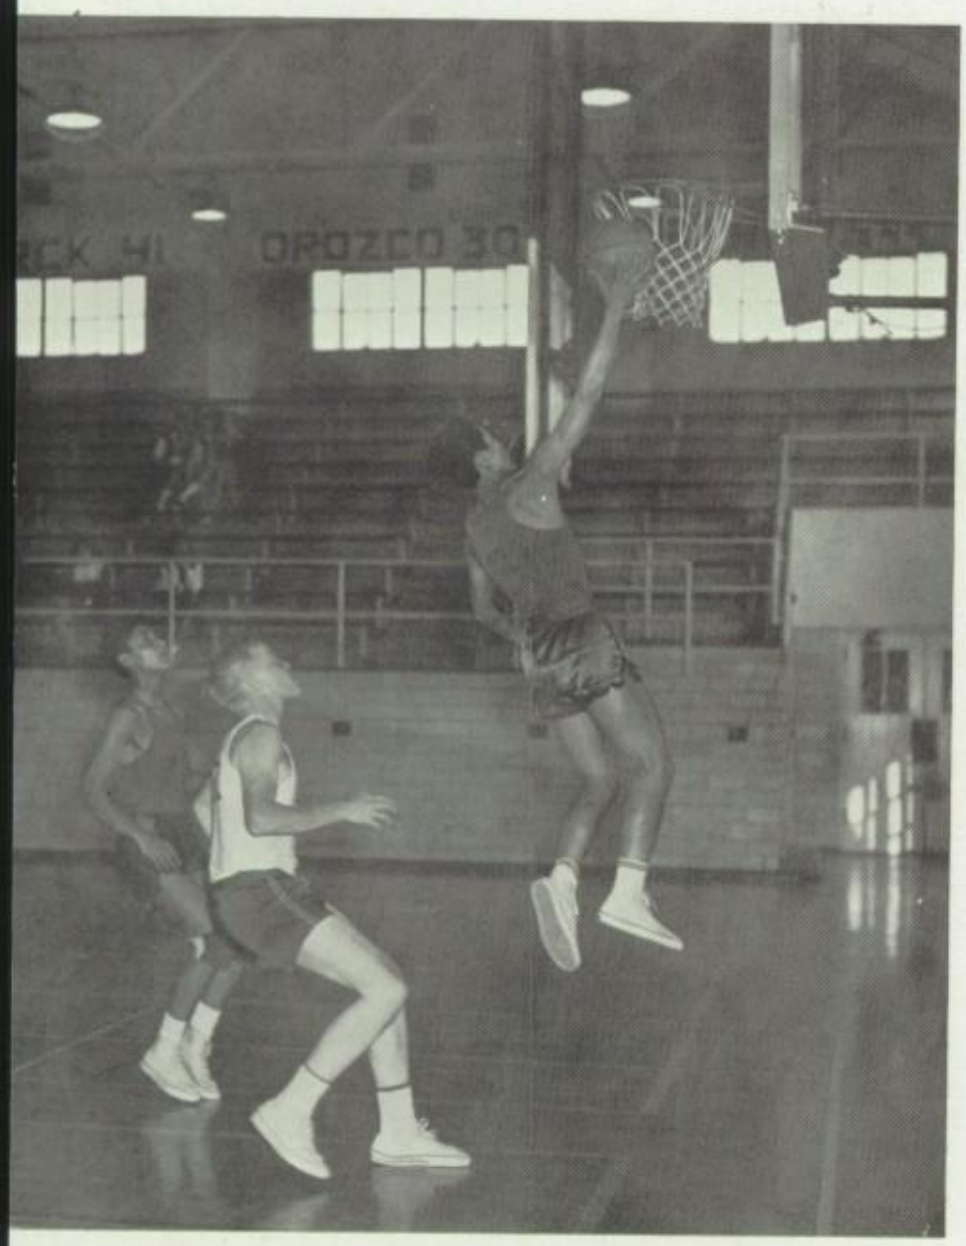
Leading the Ponies' scoring attack were postman Robert Saenz who ended the season with 236 points, Lee Cardenas who had 208, Martin Gummer with 192, and Mike Allen with 160. The defensive forces were led by Ronnie Walker, Jay Robison, James Graham, and Donny Wideman.

In addition to their other honors, the Ponies copped the championship of the McCollum tournament. Other highlights of the season were a 59-30 trouncing of the Lee JV, a 42-24 shellacking of the MacArthur JV, and a 42-41 squeaker over the Alamo Heights JV.

The great showing turned in by the Ponies indicates a fine potential for the 1968 Mustang basketball team.

Much hard work goes into building a 19-3 record as shooter Mike Allen and defender Jay Robinson demonstrate in an afternoon practice as Donny Wideman waits for the rebound.

Kirkpatrick's Colts Win 13 of 15



Gaining steam as the season progressed, the Colts rolled to a 13-2 season record under the coaching of Mr. Richard Kirkpatrick.

Key players in the Colts' strong record were Mark Sosa, who led the sophomores in scoring with 165 points for the season, Robert Lee who ended the season with 137 points, and Gerald Smith who added 122.

Losing only to the Brackenridge and Edison sophomore teams, the Colts took such impressive victories as a 70-34 trouncing of Holmes, a 72-43 crushing of Alamo Heights, and a 62-44 whipping of Brackenridge.

The great performance of the Colts coupled with the Ponies' divisional championship gave Jefferson basketball boosters great optimism for the future.

After an assist by Joe Ojeda, Robert Lee drives in for an easy layup despite a MacArthur defender.

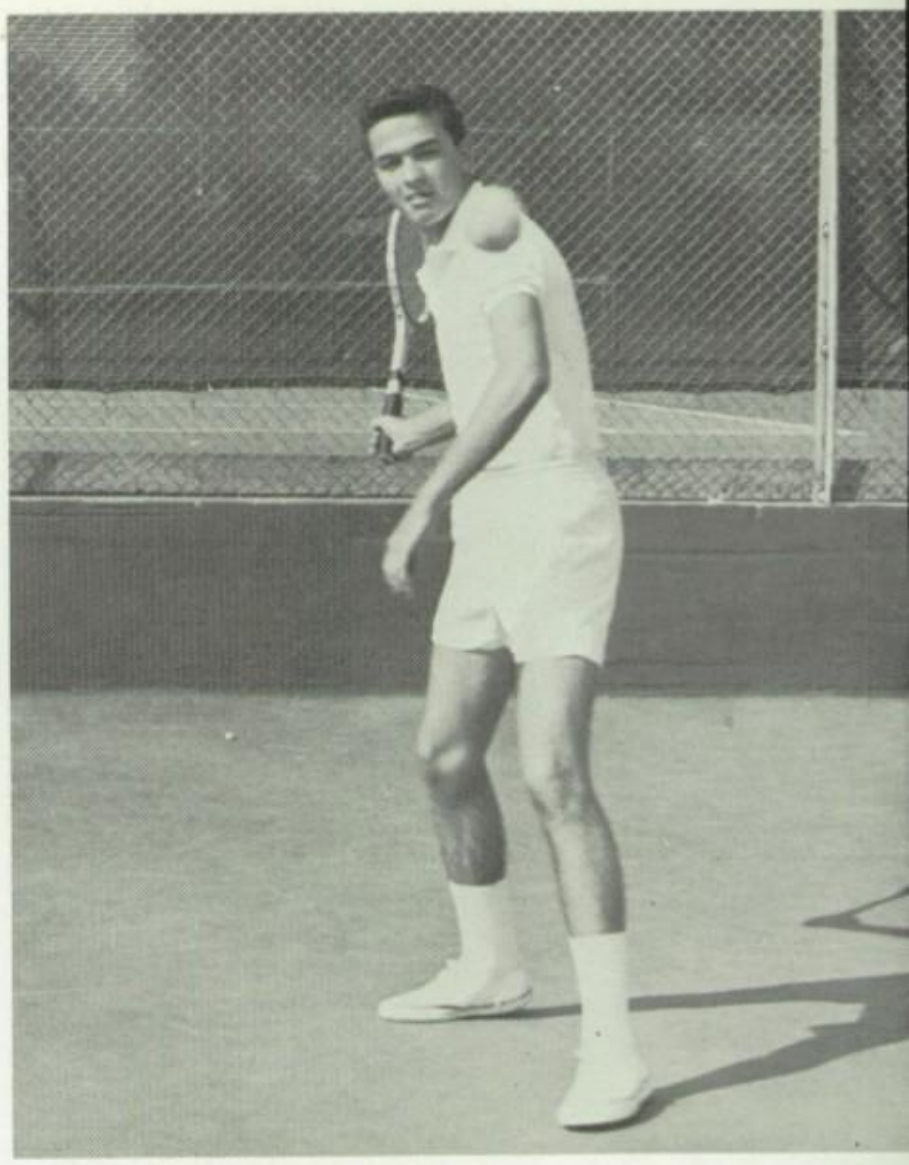
Jody Maksyn, one of the leading players for the boys' tennis team, displays his game-winning forehand.



The boys' tennis team headed by experienced players such as Bobby Braubach, Elliott Novy, Ron Samples, and Jody Maksyn, seemed certain to remain a power in 18-AAAA.

The tennis team traveled to the Corpus Christi Invitational, the Falfurrias tournament, and the Austin Jay Cee. Jefferson and the City Parks and Recreation Department also sponsored the Texas High Schools Invitational tournament held here at the end of February.

The boys practiced every day at the San Pedro Tennis Courts during sixth period and after school under the direction of Coach Charles Tedford.

Boys Attempt to Rack Up District

The boys' tennis team is: Back Row (l-r); Sidney Ng, Marius Perron, Marc Mabrito, Pat Nunnelly, Billy Ng, Stephen Knight, Alan Schwartz Jody Maksyn, Bobby Braubach, Elliott Novy, Ron Samples, Bobby Nichols, Fred Eng, and Coach Charles Tedford. Front Row; Winston Woo, Russe Wong, Edward Trodlier, Tom Reygadas, Keith Arnold, Gin Eng, Bill Jung, Nathan Kerman, Ronald Colunga, Mike Werbner, and Sam Rotman

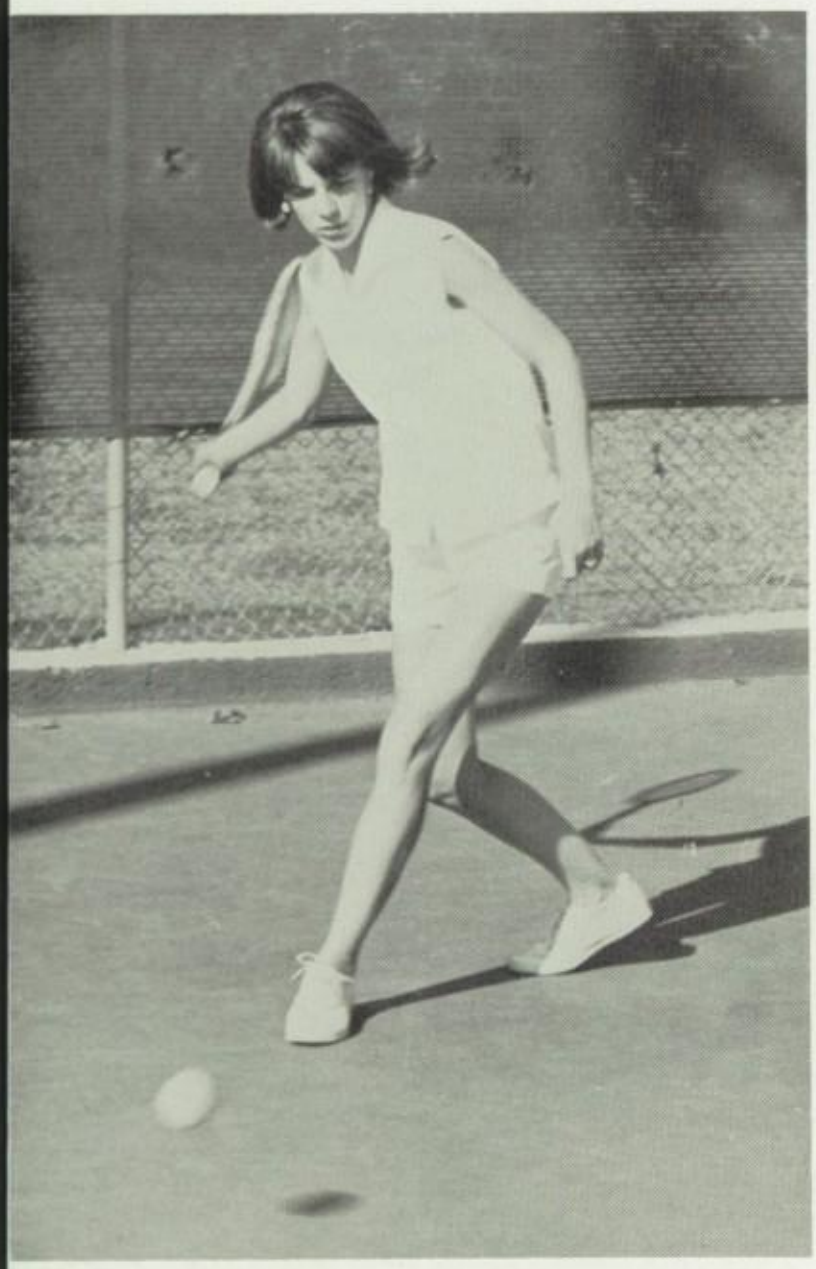
Girl Netters Show Promise



The top rated girl tennis player, Susan Tedford, carried many of the hopes for a girl's district win this year.

The girls' tennis team led by Susan Tedford hoped to maintain their high rating in District AAAA standings.

The girls were gifted with the arrival of several talented sophomores, among them were Linda Ross, Valerie Taylor, and Beverly Braubach.

Prior to the district meet the girls also participated in out-of-town tournament at Corpus Christi, Falfurrias, and Austin. They also played in the Texas High School Invitational.

Baseball Pro's Add Depth to Team

During an early morning practice session, catcher Joe Settlemeyer warms up the pitch.

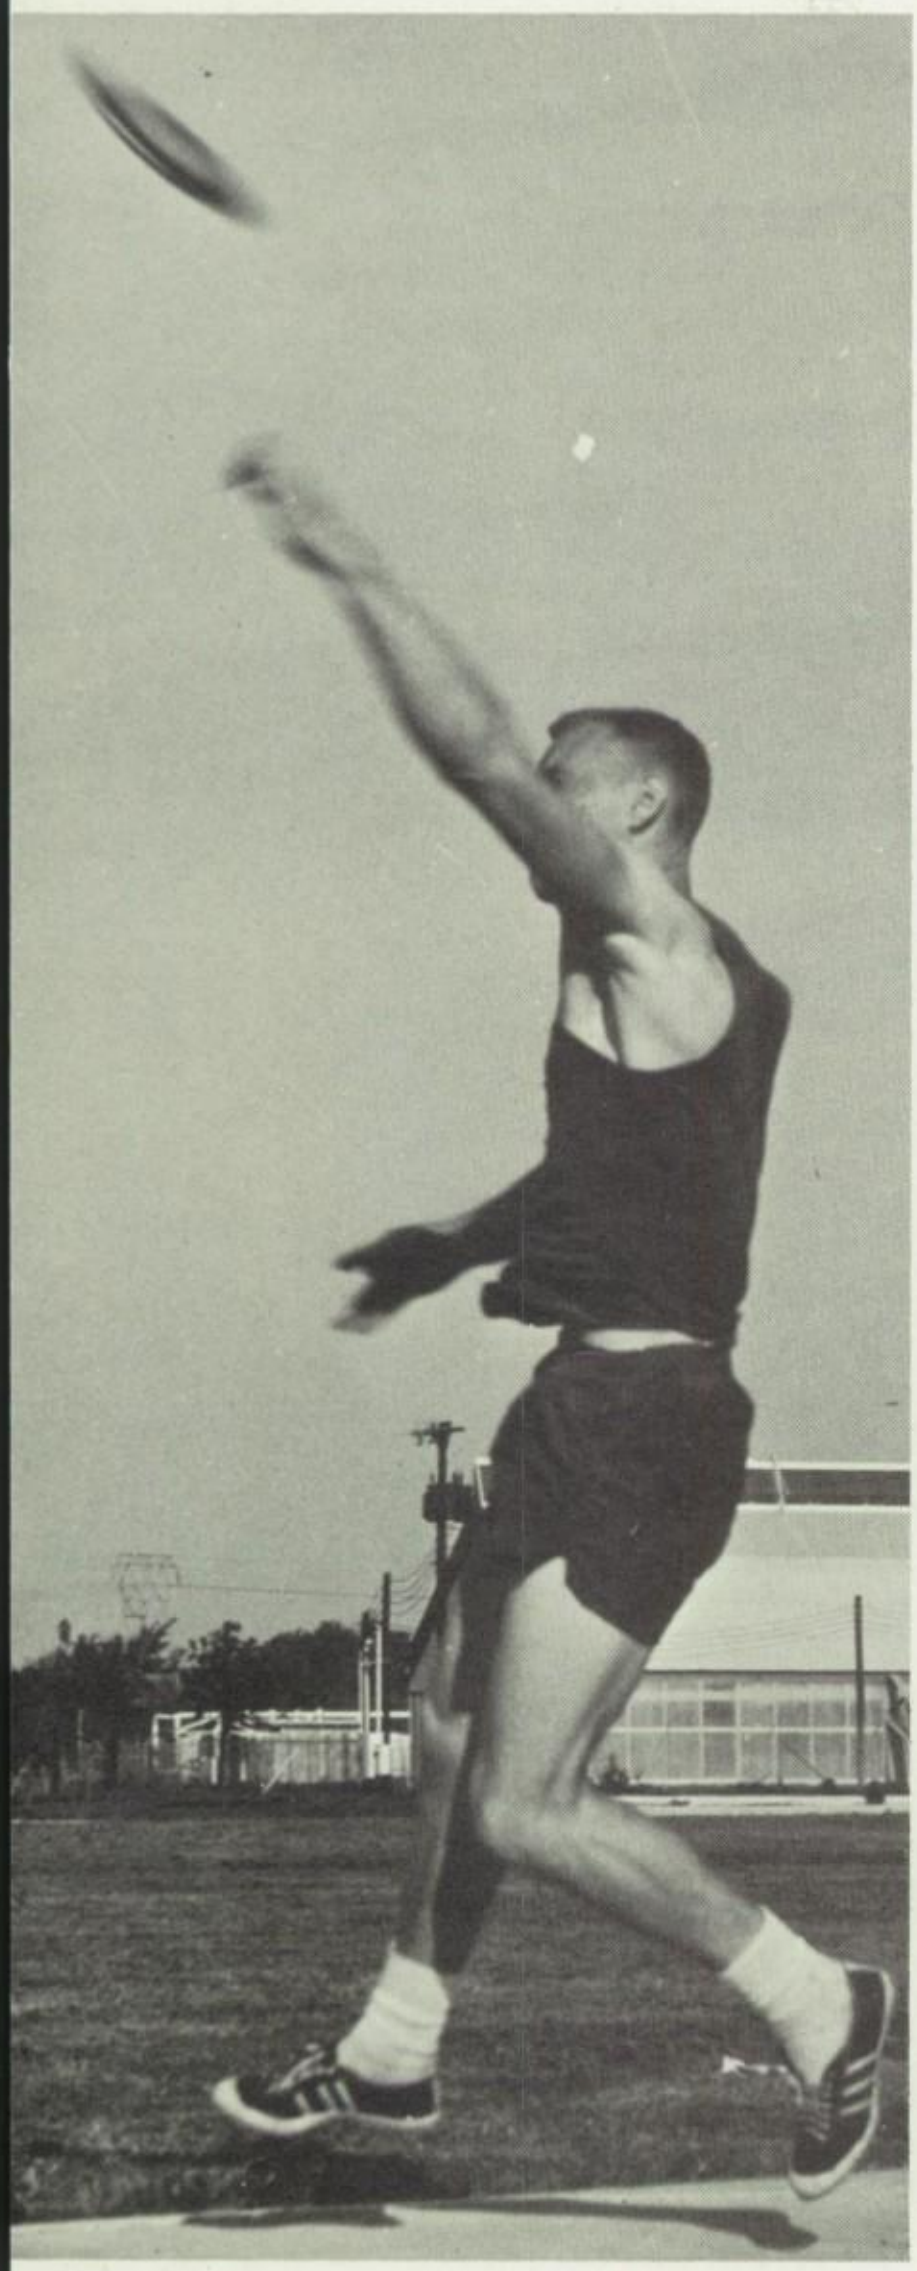
The Mustang Baseball Team, under the direction of Coach Don Freiling, had the benefit of an experienced team. Returning lettermen from last year's squad included Walter Denzer, Joe Settlemeyer, Tim Johnson, Arthur Villela, and Roger Martinez. Coach Freiling thought that these boys would add depth to the team.

Last year the baseball team was third in district standings with a 6-5 district record while winning nine and losing seven in over all season play.

Arthur Villela, one of the Mustangs' outstanding defensive players, fields a grounder at practice.

One of the leading hurlers for the team, Walter Denzer, fires a strike past an opposing batter.

Trackmen Race for District



One of the outstanding track performers, Joe Nobis strains to hurl the discus during a track meet.

In September trackmen ran in preparation for the District Track Meet in the spring. Running progressive hundreds, laps, and 50 or 100-yard dashes was part of the daily routine for a track star.

The track team under the direction of Coach Bob Burk worked every day during sixth period. At the end of the football season the football players joined the track team.

Golfer's Drive

Golf team's number one man, Jim Bishop, lashes into a tee shot on the third hole at Brackenridge Park.

One of the squad's outstanding putters, Tommy Thrailkill, gets ready to stroke this putt in for a birdie.

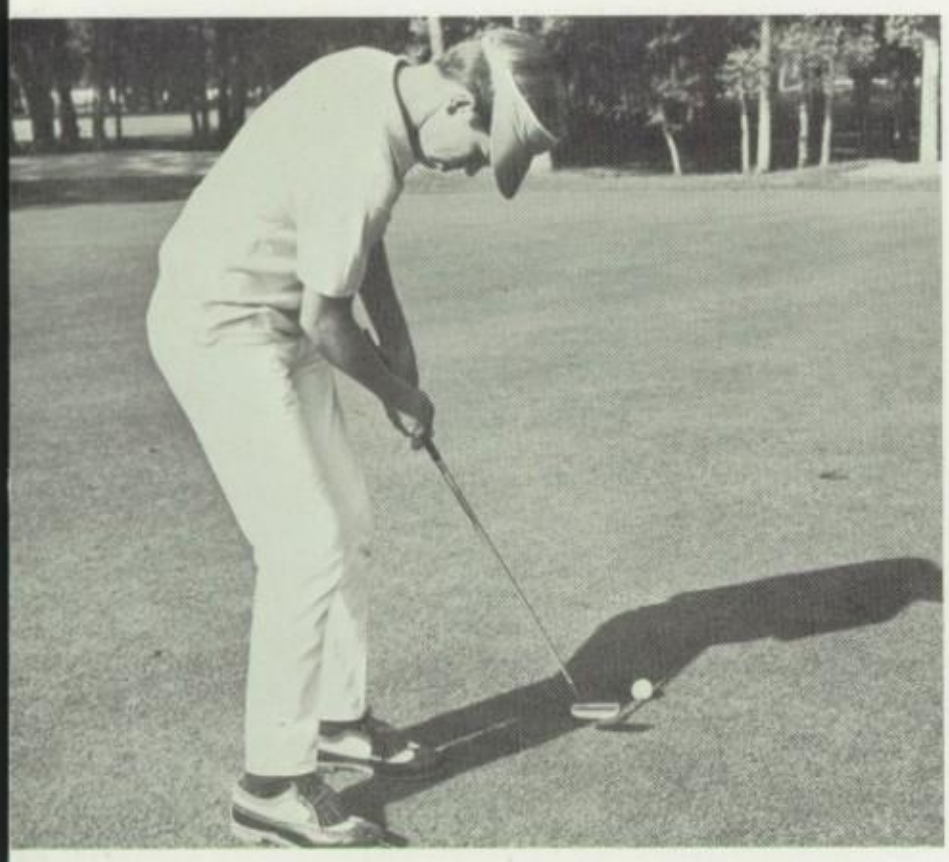
for District Title



On the second hole at Brackenridge Park, Paul Adkins rams a par putt into the cup.

In the Spring of 1966, the Mustang golf team, under the direction of Mr. William Pitt, finished third in the district golf meet. This spring the squad hoped to do better despite strong Robert E. Lee and Alamo Heights teams.

Qualifying rounds for the golf team were played every Monday and Thursday at either Brackenridge Park, Olmos Basin, or Willow Springs Golf Course. The top eleven men played in district while the top five golfers represented Jeff at out of town tournaments in Brady, Lampasas, Austin, New Braunfels, and the Northeast Tournament at Canyon Creek.

Bob Ozer blasts out of a sand trap to save his par on the eighth hole at Brackenridge.

Deserving Students Receive Honor

Feelings of pride, happiness, and anxiety are experienced by the newly-elected members of National Honor Society as they await their initiation. Parents, as well as friends, are welcome at the ceremony to see the new members pinned with the symbolic colors red, gold, purple, and white. These symbolize the purposes of the society which are to promote scholarship, leadership, character, and service.

To be a member of this society, the faculty judges the student not only by grades, but by his ability of leadership and other outstanding characteristics.

Ambitious journalists make up the enrollment for the Quill and Scroll. To be eligible for this honorary journalism society, the applicant must be recognized for outstanding achievement on the publication staff of the Monticello, Declaration, or Each Has Spoken.

A ceremony honoring the initiates was held on December 4 at the Manor Baptist Church. The guest speaker was Dave Burkett, a member of the public relations department at Trinity University. Following the ceremony was a reception at which the parents met the sponsor Mrs. Jane Folbre, and learned more about the club.

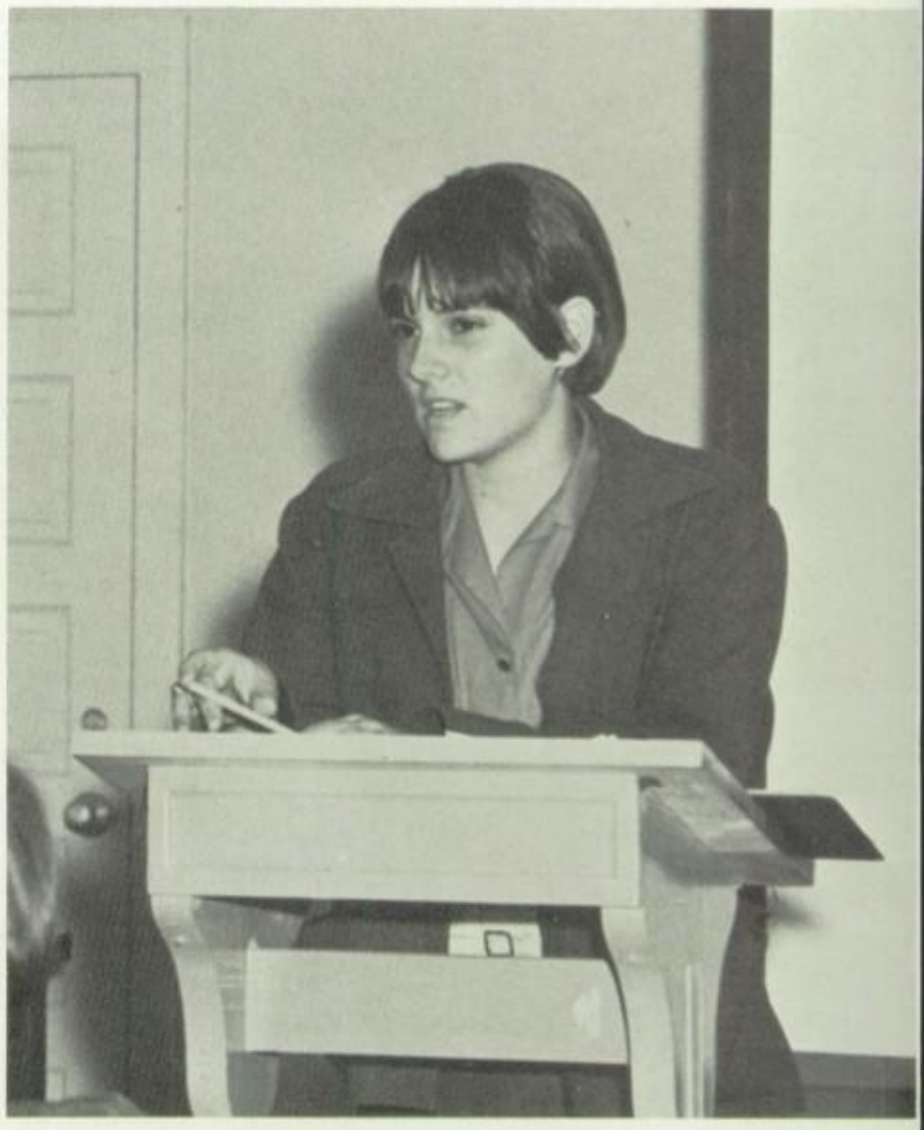
EHS's Password Becomes Creativity

The English Honor Society is made up of eighty-four students, each dedicated to developing a taste for good literature. To gain membership in the society, a student must submit an original composition or piece of artwork to the sponsors, Mrs. Josephine Lindsey and Mrs. Martha McCall.

Through the Bookstore and annual Bookfair, the English Honor Society makes a wide range of reading material available to the student body. The EHS Bookstore is open for business before school and during the noon hour in the main hall. The Bookfair, in December, brought an even greater selection of books to the student market.

The EACH HAS SPOKEN literary magazine encourages students' efforts in creative writing, artwork, and photography. The magazine's staff is made up of English Honor Society members. A student review board oversees the selection of materials for the magazine.

The spring banquet was the English Honor Society's last function of the school year.



At an EHS meeting, Sue Doerr emphasizes the importance of submitting original compositions to EACH HAS SPOKEN.

Masque and Gavel Dramatists

Members of Masque and Gavel National Honor Society practice and perfect their dramatic talents. After the fall initiation, the membership grew to forty-seven students, all dedicated to furthering dramatics.

At the annual Trinity Speech Festival, many of the members competed against students from other Texas schools in categories of after dinner speaking, duet acting, poetry reading, and single acting.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Peggy East and Miss Betty Ann Janert, the members of Masque and Gavel entertained audiences both at school and in the community. A skit taken from "A Midsummer Night's Dream" was presented at local churches. Many of the performers in the variety of plays presented to school audiences are also members of Masque and Gavel.

A busy year of dramatic activity was brought to an end by the Masque and Gavel banquet, honoring senior members, in the spring.

New member Nancy Ridgeway receives from Linda Hughes a ribbon symbolizing acting ability and interest in dramatics.

Cricket Hughes, Vana Romell, Claudia Marple, Wayne Bennett, and Sherilyn Flurry are ready to prompt Pat Patterson if he forgets his lines in this Junior Play rehearsal.

Library Order Tops Council Agenda

Gathering up magazines at the end of each period, Denice Williams, Council member, wonders if she has missed any.

Concerned with carrying out good study habits in the library, the Library Council strives to maintain a studious atmosphere in the library. Council members, elected by students in their own library period, attend meetings every Thursday during second advisory in the library. Bobby Bovello was given the job of heading the Council as its chairman and Mrs. Lynda McCutcheon is sponsor.

Library Council members check roll at the beginning of each period and pick up magazines at the end. In addition to this, Council members are responsible for making sure that all books being taken from the library are properly checked out.

Snowman's Ball Marks Peak of

Beginning with the Sophomore Orientation in the fall, members of the Student Council worked their way through the school year issuing parking decals, sponsoring victory dances, movies, and paper drives. During registration, Council members provided refreshments for teachers. It was also the job of the members to keep Jeff's red and blue dome lights burning on the nights of athletic competitions. Aside from school improvement projects, the Student Council sponsored a food and clothing drive at Christmas for the less fortunate people of the city. Also around Christmas time, the Council sponsored the annual Snowman's Ball.

Several times each year, the members took it upon themselves to clean out the Student Council Fish Pond. For the convenience of the seniors, the Council also kept a social calendar listing graduation parties at the end of the year.

Mrs. Louise Aderhold and Mr. James Heiser constituted the guidance needed for this school organization.

Desperately, Scott De Shea and Pat Walker try to convince their dates Neta Saathoff and Gwyn Williams that dancing in Stocking feet is permissable—even at the Snowman's Ball.

After checking the red and blue dome lights, principal, Mr. Bob Chambers, and Tommy Graves start back down the stairs.

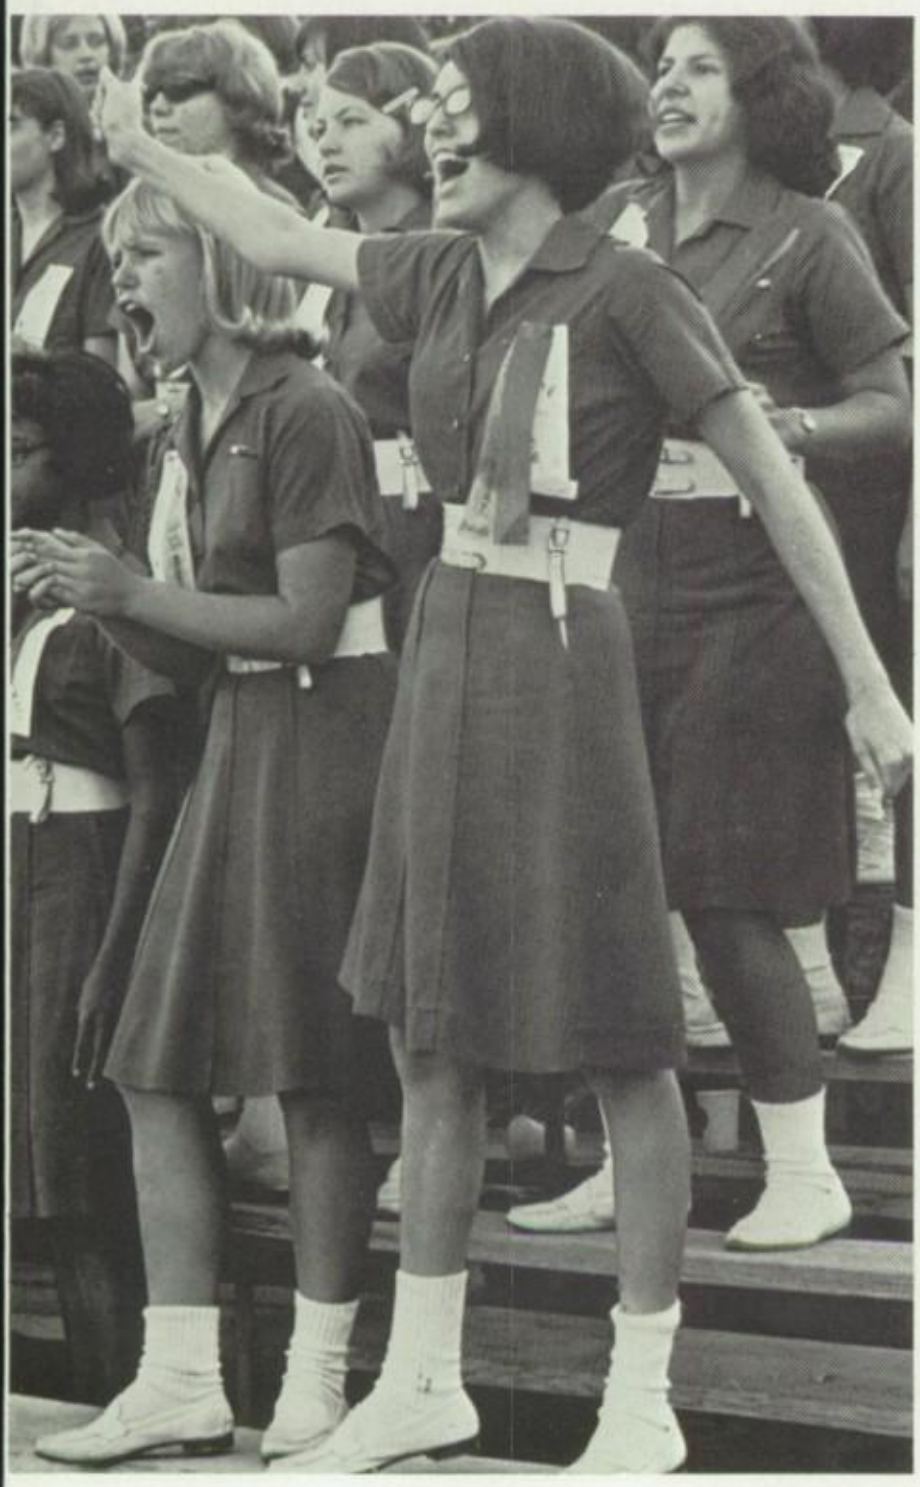
Holy halftime!!! Have the Lassos gone batty at the MacArthur football game?

Lassos Cheer, Delight Fans



In an attempt to be heard by the Ponies, Lassos Connie Coker and Kaye Gonzales cheer enthusiastically.

Clad in their traditional colorful uniforms, 180 Lassos carry on numerous services during the year. Performing during athletic game halftimes, aiding teachers in the office, making banners for the gym, and participating in charity drives were their projects.

Lassos were proud to have their president, Linda Katz, and Major Linda Hall, represent them at a charity program where they gave Danny Kaye a ten gallon hat. Setting the pace for this active cheering section is their sponsor Miss Bess Richards.

During the Lasso Backwards Week, girls walked boys to classes and took them to the Backwards Dance on April 1. The Lassos annual Chuckwagon Day in May was eagerly awaited. This climaxes the term with the announcements of outstanding Lassos and the new officers.

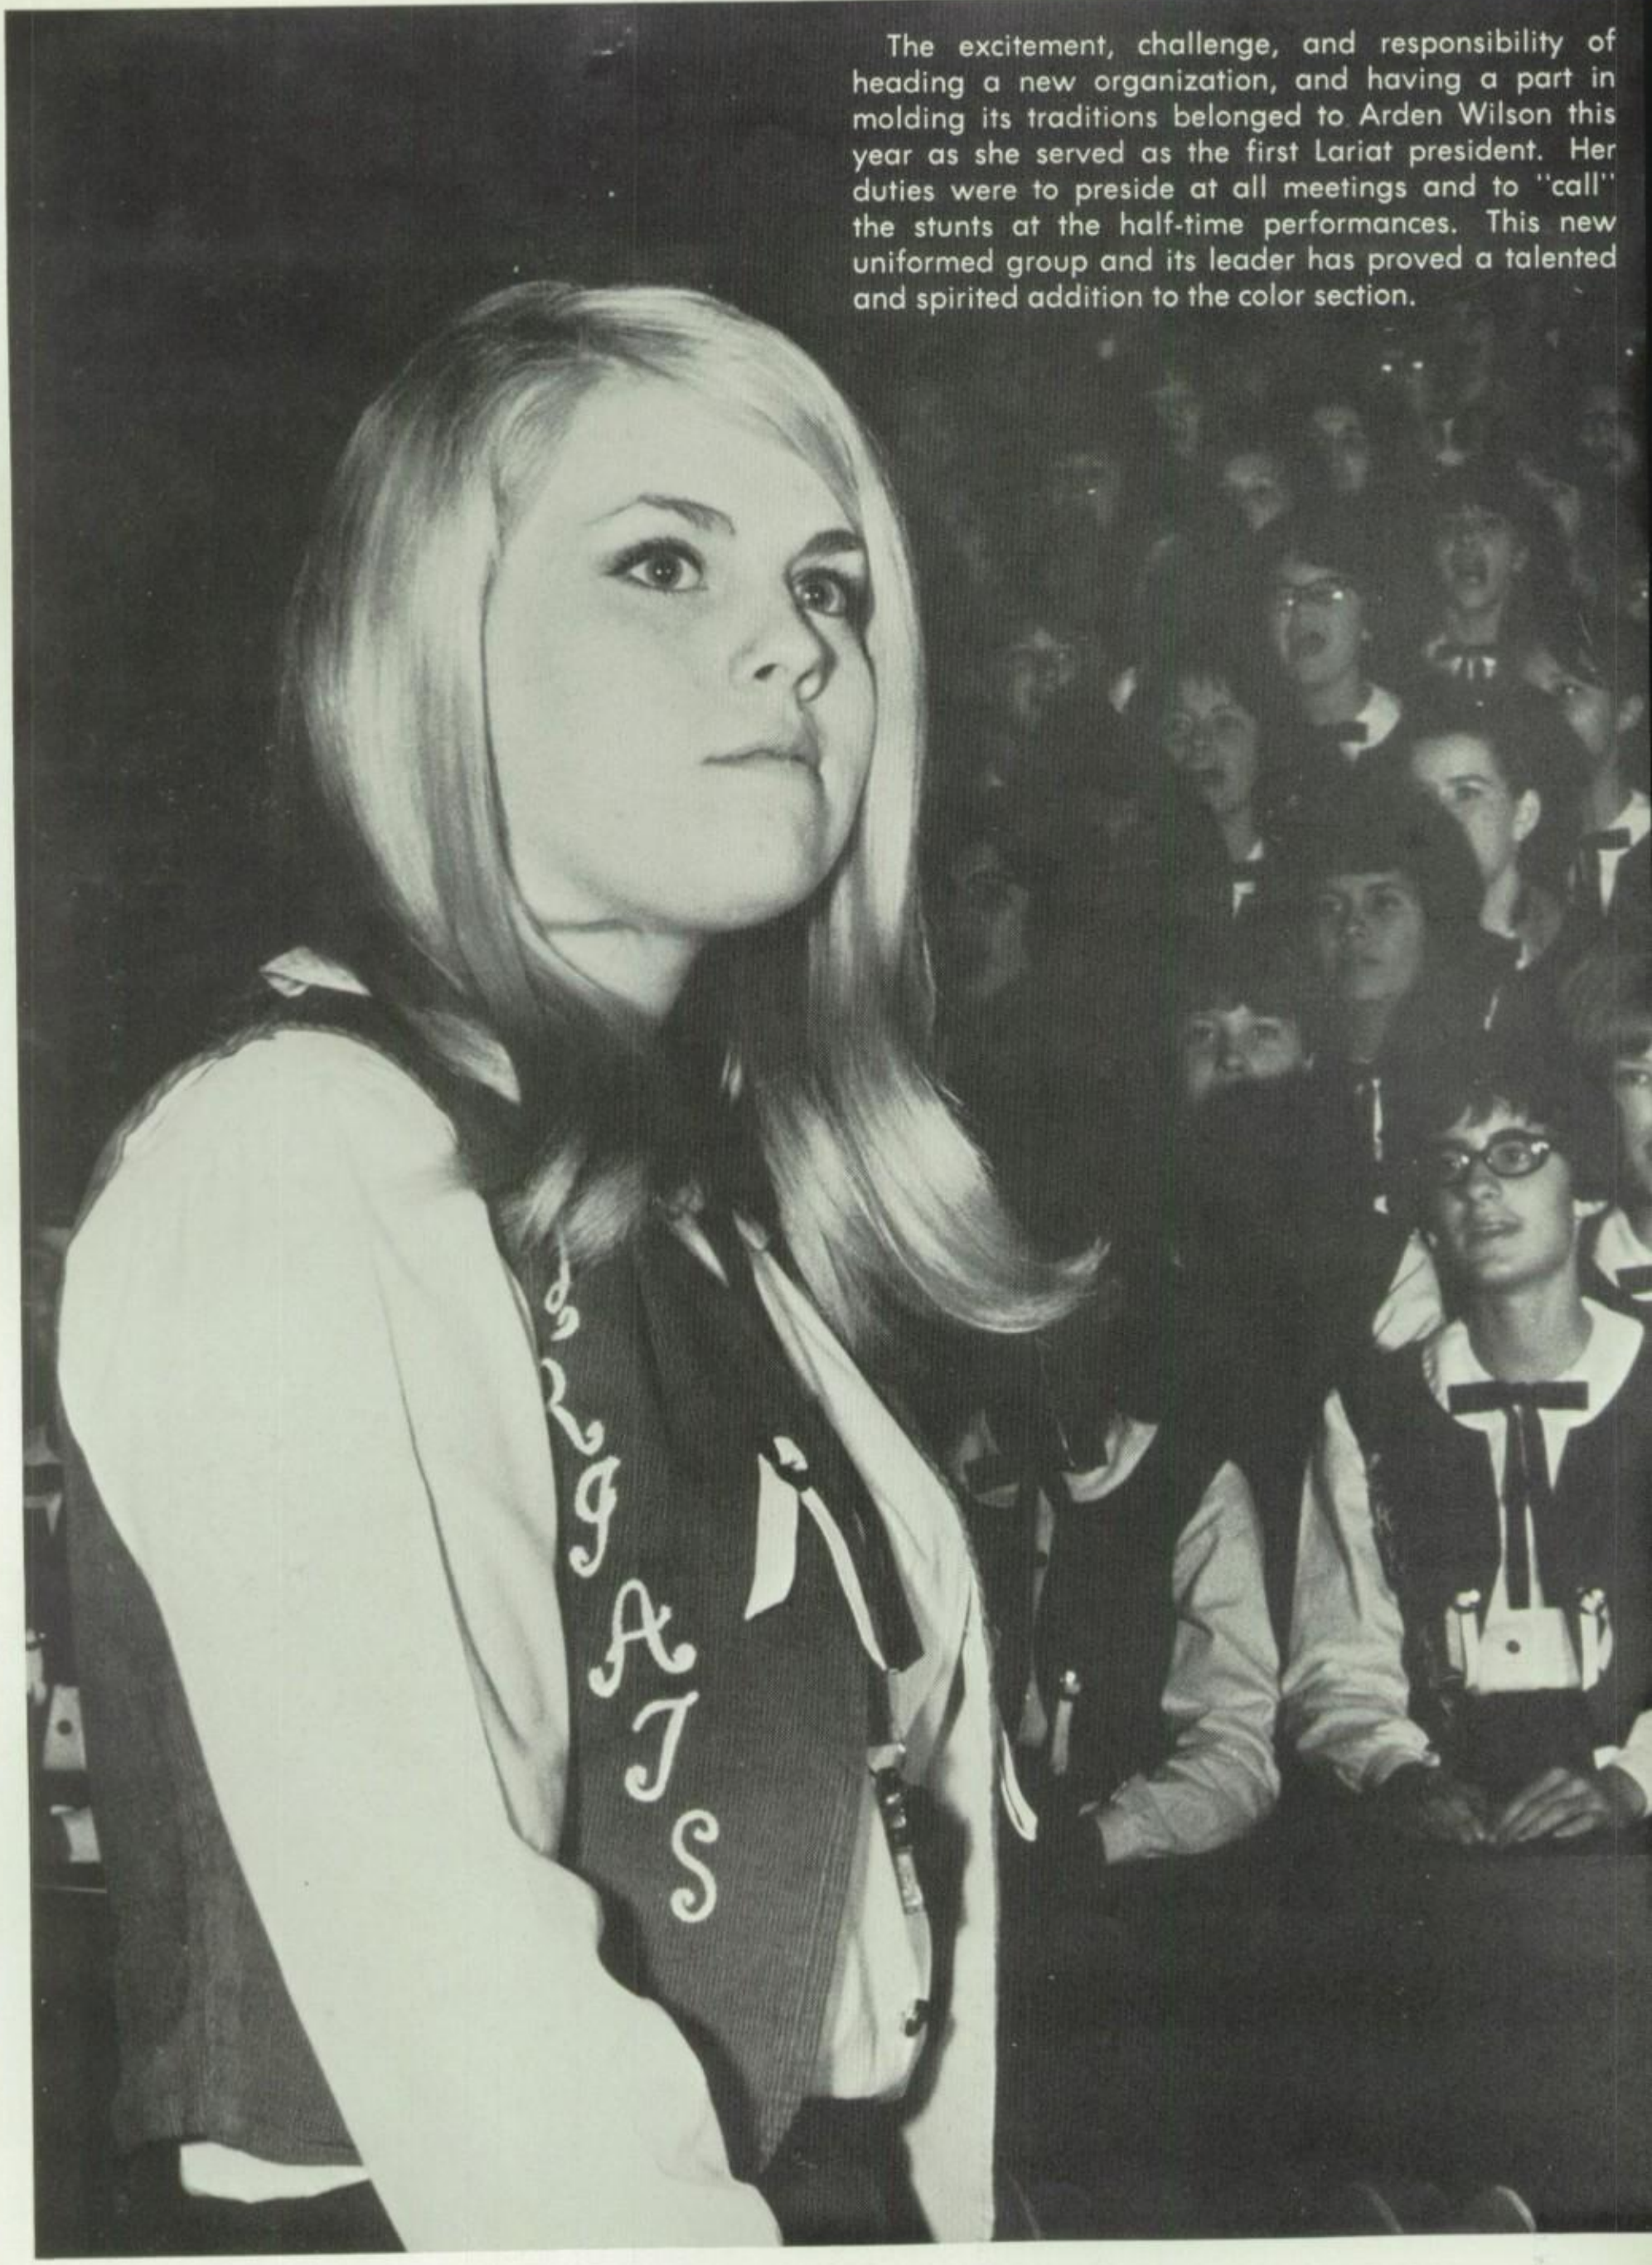
The excitement, challenge, and responsibility of heading a new organization, and having a part in molding its traditions belonged to Arden Wilson this year as she served as the first Lariat president. Her duties were to preside at all meetings and to "call" the stunts at the half-time performances. This new uniformed group and its leader has proved a talented and spirited addition to the color section.



Lariats Form New Color Section

Checking individual instruction sheets keeps Barbara Glomski busy at Thursday afternoon practice sessions.

Adding to the color section at football games are the red, white, and blue uniformed Lariats, organized last spring with the encouragement of Mr. Bob Chambers, principal.

As a result of spring practice, the Lariats were ready to function at games by the fall of that same year. The majority of the card stunts were designed by a special design committee. The clarity and accuracy of the card stunts, some of which were "TJ", "HI", and "SA", which stands for San Antonio, surprised and delighted audiences at football games. In addition to these stunts, phrases such as "GO, FIGHT, WIN", and "HIT 'EM" were represented.

The Lariats also participated in social functions. Early in the year, a surprise birthday party was held for one of the two sponsors, Miss Dolores Dyer. During the Yuletide season, a party was enjoyed by the Lariats.

Freshman, sophomore, and junior girls with an average above 1.5 are encouraged to apply for membership in the fall and spring by sponsors Miss Maribeth Roberts and Miss Dolores Dyer.

After calling out the stunt number, Arden Wilson prepares to blow her whistle to signal Lariats to begin.

Musicians Make Tijuana Taxi

With enthusiasm the Mustang Band has strived to reach the high goals set forth by previous bands. The ever present loyalty and spirit of each band member is vibrated through the stands at each game.

The band began the new school year with such activities as playing and marching for football half-time shows, marching contests, an ice cream social, and candy and cake sales. Later in the year they sponsored a Mexican Supper and participated in the Rodeo Parade, the Band Festival, Battle of Flowers, and Jefferson on Parade.

Something new for the band members this year was their red and blue Mustang Band shirts bearing their names.

Sponsoring and directing the band was Mr. Moddie Smith who had much assistance from Band Mother, Mrs. Ermine Armstrong. Drum Major Bobby Emery, and Majorettes Sharon Endicott, Kathy Jones and Loretta Anderson worked together to make each performance a success.

Military Service Aids Cadets

Rigid discipline, habits of orderliness and precision, and respect for constituted authority are the principles which the ROTC strives to uphold.

Boasting the largest enrollment of the last five years, the cadets participated in Drill and Rifle competitions at Laredo in January, and in the city-wide meet at Alamo Stadium in May. The federal inspection in March covered personal neatness, cleanliness and conditions of weapons, knowledge of military science, and a thorough inspection of the Armory itself.

Sergeants John Long and Murph Morrow, both recently returned from Viet Nam, were the ROTC instructors this year. As new faculty members, they assisted with the popular Turkey Shoot.

The social highpoint of the year for the cadets was the Military Ball, in April. One of the three corsage formals, it is limited to ROTC cadets and their dates.

Bringing the year to an appropriate close was the announcement of next year's commander at Chuckwagon Day.

Cadet Fred Jones hopes his uniform isn't to wilted for sixth period inspection.

Wranglers Lend A Hand

Organized in 1958, the Wranglers, a service organization, have proved themselves indispensable daily. The club was organized when two students decided the school needed a group of boys to perform necessary tasks around the campus. Their main functions included running the projectors for various clubs and teachers requesting their assistance, and taking care of the Public Address system at pep rallies and football games.

A few years after they were organized the Wranglers built the Pony Scoreboard, and ever since have kept score at all Pony games. In addition to these tasks the members also distributed and collected all caps and gowns for the graduation exercises in May.

The Wranglers are sponsored by Mr. Harold Tillman and Mr. Maurice Turner.

As a symbol of the long hard hours of practice and play, lettermen jackets arrive for Donnie Harrell, Phil Barnett, and Rudy Buenrostro as well as other lettermen.

" . . . he'll wear a "J" Club pin and he'll be best" is the familiar phrase of the song "The Boy That I'll Marry," a song that signifies the organization of the athletic lettermen.

The club, sponsored by Coach Robert Burke, consists of boys lettering in football, basketball, golf, tennis, and track. During the lunch hour, the boys clean tables, help keep the cafeteria in order, take trays, and are also cashiers.

The big events of the year are the "J" Club-Faculty Basketball game which was February 24, and the Roundballer's Ball in honor of the basketball boys on March 3.

Tamalada, Tea Spark

Lasting friendships are made in the Martha Jefferson Randolph Society, or MJR's. They began the year with the election of officers and admittance of new members.

A tamalada in October was followed by the Mother-Daughter Tea in November. At the tea the new sophomores were initiated and the officers installed. At Christmas, a luncheon was held where each member brought a toy. These were later distributed to needy children.

In January, the members of Hayne and MJR got together for their annual semi-formal at Stranges Party House. To end the year, a dinner-dance was held honoring the seniors in May.

At the Tamalada at Rebecca Ewing's house, Linda Herring gives the tamales a flavor test as Nancy Post reaches for her second.

"The bright green one is mine," says Linda Yantis proudly showing off her ability to wrap packages to the other MJR officers.

Brother Club to the MJR's, the Hayne Club encourages friendship among it's members. Included in their calendar was a closed dance in October, a western dance with Senate in November, a semi-formal dance with the MJR's in January, an open school dance in March, and the Hayne outing in May.

Even though the organization is designated as a social club, it's members are ready to serve in many capacities. They helped during registration, aided the Lariats in transporting equipment, and furnished a cheering section at games.

In appreciation for the help they received from Hayne, the Lariats gave the club a Christmas party in the cafeteria. Mr. Lewis Hutchinson proudly sponsors this club.

"Don't look now but we're being watched," says Sally Sanders to her out of town date Mike Graff.

Shakes Shake

For over thirty years, girls have become members of the Shakespeare Literary Society. They are still able to receive as much enjoyment as did girls of Main Avenue High School, where the society originated in January of 1934.

Their main interests are to promote friendship, to perform services for the school, and to maintain the Rose Garden on the Southeast Lawn.

On December 2, Shakes presented the annual style show, having senior Shakes model the fashions of Robinson's. "Rome Adventure" was held at the school gym on February 11, which upheld the tradition of the annual Sweetheart's Ball and also gave each senior member one of her last nights to remember as a Shakespeare girl.

Planning for the initiation, Niki Bournias and Judy Martin discuss the requirements a new Shakes must meet before she receives the "deadly" egg.

To brighten up the end of a long day, Kathleen Ferguson and Marlyne Riley delight over a piece of cake from the Shakes cake sale.

Shakes' Ball Inspires Romance

Resting from the routine of dancing, Alan Schwartz and his date find a quiet place to talk. . .

"Little Sisters" Get a Make-up Lesson

During the busy months of the Jasper year, February proved to be the busiest, as Jaspers prepared for the annual Shamrock Ball. Decorations for the dance included pots of gold and a blarney stone as well as the traditional green and white shamrock pillows. Refreshments, carrying out the St. Patrick's Day theme, were also part of the decorations.

Other activities included cake sales, the Christmas dinner and party, the fall and spring installations of officers, and the initiations of new members.

Despite the activity-filled calendar, Jaspers found time to support an Easter community project, and their camellia garden.

Jaspers provided themselves looks to the past and present during the spring banquet at which time they honored the club's seniors.

Initiates find that becoming a Jasper involves taking a "make-up lesson" from the old members as well as hearing the traditional speeches and being dropped.

Forming one of the school's many active clubs, is the Martha Skelton Literary Society. Functioning mainly as a social club, one of the first socials of the year was an initiation for new members at the home of an older member. Another initiation was partnered with a Christmas party. This year, an exchange-gifts party was held at the home of the members instead of the traditional Christmas banquet.

During the spring months, there was a Skelton activity for every month. On March 18, "Essence of India" was the theme of the Senate-Skelton Spring Formal. In contrast to this dance, a down-to-earth Skelton outing was held at Raymond Russell Park in April. The Senate-Skelton Tamalada held every year on the Skelton Patio was held in the spring also. Ending the year's roster of activities was the Senior Banquet. Held at the St. Anthony Hotel on May 18, the banquet was designed to honor all graduating senior Skeltons and to announce next year's president. Mrs. Betty Crain was sponsor.

New member, Elizabeth Tomme, laughs unbelievingly as president Jan McNeil informs her of what she is to do before she can become a full member of the club.

Whenever there was any work to be done or fun to be had, a Senator was there. Members of the Senate Club were present at almost all school activities. As an active service club, the Senate helped decorate the gym for all dances held there. During the football season, they not only helped to put up the goalpost banners, but they also decorated cars for the Highlands game. In addition to all this, the Senate Club won the Intramural Football title.

At the very beginning of the Senate social scene, Mountaintop Inn was the location of the Senate-Hayne Western Dance held in November. With the coming of the new semester, an initiation of new members and a dance were held at Aggie Park. "Essence of India", the theme of the Senate-Skelton Spring Formal, held on March 18, was an exotic interlude for all who attended. The Skelton Patio was the location for the Senate-Skelton Tamalada—one of the last social activities of the year.

To become a member of the Senate Club, sophomore, junior, and senior boys with a grade average of a "C" must turn in their applications to Mr. Lionel Gregory, sponsor. After all applications are turned in, members are picked at random to fill the vacancies in the club.

Chuck Waghorne has four hands when clapping spiritedly in support of the Mustang basketball team. Tommy Graves takes a calmer view of the game.

Tuneful Program

Under the baton of Mr. Raymond Moses, the Jeffersonaires continued to maintain their high standards of musical excellence to the delight and satisfaction of appreciative audiences.

Jeffersonaires began the year with a waffle breakfast honoring the new members. On November 30, they presented a program at Jefferson Methodist Church, and at the yule-tide season, they caroled through the halls. The end-of-the-year banquet in May in which next year's officer were announced climaxed an exciting year.

Lovely dresses to match lovely voices—these Jeffersonaires performed at the Jefferson Methodist Recreation Hall in November.

Casting their books aside, Jeff-aires gather around to sing a few bars of their favorite melodies.

Roland Parga, Marcia McClain, Joel Lee, Sam Rotman, Mike Salyers, and Santo Gomez, All-State Choir finalists, gather around a piano to rehearse their parts in the Christmas Assembly.

Along

Somber and thoughtful were the faces of the student body while the A Capella Choir presented Bach's "For Unto Us a Child Is Born," and an Easter cantata before Easter vacation. Revealing their lighter side, the Choir entertained the student body with A Cavalcade of Melody, a paid assembly in the spring.

Displaying their talents further the songsters performed for the PTA Council at La Villita, at the Administraters' Banquet, for several PTA meetings, and they set the background for many assemblies.

Since nothing worth while ever occurs without careful preparation, the choir members practiced often in the early morning hours to perfect their sound.

Honor came to five choir members, who with the help of Mr. Raymond Moses, sponsor, became All-State Choir finalists.

As the Glee Club's pianist, Colleen Douglas accompanies Cora Vargas, Paula Pileggi, Vanessa Thaler, and Lois Loeffler as they sing a tuneful melody.

Derived from an old Anglo-Saxon word, "glee" means music, and music is what the members of the Girls' Glee Club make. By learning the fundamentals of music and singing from their director, Mr. Raymond Moses, these musicmakers prepare themselves for admission into the Jeffersonaires or the A Capella Choir. They spend many hours studying music history and diction. Their delightful and joyous singing fill the choral room and show that long hours of practice pay off.

Beginning with an enrollment of eight in 1952, the orchestra has increased to a membership of sixty. Music lovers have found that it instills in them a lasting interest in good music. Under the direction of Mr. Raymond Moses, the Orchestra performed for civic groups, church clubs, and the PTA. Another show in which they participated was the Cavalcade of Melody, a paid assembly held in the spring. Outstanding members were David Anderson, Bill Atkerson, Burt Morriss, Gerald Schoelzel, Gary Scheer, and Susan Taylor who achieved the all-state status.

Though his thoughts are elsewhere, Christian Melin knows he must keep practicing.

Time, Tact, And Talent Make Talacades

Singing, dancing, acting, and playing instruments are a few of the talents that belong to students in Talacades. Mr. Raymond Moses, sponsor, helps members to improve their talents in various fields.

Each year the members participate in many service projects. They performed at Lackland Air Force Base and Fort Sam Houston, and they also entertained at Morning Side Manor, a rest home. Some of the folk-singing members performed at the newly-opened Gate House Coffee Shop.

Members were selected on basis of talent.

German Club Would Rather Eat

Striving to stimulate interest in the German language, culture, customs, and traditions, the German Club members have enjoyed German types of entertainment—such as picnicking at their annual Wurst Fest or enjoying German food at the Bavarian Inn. The German Club has also had its annual cake sale and wiener roast. Highlighting this year's activities for the German Club was the picnic at Travis Lake which took place on the Saturday after Fiesta Week.

Aside from entertainment, the German Club has a publication's staff which is similar to the Declaration staff except in one aspect—the German Club staff publishes its newspaper, the Hin Und Her, in German. The Hin Und Her, or Here and There, is published bi-monthly. It features German witticisms, news, and bulletins about the club.

The German Club is sponsored by Mrs. Lucy Basedow and Mr. Carl North.

Favorable conditions pave the way towards enjoyable conversations at the German banquet for Gerald Schoelzel, Susan Taylor, Linda Gillum, Mary Zaccaria, and Hattie Knape.

Arranging and scheduling meetings and activities for the German Club, under the watchful eyes of Diana Van der Veer and Elizabeth Redus, prove to be an ever trying chore for president Ingelore Uhlmann.

Candlelight, sauerkraut, and a quaint old German dining room all add up to a lovely evening and an enjoyable setting for German Club members, Diana Van der Veer and George Lindsey.

Viva Español

Interest in the Spanish language inspired several students to form a club, the purpose of which was to speak Spanish and learn about the lands in which it is spoken.

The Spanish Club began its busy year on October 26, with two films on Mexico and a party following. Mexican pastries, called Bunuelos, were served for refreshments. Attending one of their meetings was a speaker from the Mexican Consulate, who discussed Mexico and the Spanish language with the students.

Miss Charlotte Wright, who also teaches Spanish, sponsors the club.

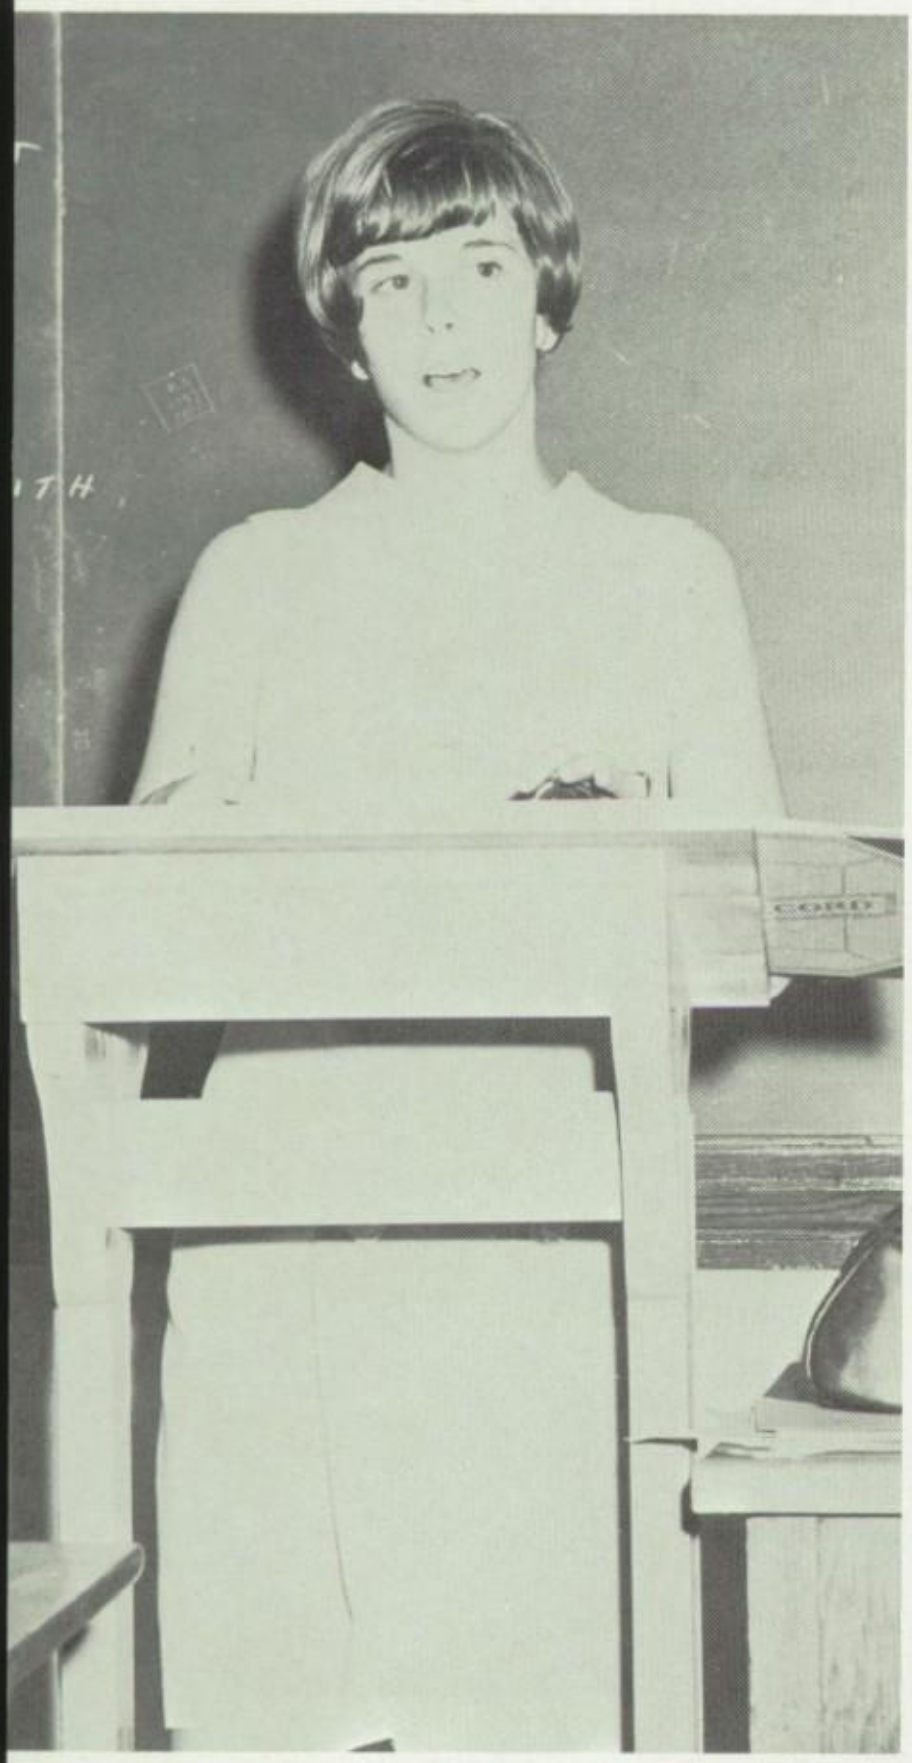
French Club Plans Mardi-Gras



At one of the French Club's bi-weekly meetings, President Becky DeWeese calls for a report from Mardi-Gras committee chairmen.

Bringing about an understanding of French culture, ideas, and philosophy, and creating and maintaining interest in the French language are the French Club's goals.

Members of the French Club began another active year with a surprise birthday party for their sponsor, Mrs. Virginia Creed, September 28. Learning to sing folk songs in French, and attending the traditional "gouter" or snack, at the home of former teacher Mrs. Barbara McDougall, French Club members sang, ate, and studied their way through another year.

The International Mardi-Gras, on February 17 at Christ Episcopal Church featured decorations and foods from foreign countries. A band played for dancing, and entertainment was furnished by French Club members.

The French Club's annual Spring Banquet brought another lively year to a close for the French Club.

Latin Club Talks of Travel

Ancient Greece and Rome are brought to life for Latin Club members through the study of the language, art, and culture of the people. Many of the club's programs are comprised of speeches by persons who have visited the Mediterranean countries. These speeches, together with the annual "Toga Party," are the Latin Club's main activities.

The Spring Banquet, honoring the senior members, is presided over by president Judy Hooper, and the sponsor, Mrs. Antoinette Moore.

Coeds Campaign, Install

During the FTA installation of officers, Linda Shaddox, first vice president, follows the tradition of lighting the candle symbolizing the "torch of knowledge."

Students interested in teaching as a profession may benefit by joining Future Teachers of America. This club helps prospective teachers better understand the responsibilities of teaching. This year, members of FTA spent some of their afternoons at La Trinidad Church helping the small children with their homework and making for themselves new friends.

Mrs. Lorraine Kirk and Mr. George Scheer, sponsors of FTA, encourage students to attend the District and State conventions. The 1966 District Convention, held at Sequin High School, attracted future teachers from the whole area surrounding San Antonio. Sandy Cloyd was elected Financial Secretary of the District.

Caduceus Club Makes Debut

Making its debut this year is the Caduceus Club, a nationally affiliated para-medical organization welcoming anyone with an interest in the field of medicine. The club is aptly named, for the caduceus is the familiar emblem of the medical profession—the two serpents entwined about a staff.

Emphasis this year was placed on careers other than doctoring and nursing. Guest speakers opened the eyes of club members to the benefits of a career as a medical technician or librarian, or in one of the many other related medical fields.

The new club, sponsored by Miss Amy Kinkler, ended the year with a spring banquet.

Representatives from the San Antonio College for Medical and Dental Assistants show Caduceus President Mike Mann the many advantages of a career in the medical field.

Goblins Adorn FHA Cakes

Striving to learn the best ways to perform the skills of omemaking are the Future Homemakers of America. nder the direction of Mrs. Lou Pyka, sponsor, the future omemakers sought to put their skills to work. Students who came to the FHA cake sale found that ordinary cakes ad become works of art through clever Halloween decoations.

During club meetings, the future homemakers heard uest speakers inform them on subjects ranging from hair nd skin care to several aspects of marriage.

Installing officers was the first order of business on the ocial calendar. After the installation, the future homeakers and their mothers had a social. Other activities ncluded a Valentine's party, and a picnic honoring the raduating seniors.

Although it appears that the FBLA has discovered the valley of the Jolly Green Giant, they are really at the HemisFair viewing a miniature replica of the forthcoming exposition.

HemisFair Welcomes

Sponsored by Mrs. Elizabeth Younger and Mrs. Beverly Carson, the Future Business Leaders of America enjoyed one of the busiest years in its history. Early in October, members offered their services to the Bexar County Tuberculosis Association. Guest speakers from the Ben Shaw Modeling Agency and San Antonio College shared their knowledge and experience with the club. Also, members saw how a real office functions when they toured the USAA Building.

But the club did not devote all its time learning business skills. With a Christmas luncheon, a trip to the HemisFair, and a tamalada in May, they proved that business and pleasure mix.

Chaperoning the girls on their field trip to the Hemisfair was their co-sponsor Mrs. Beverly Carson (far right).

An antique covered wagon still used in Fiesta parades captures the imagination of History club members touring the Old Steves Homestead.

Yesterday

Various field trips were included in the list of activities for the History Club this year. Begining with a visit to the Old Steves Homestead, in November, the members began a circuit of tours which included observing a court in session, visiting the John Nance Garner museum in Uvalde, and touring the Job Corp Center, located near San Marcos. The members went through the old Navarro house, by the San Antonio jail, and toured the old Ursuline Academy for girls. They sponsored a cake sale to provide money in order to purchase 14 new history volumes for the Library. A state convention, in April, taking place in Austin, was one of the main highlights of the year.

The club was reorganized last year and Mrs. Sondra Gray is currently the sponsor. A club of many purposes, the History Club is concerned mainly in preparing interested high school for college classes and for their future.

One of the first homes in this part of the country to have running water, the Old Steves Homestead was a gift to the Conservation Society and is now enjoyed and studied by Marcy Bowers and Dinah Safir as they participate in the History Club's first field trip.

Scientifically inclined students comprise the Bi-Phy-Chem. These industrious members are never at a loss for things to do. This year, the club toured the Lone Star Brewery, and the Water Purification Plant near Universal City. Highlighting the middle of their busy year, the Bi-Phy-Chem celebrated Christmas with a party in conjunction with the Math Club.

Youths Turn Toward Religion

At their weekly meetings, members of the Youth For Christ discuss the changing ideas of today's youth and study the scriptures of the Bible. Y.F.C. members concern themselves with building good moral and spiritual character. In an attempt to achieve this goal, they read and act out parts of the Bible.

Miss Rita Webb, sponsor of the Youth For Christ, encourages the members to attend the city-wide meetings held once a month. At these meetings, the Jeff Y.F.C. members compete in contests as well as in attendance. These contests include quizzes on scriptures.

Springtime Means Baseball

Judging from Donna Fisher's disapproving look, Dolores Garcia might have just hit a few opposing batters—accidentally of course!

Members of the Sports Club take an active interest in games of all kinds. Volleyball, tennis, badminton, basketball, and baseball are among the many interests of these girls. Their sponsor, Miss Dolores Dyer, impresses upon the girls the ideas of good sportsmanship and fair play.

The club operates on a point system. During the year, each member tries to accumulate the greatest number of points by competing in the most events. Those girls who succeed are recognized at their annual spring picnic.

Sketching and Design Express Emotion

Organized in 1941, the Fine Arts Society was started to develop and extend an interest in the fine arts, drawings, paintings, and sculptures.

The members participated in a full year of activities by going on sketching trips around the school and in the backyards of private homes. They also made visits to local art centers such as the Witte Museum and McNay Art Institute. To add to the year's activities, lectures were given by local artists Bill Bristow, Frances Brinkmeyer, Phil Evetts, Mrs. Ann Wilson, and Amy Freeman Lee.

Sponsoring and directing the club's activities was Miss Ruby Dugosh.

With photography on the brain, Candid Camera Club members share an interest in perfecting their talents.

This departmental club was organized in 1953 and has been an active club ever since. With Mr. Victor Weiss as sponsor, members make a personal profit as well as served others by taking posed pictures at the formal dances.

Other activities included field trips to North Star Mall, Brackenridge Park, and San Jose Mission. They also took posed pictures of all the teachers, and made a scrap book of pictures to be given to Oscar Metzger, head custodian for twenty-five years, after his retirement.

From the merging of the old math club with a new engineering club came Mu Alpha Theta. Take the first letter of the first two words and first two of the third word and the word "math" is spelled. This combination of a math and an engineering club was for two reasons; to increase membership and to facilitate the growing number of students interested in engineering.

Mental activity is an important part of the club's program. During meetings, the members usually work difficult mathematical problems or read booklets sent to them by the Junior Engineering Technical Society with whom they are affiliated. Also on the roster of this year's activities was a field trip to the computer center at St. Mary's University in the later part of November.

An interest club designed for the benefit of those students sharing a common interest in stamp or coin collecting is the Philimatics Club. During regular meetings, the members hold "bourses". A "bourse" is the private exchange of stamps or coins between two people. For members desirous of selling duplicated or unwanted stamps, auctions are held.

Among their other activities, programs which consist of panel and special interests discussions are held twice a month. This December, Mr. Harry Cosmos lectured on the ancient coins of Greece.

The most interesting activity was the Christmas and spring picks. These were made possible by the purchase of various stamps and coins with the treasury's money, and allowed individuals to purchase articles which appealed to them.

All meetings and field trips are held under the sponsorship and direction of Miss Gloria Sain.

Radio Club Hams It Up

Opportunity knocks for boys having an interest in radio transmitting. Sponsored by Mr. Joseph L. Andrews, the members of the Radio Club learn all they can to increase their knowledge in transmitting.

New members strive to obtain their amateur license, while all the boys are looking forward to setting up a radio station in the Physics Lab in which they hope to continue to repair radios for students on a larger scale, and building and operating a space tracking station. During the year, boys participate in various activities. On field days, the members set up their equipment and compete with each other in making the most contacts. 16 Issue Paper Dedicated to Serve

Business manager Robert Louie pauses from typing his statements to help associate editor Priscilla Harlach check the preliminary proofs.

Dedicated to serving the student newspaper were the editors and members of the Declaration staff.

Contained in the sixteen-issue tabloid were articles to inform students of school problems and policies and promote enthusiasm for all activities.

At the beginning of the football season the staff produced its traditional spirit issue. Promoting spirit as well as showing a spark of originality was the paper printed in red and blue which was issued before the MacArthur football game.

Realizing the importance of the academic as well as the social side of school life, the Dec maintained a balance between curricular and extracurricular activities. Stories appeared on such things as the new Russian I and Creative Writing classes.

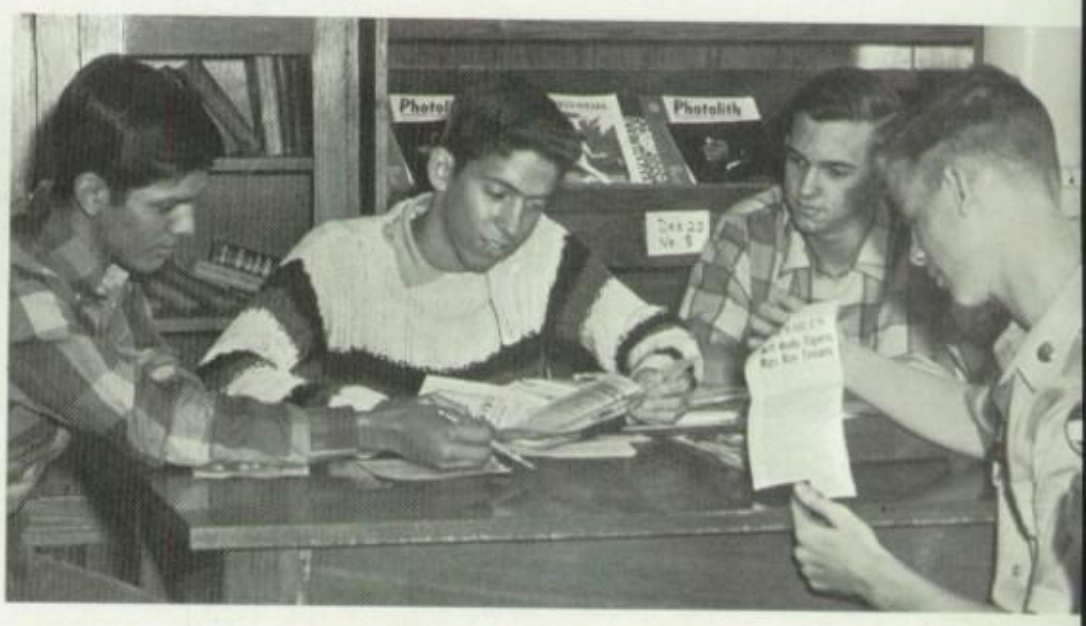
In November the publications department set out for a look at the HemisFair. March saw Dec staffers participating in the Interscholastic League Press Conference. Ending the year was the annual Publications Banquet, at which time the new editors were announced.

Whether they are working together or separately, the Dec staffers work diligently to meet their regular deadlines.

Publication's Staffs Combine

Besides writing for the Dec, Journalism I students learn many facets of journalism, such as how to effectively plan a page.

Ronnie Walker, Dec sports editor, walks to the next table to discuss his preliminary page proofs with other staffers.



Enjoying the pleasure of seeing their work in print are Dec staffers David de los Santos, Arthur Fagan, Larry Dyer, and Steve Zerrip.

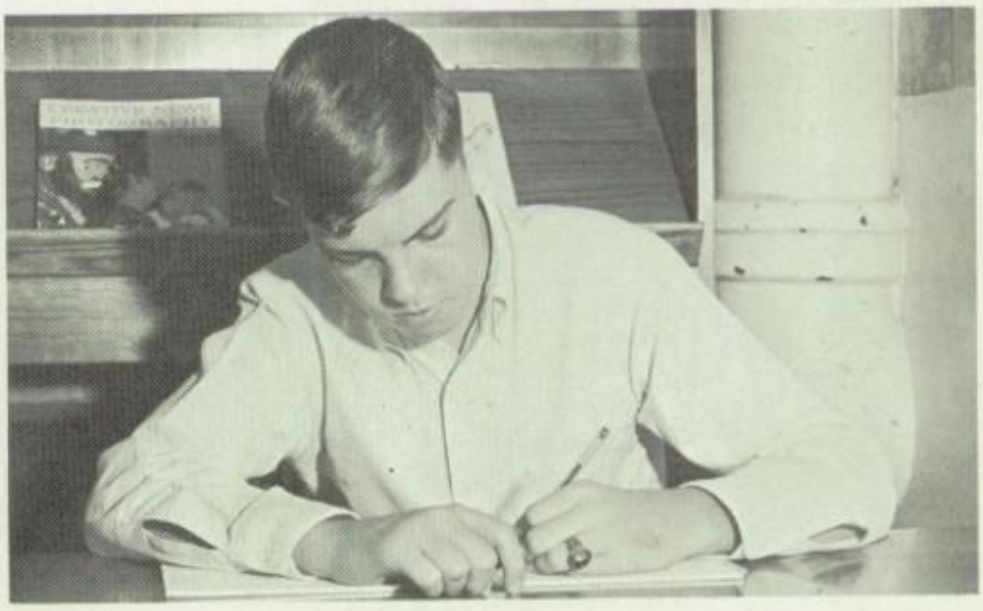
Showing the cooperative spirit in the publication department, Gail Arbetter and co-clubs editor Pat Tabbert discuss the merits and demerits of Pat's story.

Efforts; Show Results

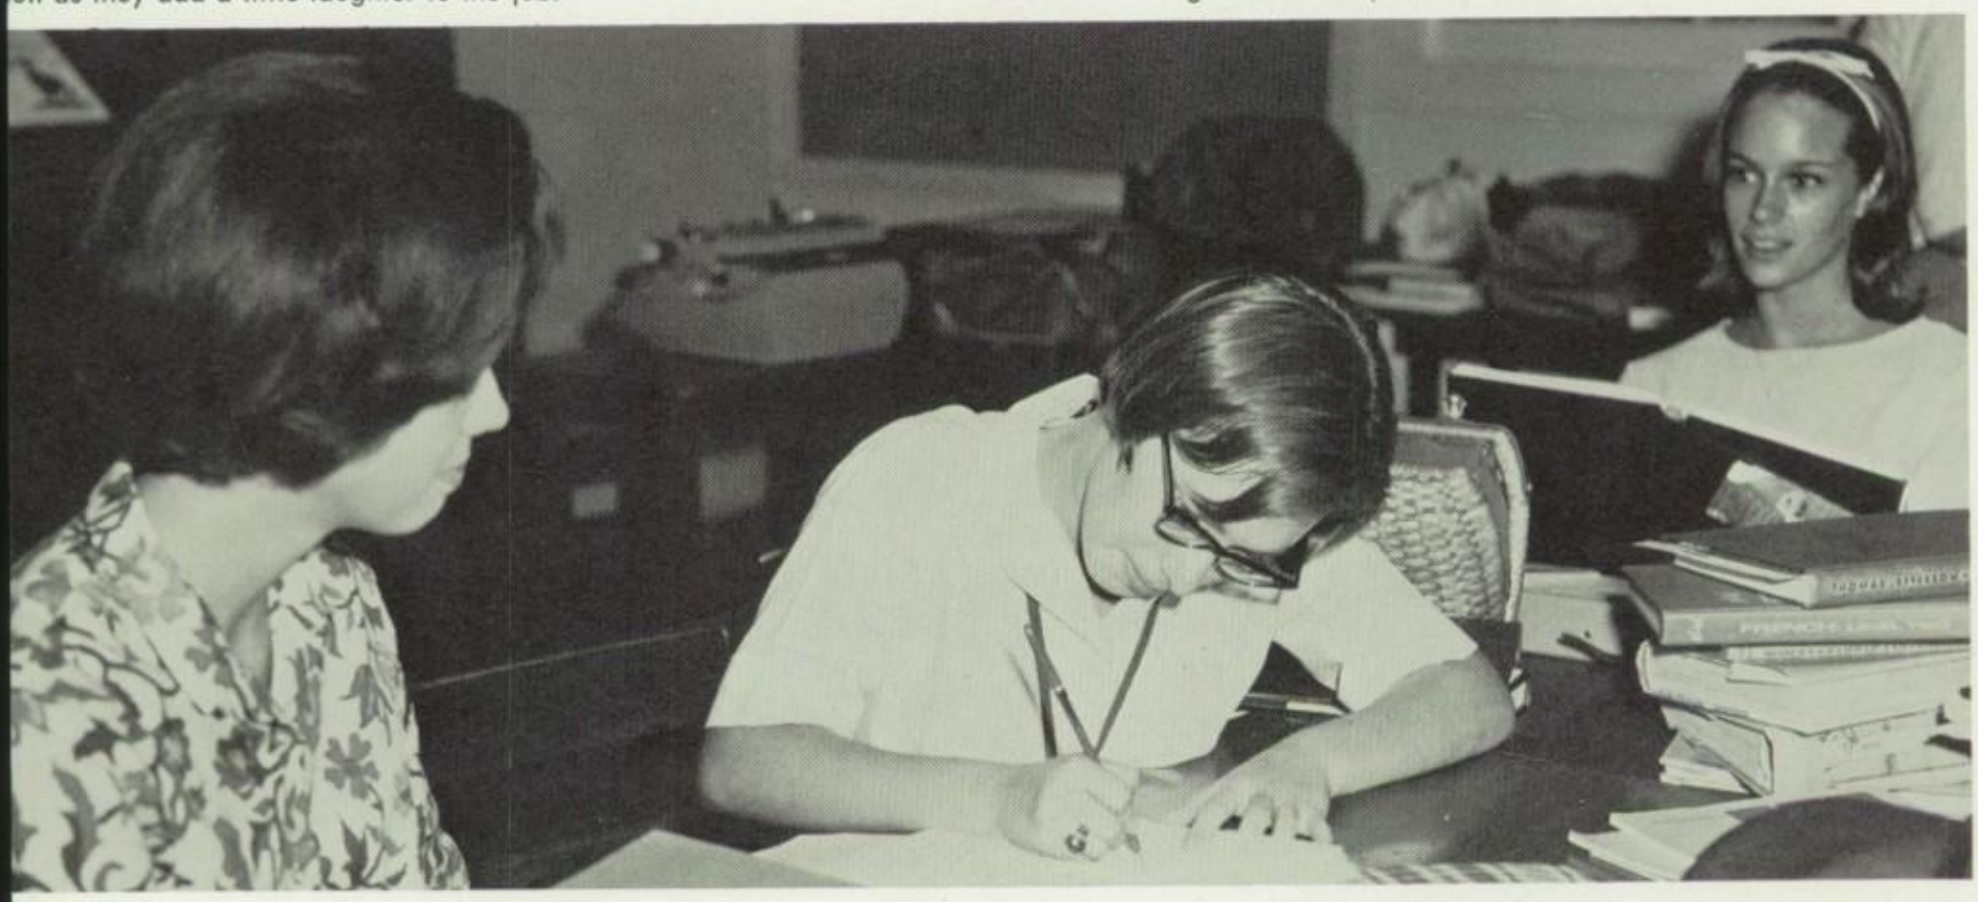
ynn Gwyn, a member of the Monticello layout staff, helps Marti oughton decide how much of a picture she will use for her clubs ages.

Birgit Michalski, Monticello clubs editor, finds a quiet spot to assign pages to the members of her section.

harlotte Goldberg, Barbara Dietzmann, and Sharon Gross show Mrs. Jane Folbre, sponsor, that checking Dec stories need not be ull as they add a little laughter to the job.



Bill Cunningham, engrossed in his work, plans his page design for two of the football games in his sports section.



ee Jennings watches Kathy Cornell checking fellow staffers' written work while Barbara Lambertson, a member of the layout and art staff, tudies an old Monticello for page design.

Reviewing his layout for sports, Bob Ozer draws up a triplicate.

Selling ads to local businesses, the ads staff, Jack Weiss, Steve Lee, and Marvi Rotstein, manager, prepare for the ads section.

Helping Bill Cunningham is Melissa Kirkpatrick.

Teamwork is shown by Rodney Hoffman and Anita Barasch as they work on thei assigned pages.

Working diligently, Barbara Dietzmann, editor, Charlotte Goldberg, business manager, and Gregory Yamin finish counting money for a grea year of the Monticello sale.

Deadlines Near, Chaos Here

The photographer takes Diane Wilson and Sally Sanders, layout, by surprise.

"Get your copy in," "Meet those deadlines" and "Turn in your pages," are familiar words heard in the Monticello Room as deadlines approach.

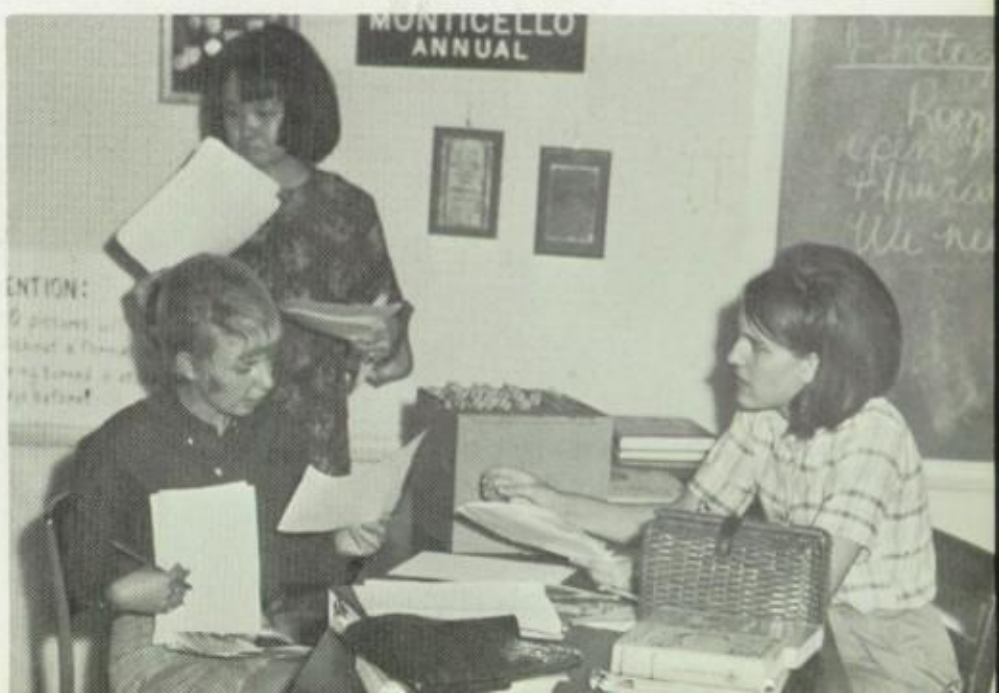
Behind the scenes workers of the Monticello strived to make those deadlines for the early spring delivery. Although the staffers had to schedule pictures, crop pictures, and do layout for the pages, he would have been unable to set up his pages without the work of the photography staff. Not only did the photographers take pictures, but they also printed them in the darkroom while Mr. Victor Weiss took and printed color pictures.

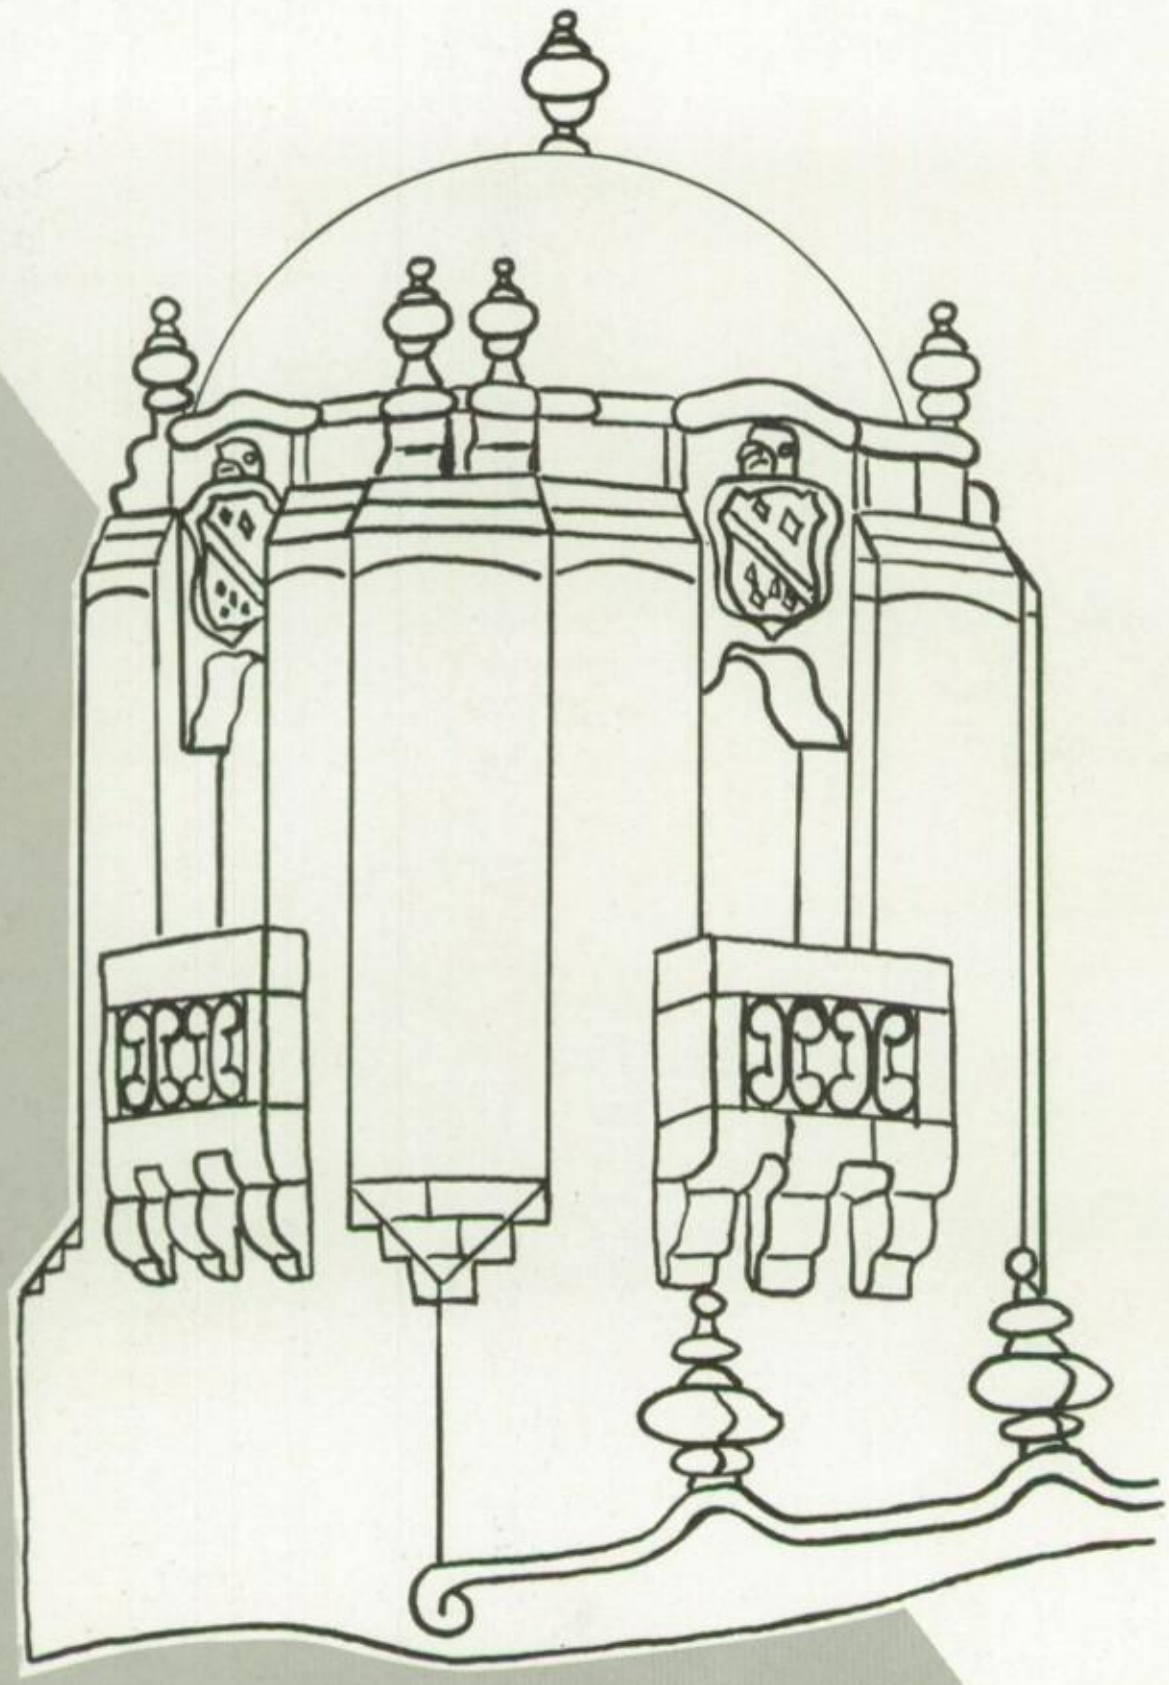
In November, Mrs. Jane Folbre, sponsor, along with three staffers, went to San Angelo to see in operation our pages being printed.

On March 15, the Publications Banquet ended the year and began the new one by announcing the new editor in chief and section editors.

Hard work and long hours are part of Nellie Ng's and Lilyan Wong's job.

The feminine perogative of changing one's mind makes the choice between contact shots hard.





In the Shadow of the Dome,
Students learn and grow.
Probing the intellect,
Or planning an outing,
Conducting an experiment,
Or enjoying a victory dance,
Sophomores, juniors, and seniors
Come together
To share interests and experiences,
To attain an education.
The parties, the elections,
The classes, and the cramming,
All vital to the life of a student.
The substance of a high school

Administration Plans Effective Future

The administration and faculty consists of one hundred highly qualified and dedicated people. Mr. Bob Chambers, principal, takes care of the school and does most of the executive work necessary. His voice comes to students through the public address system for announcements, and in the auditorium, introducing a speaker, welcoming sophomores, or saying farewell to graduating seniors. Mr. Chambers personifies Jefferson High School to the students, parents, and all of San Antonio.

The vice principal, Mr. David Rusmisel, is well known by all the students for his cooperative help and sympathetic understanding. He surprises students by remembering names and remembering all the little things that can help them in any way. Mr. Rusmisel is a personal friend to many of the students.

Mr. Gerald Evetts and Miss Ximena Wolf, the two deans, have established a reputation for being stern, but understanding in disciplinary matters, and ready and willing to help everyone. They have earned a place of distinction and honor in the minds of all.

Through the selfiess help, guidance, and teaching of the faculty, students attempt to gain a well-rounded education. With an eye towards the future, they prepare to lead a successful and mature adult into a rapidly changing world.

Examining the blueprint for the construction job that closed Donalc son Avenue for four months is only one example of the dedicatio of Mr. Chambers, Miss Wolf, Mr. Rusmisel, and Mr. Evetts as the make plans for alternate parking spaces.

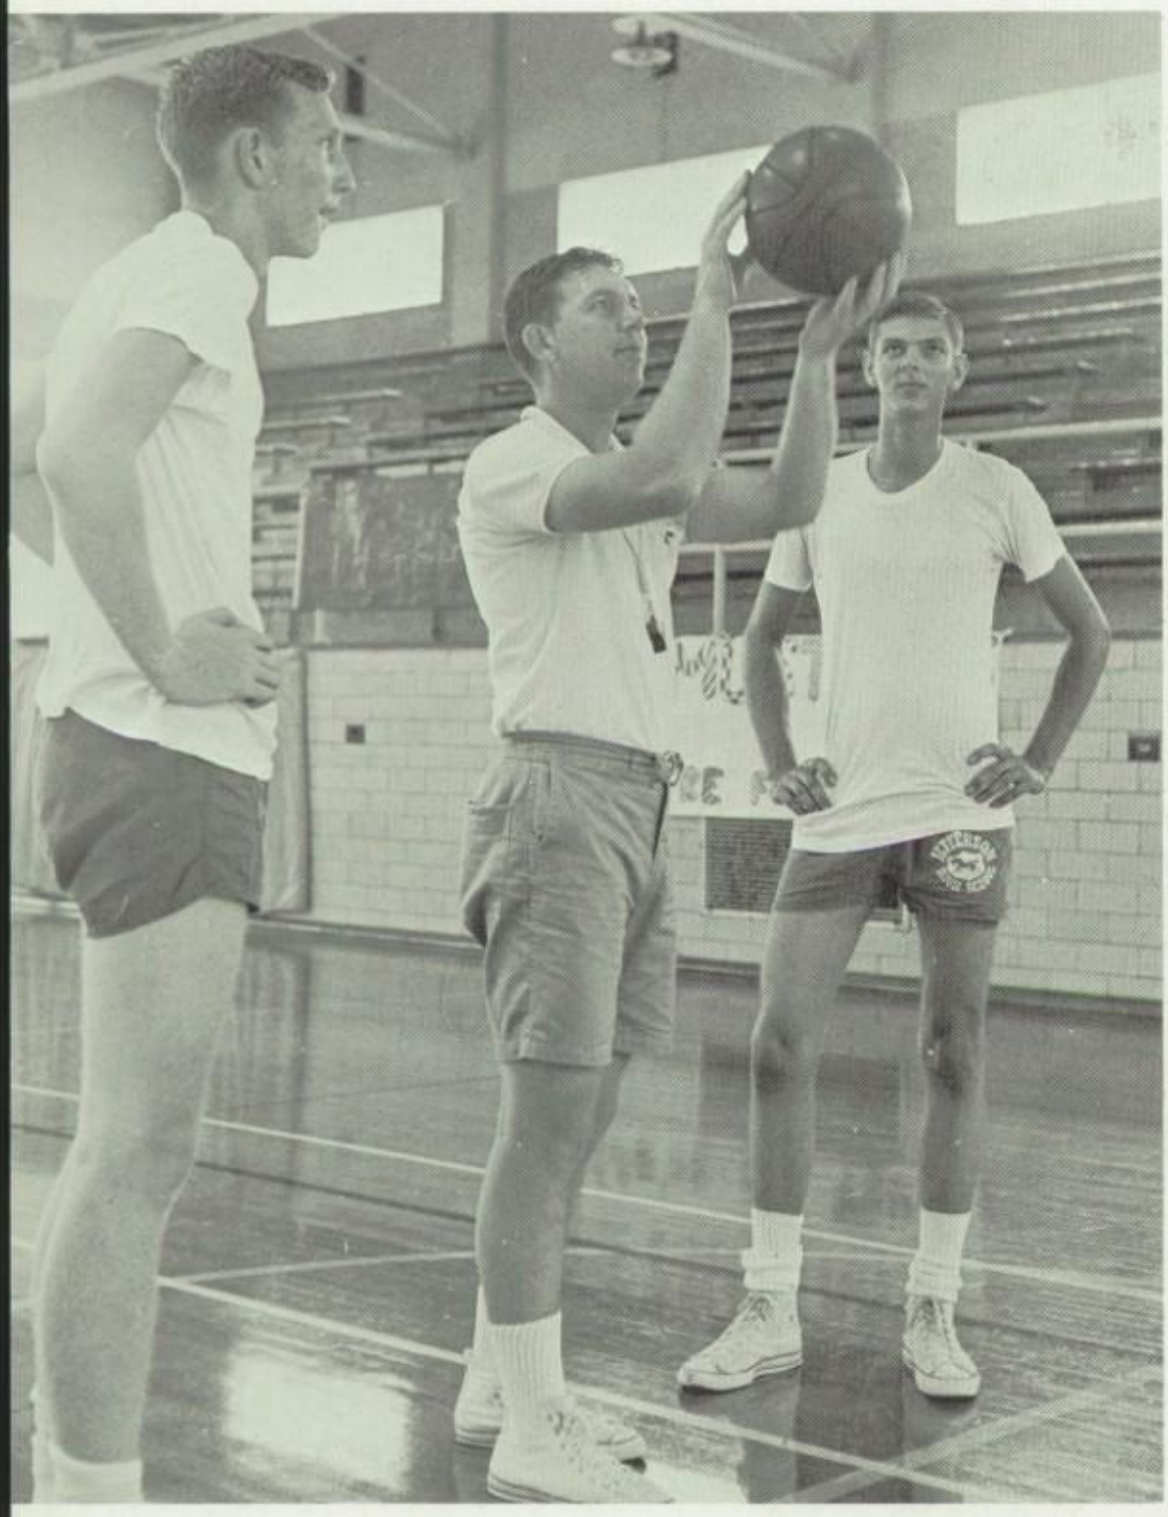
Faculty Shoots for

Our office staff help keep the school running smoothly. Mrs. Fina Borrer and Miss Barbara Anderson take care of much of the secretarial work, such as typing notes and letters.

Trying for that Thanksgiving turkey, Mr. Robert Chambers takes careful aim on the opening day of the ROTC Turkey Shoot.

Always ready to help students and faculty members, Mrs. Ethel Guzzardo is kept busy at the main desk in the office.

Wide Range of Activities



uring a practice session, Coach Richard Kirkpatrick shows his fine basket-shooting rm to two basketball players, Larry Eckhardt and Bill Beeson.

At the English Honor Society Book Fair, Mrs. Nell Van Horn finds it difficult to decide between the many books.

During the finals of the intramural volleyball games, Mr. Claude Jones advises one of his players. Mr. Jones' enthusiastic support helped his team capture the intramural volleyball championship.

Devoted Seniors Fulfill Ambitions

Climaxing their high school career with an activity-filled senior year, the Class of '67 began the social agenda with the Senior Outing. Starcke Park in Seguin was the scene of dancing, football and volleyball games, sidewalk surfing, and hearty eating before the sun set on a beautiful October day. Class members warmed up a cool February 4 in the USAA Ballroom, swinging to the rhythm of the RipTides at the semi-formal Senior Dance.

"The Night of January 16th" was presented by members of the Class of '67 in two performances, February 16 and 17. An exciting courtroom drama, the play employed a jury chosen from unsuspecting members of the audience.

The pace of activities really warmed up in May, bringing the Prom, finals, Class Day, and graduation all in a single week. Saturday night, May 12, the Junior Class hosted the Seniors at the annual Jr.-Sr. Prom at La Villita. Three-day senior finals followed on Monday through Wednesday, with the Monticellos arriving to add special excitement to the last day of finals. Class Day began in the morning of May 18 with a program in the Auditorium highlighting the Class's experience during the past three years. A swimming party followed at Alamo Heights pool that afternoon, and a barbecue and dance was held that evening at La Villita.

Ending a hectic, anxious, and memorable year, the Class of 1967 met on May 19 in the Municipal Auditorium for graduation exercises.

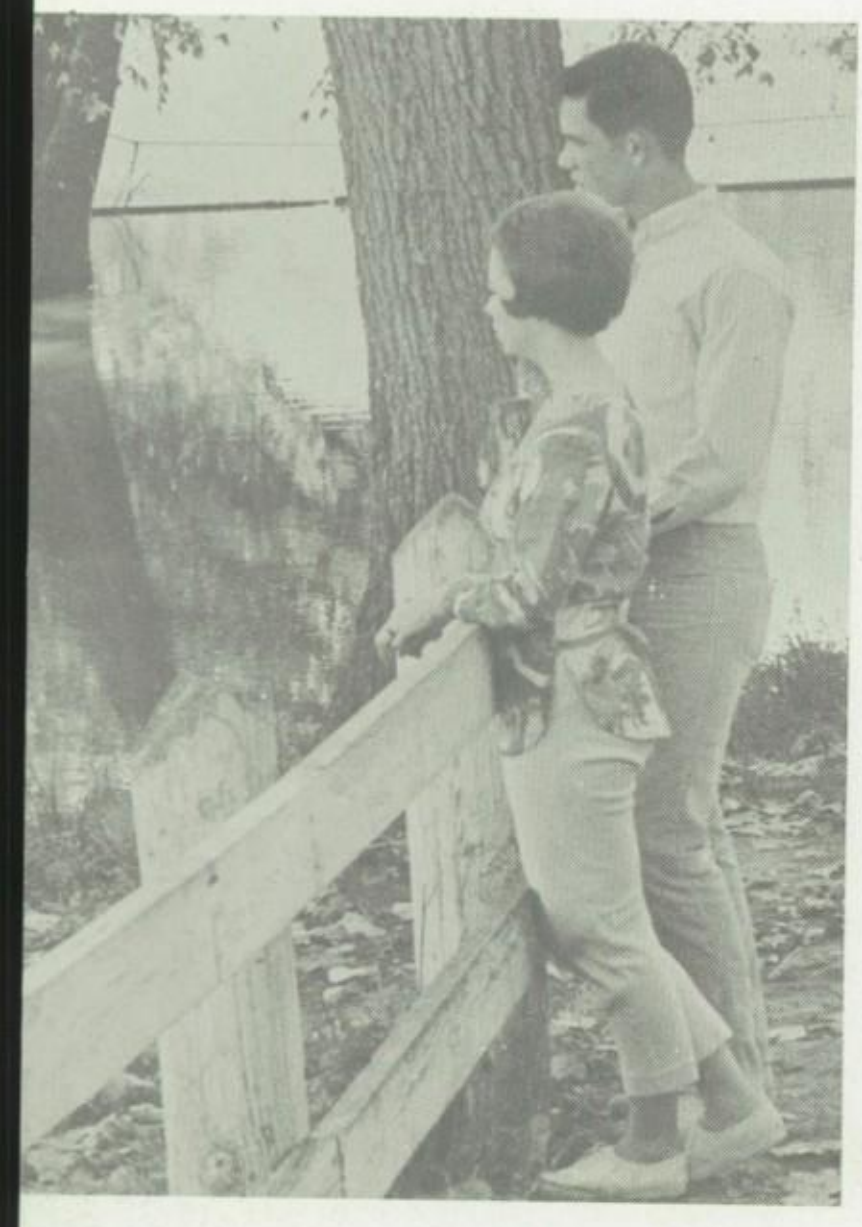
Seniors Select Poses;

Seniors keep Linda Guzzardo and Karen La Beaume busy accepting orders fo their Group picture.

Eager and amused seniors crowd up to see the proofs of their Senior Class group picture before placing their orders.

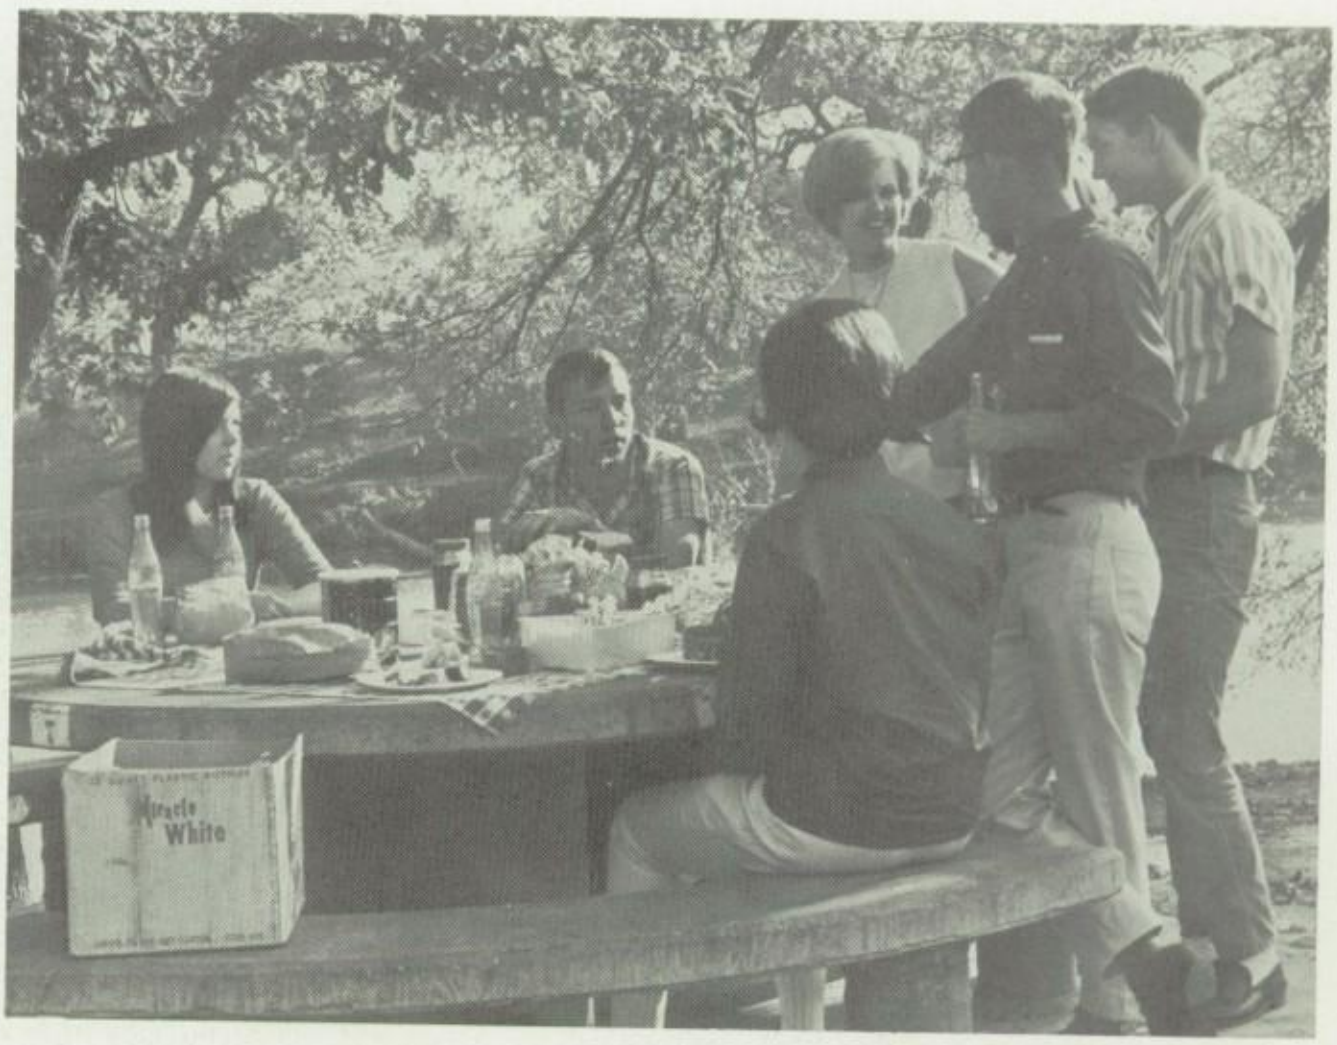
Socialize at Starcke



Reflections . . . on the surface of a quiet stream . . . in the minds of two young people were captured as Susan Mangum and Marty Jones spent a few moments alone together at the Senior Outing.

The Emancipation Proclamation—hasn't Terry Szafranski told Linda Yantis about it?

Looking forward to the days activities, chaperones arrive at the Senior Outing.



These seniors seem convinced that things really do go better with Coke, after Coke, after Coke . . .

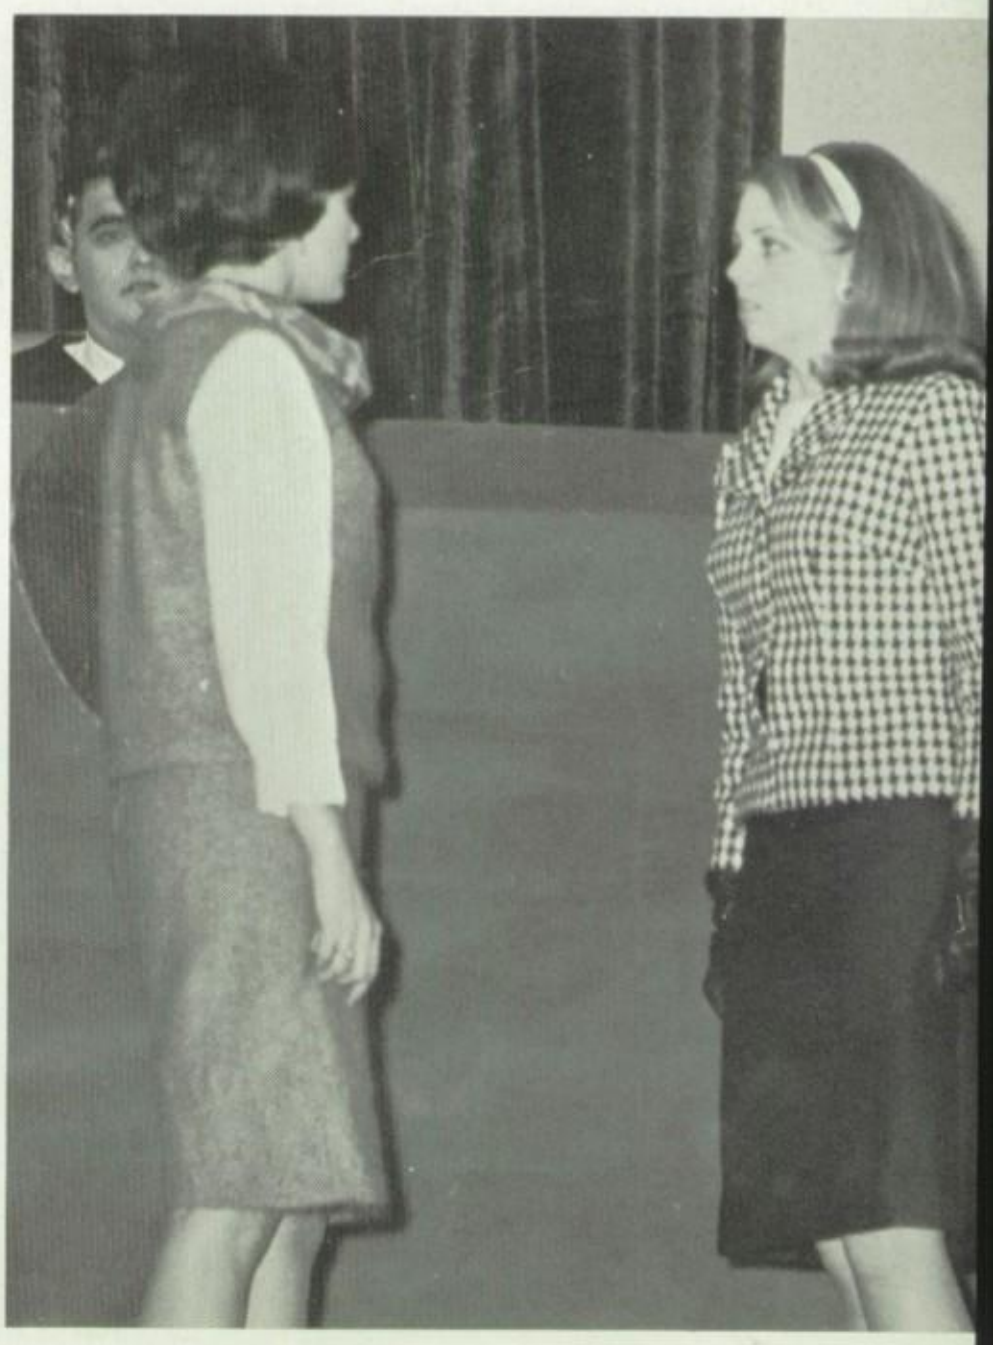
Nightly practice sessions were a must for Senior Play cast members, but the end product was worth all the work.

Practice, Toil Preface Trial

In contrast to the drama of the trial, Magda Svenson, portrayed by Linda Yantis, adds a touch of humor to the play with her unpredictable answers to Attorney Steven's, alias Chuck Starr's, questions.



District Attorney Flint, played by Joe Hammer, puts an accusing question to a worried witness, Sigurd Jungquist, played by Jimmy Reay.

"She wore an orchid corsage of unusual proportions," reports private detective Hubert Van Fleet, played by James Deuel, to District Attorney Flint, John Secrest, at the night performance of the Senior Play.

Watching one of the many night rehearsals for Senior Play are Dixie Cody, Evelyn Scott, production manager; Miss Betty Janert, sponsor; and Terry Conway, stage manager.

empers flare during a tense trial as Linda Guzzardo and Dixie Cody exchange eated words in a scene from the senior lay.

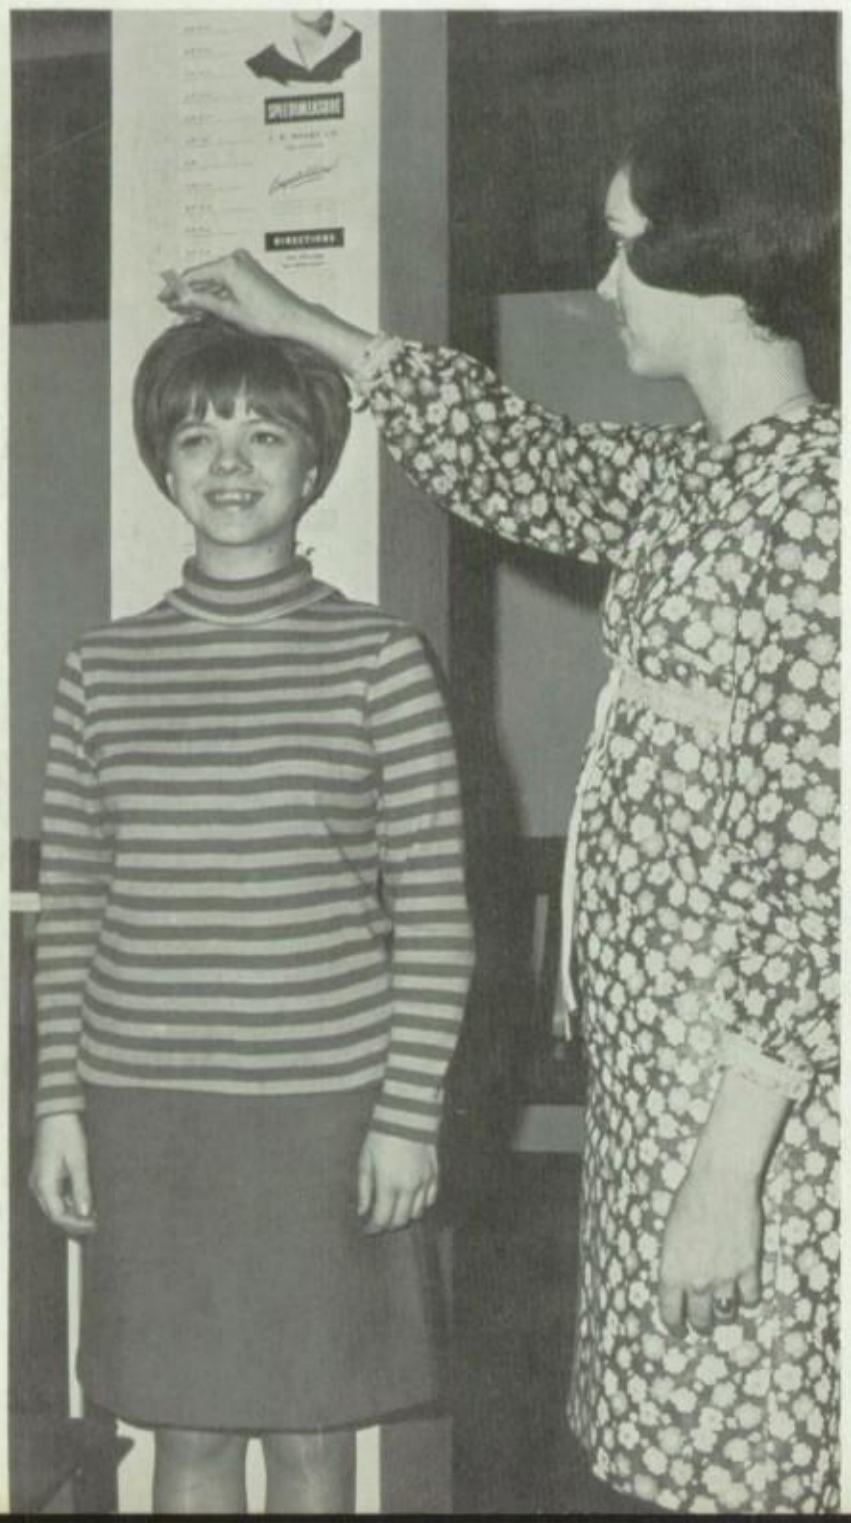
February 4, saw the USAA Ballroom filled with seniors and their guest rocking to the rhythm of the RipTides.



Another step toward graduation is completed for Linda Shaddox as Lee Jennings measures her for a cap and gown.

Seniors

Dancing "modly" in cage dress and double-breasted suit are Sally Brinkly and her date.

Don't be fooled by Evalyn Traylor, it really isn't necessary for senior hostesses to be muscular.

Enjoy Seniority

All smiles Angie Morgan, Linda Yantis, and Rene Roark toast to the fact that tomorrow they will start eating first lunch.

On behalf of Mrs. Elizabeth J. Campbell's advisory, Sally Rotondi accepts the banner from Jim Cloudt which was awarded to the advisory that displayed the most school spirit.

Loyal Juniors Accelerate Goals

September saw the Class of '68 returning to school filled with happiness and eager anticipation. Juniors were happy to have their sophomore year behind them and thoughts of the not-too-distant future began to fill their minds. At the first class meeting officers were introduced and Mrs. Mary Inman and Mr. Lionel Gregory were named co-sponsors.

Dancing to the beat of the Five Canadians, Juniors began their social schedule with the annual Junior Dance. Turkeys, pumpkins, and multi-colored leaves were used in carrying out the dance's autumn theme. Juniors, as usual, beamed with pride when the time came to order senior rings. What size, color, and style to order worried many until the very last moment. Taking advantage of warm spring weather they held their annual picnic.

Members of the Class of '68 were given a chance to display their acting ability in the Class Play "Girl Crazy". Proceeds from the play were used to buy the Class's gift to the school.

La Villita was the scene of the long awaited Junior-Senior Prom. Everything was hush-hush as juniors carefully guarded decoration secrets from curious seniors.

After electing their class officers before the prom, juniors prepared to settle down for their May finals. As the last week of school approached the Class of '68 looked forward to next September as well as the summer vacation ahead.

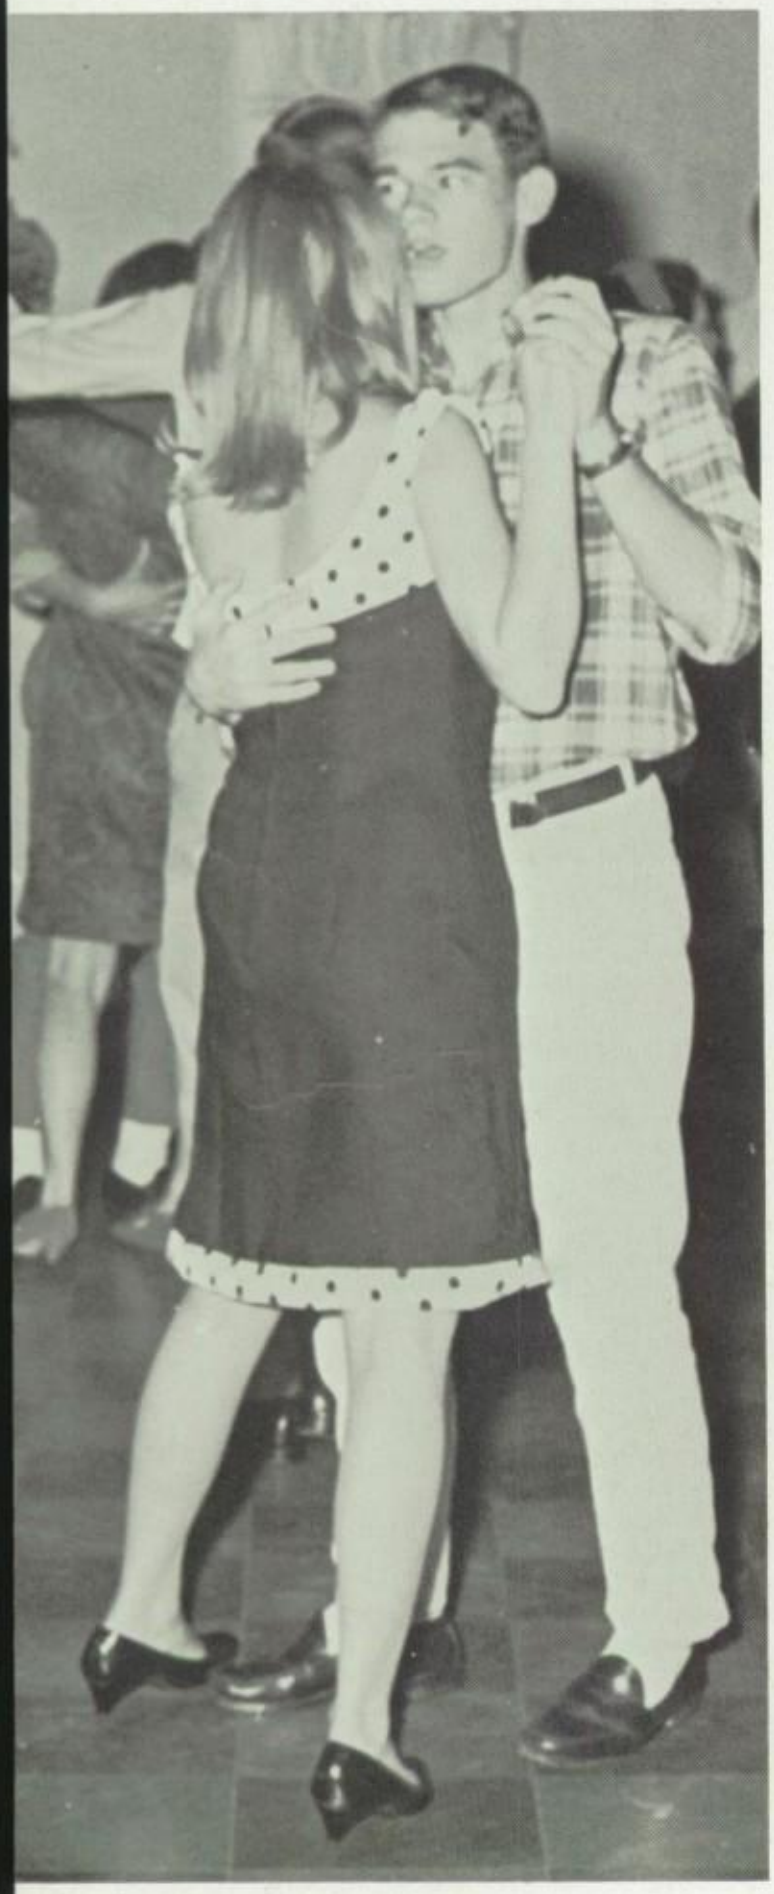
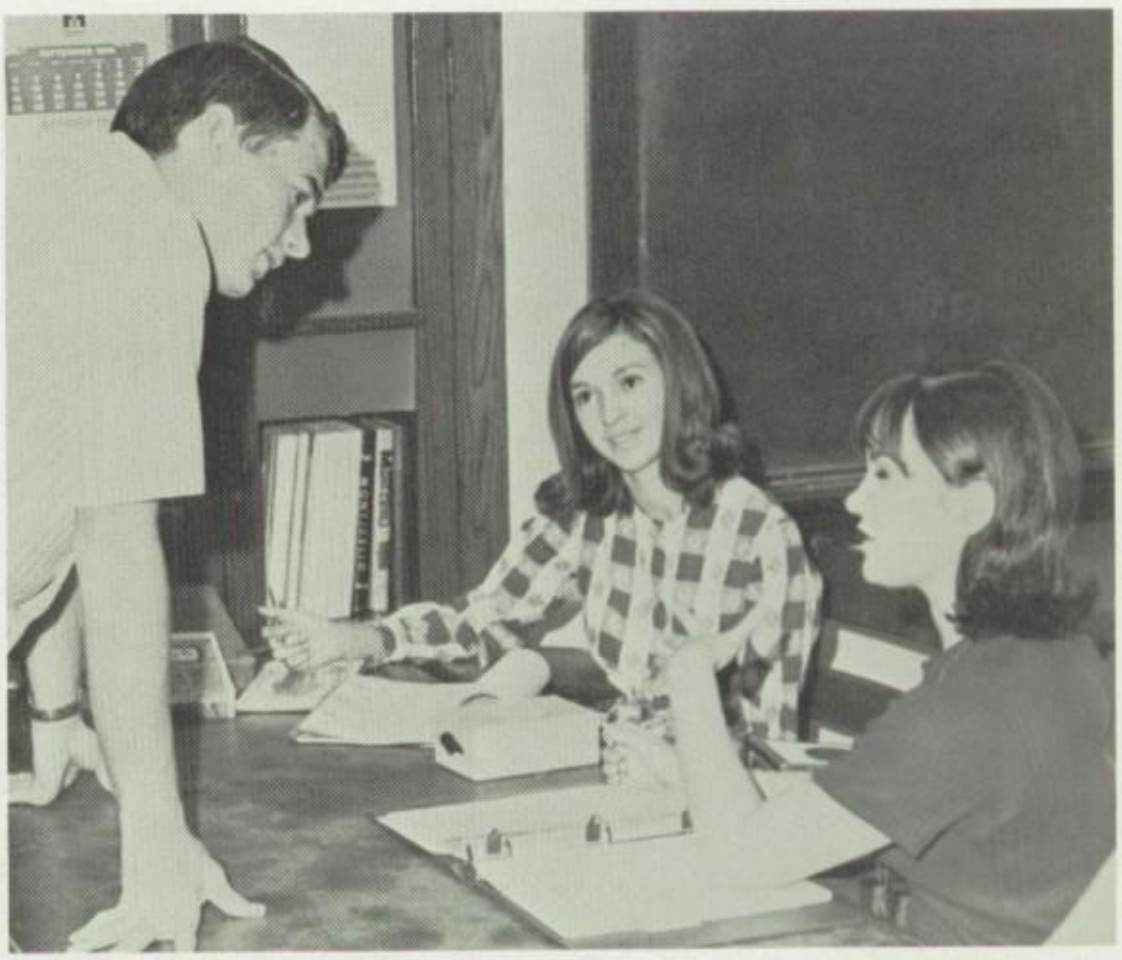
Headlining the Junior Dance were the Five Canadians.

Singing his own version of "Midnight Hour," Pat Claypool entertains Kathy Banke at the Junior Dance.

Juniors Pay to Play



Gathering before the dance begins to listen to the band, Juniors look forward to an exciting evening.



Encouraging Dan Sturdivant, president, to pay his junior class dues, Joyce Gensberg is presented with a problem.

Serenading his date, Dan Sturdivant takes advantage of the band.

Though there's really no substitute for their own senior rings, these juniors seem content for the time being as they try on rings of the class of '67.

Fellow cast members don't seem a bit disturbed though Sandy Perido feels a little nervous as she awaits her cue.

Concentration is the key for James Wiggs as he drafts plans for his split-level house of the future.

With their new sponsors, Mrs. Mary Inman and Mr. Lionel Gregory and their counselor Mrs. Lorraine Kirk present, Junior officers held their first class meeting and announced plans for the year ahead.

Juniors Meet for Business and Lunch

Cafeteria food has strange effects on those who eat it.

Before a sophomore representative meeting class officers Sandy Mann, Rita Hummingbird, John Loyd, Sara Macow, and Anita Ewing put their heads together to plan class activities.

Spirited Sophs Set Standards

Attending high school for the first time is a trying, but fun-filled experience. Sophomores, the Class of '69, had to endure orientation, running for classes, and practical jokes of upperclassmen. After surviving these ordeals the sophomores, along with their sponsors Miss Julia Oliphant and Mr. Lanny Naeglin, held their first class meeting and settled down to begin preparing their social schedule.

Class elections took place in November, and January signaled the official start of sophomore activities. As their first social function sophomores chose a carnival-dance. They danced to music supplied by the Trayd Winds, and later tried their skill at throwing pies at helpless class officers and putting out candles with water guns. Brackenridge Park proved to be an ideal setting for this year's Sophomore Outing. The sixty-niners spent the day casually visiting the zoo, exploring the Sunken Gardens, and eating their sack lunches.

Excitement filled the air for sophomores in late April when Junior Class elections were held. Serving as an appropriate conclusion to a year worth remembering, the elections set the stage for next September when the members of the Class of '69 would take their places as juniors.

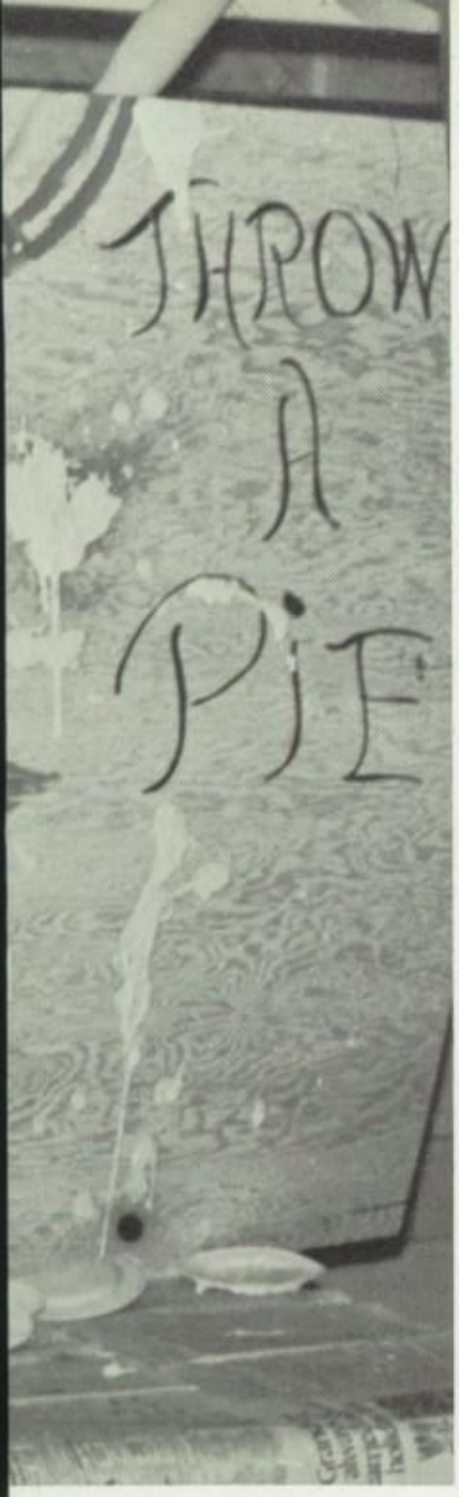
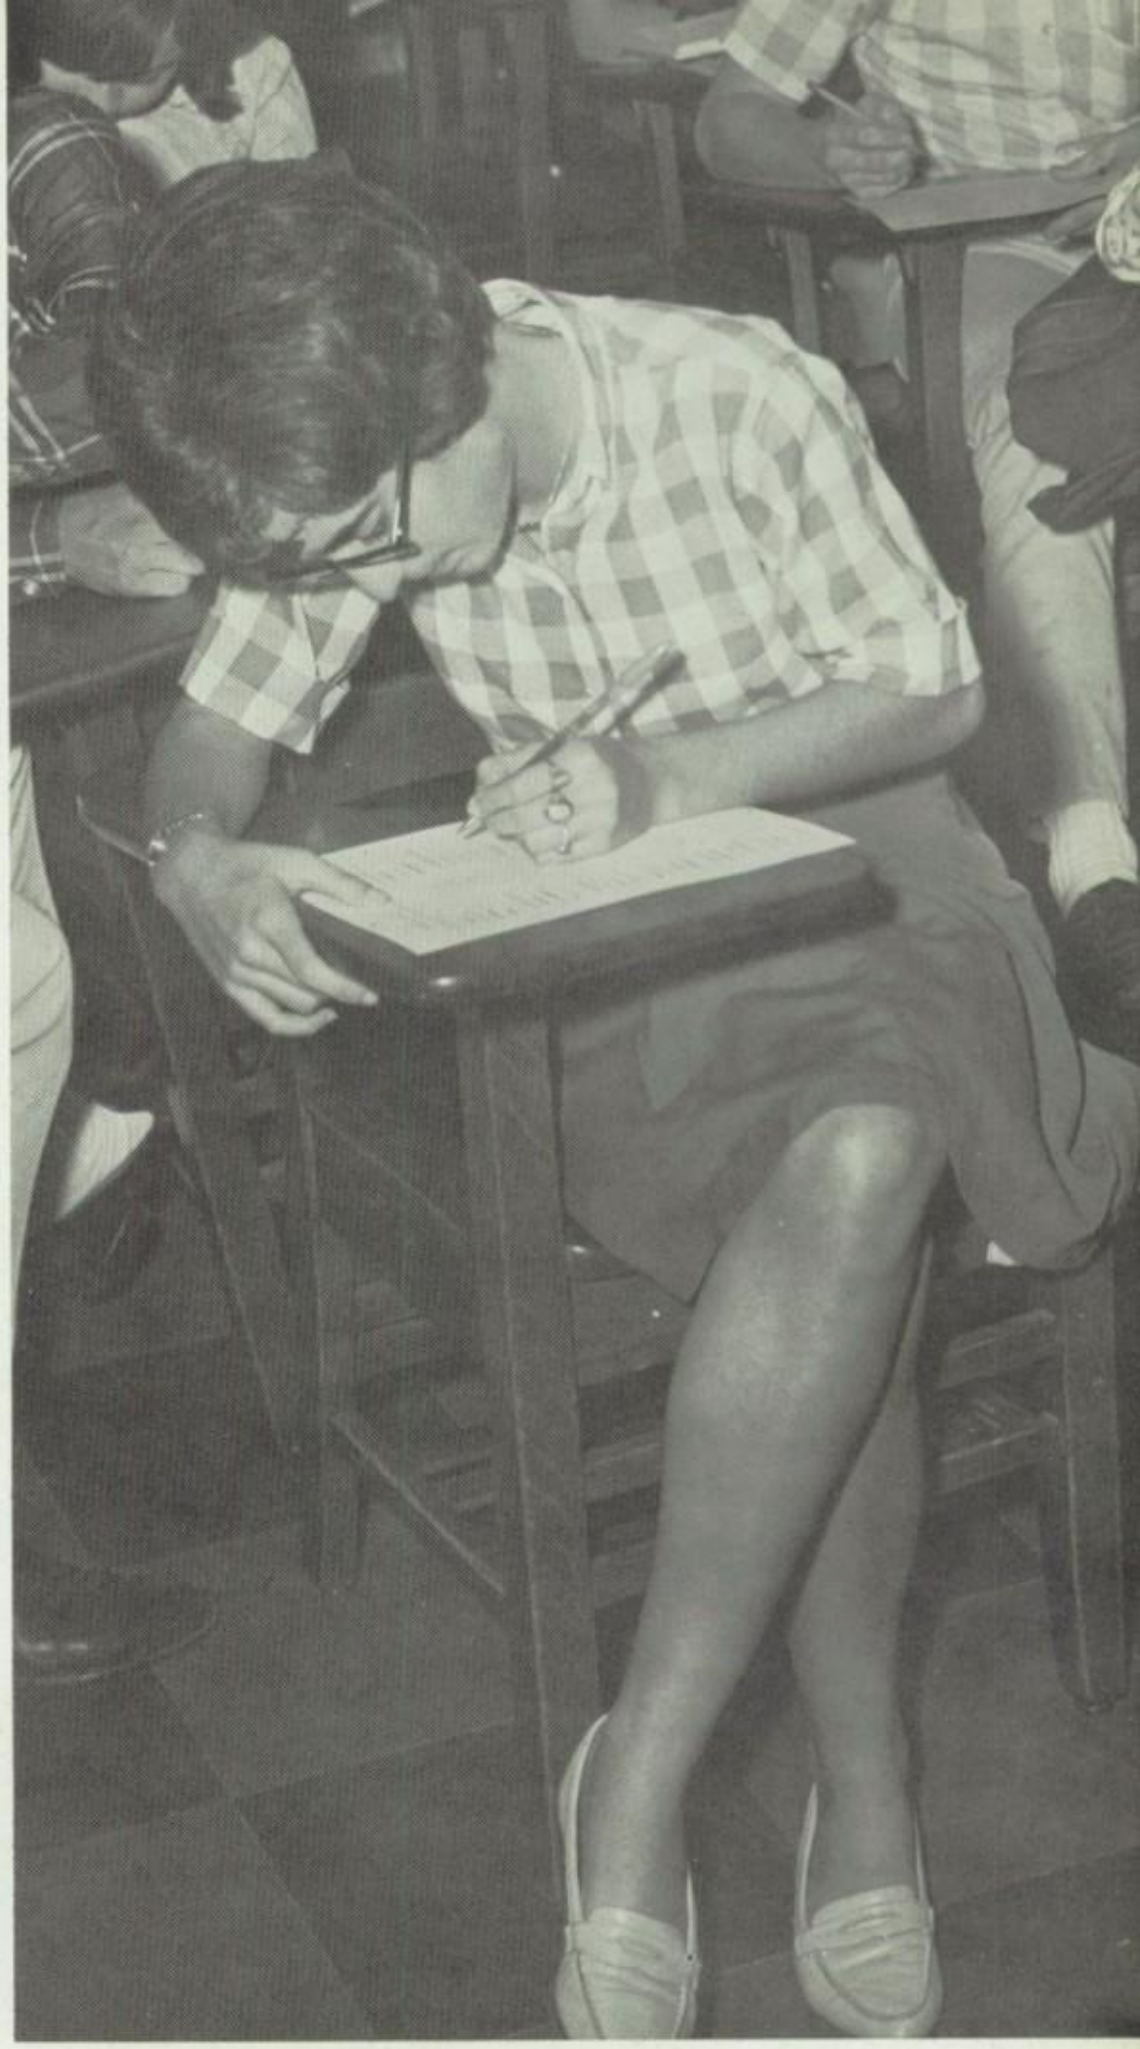
One of the privileges of being Sophomore class officers that Sara Macow and Chris Reed enjoy is being a target for very accurate classmates at the carnival dance.

We Are The Sophs





Marcy Shapiro isn't taking a test; she's voting for class officers, but making her choices is almost as hard.

Decorations turn the gym into a carnival midway and set the stage for games and dancing.

SERVICE YOU CAN TRUST

The Monticello Staff Appreciates

the following persons and groups for their assistance

Mr. Bob Chambers, principal, for his advice and support to the yearbook staff.

The administration and faculty for their aid throughout the year.

Mr. Ray Armstrong and Mr. George Frost, representatives from the publisher, for their cooperation and interest.

Mr. Victor Weiss, sponsor of the Candid Camera Club, for taking color pictures and helping in the photography department.

The librarians for permitting us to check class pictures during the library periods.

The Student Council representatives for their assistance during the Monticello sales campaign.

Mrs. Schmidt and Joske's Portrait Studio for their patience and cooperation in handling our class portraits.

Mr. Fred Harding for arranging and taking the group pictures of the clubs.

Mr. E. L. Goldbeck for permitting us to use his panoramic group pictures of the Lassos, Lariats, and Mustang Band.

Pat McCollough and Jim Dietzmann for preparing the artwork, the Tower of the Americas and the dome, respectfully, used in the book.

Mrs. Edith Tunnell and the office practice class for typing the general index of the book.

The Express and News for providing us with the glossy prints of our All-City football players.

Our advertisers who put their trust in the Monticello for their advertising.

The student body for their interest and support of the Monticello.

And most of all, Mrs. Jane Folbre, our sponsor, for her patience, guidance, advice, and encouragement that meant so much to us throughout the year.

. . . and the Shadow Falls on the Year 1966-'67

Ronnie,
I real can't say
anything nice about
you, except you are an okay guy. Good luck in the future and with Jan.

Your Friend,
Tommy
"68"

Bonnie D.
I'll see you around sweetie & I'll see
ya at the beach and have a summer full
cause of fun
love ya
Laurie

Dear Ronnie B.,
As your best enemy,
I guess I have a right
to sign this here book.
Janice Chapman
I here, I signed it. Best stay as crazy as you are,
as if there were a cure.
of luck — you need it!!
Class of '69

NEWSFOTO
Your Yearbook Publisher

Ronnie,
It's been nice
knowing you this year.
Good luck next year.
Granny
(Rodd C. Kouyl Jr.)

To Ronnie,
a very sweet and
nice little person.
Good luck,
Carol

Ronnie,
I'll do better than call you a
"nice little person" (like some people do). You're really a great guy, & I hope to raise a lot of cain in advisory with you the next couple of years.
Best of luck to ya,
Rod Donaldson

Best of luck
for the next two years.
Eddie Ivey

Ronald, !!
Just dropped in to call you a few names.
① MANIAC (DRIVES FAST)
② EX-PRO (NEVER WAS)
③ UN-LOVER

John

Ronnie
This is to the little guy that sits behind me in Spanish and gets kicks out of throwing blood on my stuff!
Are you really a "sweet little boy" as a certain girl says? Tell the truth!
Dotti

Ronnie,
That pen leaks.
Have a great year, etc. etc.
next year, etc. etc.
Hey, that. But
year be super being such and a good guy.
thanks a lot & careful
a sweet
Be good
Good Luck
Junior

Love Ya Murley
JUDY

To you on
Best of Luck
in the coming years.
Mr. X.

Ronnie,
It's been fun knowing you.
I won't tell you to be good 'cause
that's no fun so I'll say "Have Fun" instead. See ya next year.

Love ya,
Jane D.

Ronnie,
Well, this year has come to an end at last. Yes, I made it through 4 years

Ronnie,
You a real cute guy and fun make a cute couple.

Love ya,
Kathy

69/11

Ronnie,
You a neat dude and little nut and I wish
we could have been neat friends.
Have a neat summer without me and future plans + years.
Daniel D. Swan
'69

Ronnie,
I've been knowing you
for quite awhile now and you've been a pain in the ass
most of the time
but I'll miss you
anyway.
